COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1957. 142nd of the General Assembly.

Vol. 35. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1957. No. 1.

SENATE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1957, 12:00 o'clock, m.

This being the day and hour fixed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, the Members of the Senate, together with the Senators-elect, chosen at the last general election held on November 6, 1956, assembled in the Senate Chamber.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) called the Senate to order at twelve o'clock m.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D. D., Pastor of Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God, Who in Thy providence hast led us down the pathway of the years until we now stand in this place at this hour, we bless Thee for Thy never failing mercies and Thine all encompassing goodness to us and to our land. When we look back with eyes of faith, we can see Thy hand in our destiny. How great Thou art and how good Thou hast been to us, O God most holy.

While others have been called out of the marching columns of humanity and have passed into the land beyond the sunset, Thou hast kept us here and brought us to this hour, for Thou hast work for us to do and a purpose for us to fulfill. To that purpose we would dedicate ourselves this day, and for that work we ask Thy strength and Thy guidance. As we enter this New Year, we would enter it with renewed faith in Thee; we would reverence Thy power, worship Thy wisdom, adore Thy justice, be gladdened by Thy love and directed by Thy spirit.

Look now, we beseech Thee, upon this Senate assembled and upon each of these Senators individually. As they face magnificant opportunities and mountainous problems, help them to know they need not face them alone; that they ought not, that they dare not, if they are to be worthy of their high calling. Give them humility that looks to Thee in faith, courage that faces hard duty unflinchingly, patience when the going is hard. Give them strength to work as if they would live forever. Give them grace to live as if they would die tomorrow. Give them love that is patient and kind, that is not arrogant or boastful. In all things may they find in Thee a helper Who never fails, that they may serve the people worthily and well in this high calling.

Bless our Country, O Lord; prosper the Commonwealth and bring peace among the nations, we pray in the name of the Prince of Peace and the Master of Men, even Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

STATEMENT BY MINORITY LEADER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to advise that two of our colleague, Senator DiSilvestro and Senator Miller, are absent from today's Session on account of illness.

GREETINGS EXTENDED TO MEMBERS OF THE SENATE AND THEIR GUESTS

The PRESIDENT. As President of the Senate, I am very happy to welcome the Members of the Senate, their families and friends to this assembly today.

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE, LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR ROY E. FURMAN

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR ROY E. FURMAN. Two years ago I began my duties as the Presiding Officer of this Senate. It was my privilege on that occasion to address the Members of this body for the first time.

I said then that it was my desire to serve the people of our Commonwealth to the best of my ability, and that it was my intention to preside diligently, fairly and in accordance with parliamentary procedure.

I hope I can say today that I accomplished those objectives. If so, much of the credit rightfully belongs to the Members of this Senate. I shall continue during this current Session to carry out my duties and my responsibilities in the same manner.

Today, we begin a new Session of the Legislature, the One Hundred Forty-second, and we start a new calendar year. The fact that it is a double beginning makes this an exceptional occasion for contemplation of our future.

In the past, this Senate has solved many problems for the good of the Commonwealth. Today, we are confronted with greater ones.

The strength required to accomplish our task if found in our two party system of government. Although diverse, and at times divergent in viewpoint, it is a guarantee that legislation will receive full discussion and consideration. From disagreement, we can progress toward eventual agreement and cooperation.

Willingness to work together will enable the Senate to do its part in providing legislation that is needed for the benefit of all the people of our Commonwealth.

Among the problems we face today are many that are perennial. They are a part of our inheritance.

Other and newer ones awaiting solution are outgrowths of Pennsylvania's importance as a State. In many ways these newer problems can be considered part of the price of our position as a great industrial State.

The number and the complexity of our problems are proof of our own advancement.

We are experiencing a rising population, an expanding economy and an increasingly complex social structure. We must keep pace with these changes. They demand a continual expansion of services by the State Government if we are to maintain our progress and our position among the States.

Most of the newer problems that confront us are the result of these changes, which characterizes a healthy and expanding Commonwealth.

Our problems must be faced squarely. They must and can be solved. By our action there will be progress by the Government of which we are a part, and for the success of which we have an obligation.

Problems and progress go together. When we consider problems and challenges to our ingenuity, our foresight, our courage, our devotion and our willingness to work together, we are embarked on the course that leads ultimately to progress through the overcoming of obstacles.

Progress has been made annually toward improved governmental services for the general welfare of Pennsylvania's citizens. The continuation of such progress will depend in large measure upon the extent of our legislative action.

In order for our government to provide adequate services it must constantly strive to improve its structure and facilities. It must operate in a businesslike manner. It must always be attentive and responsive to the needs of its citizens.

We must be ever mindful of the need to encourage the economic development of our State. We must seek, in so far as possible, to provide for the wise use of our natural resources. Beyond this we must always keep in mind our greatest resource—the individual citizens of this Commonwealth. We must constantly be aware of their social and economic welfare.

Neither States nor individuals are able to content themselves with solving only their own problems, important as those problems appear to be.

We are a part, and a very important part, of a Nation that has become a leader among nations.

We are today engaged in an economic, moral, and spiritual conflict with those who would destroy all that we cherish.

We must be strong as a Nation, as a State and as individuals if we are to fulfill our destiny. Our task here, in these Senate Halls, will be to strive through wise legislation to do all in our power to keep this Commonwealth strong and healthy.

With faith in Divine guidance for the tasks of this Session, we can attain moral and spiritual convictions and strength.

With these convictions and strengths, this Senate can mould a course toward the ultimate objective of all government, which is the greatest good for the greatest number.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The PRESIDENT. The next order of business before the Senate is the election of the President pro tempore.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this is a very important Session of the Pennsylvania Legislature. It is equally important that we, in this Senate, have harmonious and competent leadership during the 1957 Session, particularly in view of the mandate of the people at the last election.

I, therefore, Mr. President, deem it a privilege and an honor to place in nomination the name of the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania, who, from experience and with sound judgment, will bring about the required results.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President and my fellow colleagues, I have the honor and the privilege of seconding the nomination of the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate.

Senator Taylor is the youngest man in this Senate in spirit, and he is greatly beloved by all of the Members of the Senate who have had the pleasure of sitting here in the Senate with him.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I quite agree with Senator Chapman that this Session of the Legislature is going to be very important to the people of Pennsylvania. It is, therefore, a great honor and a privilege for me to present to you the name of a man who has served in this Body for over two decades, a man who for the past twelve years has stood at this desk and fought our legislative fights, knowing full well, on most occasions, that defeat was inevitable. Mr. President, I am speaking for our great Minority Leader, Senator John H. Dent, who we feel and know is a man among men, a man who is a firm believer that right will prevail over might. He is a man who will disagree but, at the same time, one who is not disagreeable. He is a man who we feel will reach high places.

Therefore, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it is indeed an honor for me to present to you the name of the gentleman from Westmoreland County, the Honorable John H. Dent.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, exactly on this date, twenty-two years ago, as Majority Leader in the House of Representatives, I had the great privilege of welcoming Senator Dent as a freshman Member of the House. It did not take long to recognize his ability, his courage, his leadership. One of his outstanding qualities that I found in these twenty-two years of work with him is that Senator Dent does not forget his friends.

I deem it almost a sacred privilege, at this time, to rise and second the nomination of the Honorable John H. Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any further nominations?

NOMINATIONS CLOSED

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the nominations for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate be closed.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair now recognizes the Minority Floor Leader.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we have always known that there are two sure things in life, death and taxes. I add to those the third thing, and that is the results of this election.

ELECTION OF CHIEF CLERK OF THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The next order of business before the Senate is the election of the Chief Clerk.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I rise to nominate for the office of Chief Clerk of the Senate a man who through eighteen years of legislative experience has proven to be a good friend to all of us. He is a man of unquestioned integrity, honesty and sagacity, a man to whom most of us have turned in the past for advice, regardless of our political affiliation, a man who as Chief Clerk can continue to give his valuable service to this Senate.

It is a genuine privilege, Mr. President, for me to nominate the Honorable G. Graybill Diehm.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, it is with great pleasure that I second the nomination of former Senator G. Graybill Diehm for the office of Chief Clerk of the Senate.

As my predecessor in the Seventeenth Senatorial District, I know that everyone in this Senate Chamber appreciates the tremendous value that he was in past years.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any further nominations?

To a man who has served the men on both sides of the aisle with faith and fidelity, I want to second the nomination of Charles L. Lathero, of Altoona, for Senate Librarian.

He also presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

REASONS FOR PARDONS

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 1, 1957.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to present herewith the reasons for pardons and commutations granted from January 5, 1955, to date.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

The PRESIDENT. This report will be noted in the Journal of the Senate, and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not intend to take the time of the Senate today to make any kind of speech. I think all of us are about speeched out.

We heard a very lengthy speech on the part of the Governor who reported on the state of the Commonwealth. I was questioned by the newspapermen as to any remarks that I might make concerning the speech. I said to them, as I say to you, that there could be no other road for the Governor to travel at this date. He fully recognizes the fact that we have a Republican majority in both the House and Senate; that under these conditions, if we are to achieve anything during this Session, it will have to be done with due consideration being given to the Republican Majority and to the Administration. Out of that we can possibly achieve the kind of a record which, over the years, in my humble opinion, has always been achieved by the legislative body.

Mr. President, I might say to the Governor and to the Members of the Senate that we had a Republican Majority in the Senate during the first biennium of this Administration and that we were very successful in working out cooperatively a program which has been beneficial to the people of the Commonwealth. It could not have been worked out without the consideration of the Republican leadership on the other side of the aisle. However, lest anybody be fooled or misled, we intend, on this side, to push for a program opening up new horizons of services to the people. In doing so, I fully expect that I will be able to sit down, representing the Democratic Caucus, with the Republican leaders, as I have in the past, to work out a program that I hope will be beneficial to all of the people.

For instance, we have placed such great emphasis on care for the mentally ill and retarded children and rightly so, but we have neglected to exploit a great reservoir in this State of ours in the educational field. We have in Pennsylvania over sixty accredited liberal arts colleges which have for too long played too small a part in Pennsylvania's educational picture in so far as participation by the State.

I believe that now the time has arrived for this Senate of Pennsylvania to take the leadership to provide in each and every one of these liberal arts schools a series of State-supported scholarships. In a State as large as ours, when only twenty per cent of the graduates from high schools and preparatory schools were able to enter institutions of higher learning, then something is wrong. I say to you today that we on this side, and we hope with your cooperation on the other side, are going to advance a program of State scholarships in all of the liberal arts schools in Pennsylvania. The time has come when we must realize that the entire future of this State and this Nation will be in the hands of those educated to meet the tasks as they arise in the future. It is going to be an educated world; it has to be an educated world. When Russia can graduate more than three times as many engineers as we produce in this Nation of ours, the time has come to stop and take a look. We are going to take a long look because we have here the resources; we have here the trained personnel; we have here the institutions to make this the greatest State in the Union in so far as higher education is concerned.

At this time, Mr. President, I want to compliment Senator Mahany in his co-sponsorship of our bill last biennium which gave to the General State Authority the right to create and build for the State-aided universities physical plants on the basis of lease-back contracts. I compliment the Republican Senators, who were in the Majority, in supporting this Democratic Caucus to a man in voting for that kind of legislation. When we reduce the cost of operation in the institutions of higher learning in this State, we are making available to the thousands of young men and women of our Commonwealth an opportunity to receive the kind of an education which will be required in the days to come.

I say to you on the other side, the Governor has said to you today that he wants cooperation. We say to you from this side of the aisle that we expect your cooperation because we have had it before. We know that out of this Session—and I pray that it will not be a long Session—we can achieve for Pennsylvania something which will be a record for the people. There are many other items, but we are not going through them tonight.

I want to say to you, however, that the greatest bill that was passed for the little home owner and taxpayer in Pennsylvania was passed by the last Session of the Legislature by unanimous vote in this Senate, in which we contributed more out of motor vehicle funds to the local communities in order to break up the bottlenecks caused by the ever-increasing numbers of automobiles that are crowding our highways, streets and by ways today. That is not the end of the road for that kind of legislation; it is only the beginning. We hope this year to add more to the money which will be returned to the local communities for the use of the local communities in creating wider streets, off-street parking and better lanes of transportation. These are just a few of the things.

We join with the Governor in saying to all of you that let us work for Pennsylvania. Let us disagree politically, yes. I am not one of those who believes that partisan politics has taken a holiday.I believe that partisan politics will be with us so long as this Democracy survives. As we add many more men to the status of civil employees, through civil service, we are destroying the strength and the life blood of partisan politics. When you defeat partisan politics, you have destroyed Democracy as we know it. No nation can live with a two party system of government unless those parties are strong. People work for parties the same as they work for business, the same as they work for private enterprise; they work for the rewards of victory.

I say to all of you right now that I do not believe that the patronage system saps the strength of this Democracy. We have come a long way since the early foundling days of our Nation and, in so doing, we have achieved the greatest mark of civilized government in the history of the world. We have done it through the simple expediency of fighting with each other on a partisan base and coming out in the end with legislation that strengthens the bulwarks of our Democracy.

I join with you in saying that so long as I remain alive and can utter a word, I will defend the party to which I belong second and the Country to which I belong first.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to assure Senator Dent and his Democrat colleagues and the Governor of Pennsylvania that we Republicans want to work with him in harmony during this Session of the Legislature. He certainly flung out the olive branch to us today in his conciliatory speech and I appreciated the tone of it. I would say to him that if he would have made the same type of speech two years ago, at his inaugural, he probably would not have had half as much trouble as he had during the last Session of the Legislature.

However, Mr. President, let bygones be bygones. We are ready to start a new day. This is January 1, 1957. We hope that this Session of the Legislature will produce much legislation of benefit to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We want to do whatever is right for the people of Pennsylvania and we know that the program which the Governor advocated today is an ambitious one. Perhaps, if all of those things are done in the next five or six years, we should be proud of the progress we have made.

Mr. President, we are always confronted with the cost of any program. As the Governor pointed out today, when he spoke about the Korean War Bonus and he advocated that we pass the constitutional amendment which will provide for it and also pass the necessary legislation, he also stated that when we do, we should hook onto it a provision to pay for it. I think that that is true with all of his program. He should tell us how much money he figures the program will cost and then what new taxes he will advocate in order to pay for it. We will then take all that into consideration and we will try to find out how far the economy of this Commonwealth can stand any increase in taxes. There is a point to which we cannot exceed. We cannot go beyond a certain point in trying to raise revenue from the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and from the industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or we will drive them out of the State as has been proven over the past years. We want to take all those things into consideration.

We want to consider how far the economy of this State will go to pay for the program which the Governor has advocated today. I will assure the Democratic Members of the Senate, the Governor and all the people that we, on this side of the aisle, want to cooperate one hundred per cent with him and we will be glad to sit down with he and any others, his commissions and so forth, to work out a program of benefit.

I will say this to Senator Dent, although partisan politics has not taken a holiday, I think we should take a holiday from political bickering of which both of us have probably been guilty. When we find something real solid to which we can point and, perhaps, make partisanship argument on, then we should go after that. However, just to have bickering here week in and week out for the sake of political bickering and for the sake of filling up the newspapers and to the enjoyment of the gallery, I think we can safely say that we can take a holiday from that sort of thing.

Mr. President, I pledge to Senator Dent and to the Democratic Members that if there are any barbed shafts thrown out from one side of the aisle to the other, then the first shaft will have to come from that side because it will not come from this side. If we do that and get down to work here when we get back, and instead of spending one day a week spend two or three days a week and really do the job the way we should and the way the people want us to, then we are going to successfully complete this Session of the Legislature in short order and the people will be proud of the work we did. We first want to start with our own back yard in trying to effect savings.

I have something in mind which I think will effect a saving in printing, at least. I want to illustrate it by telling you that just about every Senator here has probably been bombarded with requests to put in legislation which will restore the provision in the law which will allow the school buses to transport children for extra curricular activities. Instead of each one of us sponsoring such a bill, I would suggest that one of us sponsor it and then anyone else who wants to get on it may. I suggest that we do the same thing with all the rest of the bills that come before us. So many times we have four and five and even ten bills drawn up and printed to effect the same purpose. If we can all get together here and have the sponsor of a particular bill, in presenting the bill, state what he expects the legislation will accomplish and then invite any of the other Senators to go on the bill with him if they so desire. In that way, I feel that we will effect quite a bit of saving in the printing of bills. As we go through the Session, if you can figure out any way by which we can save money in printing expenses or in any other expenses in connection with the running of the Legislature, I hope that you will come forward and give us the benefit of your ideas.

I wish you all a very happy New Year and I hope that we will get through this Session with a lot of brotherly love and as my good friend, Senator Taylor, said, when we finally wind up there will be so much harmony that you will be able to cut it with a knife. Thank you very much.

EXTENDING BEST WISHES TO THE HONORABLE G. HAROLD WATKINS

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, by the swearing in of our former colleague, Senator Diehm, as Chief Clerk of the Senate, it marks the passing of a gentleman who has been here with us since about 1939. I am speaking of the former Senator from Schuylkill County, who has been Secretary of the Senate and who is now leaving us to go on the Bench. I am not a lawyer and, therefore, I am not gilding the lily. I want to wish him all the best of luck in the world.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure the people of Pennsylvania are very gratified with the spirit of harmony and cooperation that has been evident here today. I hope it is not just holiday spirit, but the spirit of true Pennsylvania statesmanship.

At 11:30 a. m., the Honorable Norman Wood, a Member from Lancaster County, accompanied by the gentleman from Westmoreland, the Honorable James E. Lovett made the following announcement in the Hall of the House:

> In accordance with the provisions of Article II Section 4 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, the Members-elect of this 142nd regular session of the House of Representatives will meet this day at twelve o'clock noon in the Hall of the House for the purpose of organization.

The CHIEF CLERK (Benjamin L. Long). This being the day and the hour appointed by Article II, Section 4, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania for the meeting of the General Assembly, the Members-elect of the House of Representatives will now come to order.

At the conclusion of the prayer, the Members will remain standing in silence until the sound of the gavel, as a mark of respect to the memory of our Members who died since we last met:

Honorable Karl B. Guss, Juniata County, died August 16, 1956.

Honorable John R. Quigg, Montour County, died December 1, 1956.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Walter Kennedy, Pastor of the Templeton and Goheenville Presbyterian Churches, Armstrong County, as follows:

Eternal God, Who has brought us to the beginning of another year, prepare us for the same, we beseech Thee, with inward spiritual power that therein we may work and walk worthily of our high vocation. We cannot see with human eyes what lies ahead. What storms will beat upon our ships we know not. What calms will make smooth sailing we cannot see. We know that Thy sea is great and our ships are small but that Thy stars are steady and that we may trust Thee. In these disturbing and distressing days we remember the promise of the Most High, that if any man lack wisdom let him ask God who giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not.

We thank Thee for our good land and for those men and women who laid deep the foundations of our nation in righteousness, and for those who across the years have built the structure of our civilization. We bless Thee this day for our own great Commonwealth, and for the part which it's citizens have had in the shaping and preserving of our great heritage. Bless, we beseech Thee, the President of the United States, the Governor of this Commonwealth and all associated with them in the exercise of good government.

Thou hast ordained that in the leadership of nations and states the care of the many must rest upon the shoulders of a few. We beseech Thee to give understanding humility and charity to the Members of this legislative body, who in Thy name and for the Commonwealth's sake are entrusted with the powers of governance. Grant to them strength to serve Thee that the heritage received from our fathers may be preserved in our time and handed down unimpaired to our children. In all their deliberations keep their motives clean, their vision clear, their patriotism undefiled, their speech guarded, their appraisals fair and their consciences unbetrayed.

For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.

The Members stood in silence in memory of the deceased Members.

MEMBER SEATED

The CHIEF CLERK. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Chief Clerk, as most of us are aware, there is an election contest in the first district of Clearfield County relative to a seat in this House.

We desire to make our position clear in relation to this contest. Mr. Harris G. Breth will take his seat today and we have been informed that Mr. William C. Chase intends to contest the election of Mr. Breth. It is the position of Mr. Chase that he stands aggrieved by the decision of the Court of Common Pleas in this case, that a petition to the House of Representatives to contest the election of Mr. Breth will be filed within ten days after the meeting of the General Assembly. That is, before January 11, 1957, Mr. Chase will present his claim to the Committee on Elections and trusts that after that Committee has heard the entire matter it will report the facts with a proper resolution to this Body.

It is the position of the Republican leadership of the House that the assumption of his seat by Mr. Breth does not affect or prejudice the right of Mr. Chase to make this contest, nor does it in any way affect the result of the election contest.

RESOLUTION

OATH ADMINISTERED TO MEMBERS-ELECT

Mr. GUTHRIE, a Member-elect, offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Represntatives,
Tuesday, January 1, 1957

Resolved, That the Honorable J, Frank Graff, a Judge learned in the law, of the Court of Common Pleas of Armstrong County, be requested to administer the oath of office required by Article VII of the Constitution, to be taken by the Members of the House of Representatives.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT HON. J. FRANK GRAFF TO ROSTRUM

The CHIEF CLERK appointed Messrs. Guthrie and Snider to escort the Hon. J. Frank Graff to the rostrum to administer the oath of office to the Members-elect.

OATH ADMINISTERED TO MEMBERS-ELECT

The CHIEF CLERK. A Bible will be found in the desk of each Member-elect for those who swear by the Bible.

The Members-elect will rise, raise their right hands and remain standing at their desks during the administration of the oath of office.

The oath of office was then administered to two hundred and nine Members-elect as follows:

Do you solemnly swear, or affirm, that you will support, obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of this Commonwealth, and that you will discharge the duties of your office with fidelity; that you have not paid or contributed, or promised to pay or contribute, either directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing to procure your nomination or election, except for necessary and proper expenses expressly authorized by law; that you have not knowingly violated any election law of this Commonwealth, or procured it to be done by others in your behalf; that you will not knowingly receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing for the performance or non-performance of any act or duty pertaining to your office, other than the compensation allowed by law? Do you so swear or affirm?

RESOLUTION

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Mr. TOMPKINS offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives,
Tuesday, January 1, 1957

Resolved, That in accordance with the provisions of Article II, Section 9 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, the House do now proceed to the election of a Speaker, and that the Clerks act as Tellers.

NOMINATIONS FOR SPEAKER

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Chief Clerk, today is the day fixed by our Constitution for the opening of the 142nd Session of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. To the Members of this House it represents the conclusion of a long, hard road of achievement and the beginning of new experiences, new horizons, new friends, and new jobs.

You former Members, we welcome you back home; we are glad to see you back. To the new Members, we want to extend to you our hand of friendship and hope that you will be well rewarded by this new experience.

The flowers were never more beautiful than today. They cast an aroma which was never more fragrant. Surely Mother Nature on this mid-winter's day has outdone herself. To those of you who are guests, we bid you a gracious welcome. You are privileged to attend the opening of what we feel here is the greatest General Assembly in this nation.

Those of us who are Members will, in the days to come, in all earnestness endeavor to pass a good legislative program which will cause our great state to go forward and prosper. Here is where the job is done. This is your General Assembly and we welcome you back here as often as you can come.

We are opening today at a time when there is strife in many nations in the world. We are all amazed at the heroic struggle that has been put forth by many people in order to achieve their liberty. What a tremendous contrast there is in this nation where we enjoy the fruits of democracy, the American way of life, the life that we all love so well.

In order to carry out the mandate of our Constitution and carry out these ideals of democracy and liberty, it is necessary, as provided by our Constitution, that we elect a presiding officer for this House who will safely pilot us through this coming session which we all admit is going to be a difficult one because of the many problems that face this Commonwealth.

We are very glad to say that we have a man in this House who can capably do this job. The man I am about to nominate for Speaker was born and raised in Armstrong County where he attended the local schools and became very prominent in the business and civic affairs in his community and his county.

He became attracted to the people in 1940 and they elected him as a Member of this General Assembly. He has served in this Body since that time well and with distinction. He has taken a prominent part in the development of the education program in this state of which we are all so proud. He has taken an active part in the leadership on the Rules Committee and as Secretary of the Rules Committee.

All these things have well prepared him for the job that lies ahead. I know he will serve us all faithfully and well and without partiality. He has a personality that will engender confidence in all of us for the job that lies ahead. He has been one of my best friends since I became elected to this House in 1947 and it is my pleasure to nominate for the important office of Speaker, the Honorable W. Stuart Helm from Armstrong County.

Mr. ROYER. Mr. Chief Clerk and Members of the House, I rise to second the nomination of W. Stuart Helm for Speaker of the House.

It has been my privilege to serve under all the many excellent Speakers over a period of years. Of the last two Speakers, the Honorable Charles C. Smith and the Honorable Hiram G. Andrews, I want to say that they especially added distinct luster to the office of Speaker.

I have served with the gentleman from Armstrong since he became a Member, not only of this House but also on the Joint-State Government Commission, where in his official capacity, his sound advice and counsel were such a great service to the Commission. My experience with the qualifications and accomplishments of the former Speakers have demonstrated to me that honesty and integrity are paramount qualities needed for the speakership.

In my humble opinion, I am sure that W. Stuart Helm has the necessary essentials and the capacity to become another outstanding Speaker.

I, therefore, second the nomination of W. Stuart Helm, the gentleman from Armstrong, for Speaker of the House.

MR. READINGER. Mr. Chief Clerk and Members of the House, all of us are very proud of our organizational activities on the opening day and none of us would detract from the dignity of them.

At a Democratic Caucus held recently the matter of whether or not the Minority Party should offer candidates for these various nominations was discussed, seriously discussed. Our Democratic caucus has recommended that we should not at this time and possibly not in the future when we are in the minority offer any candidates for nomination. How many years ago the custom started I do not know, I presume when it was started it was with the idea of honoring some of the Members of our own party by placing their names in nomination, voting for them, and when they were defeated joining with the opposition to make it a unanimous vote for the person who was to be elected.

We ask that you receive this decision in the spirit in which it is intended. We have not the least thought of detracting in any way from the dignity of the proceedings. We have no thought either of indicating that we do not have competent and able persons who could fill these offices.

But as I say, the nomination of one of our Members or friends is a beautiful act and we would like you to receive this change of procedure coming from us in a sense as an affirmation of our faith in your choice of the people who will guide the destinies of this session.

Mr. Chief Clerk, I move that nominations for Speaker of the House be closed.

The motion was agreed to.

The CHIEF CLERK. Are there any further nominations? The Chair hears none.

W. Stuart Helm of Armstrong County was unanimously elected Speaker by a rising vote.

The CHIEF CLERK. The Chair requests the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, a former Speaker of this House, to take the Chair and preside.

MR. HIRAM G. ANDREWS IN THE CHAIR

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT SPEAKER-ELECT TO ROSTRUM

Mr. ANDREWS. The Chair thanks the Chief Clerk.

The Chair appoints the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson and the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, to escort the Speaker-elect to the rostrum.

Mr. ANDREWS. The Chair thanks the Committee and welcomes the Speaker.

The oath of office will now be administered to the Speaker-elect by Judge Graff.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO SPEAKER-ELECT

The oath of office was then administered to the Honorable W. Stuart Helm, Speaker-elect of the House of Representatives by the Honorable J. Frank Graff.

Mr. ANDREWS. Members of the House, I have the honor to present to you the Honorable W. Stuart Helm, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

THE SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

ADDRESS BY HONORABLE J. FRANK GRAFF

JUDGE J. FRANK GRAFF. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, I first wish to say to the Members of the House, that it has been a great privilege for me to come over here to Harrisburg to administer the oath of office. It carries me back many years ago when I was a lad of fourteen and sat here in this same House when my father was a Member of this body.

It has been a great honor for me to come here to help induct into office my good friend from Armstrong County. He comes from a respected and honored family in our community. His immediate family, nine brothers and one sister, eight of whom, are boys who were in the armed services at one time. He has been interested in religious affairs and just now is retiring as President of the largest Bible class in our county. He has been interested in civic affairs, always giving his best efforts to the betterment of our community. His honesty and integrity cannot be questioned.

To you Members of the House and to you, Mr. Speaker, I wish a harmonious, snappy, and constructive session, and I might add, a short one.

GAVEL PRESENTED TO SPEAKER

Mr. ANDREWS. The wish is father to the thought but I doubt if it will happen.

It is my privilege to transfer into your keeping this symbol of the authority with which this House by unanimous vote has endowed you. May you hold this symbol in high esteem. The power inherent in it is a sacred trust. With this symbol you become the custodian of a great tradition, a tradition which admonishes us, each of us, in our brief day to contribute to the dignity of the legislative branch of our state government.

By and through this little symbol you become the custodian who interprets the rules of this House and you become the guardian of the dignity of this House. At a tap of this symbol the House rises, at its command the House is seated. When disorder arises this little symbol is the instrument with which you restore order.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, I present to you an able parliamentarian, a conscientious Legislator, a just man, a gentleman, your Speaker, the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, and may God bless him.

ADDRESS BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, our distinguished guests, Judge Graff, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, former Speaker of this House, may I express my sincere appreciation to all of you for electing me Speaker of this House.

Where but in our beloved country could a person of average birth and parentage be elevated to such a high position in one of the world's greatest legislative bodies? I am deeply moved by this unanimous election, not because I feared opposition from the minority party but because I believe that this action points to the beginning of a session which will be unusual in its display of mutual cooperation and "friendly persuasion."

I am also very happy and thrilled to be the first Speaker of this House to participate in the ritual of "passing the gavel." It is a real privilege to receive this emblem of authority from the hands of such a worthy predecessor.

In the political recesses of my mind I thrill to the fact that our party was able to unseat him as Speaker of this House, but in my heart I will have a feeling of deep respect and admiration for the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and hope that over the years to come I may have his counsel and advice for many, many years.

I believe, too, that we should express our appreciation to people who perform their jobs well. As you look around this House today you will see that it is beautifully refurbished. I know that this work has been carried on under the direction of Ben Long, the Chief Clerk of this House, and by his very able assistant, Cappie Burns, and the employees of his office. Mr. Burns, I know, has given unstintingly of his time and his effort to make this opening day the success that it is. Also, I would like to express my appreciation to Mr. Long and our gratitude for the splendid manner in which he presided at today's session. I express my personal thanks to all of them.

In my past sixteen years of service in this great body I have always been extremely proud of this House. Today I am not only proud but grateful. Others in the Hall of the House today I know are equally proud. I should just like to present a few of them to you and hope that they and you will become friends during the next two years.

First, I would like to present to you the woman I love and the mother of my children, my wife, Gerry. Our two daughters, Bernell and Jerilyn, the person who saw me first in this world, my mother; and in spite of the mother-in-law stories that you hear, I am very happy and proud to have with me today Gerry's mother, Mrs. L. P. Rearich. Sitting on my right, I am happy to have five of my eight brothers here with me today.

As we approach our duties as legislators in this all important session, we must face our responsibilities squarely. We must try to solve these problems as citizens of this great Commonwealth in such a way that it will be in the best interests of all of the people of the state and not for any favored group or special interests. I can assure you that the majority party in this House will not play the role of obstructionist but will lend its support to any sensible, economical, progressive program which may be presented. The yardstick we will use to measure the value of such a program will be, first, is it workable, second, is it good for all the people of this Commonwealth, third, can we afford it. If the answers to these three questions are yes, then we will support it and try to hasten its passage. However, we will oppose with equal vigor any unsound, unworkable, costly scheme, regardless of its origin or sponsorship.

As your Speaker, I pledge to you my support of any program or change that will give to this House of Representatives its proper recognition as a separate and distinct branch of government.

I join with the former Speaker of this House in his efforts to obtain proper parking facilities for our Members.

I pledge to you my fairest consideration of your requests, both on and off the floor of this House.

I promise to you that I will always respect the power of the majority but will ever defend the rights of the minority.

With your cooperation I assure you that we will start each day's session "on time." No recess will extend beyond the time established by this House. I serve notice on both Floor Leaders that we must be prepared to start each day's session of this Body at the time specified.

In closing, may I extend to each of you the invitation to avail yourself of the services of the Speaker's office.

I think at this time I will introduce my staff to you.

On my left, Miss Karns; on my right, Miss Legato. On my left, Mrs. Lambing. May I say to you that you will always have a welcome in my office. The courtesy of that office will be extended to all of you and Members of this House will receive priority.

In pledging to you my complete cooperation as your Speaker, I ask for the help of each and every Member of this House so that with Divine guidance we may have a harmonious and efficient session of the General Assembly.

Thank you very much.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Do I understand that the Speaker has appointed a Committee to represent this House at the inauguration of Mr. Eisenhower?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker is there any provision for the appointment of Minority representation? We feel that in view of the number of Democrats that must have voted for Mr. Eisenhower, there should be a provision for Minority representation, if there are any Members of the Minority that desire to be present.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman that the concurrent resolution did not so provide and the Committee was appointed in compliance with the resolution.

However, the Chair has followed the precedent set by the present Minority party and appointed the Committee accordingly.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is there any possibility of amending the resolution so that the Minority would not be specifically excluded?

The precedents of this House call for Minority representation.

The SPEAKER. After the Joint Session, if the gentleman desires to press the point we will be happy to consider it and we can then amend the resolution that was adopted. I am sure that there would be no objection to any Minority Member attending the inaugural ceremonies on the same basis as the Members of the Committee will attend, by paying his own expenses.

Mr. ANDREWS. It is going to be nice company, and it is going to be a pleasant trip.

We thank the Chair and we will raise the point at the proper time.

JOINT SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR ROY E. FURMAN PRESIDING

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, the Committee appointed to escort the Governor to the Hall of the House.

Mr. WATSON, Mr. President, I have the Honor of presenting His Excellency, George M. Leader, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. Members of the General Assembly, I have the honor and privilege of presenting His Excellency, George M. Leader, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who will now address you

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR GEORGE M. LEADER

GOVERNOR LEADER. Mr. Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker and Members of the General Assembly. As I look out over this Hall and see these beautiful flowers I rather feel as if I might have come to the Rose Bowl game. In any event I hope it is not going to be the Battle of the Roses. I prefer to put the former interpretation on it.

It is an entirely proper custom which requires the Governor of the Commonwealth to appear before the General Assembly and render his report of the state of the Commonwealth as it appears to him at the mid-point of his term of office.

I hope you will forgive its length, but we must deal seriously with the many serious questions that will come before us.

Two years—not much more than seven hundred days—is but a little time in the span of a man's life, but two years in the Governor's Office, charged with the responsibilities of that great estate, can seemingly become a period in which all sense of time is lost as problem succeeds problem and work piles hard on work.

It is well, therefore, that we stop to summarize; that we bring into focus all that has been done, and relate it to a program for the future

That future program depends in enormous degree upon the judgment and the action of the Legislature.

Our Constitution, of course, separates the executive from the legislative branch. Evidently, the people, as the masters of every officeholder, are not afraid to carry the separation of powers doctrine one step farther and separate us politically as well.

They have done the same thing in our National Government, with a reverse twist, and the heavens have not fallen.

I am sure that there is no more reason for a cold war between the Governor and the General Assembly than there is between the President and Congress.

If good is to be accomplished—as we must all wish it to be—we must learn to work together in these next months. I suppose I have as many partisan feelings to suppress as the next man. I promise you an earnest and a heartfelt desire, on your Governor's part, to remove any temptations of party competition which conflict with the rightful expectations of the people of the State. I will look for the same spirit of accommodation from the Republican majorities in the House and Senate, and I am quite sure that I will not look in vain.

None of us can be anxious to repeat a seventeen months legislative session

All of us must know that there can be no reward, in conscience or in politics, to be gained from obstruction for obstruction's sake.

STATE GOVERNMENT

That being the case, we can expect to move forward in this session of the Legislature and in this Administration for the next two years with a program that will not necessarily be good for the Democratic Party alone, nor good necessarily for the Republican Party alone, but which will be good for the eleven million people of Pennsylvania.

Logic dictates that in a report of the state of the Commonwealth, we begin with the structure of government within the Commonwealth and what we can do to improve it. The mechanism is not important in itself, but it is vitally important as the instrument through which we bring vital services to the people of the State.

I think we should say here something so plain that it would appear to be self-evident, but which, despite its clarity, must still be stated over and over again.

It is this: the Government of Pennsylvania is an agency of service to its people, for which they pay hundreds of millions of dollars a year in taxes. It is not by right the private preserve, for personal or political exploitation, of any Governor, of any State employe, of any special interest lobbyist,, or of any political organization or party, whatsoever.

The people of this State have been tolerant—too tolerant—of abuses of the spoils system which would, in our own day, be unthinkable in the Federal Government, in the principal cities of Pennsylvania, and in any of the progressive states of the Union.

Because we grow up with a system, we sometimes become blinded to its faults.

After two years in the Governor's Office, I am now firmly convinced that the Government of this State cannot be administered in this complex technological society by the methods of patronage as usual. We must begin to do what we should have done long years ago—build a trained corps of technological and professional personnel, selected by merit, protected in their careers, across the board in the State's services.

I am proud to report to you that this Administration has, by Executive Board action, brought under civil service 3,500 technical and profressional employes of the State. But what one Executive Board can do, another can undo. Consequently, this Administration will ask for legislation at this session which will give the essential career personnel of the Commonwealth the civil service protection of statute law.

It should be obvious that we cannot engineer highways, manage our forests, direct industrial development programs, or treat psychiatric patients with untrained and unqualified people.

We are in fierce competiton with private industry and with other public bodies for skills and talents. This Legislature can go far, and this Administration will press hard, to hold our own in this competition.

To the State's credit, we have long respected career service in the Game and Fish Commissions, the Liquor Control system, and the State Police. Governor Fine introduced career service into the State Health Department. Under prodding from the Federal Government, former administrations accepted the merit system in the Department of Public Assistance and in the Bureau of Employment Security. It seems to me that we will have an uncomfortable accounting to render the people of our State if we fail to give them equal assurances of training and competence everywhere in their Government.

As Governor, in the years of my term that are ahead, I do not intend to fail in this task.

I am also happy to report, while we are on the subject of personnel, that our Reclassification Survey has reduced the number of job classifications in the State's service from more than 7,500 separate job titles and ratings to about 1,200. This is a step from chaos to order in administration. In personnel policy, it has permitted us to equalize wages and salaries within the State's service, and to establish pay rates that are reasonably equivalent to those in the private economy.

No Reclassification Survey is ever perfect, including ours. We think we have had 90 per cent success; we'll keep on trying for 100 per cent.

Within the Departments and State Agencies, we have had twenty-four major reorganizations approved by the Executive Board, all in the hope that improved efficiency and service would result.

In the near future, I expect to receive the report of the Governmental Reorganization Commission created by the previous session of the Legislature. We expect the report of the Commission, which has worked hard and earnestly, to be rich in suggestions for improvements in our public administration in Pennsylvania.

I intend to give its recommendations the intensely serious study I am sure they will deserve, and I am equally certain that they will be of great interest to the members of the General Assembly.

We must recognize, to be sure, that we cannot measure such reorganization plans by dollar savings, which, on a major scale, can only come from the elimination of services. Their value is to be found in the better services we can provide for every dollar spent.

INTEGRITY IN GOVERNMENT

We have talked briefly about the need for career civil servants in our State Government, and about the structure of the State Government. To support good government, even when such pillars as personnel and organization are firmly in place, we must have unchallengeable integrity.

Honesty is a quality we expect in our families, among our neighbors, in our business life, in most men and women everywhere. The great majority of public employes, the great majority of men and women in public life are utterly honest. But in public service, I believe we have an obligation which goes beyond that of the citizen and that of the business enterprise.

We must be exemplary in our integrity.

Consequently, I will recommend to this Legislature, a law defining and regulating conflict of interest on the part of State officials and employes, so that we may be sure that we deny legal countenance to actions which involve a misuse of influence. Such clarifying legislation will protect the official as well as the State. Governor Dewey, I may say, sponsored such legislation when he was Chief Executive of New York.

Further, I believe that the people have a right to know officially what person and what interest is attempting to influence legislation and public policy in Pennsylvania, and how much they are spending to do so. Therefore, I will recommend to the Legislature, a proposal for the registration of lobbyists and a public accounting of their expenditures.

In the last year, I must report, evidence of grave misconduct has been exposed in the operations of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission and the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. A dozen prosecutions have begun involving former officials of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission.

In Lackawanna County, five persons have already pleaded no defense against charges that they defrauded the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of approximately $500,000. Here in Dauphin County, a special grand jury is investigating the Turnpike Commission, basically on charges developed by the Justice Department, which led me to the conclusion that we faced the greatest public fraud of all time. The Department of Justice, the District Attorney of Dauphin County, and the Grand Jury are, I am confident, making a fair and a complete investigation.

It would be grossly unfair to blame the corruption of a few officials on any political party.

But it would not be unfair to blame such misconduct on some weaknesses in the law which all of us, over many sessions of the Legislature, failed to remedy and to lack of supervision and control of the quasi-independent agencies which have been created.

I therefore will recommend to the Legislature that the fundamental protection of competitive bidding on contracts and purchases, required of all operating State departments under the Administrative Code, be made to apply to the Turnpike Commission and any other State agencies and authorities that are now, mistakenly, outside this requirement of the law.

This Legislature may, it has been said, have some understandable curiosity as to our operations in some phases of State government. That is its privilege,and I will welcome legitimate legislative inquiry as a helpful instrument in the attainment of good government in our State.

Every department head will have instructions to cooperate fully.

Any dereliction which has escaped us, but which a legislative committee brings forward, will be promptly corrected.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION

The fundamental law of the Commonwealth, in whose framework we meet all of our responsibilities as a Sovereign State, is our Constitution, adopted in 1874. Everyone admits it should be revised and brought into keeping with our times; no one does anything about it.

The drafting and acceptance of a new Constitution has been blocked, it seems to me, on formless fears. A campaign of education, supported by both parties, should dissipate such fears and develop a new climate—a climate of intelligent hope for the benefits which Constitutional revision can bring to the people of Pennsylvania.

I would blush at my next proposal were it not crystal clear that it could have no application to me. Such Constitutional revision, or a separate amendment to the existing Constitution, should permit the Governor of Pennsylvania to succeed himself if the voters so decide. This would tend to give the opposition party what it deserves—a square shot at the incumbent Governor's record. More importantly, it would give the State a continuity of program which it very badly needs. Four years is not much time for an incoming Governor and his department heads to plan and execute a program; eight years, if granted by the people, could bring accumulated skill and painfully acquired knowledge to the enormous job at hand.

STATE FINANCE

The best structure of government, the best personel in government, and the highest ethics about government will not accomplish very much when the same government suffers from chronic lack of money. Pennsylvania has had a series of deficits, and it will have one again at the close of this biennium. It has been pointed out to me that in my inaugural address, I wounded some feelings by stating that if you persistently spend more than you take in, you eventually go bankrupt. Perhaps the phrase was too colorful, but the sense remains true.

The problems of State finance, as I see them, will be treated in detail in my budget message.

Currently, my staff and I are deep in the budget cutting process. The various departments and the State-aided universities and institutions asked us for $400,000,000—including mandates—more than the anticipated General Fund expenditures for the 1955-57 biennium. We are trying to cut that increase to manageable proportions, but it is not easy. In the face of persistent inflation and price rises, and in the rising demand for services, each agency can make a plausible—even a pitiable—case.

But with the mandatory increases previously voted by the Legislature, plus the demonstrated needs of the people, it is obvious that in spite of the sharpness of our budget-pruning knives, the revenue requirements will be higher, not lower, than they were for 1955-57. And we all know the difficulty that we had then.

I, for one, hope it will not be repeated.

We will have the advantage, in this session, of the report of the bipartisan Tax Policy Advisory Committee, which shows us that twelve leading citizens of Pennsylvania, evenly divided between the parties, representing labor, business, and government, can reach an agreement as to a short-range tax program.

It would seem to me that we, the Legislature and the Governor, can do as well if we too put aside our prejudices and meet the problems that exist.

Since this is a report, as well as a legislative program, I would like to tell you very frankly that I am not satisfied with our experience in collecting the sales tax. The Administration has already taken measures to improve the collection of the tax; we will take others which will be duly announced. Some of my advisers have told me that it is political heresy to admit to anything less than perfection; if that is so, then I am a political heretic. It is better by far, I am convinced, to be open and honest in such matters.

OUR HIGHWAY PROGRAM

To this point we have been talking of the method of government—organization, personnel, safeguards, finance.

I now make reference to one of the great program areas of government in Pennsylvania, the maintenance and construction of a modern highway system equal to the Nation's best.

Our first obligation is to take full advantage in Pennsylvania's interest of the enlarged Federal highway program. That will be done, if the revenues of our Motor License Fund are kept adequate for our requirements.

We must not permit the great opportunities opened to us under the Federal program to be lost by inadequate financing, avoidable delays, and internal wrangles within our State. This program is not a sectional or a political pork-barrel. It is our duty to carry out the intent of Congress and construct our part of an interstate system of highways designed to carry the crushing load of tomorrow's traffic.

Our planning calls for the construction of a new interstate highway across the spine of the State from Sharon to Stroudsburg, for the improvement of Route Six across the northern tier as a part of the primary highway system, for an interstate highway from Lake Erie to the West Virginia border in the West, and for the solution of the major highway problems of metropolitan Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Just a few days ago I signed a proclamation establishing the New Delaware Expressway in Philadelphia and Bucks County as a limited-access highway.

In my judgment, the Pennsylvania Turnpike system must be freed of its tolls and made an integral part of the interstate system. We are going to press very hard for that achievement, and I hope that in our pressure, I will have the support of every member of the General Assembly. We are very glad that we have been able to thus free the South Hills tunnels of the Penn-Lincoln Parkway in Allegheny County, now about to go into construction.

The "Top-of-the-T"—the super-highway across Erie County, will also be built as a freeway, without tolls.

To expedite the program, we will submit to the Legislature revisions of the present law prescribing the taking of rights-of-way. We also hope to establish a degree of advance planning in the Highway Department which will permit the acquisition of rights-of-way some years in advance of the actual construction. It seems strangely short-sighted to me that this was not done years ago. It would have saved millions of dollars and months and years of time.

We will recommend a scholarship program in Pennsylvania engineering schools for the training of State highways engineers, so that we may recruit the skilled personnel that a continuing and mounting schedule of construction demands.

We will ask the Legislature to help us stop the blighting of our highways by signboards and shacks through the enactment of a highway zoning law. It would seem to me that the people of this Country will deeply resent paying billions of dollars for new highways, only to see them desecrate the countryside. We should not be in the business of creating captive motor audiences for the billboard business.

We will also ask the General Assembly to authorize the continued expansion of our system of roadside rests and picnic areas.

The Legislature acted wisely, in my judgment, when it increased the participation of our Pennsylvania communities in the Motor License Fund from $18,000,000 to a minimum of $30,000,000 a year. City streets and township roads are a necessary part of our highway system, and deserve proper support from the liquid fuels tax revenues. I will urge the Legislature to maintain this more generous degree of participation.

HIGHWAY SAFETY AND FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

We will recommend legislation to make sure that every car on the road and every driver on the highway is financially responsible for the damage he may inflict on others.

Ninety per cent of our Pennsylvania highway users are responsible. Ten per cent are not.

This Legislature will have the opportunity to make sure that the prudent ninety per cent of drivers and all pedestrians are not the victims of the irresponsible minority. We now have a topsy-turvy system where evidence of financial responsibility is posted after there has been an accident.

We are continuing an aggressive campaign for highway safety, which is showing some good result. It now appears probable, although the December figures are not in, that Pennsylvania in 1956 was one of the very few States in our Country to reduce its traffic deaths from the number incurred in 1955.

It seems that our present program of selective warnings and suspensions, based on the gravity of the offense and the record of the violator, is proving more effective than the old system of automatic suspension. We have tightened enforcement, not relaxed it, as some people, in all good faith, feared when the system was changed. We are driving hardest against the habitual violator—the most dangerous menace of our highways.

We are not going to congratulate ourselves, any of us, as long as we go on killing 1,700 people each year in motor accidents. Nevertheless, it is good to know that we are eliminating the "restricted license" gimmick which made a farce of the supposedly stern automatic suspension system.

MENTAL HEALTH

But we may well congratulate ourselves on the amazing revolution which is taking place in Pennsylvania's treatment of the mentally ill. We have at last found courage to face the problem humanely and intelligently, and I would like now to compliment the 1955-56 legislators, of both parties, who were ready to vote a dramatic increase in our appropriations for mental health.

It would seem to me that a special report should be made to you of the progress we have made, and I have so instructed the Secretary of Welfare. For today's purposes, let me say that we have set out to accomplish a "crash" program—to do in months what should have been done in 20 years.

We have as Commissioner of Mental Health, one of the Nation's outstanding experts in the field. We have, with legislative approval, brought the State institutions under the proper control of the Department of Welfare, terminating the system under which control and responsibility were divided with citizen boards. We have a recruitment program for psychiatrists, psychologists, physicians, trained nurses, medical social workers, therapists.

Old buildings are being renovated and put to better uses. New buildings are going into construction under the authorizations the Legislature has voted to the General State Authority.

We have organized the Commonwealth Mental Health Foundation, an agency to accept private gifts for the improvement of our mental health program in Pennsylvania.

But these things are all mechanics. What about the results?

The result can only be measured by what we are able to do for the patient. Our objective goes beyond the minimum of humane and decent care. It goes to the maximum: treatment and cure.

For the first time in history, we are actually reducing the number of patients in our seventeen mental hospitals. In December 1956, we had 39,947 patients in those hospitals. The year before, in December 1955, the patient population reached 40,920.

The net reduction is nearly 1,000. Actually, the number of patients discharged was 3,923. These are salvaged lives. Who among us will question that they are worth the price they cost in dollars or in dedication.

We are not alone working for the cure of mental illness. We are working also for its prevention—for its treatment in such early stages that hospitalization will not be required and where hospitalization is required, to keep the period of treatment to a minimum. The Eastern Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute has been opened as a center of research.

Again in Philadelphia, we have organized a striking pilot project in local-State cooperation in the work of mental health. The Philadelphia-Commonwealth Regional Mental Health Program mobilizes all of our resources—city, State and private—for a combined attack on mental illness. I would like to see the program duplicated and perhaps improved in all the regions of the Commonwealth.

Because of the thoroughgoing support which the mental health program received at the last session, there is little new legislation needed in 1957. It appears that all we need to keep this work moving ahead is adequate financial support, which I am sure will be forthcoming, and an understanding that so sweeping a program is bound to produce changes and conflicts that will not always be to everyone's personal liking.

As for the Governor of the Commonwealth, I stand squarely in support of what we are doing, and if my Administration is to be remembered for any single achievement, I would like it to be the success of our fight against mental illness.

WELFARE AND JUVENILE PROBLEMS

One of the great tragedies of public life in Pennsylvania —one of our sad errors of heart and mind—has been our failure to provide adequate institutional care for the retarded child who is incapable of being trained for some part, however limited, in our normal society. There have been waiting lists for Polk, Pennhurst, Selinsgrove, and Laurelton, that stretched for years and decades.

At last, we are cutting into that waiting list.

We have been able to convert facilities no longer needed for the treatment of tuberculosis at White Haven, in Luzerne County, and at Mt. Alto, in Franklin County, to the care of more than 800 retarded children.

The Legislature authorized the General State Authority to build three new institutions at a total cost of $30,000,000. The Authority has acted. Architects have been selected; sites have been picked. We are heading toward construction.

In another area of concern for the handicapped child, the Department of Public Instruction is aggressively using its powers and financial aid to develop special teaching programs throughout our public school system. It warms my heart, and I am sure it warms the heart of every man and woman in this House, to know that in one year we have accomplished a 38 per cent increase in the number of handicapped children benefiting from special instruction. In this school year, we have added 20,000 pupils to our special classes aimed at overcoming their disabilities.

The bottleneck now is the training of teachers with special qualifiications in the field of aiding the handicapped. We will ask the Legislature to permit the General State Authority to finance a group of small units at the teachers' colleges and the State-aided universities, specially equipped for such teacher training, and we will ask for special support of an education program for teachers of speech and hearing.

Our interest in children and youth runs throughout the departments of the Commonwealth. The Department of Forests and Waters and the Welfare Department have a joint venture in a boys' forestry camp at Raccoon Creek State Park in Beaver County aimed at the rehabilitation of juvenile offenders. Similar camps will be established in State forests and parks in other parts of the State.

The Department of Welfare now has a Child Care Division and a Youth Rehabilitation Division. State, Federal, and local funds are put together to shape a more effective program for dependent and delinquent children in more than sixty counties of the State.

A PROGRAM FOR THE AGED

Every student of our population trends recognizes that we will—each year—have a greater percentage of children and of the aged in our population. An alert government must therefore have as strong an interest in the aging as it does in the country's youth.

In the Department of Labor and Industry, an advisory commission has been set up to add to our understanding of the employment problems of the aging worker. In the Department of Welfare, a bureau has been created to add to our understanding of the social problems of older people.

We believe the State should take a measure of leadership in working with its local communities on the whole series of problems which are of special concern to its older citizens, and we will propose legislation to that purpose.

BETTER HEALTH IN PENNSYLVANIA

Many of our so-called "welfare" problems are truly health problems, with their origins in some preventable physical defect or disease. Pennsylvania can be proud today of its Health Department, which has been made non-political, professional, and effective.

Within a year after the date when the vaccine, developed by Dr. Jonas Salk at the University of Pittsburgh, became generally available, 2,500,000 young people and expectant mothers were given its protection. Some years ago, when the vaccine which prevents diphtheria was first developed, it took ten long years to match that degree of immunization.

The case load for polio went down from an average of more than 1,300 cases a year to only 200 in 1956.

We, of course, will not be satisfied until every susceptible person has been given the protection of the vaccine, and our future program must make sure that every newborn infant is protected.

Just as quickly as it reacted to the Salk vaccine, the Department of Health has taken appropriate action to meet its responsibilities in the new field of both promise and danger that is atomic energy. The Advisory Health Board has adopted regulations for the public health aspects of radiation that are the most comprehensive in their safeguards of any state in the union.

The Department is properly moving forward with demonstration programs in the chronic diseases, which are now assuming such a critical place in our statistics of life and death. Such diseases include cancer, heart disease, diabetes, arthritis, and cerebral hemorrhage.

Tuberculosis is a traditional field of public health action in which we have had strikingly good results. But we are apparently encountering a point of levelling off, at which the need for treatment facilities will remain static until we achieve our next medical break-through.

The incidence of the disease is largely concentrated in Allegheny and Philadelphia counties where, by a strange failure, the State had no facilities for treatment. In the Pittsburgh district, this has been remedied by the transfer to the Commonwealth of Leech Farm Tuberculosis Hospital, formerly operated by the City of Pittsburgh. In the Philadelphia area, the General State Authority has approved a $3,000,000 allocation for the reconstruction of the tuberculosis facility now operated by the State on the old Lankenau Hospital group.

As tuberculosis beds become vacant, we can put them to good use in the treatment of other chronic lung diseases. We will ask the Legislature to permit the Department to treat all chronic pulmonary diseases. We believe, also, that vacant areas in our tuberculosis facilities can and should be used for cerebral palsy patients who are so severely handicapped by their disease that they cannot benefit from vocational rehabilitation.

Still looking ahead to its function in protecting the health of Pennsylvanians, the Department suggests that legislation be enacted giving it and the local health units additional power to prevent air pollution. I heartily concur in this suggestion, and appropriate legislation will be submitted to the General Assembly.

Pittsburgh is justly proud of its record in cleansing its atmosphere.

We should do as well throughout the densely populated area of Pennsylvania. Air pollution has blighted Los Angeles; we must act in Pennsylvania to prevent it from becoming a menace to our health and well-being.

We are also moving forward in our recognition of alcoholism and narcotics addiction as a public health problem. The Health Department will begin the operation in 1957 of a Chronic Addictive Disease Hospital in Pittsburgh, where the alcoholic and the drug addict can be helped. This will be the first time that Pennsylvania has had such a facility; up to this date, the narcotic addict who sought treatment was necessarily sent to Federal institutions in Kentucky and Texas. This new hospital will be good for its patients; it will also be good for society in its prevention of the crime and delinquence so tragically associated with drug addiction.

Finally, in the field of public health, Pennsylvania has adopted a wise plan of administration through county health units which were first established in Bucks and Butler Counties. We are now putting this plan into effect in Allegheny County, where State support will help to build one of the great urban health departments in the Nation, and in Erie County. We hope the example will spread and that in the near future, every county in Pennsylvania will be served by a local unit.

We must, in this process, correct a rank injustice to the City of Philadelphia. The present law does not make the excellent health program of that City eligible for recognition as a county unit, and denies the people of Philadelphia the State reimbursement to which they are plainly entitled. We will urge the Legislature to make Philadelphia eligible for the same annual allowance of 75 cents per capita as we grant other health units.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

A cynic once said, in contrasting what we spend on highways with the amount we spend on education, that America might soon develop a society of morons driving over the best highways in the world. No one could honestly say that about the public policy of Pennsylvania, where we have so consistently, session after session, increased the degree of State support for our public schools.

Our contribution to education—subsidies to the school districts, payments on school construction, operation of the teachers' colleges, grants to the State-aided universities, support of Penn State University—all of these take more than 50 cents of every dollar we raise for the State's General Fund.

In the 1939-40 school year, the State paid about $40,000,000 in school subsidies, constituting 21.6 per cent of total school expenditures.

In the 1954-55 school year, the amount had climbed to about $220,000,000, and the percentage had increased to 41.6 per cent.

I would hazard a guess that we are now paying, as a State, fifty per cent of the total cost of public education within the Commonwealth.

Consequently, while we will honor our mandates, and our commitment to the districts to help pay the salary increases provided by the 1955 Session, I believe that we must find some agreement as to the top dollar which the State can be rightfully expected to pay. I would remind the Legislature and the public that a dollar in State taxes is no less painful than a dollar in local revenues. We are not giving anything away.

At the same time, we know that our society depends primarily upon the education of its youth for its continuance and its progress. We know that there is a need for new school buildings, for more teachers, for special refinements in the educational program.

I expect that the State will do its part, and more.

This is especially true in the growing pressure for new school construction. The growth of population and the change in population pattern are creating steady demand for new schoolrooms; so is the rise in our standards which has condemned the one-room school and the firetrap as unfit and unworthy for any Pennsylvania child. The indices of population show us that the pressure will become greater, not lessen, in the years ahead.

The last session of the Legislature authorized the staggering sum of $500,000,000 for school construction with State reimbursement.

To date, the Department of Public Instruction has approved projects for school construction totalling $275,000,000. In one month from today, the authorized total for the school year 1956-57 will be exhausted.

The Legislature has set up $100,000,000 in authorizations for the school year 1957-58, and a second hundred million for the following school year.

Already, projects on file in the Department claim the entire two hundred million and exceed it by an additional $133,000,000.

In order to develop proper planning to meet our school construction needs, it is apparent that the present session must—if our policy of State assistance is to continue—make new authorizations in a substantial amount. We may well expect that a sound program of Federal aid for education will be realized, and that the State's obligations will be in part offset by a sizable Federal contribution to our need.

It is not possible at this time to predict how many proposed school buildings will be delayed or abandoned because of the high interest rates that are following the Federal Reserve Board's tight money policy, or how much the higher interest rates will add to total costs.

We are presently exploring all the avenues open to us which might be used to reduce the cost of interest in school construction.

Among them might well be the amendment of the Constitution to permit school districts to issue general obligation bonds with a new and higher ratio of debt to valuations. I would suggest that such an amendment be started toward passage at this session.

As an immediate measure, we are determining the possibility of borrowing funds for school construction from the State Retirement funds at a pegged rate of interest substantially below the high rates of the current bond market.

The Department of Public Instruction, in an effort to control costs, has begun a continuous study of design, materials, and the building code as they affect public school construction.

As to program, I earlier made reference to the good work that is being done in special classes for the handicapped. We must realize that our society is not solely a welfare state, and that humanitarian impulse alone will not substitute for the brains and initiative that our complex economic organization constantly requires. It is good to know, therefore, that we have a developing program under way for the very able and gifted child, so that his potential will be more fully developed.

It is good to know, too, that the Department of Public Instruction has its own curiosity as to "Why Johnny Can't Read?" I was gratified to receive a report from the Superintendent making clear that a searching study is under way in the fundamentals of education for all children, with special emphasis on reading and study techniques.

In the structure of school administration, I will request the Legislature to adopt the plan suggested by the State Council of Education for the operation of "service units" on a county or a multi-county basis.

HIGHER EDUCATION

The Legislature and this Administration have been as generous to the Teachers' Colleges and the State-aided universities as our hard circumstances will permit; more generous, I should say, than any Administration in the State's history.

We recognize that we are on the threshold of an era of enormous demand for higher education, brought about by our high level of prosperity, our emphasis on technology, and—most of all—by the coming into college age of the children who today reflect the rising birth rate of the 1940's.

We were wise, therefore, in bringing the State-aided universities into the permissible operation of the General State Authority. This session will undoubtedly be asked to implement our intention with an authorization in money terms.

In further recognition of our problems of higher education, which obviously go beyond the State-operated and State-aided institution, we have asked a distinguished commission to report to us on the whole scope of higher education in the Commonwealth and the State's obligations to it. That report, I am advised, will soon come to my office. It will, of course, be made public and made available to the Legislature.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

To support all the humanitarian and educational programs in our society, we must have an enduring and strong private economy. Essentially such an economy comes from the efforts of our citizens, each working to produce some material or service and sell it at a profit. But the State is not entirely a bystander. It can help or it can hinder. We want it to help.

The 1955 session passed a comprehensive industrial development program, substantially in the form suggested by this Administration. That program is now in operation. It will need no large-scale revision in 1957, and only a moderate renewal of financial support.

We can all take pride in the new vigor and direction which has come to the Department of Commerce, which is now professionally staffed with men who are the equals of the best railroad and utility industrial development experts.

We think they have a fine product to sell in the environment, the advantages, the skilled work force of our State. It will be within the power of this session of the Legislature to reverse the trend which has convinced many people that Pennsylvania's taxes on manufacturing industry are unduly burdensome. I hope it will be done. With improvement on the tax front, we may then have an impartial and dispassionate review of other obstacles to industrial growth, such as utility rates, freight rates, availability of industrial land, and all the other factors which are at least equal in importance to State and local taxes.

I think the people in this Administration have given abundant proof that they will work like beavers to bring substantial new industry to Pennsylvania.

We would like to see a team spirit spread across the State, a unified effort of business, labor, and government to expand our job opportunities. I can promise that the Commonwealth will do every reasonable thing expected of it.

For those parts of our State which are not sharing in the relatively full employment of these times, we still need effective Federal action to join with our State efforts. It has been repeatedly promised; it has not come. We hope that it will be brought to reality.

URBAN REDEVELOPMENT

The last Session of the Legislature renewed, after a lapse of four years, a State program of aid to municipalities for slum clearance and urban redevelopment. It has found an enthusiastic response and should be continued.

The great cities of the State, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, have had dramatic success in redevelopment and municipal reconstruction. The smaller communities can use the same processes; obtain the same State and Federal assistance; achieve the same success.

The Commonwealth will be of service with technical assistance and a reasonable stimulus of cash.

We will, of course, continue to speed the development of Point Park in Pittsburgh and Independence Mall in Philadelphia—State projects which have been true keystones in the renaissance of both cities.

To determine the State's proper role in housing, I have appointed still another citizens' commission broadly representative of the people of Pennsylvania. Their report will have great weight with me, and I am sure with the Legislature also, in determining the form that State assistance to better housing should take in Pennsylvania.

As to citizen participation in government, I would like to say now, in this formal state of the Commonwealth address, how important it is to draw able and public-spirited men and women into the unpaid service of their State. As Governor, I am very grateful to the hundreds of citizens who thus serve their community. I trust we will never be so arrogant in our public life that we will not welcome the fresh viewpoint and expert knowledge that citizen study groups can bring to our problems.

FARMING

While it is natural for most of us to think of Pennsylvania as an urban and industrial State, agriculture remains an important factor in our economy and a traditional stabilizer in our way of life. The last session of the Legislature helped the Pennsylvania farmer by guaranteeing the quality and honest representation of the feed and fertilizer that he buys. We provided for the 100 per cent refund of gasoline and tractor fuel tax used on the farm on a temporary basis. This should now be made permanent. We freed farm fishing ponds from burdensome and inappropriate regulations. A State general livestock show and 4H and FFA livestock shows were established.

At this session, we will ask that the successful Brucellosis eradication campaign in cattle be extended to swine. We will seek the same honest labelling of pesticides that we now compel for fertilizer.

In the Department of Agriculture, with legislative help as it may be required, we hope to expand our research programs and make a stronger effort to broaden our market for Pennsylvania's choice farm products.

MINERAL INDUSTRIES

The mining industries are synonymous with Pennsylvania. They have had their periods of expansion and their periods of decline; it is good to see coal moving forward again. No matter how much industrial growth we achieve, there will always be, in our lifetime, many thousands of Pennsylvanias whose whole allegiance will be to the mining industry, hard as it may sometimes be.

I am glad, therefore, that our program of economic development for Pennsylvania included research grants for work on Pennsylvania coal, and included the State-Federal program for mine drainage in the anthracite region.

It futher includes the completion of the mineral survey of the State, which is being efficiently carried out by the Deparatment of Internal Affairs.

We will ask the Legislature for appropriate legal authority to secure exploration for oil and natural gas in the offshore waters of Lake Erie. We will also ask for consideration of a basic change to unitization in our oil and gas fields, to replace the existing wasteful law of capture. This is a conservative measure of importance.

NATURAL RESOURCES

As to conservation, it is well-recognized that we have been able to achieve the best professional direction of our Department of Forests and Waters since the days of Gifford Pinchot.

The last session of the Legislature very wisely provided that the Department administer for conservation, recreation, dams, and flood control the considerable income the State receives from gas and oil royalties on State forest lands. The Department has also received substantial allocations from the Special Disaster Relief Fund administered by the State Council of Civil Defense.

The Department will soon report to the Legislature as to its use of these funds, and its future program for them.

It is interesting to note that the State's income from its oil and gas royalties will not necessarily end with the exhaustion of the fields; the Department has already entered into the first important contract to use the depleted wells for the storage of natural gas. Ultimate storage capacity will be 135 billion cubic feet, the largest such facility in the world.

The Department is stepping up its production of forest tree seedlings to 40,000,000 a year, so that it can meet the demand for tree cover for strip mined areas and for lands withdrawn from farming for participation in the Federal Soil Bank program.

The State park system is being vigorously developed, with a spectacular illustration in the control of beach erosion and the restoration of park facilities at Presque Isle State Park in Erie.

In all, fourteen existing State parks are getting major improvements with General State Authority financing while new parks are being developed with the special royalties fund.

Our objective is a good State park within 25 miles of every Pennsylvanian.

The timber management program, on a sustained yield basis, provided for the sale of 12,000,000 board feet of lumber and 6,500 cords of pulpwood from the State forest lands in 1956.

It is true that in the field of natural resources we have more than a managerial function. We must plan for the future. This is particularly true of our water, which each year will become more precious to us.

Pennsylvania's clean streams program is more vigorous than ever.

The great river valleys of the State—the Delaware, the Susquehanna-Juniata, the Upper Ohio and its tributaries—all must be given comprehensive plans for Federal, State, and local action.

The 1955 Legislature deserves great credit for the rapidity with which it moved on the problems resulting from the August floods. Flood control, flood prevention, and flood insurance are all being worked on or studied at the present time.

The conservation of wildlife, and the permanent provision of hunting and fishing opportunities in Pennsylvania, is of great importance. I am happy to report a high degree of professional competence in both the Game and Fish Commissions, and a spirit of cooperation in all the State agencies dealing with conservation which is daily creating joint enterprises which add immeasurably to their effectiveness.

HUMAN RESOURCES

The human resources of the Commonwealth are, of course, entitled to the same jealous protection we extend to our natural heritage. Pennsylvania may be proud that it traditionally gives to labor an equal place to management in the consideration of its public problems. We must be as intelligent and as progressive in our social and labor legislation as we are in our technological achievements.

The last session of the Legislature made important and proper revisions to our unemployment compensation, workmen's compensation, and compensation for occupational disease systems. We must keep these programs, so essential to the security of our labor force, under constant review, with the purpose in mind that Pennsylvania's codes in these matters will always rank with the best in the Nation.

In this area of public concern, I will specifically recommend to the Legislature that we require the payment of prevailing wages on all public contracts, just as the Federal Government has done for more than two decades.

I will further ask you to consider revisions in our laws regulating the issuance of preliminary injunctions in labor disputes, so that all parties may be truly guaranteed their day in court.

In the field of public assistance we shall recommend the continuation of the newly-adopted program to provide nursing-home care for the infirm aged. We shall also recommend that a moderate increase in flood allowance be authorized Finally, it would seem clear to me—as I am sure it must to you—that employed women, doing the same task as men, deserve the same pay ratio. I will therefore recommend to you the passage of legislation assuring equal pay for equal work.

KOREAN WAR BONUS

The Nation makes its ultimate call upon its human resources when it summons its young men to risk death in defense of our Country. Pennsylvania paid a bonus to its soldiers who served in World War I and in World War II. I cannot see how, in good conscience, we can do less for the men who were in service in the Korean War.

I will heartily approve payment of a Korean War bonus, and urge my fellow Pennsylvanias to approve the Constitutional Amendment necessary for it. But this time, I hope you will agree with me, we must have an adequate plan for the tax measure which will pay for it.

CIVIL RIGHTS

The young men who fought in Korea, like the young men who fought in all our wars since the Revolution, were fighting for liberty—for the principle that there are human rights which no government and no mob, no prejudice nor any tyrant, must be allowed to take away from even the least of us.

A fundamental right is the right to vote, and to thus participate in self-government. Pennsylvania annually denies this right to many thousands of its citizens because we do not permit absentee voting.

I urge most strongly that the Legislature complete its action on the necessary Constitutional amendment, introduced and passed for the first time in the previous session. Then I hope you will join with me in urging its adoption by the people.

We in Pennsylvania are fortunate that our history does not plunge us into the agonizing problems which are being so painfully and belatedly resolved in the South. Law in this State gives no countenance to discrimination; in fact, we are rightly using the power of law to uproot it wherever it may still exist.

The last session of the Legislature passed a Fair Employment Practice Law. The Commission has been appointed and staffed; the law is in effect.

But we are not yet done with legislation in the area of human rights.

Strangely enough, we have not removed all of the old common law disabilities which are imposed on married women. These legal relics of the past should be disposed of in this modern age, and Pennsylvania law should recognize completely the ability of women, married or single, to control their property under exactly the same circumstances as men.

We have just discussed an old disability affecting the rights of women. Today, the rights of all of us are menaced by an unexpected product of our technical age—the wire-tapper.

I would suggest to the Legislature that the laws of Pennsylvania as to wire-tapping be brought into conformity with the Federal statutes.

Finally, in the field of human rights, I would ask the Legislature to consider an enactment which will make it clear that the State's policy forbids discrimination for race, creed, or color in admissions to all schools in the Commonwealth which receive aid from the State's tax funds.

CONCLUSION

I must again apologize, Ladies and Gentlemen of the General Assembly, for the length of this message on the state of the Commonwealth, but as I prepared it, it became evident that the scope of our problems prevented the brief discussion I would have preferred.

Just to touch on all the subjects in our range of concern has taken an hour or more.

To cover them in detail will take weeks of patient and painstaking work in the departments of the State, in the various citizen commissions which are working with us, in the committees of the House and Senate, and on the floor of each distinguished legislative body.

It is plain that we have our work cut out for us.

None of us will flinch from our duty.

We all will act, I am sure, to make this a short and businesslike session. But that does not mean that it will neglect its duty. We have much to do for Pennsylvania. Let us then counsel together, not as party antagonists, but as co-workers for the people of this State so that we do our part in realizing their best hopes from their elected government.

GEORGE M. LEADER

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. Governor Leader, on behalf of the Members of the General Assembly, I want to congratulate you on your most interesting and comprehensive speech. Thank you very much.

O, God, most gracious, we thank Thee for Thy faithfulness that never fails.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the Governor sent over to us two names of two Philadelphians to be members of his official family. This not in the form of a tirade against the Members on the other side because they have not had the opportunity to really consider these two gentlemen. However, for their edification—and probably it is a little difficult for us, as Senators, to get to know all these candidates whose names are sent over for one position or another—I would like to just mention a few things about both of these candidates.

One of them is the man who has been named for the office of Attorney General, Thomas McBride. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and is one of the outstanding lawyers in the city of Philadelphia. For quite some time, he has lectured on constitutional law and the art of cross-examination. His is a name which is well known throughout the State of Pennsylvania because he is somewhat of a lawyer's lawyer, having been called in by very many prominent attorneys throughout the Commonwealth to help or assist them in trying some of their more difficult criminal cases.

Two years ago, Mr. McBride was elected Vice-Chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar. Recently, he was elected Chancellor of the Bar Association. He was President of the Philadelphia Voluntary Association for three years and he is now serving on the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee. He has been connected and has been associated with many fine endeavors in the city of Philadelphia and the State of Pennsylvania. He has also been active in the Pennsylvania Bar Association and the American Bar Association.

As a lawyer, the State could not have chosen a finer man, a man who is more able to do the job and who will do it not only in light of the Democratic Party and as a member of the official Governor's family, but for all of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Mr. McBride has been in the forefront of many liberal causes and is well known throughout the State as having been active on behalf of personal liberties and personal freedom.

The other man, Mr. President, needs less introduction. He is one who is well known among you and one who is known nationally as the result of a past election campaign. He is Mr. James Finnegan, who was City Chairman and who served as President of City Council in Philadelphia. He also served as Secretary of the Commonwealth during the present Administration. I know that it is not necessary for me to point out to the Members of the Senate the political implications which these two appointments carry. Whether we approve them or not, in our capacity as Senators, these men will serve out their two years. I think, therefore, to withhold our approval is certainly not playing the game fairly nor doing the right thing.

I believe it is our duty, as Senators, whether we like these two gentlemen or not, or whether we agree with them or not—with the exception, unless they are either morally unfit to hold these jobs or legally unfit to hold these jobs—to give them our unanimous approval. I believe that these names ought to be brought up as quickly as possible and approved because they are part of the Governor's official family and I do not think that it behooves us to withhold these approvals which are necessary for all the people of Pennsylvania in their behalf.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, the distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner, spent some time discussing or bringing forth the virtues of Mr. McBride. I would like to inform him and the rest of my colleagues that the Republicans caucused especially for that reason. We unanimously endorsed Mr. McBride for that office. We concur in what the gentleman said about him.

The name of Mr. Finnegan was not brought up today because we did not think it was that important. I, personally, am just wondering. Mr. Finnegan came in at a salary of $15,000; he resigned and is now going to receive $20,000. I am just wondering whether he will give that other $5,000 to Adlai to help make up the loss which he met in his campaign

However, Mr. President, I am sure that we can assure the gentlemen on the other side that Mr. Finnegan's name will be brought up in due time.

PRAYER

Rev. Aaron Elek, Pastor of the Hungarian Presbyterian Church, Leechburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Eternal and Almighty God who art the author and Creator of all things visible and invisible, we have come together here in this hallowed place of decisions, in this renewed year of Thy providential grace. We have come with a deep desire in our hearts to confess Thy Sovereign Lordship, to promise Thee solemnly to accept thy judgement with a humble and obedient heart which Thou may lay upon us, to pledge ourselves to pursue ideals which bring us ever closer to that abundant life Thou hast destined for all Thy people to live.

Help us to dedicate ourselves anew to a greater and a fuller service of this Commonwealth, which is the cornerstone of our great nation. Let our greatness be preceeded by humility, our might by compassion, our wealth by the treasures of human love. Let Thine everlasting arms hold all those on whose shoulder the cross of the destiny of our land rests, give them courage to dare, wisdom to decide, and vision to see far ahead in our dark and challenging world. Impart these blessings to our President and to all those who labor and hope for the future in our country and in this state.

May the spirit and beauty of Christmas, and the peace and love remain in our hearts and in our midst, may this new year be a twilight of our new hopes and the fulfillment of all our noble desires. Hear our prayer gracious God and answer us. In the name of Thy most loving Son, we ask. Amen.

It is fitting and proper that the funds required for providing parade units as aforesaid be met by popular subscription; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate, as members of the Pennsylvania 1957 Inauguration Fund Committee, whose duties it shall be to receive unsolicited voluntary contributions from persons, partnerships, corporations, and other entities, and to disburse the fund thereby created in defraying the expense of providing Pennsylvania units for the parade incident to the Presidential Inauguration of January 21, 1957. If any balance shall remain in the fund after defrayment of the expense aforesaid, such balance shall be delivered to the State Treasurer, for deposit in the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objection?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I object to the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection, and consent is not granted.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 88.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 88 be suspended for the specific purpose of considering immediately a resolution to amend House Rule 27.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the minority side will be willing to take a standing vote on this motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the Majority Leader that it is fundamentally unfair to consider Rules when we do not even have the Rules of the House before us. We have a lot of new Members here who are not acquainted or familiar with any of the Rules of the House, and yet there is nothing on our desks to tell us what those Rules are.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I say at this point for the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia that it is our intention to interrogate the Majority Leader to ascertain what these changes amount to and to have them explained so all of the Members will have that information.

At this time the only motion before us is whether or not to suspend Rule 88 so that Rule 27 can be considered today.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to suspend Rule 88?

One hundred twenty Members having voted in the affirmative and sixty-five in the negative, the motion was agreed to and Rule 88 was suspended.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Pomeroy.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I believe I have leave to speak on Rule 27 and not on the motion. Am I correct in that?

The SPEAKER. The question is on the adoption of the resolution. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak briefly today to this House on the proposed change in the Rules.

The proposed abolition of the Cities of First Class Committee by the Rules Committee marks an inauspicious beginning of this legislative session and the discharge of our responsibilities as the majority party.

Certainly the thirty year tradition of a separate committee and the legislative needs of over two million people in Philadelphia, representing over 20 per cent of the state's population, requires compelling reasons to support the merger of the Committee which will leave Philadelphia without effective means of readying a legislative program.

Not only have the members of the Rules Committee and the House leadership failed to offer any good reason for the change, but they have refused to permit many leading and respected Philadelphia civic agencies and organizations to appear before them to explain their vigorous opposition to this change. These organizations, which have the full support of the major daily papers in Philadelphia, represent a broad cross section of labor unions, industry, and the community at large. Their combined membership includes the heads of hundreds of other leading organizations, as well as thousands of individual members. They have proved their effectiveness and their expression of the will of the majority, since they have successfully led general and primary election battles to give Philadelphia a Home Rule Charter and also to preserve it. A few of these leading groups which have protested this change are: The Citizens Charter Committee, the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Philadelphia, the Greater Philadelphia Movement and the Chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Philadelphia City Planning.

What is most disappointing in this entire situation is the fact that these unified requests that the Committee status be kept as it has been has been totally ignored without even a semblance of a hearing.

The onus is squarely on the Rules Committee to explain why an established committee which, with but one exception, has functioned steadily and continuously for several decades and has been responsible for providing all of the major legislation which has benefited Philadelphia during that time is peremptorily and suddenly abolished. No adequate explanation has been given, for none exists.

It was the Cities of the First Class Committee which paved the way for the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter, the most important legislative decision in 100 years for Philadelphia. Tremendous issues will be before this Legislature—issues which concern Philadelphia alone, but which need action. A few of the decisions which will have to be made in this session are: Completion of home rule, ward realignment, hospital and health and welfare measures—to mention only four basic ones. Thorough consideration of the problems requires a full-time committee working on a steady basis so that legislation which has been carefully considered will reach the floor.

Can a committee which must also deal with Pittsburgh and Scranton problems, totally unrelated to Philadelphia, give full time and attention to Philadelphia legislation? The answer is obviously in the negative. In fact, it is unfair to Pittsburgh and to Scranton to short-change them by refusing to give those great cities a committee devoted to their problems alone. In all likelihood, the result will be inadequate consideration for everybody.

In addition, a committee dealing with local needs, which are totally unlike the needs of other areas, should have the overwhelming majority of its members from the area affected.

Legislative responsibility is a keystone of our democratic processes. Let those who must answer to Philadelphia voters form the majority of the committee dealing with Philadelphia. This has always been so. No good reason exists for the change. There are enough Philadelphians from both parties to serve on the committee. If the objection is that no Philadelphia Representative has enough seniority to head the committee, then appoint a senior chairman from a neighboring area which has interests in common with Philadelphia.

Clearly, the proposed change, far from having any good reason to recommend it, is utterly contrary to the best interests of all of the cities involved. In one move short shrift has been made of 30 years of legislative experience under both Democratic and Republican control, for both parties during that time have continued a legislative setup which has produced good legislation beneficial to Philadelphia and hurting no one elsewhere.

Let there be no mistake, the success of this move will not thwart progress or deter interested Members of this House and the people of Philadelphia from continuing to press for beneficial legislation which, by helping Philadelphia, improves Pennsylvania.

For these reasons, I shall vote "no" for the change in the Rules and hope that those who are deeply interested in the problems of two million people in Philadelphia will also vote "no."

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I compliment the gentleman from Philadelphia on the excellence of his remarks. I think he has spoken very clearly and to the point and has made the most excellent argument possible concerning one of these proposed changes.

May I now interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Majority Leader what changes are made in Rule 27, other than the amalgamation of the Cities and Counties First, Second Class and Second Class A.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, it has always been the idea of the Members of the General Assembly, I think, whether the Democrats are in power or whether the Republicans are in power, to make for an orderly and expeditious manner in which we can conduct our session, in order to get a maximum amount of work done in the shortest possible time.

The good thinking of all legislative bodies throughout the nation is that we have fewer committees, fewer Members on committees, so that Members will not be spread out in their membership on committees so that they can do a good job on the committee of which they are Members. With that in mind we have made some changes in the Committee setup.

For instance, we have made a change in the number of committees. We have eliminated the Committee on Child Care by reason of the fact that we feel the functions of that committee having to do with children's hospitals and sanitoriums and so forth, can well be taken care of by the Welfare Committee as it was when we were in power before.

We have also eliminated the Committee on Workmen's Compensation with the view that the functions of that committee will be handled and conducted by the Committee on Labor Relations.

We have made another change this year. Previously the Committee Chairman and Vice Chairman were not counted in the membership of a committee. That is to say, while the committee was supposed to be a twenty man Committee, we actually had twenty-two because the Chairman and Vice Chairman were not included in the count.

Under this Rule change they will be included in the count and the Committee will be, if it is a major Committee, a twenty man Committee and if it is a minor committee, there will be only fifteen on that committee.

I believe we have also made a slight change making the Committee on Municipal Corporations a major committee so that there will be twenty on that committee instead of fifteen as heretofore.

The other change is as indicated by the debate of the gentleman. You know what that is and I will debate that after I have heard what further questions the Minority Leader has.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Majority Leader what the reasons might be for suggesting in this Resolution a combination of the Cities-Counties First—Second and Second Class A, into one Committee.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in connection with the proposed consolidation of the Cities of the First Class with Cities Second Class and Second Class A, we took into consideration the fact that during the past year there was formed in Pennsylvania what is known as the League of Cities.

Heretofore, I believe it was known as the League of Third Class Cities. However, all the cities in Pennsylvania got together this past summer, I believe it was, and organized what they call the League of Cities. Now, all the cities in the state apparently are under the impression that their problems are similar, that they have the same needs as against townships and boroughs and rural communities, and for their best interests it would be well for them to band together and have one organization, one executive director or legislative engineer, or whatever you might call it.

In line with that consolidation on their own part, we have consolidated them into two Committees, one of which we might call a Committee for major cities, the other a committee for minor cities. The committee of minor cities would be the Committee on Third Class Cities and, of course, the committee on major cities would be the consolidation, in effect, of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia into one committee.

There have been precedents for it. It was done in the 1953 session and the Chairman then was the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Ewing.

I do not recall that there was any unseemly thing that occurred by reason of that consolidation back in 1953. We have a similar situation in 1957.

If we were to have a committee on First Class Cities, we, of course, have five Republicans on this side from the City of Philadelphia, it would mean that the Republican Members of the committee would be the five from Philadelphia and eight other Republicans from elsewhere in the state. Conceivably the Democratic Members of the Committee would all be from Philadelphia, which would be seven.

Now let us consider who the Chairman of that committee might be. On our side of the five Republican Members the nearest one in seniority rating is No. 72. I think you will find when the Speaker announces his Committee Chairman appointments, ending up with thirty-one committees, the thirty-one Committee Chairmen would be those whose seniority numbers are from one to 31 inclusive, or rather to 37 inclusive, because there are six members on the Rules Committee who will not be Committee Chairmen.

Therefore, if we stick to our time honored rule of honoring those with seniority with Committee chairmanships, we on this side would not go down to seniority No. 72 and name a Committee Chairman.

Therefore, if we carried out the principle that has been established, you would have a Cities of the First Class committee with a Chairman not from Philadelphia. You would have the same situation that you have now with the consolidation of having a Chairman from elsewhere, who will be a man, I believe from Allegheny County, a man with the seniority which would entitle him to such a Committee.

Now then, in consolidating the two major cities of the state into one Committee it is not such a great problem or such a grave matter as the opponents would have you believe. You will find that when that Committee is announced they are people who I am sure will give Allegheny County a square deal and will give the City of Philadelphia a square deal.

Of the two major cities their problems are almost, I will not say identical, but they are certainly kindred problems. They both are operating under the Sterling Act, which was a forerunner of the tax entity Act in Pennsylvania. In fact, the only cities in Pennsylvania that can come under the Sterling Act are the City of Philadelphia and the City of Pittsburgh, so they do have a mutual problem, mutual rights, you might say, of taxation, and the arguments for and against taxation all stem from the same taxing act which applies to those two cities.

As I say, you have the seniority for a Chairman of a combined committee, and I am sure that with the cities having mutual interests, they will work well together and will work for the common good of both cities in a good parliamentary fashion. I am sure that the setup will be a better deal for Philadelphia than if we had a City of First Class setup, as I have outlined in my remarks.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in rising to oppose the adoption of this Resolution, amending Rule 27, particularly with reference to the matter that has just been discussed, the combination of the Cities First and Second Class, I would like to read into the record two telegrams which I received.

The first was from the Mayor of Philadelphia, the Honorable Richardson Dilworth, dated January 5, which reads as follows:

Philadelphia, Pa., January 7, 1957.

Hon. Albert S. Readinger
Minority Leader
House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pa.

I had sincerely hoped and believed that when the General Assembly convened this year, the legitimate needs of Philadelphia would be accorded proper consideration, especially in the light of the serious problems that confront our city.

I was therefore alarmed to hear that the House leadership, and particularly you, was contemplating a move to abolish the Committee on Cities and Counties of the First Class, and substitute in its place a broader group which would deal with other cities besides Philadelphia.

The Committee on Cities and Counties of the First Class was originally established in recognition of the special and overwhelming nature of problems confronting Philadelphia. Its members, both Republican and Democratic, were from Philadelphia, knew the City's problems, and could, therefore, be expected to give measures designed to alleviate those problems earnest and careful consideration.

Under the plan now proposed, however, Philadelphia's interest would be either diluted or submerged altogether, since control of the committee would fall in the hands of western and upstate Legislators who have no interest in Philadelphia, and may, in fact, have opposing interests.

Furthermore, such a move would result in a backseat being given Rep. John N. Pomeroy, Jr., who is the ranking Republican from Philadelphia, and who has consistently voted for legislation beneficial to the City.

It is difficult enough for Philadelphia to get the consideration it needs and deserves from the Legislature. If the proposal goes through, chances are that bills essential to Philadelphia's well-being and welfare, will be throttled in Committee and never see the light of day.

I, therefore, urge that this proposal be shelved, and that the Committee of Cities and Counties of the First Class be permitted to continue as in the past.

RICHARD DILWORTH, Mayor of Philadelphia.

The other telegram which I have received dated January 7, is from Robert Sessions, President of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, and it states as follows:

Philadelphia, Pa., January 7, 1957.

Hon. Albert S. Readinger
Minority Leader House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Penna.

The Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of greater Philadelphia at its meeting today, expressed its great concern over reports that the Committee on City-Counties First Class in the State House of Representatives will be abolished. With the number of complicated and serious problems facing us, the largest City of Pennsylvania should continue to have a Committee in the State Legislature to give proper consideration to its needs. We feel very strongly that only through a separate committee, such as we now have whose sole responsibility is that of evaluating our objectives, can the one-fifth of the state's population in Philadelphia be adequately represented. We urge the retention in the House of Representatives of the Committee of City-Counties, First Class.

ROBERT E. SESSIONS, President.

Mr. Speaker, I have read both of these telegrams to indicate to the Members of this House that even though the Majority Leader has stated that the interests of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties and perhaps Scranton are similar, at least the leading people in Philadelphia, or some of them, do not agree. They feel that they are entitled to have a separate committee. They know and they stated emphatically that they have a lot of separate problems which are not of particular interest to the people of Allegheny County or Scranton.

Inasmuch as the Republicans in this House will be able to control every Committee by virtue of the larger numbers they will have on every committee, I see no way in which you could suffer politically in any way by retaining these two separate Committees you had before.

It may be true that you would have non-Philadelphians on the Committee. It may be true that you have a non-Philadelphian as Chairman of the committee. But nevertheless it seems to me that the interests of Philadelphia are great enough to warrant a separate Committee for their consideration of the bills which would pertain to Philadelphia and to Philadelphia alone.

Therefore, I am asking the Members to vote against the adoption of this Resolution.

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution to amend Rule 27 be laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I must agree with my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Pomeroy, that there is no valid reason why the Committee on Cities-Counties First Class should be abolished and be consolidated with another committee.

Our statute books and our Constitution, recognize the city of the first class. The only one in existence is the city of Philadelphia. We in this House have some 39 Members from the city of Philadelphia, roughly 20 per cent of the membership of the House. We, therefore, should be given consideration. We should definitely have a separate Committee, a proper forum to consider legislation which affects the city of Philadelphia.

True, in the 1953 session the Committees were combined. I do not know whether anything terrible happened in the 1953 session to Philadelphia bills because of the fact that there was a joint committee, but the opposite was likewise true, nothing good happened because there was such a combination. Philadelphia legislation never saw the light of day.

I urge the Members of this House to consider the fact that there are 39 Members from Philadelphia and there should be a separate Committee to which any legislation affecting that city can be referred.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is the primary purpose behind the consolidation of these three Committees into one efficiency on the part of the majority party?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would say one of the reasons for consolidating the Committees was the over-all reason I gave with respect to having fewer Committees and fewer Members on Committees so that the Members could expeditiously attend to their duties without being spread too thin, as we have been in the past.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, you feel it is more desirable to have fewer Committees than we had in the past session, is that correct?

Mr. JOHNSON: My answer, Mr. Speaker, is that I believe it is the considered judgment of parliamentarians and legislators throughout the nation that the work of our general assemblies can go forward better with fewer Committees and fewer members on Committees. That is true. To do the job well and expeditiously is one way of increasing the esteem that the people have for our General Assembly. With that in mind, we have tried to do this small job, shall I say, of cutting down the number of Committees and the number on Committees.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the Rule before me which we are amending, but is it not true that we have a House Judiciary Committee as well as a House Judiciary Special Committee?

Mr. JOHNSON. That is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would you tell us briefly what is the purpose and function of the Judiciary Special Committee, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I hardly believe that the question is germane to the issue, although I believe we have in mind a special function for the Judiciary Special Committee which we do not choose to disclose at this time. It will be an important function. I believe the Democrats established the Committee and we thought it was a pretty good idea.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is the Chair going to rule that this inquiry is not germane?

The SPEAKER. A point of order has not been raised. The gentleman has tried to answer the gentleman's question.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, we do have a Judiciary Committee, is that correct?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BELL. I would like to raise a Point of Order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BELL. I would like to raise a point of order as to whether the gentleman from Philadelphia is in order at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the gentleman is in order. The number of Committees and the membership on those Committees is the question before this House. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would I be correct, Mr. Speaker, in saying precisely that the sole purpose behind this Judiciary Special Committee is to pigeonhole legislation and to pickle it so that it will never get out and see the light of day?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman would not be in order in asking that question.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is there any reason, Mr. Speaker, why we cannot consolidate the House Judiciary Committee and the House Judiciary Special Committee?

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman addressing the question to the Chair or to the Majority Leader?

Mr. McCORMACK. I am addressing it to the Majority Leader through the Chair, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, desire to answer the question?

Mr. JOHNSON. Would the gentleman repeat his question, please?

Mr. McCORMACK. Is there any reason, whether it is substantial or not, why the House Judiciary Committee and the House Judiciary Special Committee cannot or was not consolidated under this rule change?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, to repeat my previous answer, we have a special function in mind for the Judiciary Special Committee which would certainly hamper the job which we expect our Judiciary General Committee to do. As I say, I am not at liberty to disclose the function of that Committee at this time, but you will hear about it in the future.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I think, Mr. Speaker, we should put this Cities-Counties First Class Committee back into Rule 27. I think if we fail to do it we will be making a big mistake. We should consider that Philadelphia for the past five years has experienced a renaissance which has been heralded not only throughout the state but throughout the country. Because of the tremendous building we are now undertaking in Philadelphia and the money we are spending on roads and highways, I think we should be recognized. The only way we really can be recognized in this House is to have a committee set up to consider that problem, and that problem alone. Even the Majority Leader admitted that the problems of Philadelphia were a little different from the problems of the other counties.

I think that we will regret it. I think we should rise above partisan politics. I know in the 1953 session the gentleman who was Chairman of the Committee was not too interested in the constant badgering by civic groups from Philadelphia to get those bills out of committee. He had problems of his own in Allegheny County, and I think that he would . . .

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. EWING. I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. EWING. We are not talking about the 1953 session at the present time, are we?

The SPEAKER. The Chair was unable to hear the gentleman.

Mr. EWING. We are not talking about the 1953 session, are we? The gentleman from Philadelphia stated that I was not interested in Philadelphia when I was Chairman of the Committee. For his information, we had meeting after meeting with the Philadelphia powers, both Democrats and Republicans, and they received exactly what they wanted in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I don't understand that and I do not wish to be derogatory.

The SPEAKER. We were discussing the amendment, and the gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to be derogatory, nor was that my intention. I merely wanted to say that the Chairman at that time, whom I respect very much, had other problems more important than those of Philadelphia, and I just wanted to point that out. I think we should leave Rule 27 in so far as it pertains to the Cities and Counties of the First Class intact and we should not change it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, before I answer the question, I remember last session Charlie Smith and Albert Johnson double teamed Readinger, now I can see that Readinger and Andrews are going to double team Johnson. Go ahead. Let us have some fun.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. We will be very sympathetic, Mr. Speaker with the gentleman — —

Mr. JOHNSON. We are not looking for sympathy Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. With the Majority Leader, who just now apparently is rattling around in Charlie Smith's shoes, I note from the remarks of the Majority Leader that the one Committee is charged with a secret mission. Are there any other committees that are also charged with secret missions, or is this Judiciary Special the only one concerning which the House is not entitled to information?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, my answer to that is, we will probably do with the Judiciary Special Committee about the same thing that the Democrats did with it last session.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman for his plainness.

Mr. TOLL. I would like Mr. Speaker, to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, could the Majority Leader tell me how many Democratic Members will be on that Committee, the combined Committee?

Mr. JOHNSON. Yes, it is a committee of twenty. There will be thirteen Republicans on it and seven Democrats.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, could the Majority Leader tell me how many of the Members of the Committee will be from Philadelphia?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have only glanced at that particular committee. That has been the function of the Committee on Committees. I believe the gentleman will have to bide his time and wait for the announcement of the Committee. I believe you know who the Democrats are on that Committee by reason of the selection of them on your side. Just what the makeup exactly of the Committee is, I am sorry, I cannot say until it is announced.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman tell me how many Republicans from Philadelphia are going to be on that committee?

Mr. JOHNSON. No. I am sorry I do not have that information at hand.

Mr. TOLL. Thank you Mr. Speaker. And now may I say a word?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to see that there is one Member of the House on the other side who recognizes the importance of having a separate Committee for dealing with bills for the largest city in the Commonwealth.

It appears that the majority in the Assembly here in the House are obliged to combine their membership from three large communities in the Commonwealth where they are unable to elect enough men from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania's largest community, in order to staff a Committee.

This kind of a start does not speak well for the intentions of the majority party in the House with the respect to its largest city.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, without interrogating the gentleman, who is on his own without the able guidance of Charles Smith, there is no question that in his responses to the interrogation from this side of the House he was motivated, and his party was motivated by political expediency and nothing else in the elimination of this particular Committee.

It is, I presume, the intention of the Republican majority to continue the Fisheries committee consisting of twenty Members. Now, I dare say that there might be more than two million fish in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's waters, but however there are more than two million people in the City of Philadelphia. They are being deprived of the representation in this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the fish will be protected.

We heard the Majority Leader plead seniority and the lack of seniority insofar as the Philadelphia Republican Members are concerned.

Let me point out that there has been criticism of the mistakes and the errors of the Democratic control of this particular House in 1955 and 1956. But it is worthy of note that one Stephen McCann of Greene County, with only two terms in the Legislature, served as Chairman of the Education committee of this House in 1955 and 1956, and his Vice Chairman was Dr. Kolankiewicz, my former colleague and my predecessor who had seven terms. So, at least the Democrats ignored seniority when it was supposedly in behalf of the Commonwealth.

I want to raise in my final remarks a question of information.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'BRIEN. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Would it be possible to have this Resolution read very slowly so that all of the Members, new and old, may have the opportunity of digesting it?

The SPEAKER. The Resolution has been read by the Clerk slowly, distinctly, and certainly everyone in this House heard the reading of the Resolution.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask you under a Question of Information, if it could not be read again slowly, so that even a stupid individual like me that has not been in the House for ten years might be able to digest it?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will order the Resolution to be read again if the House so directs the Chair.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Can a Member ask for that privilege, Mr. Speaker, under a Question of Information?

The SPEAKER. The Resolution has been read as required under the Rules of this House.

Mr. O'BRIEN. May I request Mr. Speaker, that it be read just for my edification?

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the Resolution has been read and it would only be a matter of delay to read it again. The Chair will see that the gentleman gets a copy of the Resolution if he so desires.

Mr. O'BRIEN. I would like it before it is voted upon, sir. I think I am entitled to that privilege under a Question of Information.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman will come to the desk we will see that he has a chance to read a copy of the Resolution.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Why are you so reluctant to alert all of the Members as to what changes are being made, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The Resolution has been read and interrogation has been held on all points in the Resolution and I am certain that if there are any other questions the Members are free to ask them.

Mr. O'BRIEN. May I have the Resolution so that I can read it?

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman will come to the desk we will see that he is given a copy.

Mr. O'BRIEN. I intend to read it, Mr. Speaker, for information for myself, and I digest it as I read aloud.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not in order. This Resolution has been read for the information of the House.

Mr. O'BRIEN. I did not raise the question on the Point of Order, Mr. Speaker. I rose on a question of information on which the Speaker recognized me.

The SPEAKER. The Chair answered the gentleman on his Question of Information. The Chair will not permit the reading of the Resolution from the floor as a matter of delaying action on this floor.

Mr. O'BRIEN. It is not a question of delaying action; it is a question of information. There are several Members who arrived in the House since the reading of the Resolution by the Clerk. For instance the gentleman here from Allegheny County.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the Resolution has been read and is clearly understood. If the gentleman from Allegheny desires to speak for himself or to ask any questions, the Chair will recognize him for that purpose.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, there is nobody excepting myself on this side of the House, and the Minority Leader was good enough to turn his copy over to me. We do not even have the Rule book or the Legislative Directory of 1955 and 1956 on our desks.

Just what are you trying to do? Just steam roller this without the enlightment of any of the Members as to what the contents are?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman knows that we have devoted possibly as much time to this Rule change as has ever been devoted to such a change in this House before. There is no effort to steam roller this change or any other change in this Legislature.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. READINGER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Is a motion in order at this present time for this Resolution to be re-read so that the Members might vote on that motion?

The SPEAKER. Does the Minority Leader desire to have this Resolution read?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not, but I desire to have the Members vote on whether or not they wish to have it re-read.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will entertain that motion.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Resolution be re-read for the information of the House.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Sixty-six Members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred and twenty in the negative, the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I first ascertain whether the Speaker is a Member of the Rules Committee?

The SPEAKER. That Committee has not been announced.

Mr. SHERMAN. Does the Speaker know, or does Mr. Johnson know whether he is to become a member of the Rules Committee?

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe I would refer that question to the Parliamentarian. That is a Rule of the House. I believe the Speaker is not a Member of the Rules Committee as such.

Mr. SHERMAN. Has the Majority Leader participated in discussions so that he would have an active part in the naming of the Rules Committee?

The SPEAKER. The Rules Committee is appointed by the Speaker of the House under the Rules of the House. The Majority Leader does not have anything to do with the selecting of the Members of that committee.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I address this to the Majority Leader: if he is appointed as a Member of the Rules Committee or as an active participant in the Rules Committee, does he have any intention to recommend to his party or to the Speaker, that at least four Members from Philadelphia be appointed on this new Committee about to be formed?

Mr. JOHNSON. Does the gentleman refer to the appointment of the Rules Committee?

Mr. SHERMAN. To the appointment of the proposed—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield? For the information of the gentleman, the Rules Committee has nothing whatsoever to do with the appointment of the Members of the standing committees of this House. They are appointed by the Committee on Committees.

Mr. SHERMAN. Does the Majority Leader know as to whether or not he is to become a Member of the Committee on Committees?

The SPEAKER. The Committee on Committees is a caucus committee and the members have been appointed by both the Republican caucus and the Democratic caucus.

They have already met and performed their duties.

Mr. SHERMAN. Am I correct, Mr. Speaker, that the gentlemen made mention in his speech as one of the reasons for proposing this new Committee is that with the cooperation of Philadelphia and the outlying districts it would benefit Philadelphia as well as the outlying districts?

Mr. JOHNSON. Was that a question or a statement?

Mr. SHERMAN. A question. That is a question Mr. Speaker, as to whether he has made such mention in his speech? Am I correct? That it would be to the benefit of Philadelphia as well as the outlying districts to have a combination Committee of 1, 2, and 2A?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, for the gentleman's information that statement was made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Pomeroy.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker. I think if the gentleman reads over his remarks, I think I am correct, that he did mention that the problems of Philadelphia would be promptly considered along with the problems of the other counties in the formation of this new proposed committee.

Mr. JOHNSON. No, Mr. Speaker, I said that the committee composed of Members from both Philadelphia and Allegheny County, whose problems are similar, would treat just as fairly the problems of one city as that of the other city. I believe that is what I said.

Mr. SHERMAN. Do you believe that the problems of one city should be treated along with the problems of a city with similar facilities?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe that this committee in the consideration of a bill having to do with the City of Philadelphia will give the City of Philadelphia very fair and able consideration, and will not act in detriment to the City of Philadelphia. I think they will be fair and will give anything that comes before them a very fine audience, hearing and consideration.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman be in favor then of any bill which affects the City of Philadelphia and any outlying districts which is of benefit to the outlying districts?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry I did not quite understand that question. Would the gentleman repeat it please?

Mr. SHERMAN. I will be more detailed in my question then. Since you propose or are in favor of a combination eliminating Philadelphia, a city of the first class, from consideration alone and combining it into Cities—Counties First—Second and Second Class A, if a problem of Philadelphia is considered along with a problem of a district outside of Philadelphia, which is not a city of the first class, would you be in favor of such a course of action if the problems are of a similar nature?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the answer to that is that as far as the city of Philadelphia is concerned and this particular Committee, all the legislation having to do with the city of Philadelphia, or legislation having to do with cities of the Second Class and Second Class A will be referred to that committee. If it is a problem concerning townships, it will go to the Committee on Townships. If it is a problem having to do with third class cities, it will go to the Committee on Cities Third Class.

Mr. SHERMAN. Would you, as Majority Leader of your party, be willing to recommend to the Speaker and the heads of your party that at least four Members from Philadelphia be on that committee?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already informed the gentleman that members on the Standing Committees are appointed by the Committee on Committees and not by the Speaker or the Majority Leader.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, that was not my question. I think the Majority Leader, as such, has a right, as well as anyone else has, to recommend something to the Committee on Committees, or to the Speaker, or anyone else in charge. I, therefore, put the question as to whether the Majority Leader would recommend to the Committee on Committees the appointment of four Members from Philadelphia, in line with its population, as proper representation on that Committee.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from McKean Mr. Johnson, desire to answer the interrogation?

Mr. JOHNSON. Will the gentleman yield? I would like to interrogate the Minority Floor Leader, please.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I will yield for the time being.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Readinger, has the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, made a request to you that four Members from Philadelphia on your side be made members of this new consolidated committee?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman in question has not made such a request, although he probably knows that we named seven Philadelphia Democrats to the Committee on our side.

Mr. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, desire to be recognized?

Mr. SHERMAN. Yes, I wish to continue my interrogation. I yielded only for the time being so that the Majority Leader could interrogate the Minority Leader. I still have not had an answer to my question from the Majority Leader.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, there has been appointed a Committee on Committees. I do not believe any Member of this House, whether it was the Majority Leader, or the Whip, or anyone else, has exercised any influence on the Committee on Committees. So when I was asked the question whether I knew who was on the Committee, I could not honestly say I knew who was on the Committee, because it has always been the province of the Committee on Committees on the Republicman side and the Committee on Committees on the Democratic side to choose the committee members. That is their prerogative and certainly they do not want the Majority Leader or the Minority Leader impressing his will upon them.

Mr. SHERMAN. I will accept it for what it is worth.

Mr. Speaker, may I now interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Committees?

The SPEAKER. Will the Chairman of the Committee on Committees permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROYER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I be informed by the Chairman of the Committee on Committees whether it is his intention to appoint four Members from Philadelphia, Republicans and Democrats, or all Republicans for that matter on this new proposed Committee?

Mr. ROYER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, the members of the Democrats on the Committee on Committees are Mr. Petrosky, Mr. Amarando and Dr. Boies. If he will ask them, they might tell him who the members from Philadelphia are on the Committee of Cities-Counties First—Second and Second Class A.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am asking the Chairman of the Committee on Committees a simple question, whether four members from Philadelphia have been appointed on that Committee or whether they intend to appoint four members to the committee, Republicans or Democrats?

Mr. ROYER. Mr. Speaker, it is entirely within the province of the Democratic Members on the Committee on Committees as to who they appointed to these Committees.

Mr. SHERMAN. That is not an answer to the question. It is just a simple question, and a simple answer is all I am asking. The question is whether the four are being appointed from Philadelphia, Republicans or Democrats?

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman will be patient, I am sure that he will hear the report of the Committee on Committees within a very few minutes. He will then know how many Philadelphians are on the Committee.

Mr. READINGER. May I correct an erroneous statement I made a few minutes ago about there being seven Philadelphia Demorcats on this particular committee. I must have been suffering from a lapse of memory, because the fact is that there are three Philadelphia Democrats appointed to that Committee from our side, three from Allegheny and one from Scranton.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the record.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. READINGER and PETROSKY.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. READINGER, PETROSKY and TOLL.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Committees.

The SPEAKER. Will the Chairman of the Committee on Committees, Mr. Royer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROYER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Chairman, is my understanding correct that on the Committee of Cities-Counties—First, Second and Second Class A there are five Members from Philadelphia on that Committee?

Mr. ROYER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I do not know.

Mr. POMEROY. You do not know?

Mr. ROYER. I do not.

Mr. POMEROY. I wanted to be sure I heard the report correctly that there were five Members from Philadelphia on that Committee.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman does not have a list of the Members of that Committee, the Chair will direct that the membership of that particular Committee be read again.

Mr. POMEROY. If you would, please, sir.

The membership of the Cities-Counties—First, Second and Second Class A was read by the Clerk.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the Members that printed booklets of the report of the Committee on Committees will be found in the Members' mail boxes at the close of the session today.

COMMITTEE ON RULES APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. In compliance with the Rules of the House, the Speaker has appointed the following Committee on Rules: Messrs. JOHNSON, BOWER, GIBSON, WEIDNER and LAFORE.

SUPPLEMENTAL RESOLUTION

PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURAL COMMITTEE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 7, 1957.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint eighty-three Democratic Members of the House of Representatives, and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint twenty-three Democratic Senators, who, together with the one hundred twenty-six Republican Members of the House and the twenty-seven Republican Senators already appointed, shall constitute a Joint Committee to represent the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the Presidential Inaugural Ceremonies of The Honorable Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. Members are now privileged to introduce their bills by filing them with the Bill Clerk to the Speaker's left. All three copies must be legibly signed and dated. Keep one copy for your personal use.

Members who have bills in the Legislative Reference Bureau should arrange to pick them up for introduction at tomorrow's session.

PETITION

IN RE CONTESTED ELECTION OF HARRIS G. BRETH

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House a petition in the matter of the contested election of Harris G. Breth to the office of Representative of the General Assembly from the first Legislative District of Clearfield County.

The petition was read as follows:

In the matter of the contested election of Harris G. Breth to the office of Representative in the General Assembly from the First Legislative District of Clearfield County.	Appeal from the order of Common Pleas Court of Clearfield County, Pennsylvania, To Nos. 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, November Term, 1956, dated the 12th day of December, 1956.

To the Honorable, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Representatives assembled:

The petition of William C. Chase respectfully represents:

1. That the said William C. Chase was a candidate for election to the office of Representative in the General Assembly from the First Legislative District of Clearfield County at the election held in the said District on November 6, 1956.

2. That the candidates of the said office at the said election were Harris G. Breth, Democrat, and your petitioner, Republican.

3. That the final vote both civil and military for the respective candidates was:

Harris G. Breth 7,855
William C. Chase 7,847

4. That on November 21, 1956, Petitions were presented to the Court of Common Pleas for the opening of Ballot Boxes and the reconvassing of the votes in the following Districts:

Morann Precinct, Woodward Township; Cooper Precinct, Cooper Township; Munson Precinct, Morris Township; and Ashcroft Precinct, Morris Township.

The Computing Board found clerical errors in all of these Precincts with the exception of Ashcroft. The Computing Board corrected the votes cast and inserted the correct vote with red pencil.

Subsequently, on November 29, 1956, additional Petitions were presented to the Court for the opening of Ballot Boxes in the following Precincts:

In Lawrence Township; Glen Richey, Hillsdale, and Plymton; also Blue Ball of Boggs Township; Winburne of Cooper Township.

5. As a result of the recount on the first group the majority of Harris G. Breth was reduced from 41 to 8, and in the 8 there was one ballot in Morann Precinct of Woodward Township which was a mutilated ballot. In the second group Mr. Chase picked up 12 votes and Mr. Breth picked up 4 votes but in Mr. Breth's total votes from those precincts in the second group there were two mutilated ballots.

6. Your petitioner having been advised by counsel believes and, therefore, avers that if both groups had been included in the final recount instead of only the first group and, further, that the mutilated ballots were disregarded, that the official figures instead of Harris G. Breth 7,855 and William C. Chase 7,847, it would have been William C. Chase 7,859 and Harris G. Breth 7,856.

7. However, the President Judge of Clearfield County by Orders dated December 12, 1956, supplementing his oral order of December 4, 1956, declared that the petitions governing the second group were filed too late, which copies of the orders are attached hereto and made a part thereof.

It is the contention of your petitioner that the Court by such Order was in error, especially because of the fact that he states that the completion of the Computing Board was actually on November 23, 1956, and despite the fact that by his Order of November 28, 1956, he was directing a further step in the recount, and further that the Computing Board was actually in session on December 3, 1956, and the petitions covering the second group were filed on November 29, 1956, which, in effect, was four or five days previous to the date on which the Computing Board was in session.

Your petitioner makes this appeal under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as are more particularly set forth under the Act of 1937, June 3d, P. L. 1333, Article XVII, Paragraph 1747, and further that a Petition of Diminuation is being filed with the Common Pleas Court of Clearfield County in order that the facts alleged herein pertaining to the disclosures in the recount of the second group will be made a part of the record for the purpose of appeal to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF CLEARFIELD COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

In re: Petition to open ballot box of Glen Richey Precinct of Lawrence Township, Clearfield County, Pennsylvania	No. 164 November Term, 1956

ORDER

Exceptions dated December 8, 1956 were not argued until December 10, 1956.

The exceptions are overruled for the same reasons set forth in the Opinion of the Janesville Precinct ballot box on December 7, 1956.

The record in the Janesville Precinct proceedings indicated the County Election Board completed its computation November 23, 1956, thus making November 28, 1956 the last day to file petitions under Section 1703 of the Election Code of June 3, 1937, P. L. 1333 (25 P. S. 2600-3552), by virtue of which under Section 1703 (25 P.S. 3263) the Court shall correct the County Election Board's computation of votes cast in any or all election contests. Section 1703 provides that if the petitions are presented "before the certification of all of the returns of the county, and in no event later than five days after the completion of the computation and canvassing of all of the returns of the county by the county board," the Court shall then correct the computation.

The petition presented states the Computation Board date of completion as November 21, 1956, when it was actually November 23, 1956. The County Board certifying the vote on December 4, 1956 would not serve to extend the time for filing the petitions under Section 1703 in order to give the Court power to change the computation of the County Board, as the Act specifically states the petitions under 1703, shall in no event be later than five days after the completion of the computation, so long as it is before the certification. The computation, or canvass of all of the votes, is one act. Following the computation of the votes, the Election Board certifies the results. This is another act or duty placed upon the Board by the law. These two acts are not coextensive, but are separate and distinct. Frequently the completion of the computation occurs the same day the certification occurs, but this does not merge these two acts into one.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF CLEARFIELD COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

In re: Disputed ballots of Morann Precinct, Woodward Township; Plymton Precinct, Lawrence Township; and Hillsdale Precinct, Lawrence Township, all Precincts located in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania

ORDER

The petition presented and heard December 10, 1956, is addressed to three ballots discovered when the ballot boxes were opened in the Hillsdale Precinct of Lawrence Township; Plymton Precinct of Lawrence Township, and Morann Precinct of Woodward Township. All of these ballots have the proper X mark in the party column, but in the boxes opposite the individual candidates for the various offices appear a check mark which is contrary to the Election Code. Thus we have the proper marking placed in the party column, but improper markings in the boxes for the candidates.

Although the petitions to change the final computation, in accordance with the objection to the ballots, is too late, as heretofore ruled, the ballots were properly counted in the final total by the Precinct Election Boards. In the party column appears the proper marking. At the name of the various candidates appears an improper marking. This does not, however, render the ballot void. On two of the ballots there is the proper marking in the party column, and improper markings of the individual names of the candidates of that party. On one of the ballots appears an improper marking for candidate of the opposite party. Following McCAFFREY'S APPEALS, 337 Pa. 552, these ballots are counted as being validated by the proper marking in the party column, and the improper marking does not invalidate the entire ballot.

Exceptions dismissed.

PRAYER

Reverend Aaron Elek, Pastor of the Hungarian Presbyterian Church, Leechburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Dear God, Father of all Mankind!

We call upon Thy name on behalf of Thy servants assembled here to commence their portion of supreme civilian duties Thou hast called them to perform with responsibility.

Strengthen and unite them when their task is great, protect and uphold them when problems call for the right decisions, when discouragement and despair loom on the horizon. Make them strong in Thy fear, and great in the love of righteousness and peace.

Bless every citizen in this state with a greater sense of true appreciation for the fruits of the land and for the peace of the homes. Save us from violence, discord and confusion, and from every evil way. Be Thou the Protector of our liberties, fashion us into one eternally united people on the principles by which our land was conceived, upheld and defended. In the time of prosperity, temper our self-confidence with thankfulness, in the time of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail.

Look upon the afflictions of the world. Through the power of love and understanding heal the wounds, restore the trust, and fill the gaps which separate one man from another here and abroad.

In His Name we ask. Amen.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. BELL, ISAACS, KELLER, Mrs. KOOKER and Mr. POMEROY.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 1

In the House of Representatives, January 7, 1957

David K. Darcy, Harold Foster and Harry Zietz were convicted by a jury for the slaying of William Kelly, an innocent bystander, during a holdup of a tavern in Bucks County. The jury fixed the punishment at death in the electric chair.

The conviction and sentence was appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the case reached the Supreme Court of the United States five times.

On September 29, 1956 the Board of Pardons, acting on Darcy's twenty-sixth application for executive clemency, recommended that the sentences of death be commuted to sentences of life imprisonment.

The commutations granted by the Governor have aroused public interest and indignation. The action of a non judicial body in substituting its judgment for that of the jury which heard the case, and of the many jurists who studied the case has been criticized throughout the State. The opinion prevails in many quarters that political consideration influenced the action of the Board of Pardons in this and in other recent cases.

It is imperative therefore that a complete and thorough investigation be made of the action of the Board of Pardons, to determine whether or not any abuses have occurred with respect to the powers entrusted to it; therefore be it

Resolved, (The Senate concurring) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint four members of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint four members of the Senate, who together shall constitute, a joint committee, and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all actions of the Board of Pardons in connection with the pardon, parole, or commutation of sentence of persons convicted of crimes. The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers, records, and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed sixty days.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. JOHNSON from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Resolution No. 1.

DEPARTURE TIME OF INAUGURAL TRAIN

Mr. JOHNSON. There has been some question as to the time of departure of the train both from Harrisburg and from Washington, and the other points of departure and pickup throughout the state.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that the departure time for the inaugural train is Monday, January 21st at 6:30 a.m. from Harrisburg.

The Chair also has been informed that the same train will return the Members to Harrisburg.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am rising to inquire of the Majority Leader concerning the meeting during the week of the 21st. A lot of the Members would like to know whether we are going to meet only on the 22nd or whether we are going to meet on the 22nd and 23rd. Would the Majority Leader please inform us?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the present plans are that we will meet on both the 22nd and the 23rd. It is quite possible that as we meet on the 22nd we will call a recess during the session for the purpose of Committee meetings and to allow Committee Chairmen to go over bills that are presently in Committee with a view to having a calendar for the session on the 23rd. We contemplate meeting on the 23rd to have a First Reading Calendar and transact such other business as might come before the Assembly.

ADJOURNMENT

Legislative Journal.

Session 1957. 142nd of the General Assembly.

Vol. 35. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1957. No. 4.

SENATE

TUESDAY, January 22, 1957

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D.D., Pastor of the Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Eternal God, Who committest to us the swift and solemn trust of life, since we know not what a day may bring forth, but only that the hour for serving Thee is always present, may we be alert to the instant claims of Thy holy will, not waiting for tomorrow but yielding today.

Lay to rest, by the persuasion of Thy spirit, all unworthy pride, intolerance or fear. Consecrate with Thy presence the way our feet may go. Lift us above pettiness and selfishness into a large-hearted, high-minded spirit of service. Help us to live by faith, hope and love, that we may escape the tensions that tie us up in small bundles. Teach us a simple and steadfast reliance on Thy sure will. Make us patient with others. Help us to remember how frail we are, that we may learn to rely more completely on Thee. Help us to remember with what great gifts Thou hast endowed us, that we may live nobly as befittest Thy children.

So may we live, even as we pray in the spirit of the Master. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

INDIANA HOSPITAL

INDIANA, PENNSYLVANIA

August 1, 1956

The Honorable George M. Leader
Governor, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Governor Leader:

Pursuant to Section 13 of the Act of December 22, 1951, P. L. 1726, the Indiana Hospital submits the following report:

1. The Indiana Hospital maintains and operates an approved School of Nursing and receives State-aid for the training of student nurses under Act 131 A of the 1951 General Assembly.

2. The undersigned is closely acquainted and in frequent communication with the Director of the School of Nursing, who is known to be not a subversive person. Said Director, being closely acquainted with all instructors and others employed in an official capacity with reference to the School of Nursing, has informed the undersigned that there are no subversive persons among them. The careful screening of character and reputation incident to appointment of instructors and others connected with the School of Nursing, and the regular and close relationship imposed among these by the very nature of their duties, precludes any of them being subversive without knowledge thereof coming to the undersigned.

3. The undersigned therefore sets forth unequivocally that Indiana Hospital has no reason to believe that there is in its employ any instructor or other person in any official capacity with reference to its School of Nursing who is a subversive person.

Copies of this report are being furnished to the President of the Senate and to the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SCHMIDT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am about to introduce a perennial bill dealing with the incompatibility of office. This bill, which I am about to introduce, would make the elective offices of county and city and Membership in the Legislature incompatible. I have always felt that anyone holding an elective city or county office should not be eligible to sit in the Legislative Halls of this Commonwealth.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. SCHMIDT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 61, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 15, 1874 (P. L. 186), entitled "An act declaring what offices are incompatible," making elective county and city offices and membership in the legislature incompatible.

Messrs. SEYLER and RUTH read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 62, entitled:

An Act granting ambulances, fire apparatus and certain other emergency vehicles free passage over all turnpikes and extensions thereof, under the supervision and control of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this bill which I am about to introduce is a rather controversial measure and one which has been introduced almost every year in the Legislature. It deals with the problem of the doctrine that we have in Pennsylvania today whereby a person, himself, must first be free of any kind of negligence before he can recover in an injury which has been done to him.

Some of the other States have had the same type of problem and have decided that a more humane way and probably the moral way to handle this type of problem is to compare the amount of negligence the injured person has engaged in as opposed to the person who has done the injury, and arriving at some sort of a settlement based on the amount of negligence each party has committed during this controversial accident.

Mr. President, under the present doctrine in Pennsylvania, if you are not free of contributory negligence, regardless of how seriously you have been injured, regardless of how negligent the other person has been, you cannot possibly recover. As a matter of fact, most judges will not even let a jury consider the matter once they have determined that that situation exists.

In order to make our law a little more humane and to comply with the advanced thinking which has been taken up by the Bar Associations in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other counties across this State, and in behalf of the Pennsylvania and American Bar Associations, I am presenting this bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. WEINER, DONOLOW, SCHMIDT, SILVERT, STIEFEL and KELMAN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 63, entitled:

An Act providing for the determination and effect of comparative negligence in actions of tort and providing that contributary negligence shall not bar recovery.

An Act amending the act of March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228) entitled, as amended, "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act," excluding certain school building contracts from the tax.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to acquire land on which is located the Old Bradford House in the City of Washington, Washington County; providing for its repair; authorizing the conveyance thereof to the Washington County Historical Society; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the bill I am about to present we feel will comply with the Supreme Court's decision when it held unconstitutional our Movie Censorship Law. We have been working on this for quite some time and the bureau feels that this bill will comply with the Supreme Court's decision. We hope to have movie censorship here in Pennsylvania again.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. LANE, MURRAY, McMENAMIN, DENT and DERK read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 67, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 15, 1915 (P. L. 534), entitled "Motion Picture Censorship Law," authorizing the disapproval of any reel, film or view which is obscene or incites to crimes of violence, prohibiting viewing by or exhibiting disapproved films, reels or views to certain minors, imposing penalties and repealing certain sections of the act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

RECESS

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I request a five minute recess for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Local Government and the Committee on State Government.

The PRESIDENT, Is there objection? The Chair hears none, and declares a five-minute recess.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, at this time, I would appreciate an opportunity and the privilege to read a resolution which I intend to present on behalf of the Democratic Members of the Senate. It deals with a problem that appears to be in the public press at the moment.

"In the Senate, January 22, 1957.

"Whereas, there has been a great deal of newspaper space devoted to the administration of the special administration fund of the Bureau of Employment Security in the Department of Labor and Industry; and

"Whereas, there appears to be a great deal of misunderstanding concerning the functions of this Bureau and the relationship of the Bureau to the Unemployment Compensation Fund; and

"Whereas, this is a very important function of state government and one that is concerned with the public welfare; therefore be it

"Resolved that the President Pro Tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania name a committee of four members to conduct an immediate investigation into all matters pertaining to this fund since its inception during the Session of 1945.

"The Committee shall have the power to issue Subpoenas under its hand and seal requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Such Subpoenas shall have the force and effect of Subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. The Committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before them. Any person who shall willfully neglect or refuse to testify before the Committee or to produce books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further resolved that the Committee make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation at the earliest possible date before the adjournment of this session of the General Assembly."

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

SENATE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE SPECIAL ADMINISTRATION FUND OF THE BUREAU OF EMPLOYMENT SECURITY IN THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRY SINCE ITS INCEPTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I present to the Chair and ask for the immediate consideration of the resolution which I just read.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears none.

The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, requests unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I object to the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Will the Senate remain in Session in order that this resolution may be considered by the committee?

Mr. PECHAN. We had decided in the Republican Caucus —we may change our thinking because we did not know anything about this. Since this is a Democratic inspired and sponsored resolution, we knew nothing about it. We had decided that we would adjourn today until next Monday. I do not know whether this matter is world-shaking or whether it should be considered today. It might mean a great deal to your Party to have it considered today, but I do not see why we should stay here for the purpose of that resolution being considered today. However, I am just speaking for myself. I will be very happy to call a Caucus of the Republican Membership.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, Senator.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I think that I speak for the Democratic Caucus when I say that I resent the implication that this is only important to the Democratic Party. I think it is important to all of the people in the Commonwealth. It is important because of the many insinuations which have appeared in the newspapers. The people only receive the information that they get from the daily newspaper. I might state that I noted in one of the newspapers where they carefully went into the so-called character and the occupations of some of the persons on this payroll. I asked for a list of the employees on the payroll and I asked for a list of the preceding Administrations' employees on the payroll, and I found that although the newspaper said there was a Catholic Priest on the payroll, I find that under the Republicans there was a Protestant Minister. I do not know whether that is of importance or not; I only know that I do not know whether this is true. That is why we want to investigate.

I noted, too, that certain parties were castigated because it said that a man by the name of Anthony Martino, from 821 Camden Street, Philadelphia, was arrested thirteen times and he was on this payroll. I think it is important for the people to know that this man was put on the payroll under the Republican Administration and that he was a holdover during this Administration. I think that perhaps some innocent parties may be hurt in this matter. It is the kind of a question which demands immediate attention.

I do not know these citizens, but there are citizens here who deserve the consideration of this Senate, whose names have been blackened, whose characters have been questioned by insinuating articles that put them all in a situation whereby they are all drones or hypocrites, or men taking money without doing any work for it. I do not know that this is true. Neither does Senator Pechan or any other Senator on the floor know.

I think it is only fair that we go back through the records and open this matter up and study it. Let us see whether it is true that there was $700,000 in this fund when the immediate past Secretary of Labor and Industry took over. Let us find out whether there is over $1,117,000 in the fund now. If there is and that is the truth, then evidently these men must of done some work. I understand from the newspapers that this is a fund that the taxpayers participate in. I understand from this article that I have before me that that is not true. I understand that the moneys which are in this fund are made up from collections by these very persons from fraud, penalties and fines against those who would defraud the State Government, out of unemployment compensation moneys, by putting persons on unemployment compensation who do not deserve to be on there. I understand that the manner, the nature of the kind of work that is performed by these people is in sort of a confidential matter; that they go into places and do not expose who they are, do not identify themselves. By so doing, they act as sort of undercover agents, because you cannot catch fraud by parading the fact that you are a police officer or an investigator.

These things are important to the people, Mr. President. We should know the answers to them because we are Members of the Senate. Above everything else, this Senate must stand up for the rights of the citizens of this Commonwealth and find out whether they are being condemned rightfully or wrongfully. I do not know the answers to these question, and that is why I want to ask them. I want to ask them and the Members of the Democratic Caucus want to ask them. If the Republican Party wants to assume the responsibility of not going along with the resolution simply because we intended to delve into the matter, back to the inception of the fund and not only of its recent history of the last two years—we expect to go into the fund, back to its inception. We expect to go over its payrolls, go over its collections and go over the entire matter of spending. Is it true that $911,000 was taken out of this fund under the previous Administration to pay for the fees and the ground upon which the Department of Labor and Industry Building was built? Is it true? I do not know. That appears in the report. Let us find out. The only way we can find out whether these funds were used rightfully or wrongfully is for this Body to institute an immediate investigation.

I would appreciate it if there would be an immediate Caucus of the Republican Members to take a responsible position in the matter. I informed the Acting Floor Leader on the other side of my intentions. I told him what was in the resolution and I told him then that I expected to ask for immediate consideration. He did not at that time tell me there would be anything but consideration for it.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I want to apologize for one thing. Perhaps my language was a little bit vague. However, I did not mean to infer that it was a Democratic problem or that we were not interested. It was probably the way I worded it that caused the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland to misunderstand me.

Under no circumstances do I want to stifle any investigation. We are just as interested as the Members on the Democratic side. I feel that perhaps Republican Members should have co-sponsored that resolution. The President pro tempore is not present today and, therefore, he could not fulfill the intent of that resolution.

Mr. President, I will be very happy to call a Caucus of the Republican Members this evening and see what they want to do about giving that resolution immediate consideration. However, I do not see anything wrong with postponing it until next Monday. The Senator from Westmoreland mentioned a lot of things that I do not know to be true. We have received all sorts of rumors. We have not brought this thing out. We thought it was your Administration; it was one of your members. However, I am willing to call a Caucus of our group if you will allow us to have a five-minute recess.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I might say to the gentleman from Armstrong that if, when I told him we were going to introduce this resolution, he had intimated to me that they wanted to co-sponsor it, and even now, if you desire or if anybody on your side desires to co-sponsor it, we will be glad to have you as co-sponsors. I want to state to you that I do not know that these things are true any more than you know. That is the reason for the resolution.

RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Doctor Pechan, asks for a recess of five minutes for the purpose of calling a Caucus of the Republican Members. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a five-minute recess.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, offered a resolution and requested unanimous consent for its immediate consideration. Are there any objections?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, after calling a Caucus, it was brought to our attention that a resolution was introduced in the House that called for a Joint Committee of the House and Senate to make that investigation. We feel that if it is going to be done on a bipartisan basis, then that is sufficient.

Therefore, Mr. President, I continue to object to the immediate consideration of Senator Dent's resolution.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it seems like we are destined eternally to be in the position where we do not have sufficient votes to give the people of Pennsylvania some good government here. However, if the resolution about which Senator Pechan is talking is coming over from the House, I might remind the gentleman that that resolution will be here if we wait long enough and we can pass it today.

I insist that we wait until the resolution comes over from the House. Did they pass it? The House did not pass the resolution and, of course, that does not stop us from working on this particular resolution.

As far as it being bipartisan, I do not think anything could be more bipartisan than a membership of four, two from each Party. The House resolution, as I understand it, only intends to delve into the manipulations or the handling, or whatever you may call it, of this fund during this Administration. We feel that that is not fair to the people of the Commonwealth and that it should go back into the operation of the fund, because the events that occurred before are related to the incidents that have now taken place. Therefore, the resolution ought to be here before us. If it is not here, I insist that we act upon this resolution if we can today.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would like to correct the gentleman from Westmoreland. The resolution in the House calls for an investigation of the fund from its inception, from its very beginning. I do not known when that date occurred. I think it was in 1945. However, it does not only concern this present Administration.

As I understand it, no resolution is considered immediately in the House. It goes to the Rules Committee. Somebody just whispered to me that the House has adjourned.

Mr. President, I still insist on objecting to this resolution

MOTION FOR IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATION OF RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be given immediate consideration.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, asks for a roll call. The Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would request, may we be at ease for just a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I feel that the Minority Leader is out of order in making his motion. In my opinion, and by following the Rules of the Senate, when Senator Pechan objected to immediate consideration of the resolution, the Chair should have immediately referred the resolution to the proper committee.

Therefore, Senator Dent's motion is completely out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair partially agrees with the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, that the gentleman's motion is out of order. However, the motion did have the intent of suspending Rule 39 which would have been the proper motion to have been made for immediate consideration of this resolution.

The Chair, therefore, rules that the motion made by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, is out of order.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I now move that the Senate do adjourn until 10:00 a. m., tomorrow morning, in order that we can wait for the resolution to come from the House since I am assured by the Republican leadership that it will be passed tomorrow. If it will be, then we should be here to receive it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I oppose the passage of this motion.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman is out of order.

Mr. FLEMING. I would ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FLEMING and Mr. DENT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Camiel,	Kalman,	Murray,	Silvert,
Dent,	Lane,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Derk,	McGinnis,	Sarraf,	Weiner,
Donolow,	McMenamin,	Schmidt,	Yosko,
Hays,	Mullin,	Seyler,

NAYS—20

Ehrgood,	Kromer,	Scott,	Walker,
Elliott,	Madigan,	Stevenson,	Watkins,
Flack,	Mallery,	Van Sant,	Watson,
Fleming,	Pechan,	Wade,	Whalley,
Kessler,	Propert,	Wagner,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not want the Senate to think that this was just an idle gesture to waste time. I want it clearly on the record that the Democraic Members are not fearful of any investigation and, therefore, voted to have an investigation of this particular fund. I do not know why the Republicans voted "no."

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I have been in this Senate for eight years and I cannot recall anything, to my mind, any sillier than to have three investigations at one time. The Governor is having an investigation of this fund, the House wants to have a joint investigation and now the Democratic Members of the Senate want to have one. It just does not make sense. We are for it; we want to investigate this fund. We are just as interested as you are. We have nothing to hide. However, I cannot understand why everybody wants to get into the act. The Governor says he is having an investigation; the House introduced a resolution today to make it a joint investigation; now the gentleman from Westmoreland would like to introduce a resolution in order for the Democrats to have an investigation. It just does not make sense.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, am I to assume that any matters that the Governor decides to investigate will not be investigated by the Senate.

Incidentally, I have no knowledge of the House Resolution other than what the gentleman told me. It is awful nice for him to wave it at me. I can wave papers, too. This is a resolution from the Lions Club of West Philadelphia, but you do not know that it is.

Mr. President, this is not an idle gesture nor is it silly, as the gentleman would call it. It is not silly when some twenty men have been publicly denounced in the public print. I do not think it is silly to ask for an immediate investigation. I will go along with you and say that we do not investigate in the Senate. Then why do you not stay over until tomorrow and get the House Resolution if you are favorable to it?

You say you are for it. You are for it, but not today, not tomorrow but when it suits your fancy. Are you sure the House is going to pass the resolution? What assurance do you have? I do not say that the House will or will not pass it. I am responsible to the people of Pennsylvania for my actions in this Senate and not for what the House does nor for what the Governor does. It is my duty here, as a Senator, to bring to the public the problems that I think are pertinent to the public welfare. I think it is pertinent to the public welfare to investigate this matter. It has been bandying about in the newspapers all over Pennsylvania for more than a week. If we would have been in Session last week. I would have introduced a resolution last week on behalf of the Democrats. I now ask your cooperation and ask you to co-sponsor it with me, if you so desire.

It is not a Democratic investigation because we do not feel that it is a Democratic crime, if that is where you want to place it. We believe that this department has been handled all along in the same manner that it is now being handled. We believe that from the records we have obtained, there is no difference in the handling of that fund today than there was two years ago, three years ago, five years ago or back to 1945. If there is any difference in it, there is one difference that you should take into consideration and that is that more money has been accumulated in this two-year period than any other two-year period, except at the early beginning of the fund. I think that these are pertinent facts that he people should know.

I am not opposed to the House Resolution. However, how can you act on it if you refuse to be here tomorrow?

We tell the people we are going to work diligently, we are going to work hard during this Session; that it is not going to be one of those lackadaisical things where no one works and just passes the time away. What are we doing here today? We have not taken any action which is beneficial to the people whatsoever. This is the only concrete thing that has come before this Session. We may as well have stayed home or gone to Florida for that matter. There is no crime against staying overnight until tomorrow morning. It is absolutely right that we should stay until tomorrow morning to see what is in this resolution.

Yes, you have a confidential copy. That must be a Republican resolution. We did not even get to see it or know about it until you read it to us. Since when has the House started sending messages to the Republican Floor Leader and not to the Chair? If it is a matter of concern to the Senate, then it should be sent to the Chair so we would know of it.

If you are in possession of confidential matters, then you should come over, as we always have done, and discuss the matter before you break it on the floor.

I did not know that a resolution was introduced in the House. I do not know at this moment that it was introduced in the House. I do not know that the House is going to pass that resolution. However, I know that if they do pass it tomorrow, I would like to be here to take advantage of the position that I find myself in to vote for that resolution coming from the House. I am not particular about which resolution passes. All I say to you is that a great number of citizens of this State have been maligned, maybe rightfully so, I do not know, but perhaps they have been maligned wrongfully. If so, then it is worth my day or your day, my night or your night, to prove innocent those who are innocent, and to find guilty those who are guilty.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I have a copy of the resolution which was introduced in the House and it certainly is no secret. I did not know it was introduced. Had I known that such a resolution had been introduced, I would not have called a Caucus of my Membership.

On my way to the Caucus, I was told that a similar resolution was introduced in the House, and on my way to the telephone I happened to see the gentleman who introduced it and he gave me a copy. It was introduced by a Republican.

I am not waving a Lions Club pamphlet, and I want to read for the gentleman's edification just one section of this resolution and that, I think, satisfies us and it should satisfy Senator Dent and his colleagues.

"Resolved, (the Senate concurring), That a committee of seven members of the General Assembly be created."

Now, Mr. President, we are not the House of Lords. The gentleman suggested that we should have an investigation and he said he does not care what they do in the House, but I do because we usually have to concur in what they do. I quote further:

"That a committee of seven members of the General Assembly be created; four from the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker and three from the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore whose duty it would be to thoroughly investigate all present and prior"—and prior—"activities of the Bureau of Employment Security of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry;" and so forth, and so forth.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, you said there would be three appointed from the Senate, is that correct?

Mr. PECHAN. I believe that is what the resolution, which the Minority Leader has in his hand, says.

Mr. LANE. Then it would be strictly nonpartisan; two Republicans and one Democrat, is that right?

Mr. PECHAN. I do not know. I am not the President pro tempore.

Mr. LANE. However, you know how he generally appoints them, do you not; and you agree to that, do you not?

Senator Pechan, the other question I would like to ask you is this. What is wrong with our resolution? If you want to make it concurrent, if you want to include the House, it is all right with us, and so why not take the resolution as it is and amend it and include the House?

How do you know the House is going to pass their resolution? Do you know whether the House is going to pass their resolution?

Mr. PECHAN. Are you asking me a question?

Mr. LANE. I am asking you a question; two of them as a matter of fact.

Mr. PECHAN. Well, I did not pay much attention to the first one because I am not the President pro tempore and I do not know what the appointments are going to be.

Mr. LANE. But you have a good idea—go ahead.

Mr. PECHAN. I would not know whether the House is going to pass their resolution any more than I would know whether the House is going to concur in the resolution that the gentleman from Westmoreland introduced.

Mr. LANE. Well, what is wrong with amending our resolution and making it concurrent?

Mr. PECHAN. The thing that I do not understand is why should there be three investigations? The Governor—do you not trust your Governor?

Mr. LANE. That is beside the point. The Senate of Pennsylvania does not have to cape for anyone.

Doctor, do you trust him?

Mr. PECHAN. Do I trust Governor Leader? Are you going to hold it against me if I give you a truthful answer?

Mr. LANE. We never hold anything against you; go right ahead. We are waiting.

Mr. PECHAN. Let us be sensible.

Mr. LANE. I am glad to hear you make that statement. I have been trying all afternoon to be sensible with you. I want to find out from you just why you oppose this resolution, because you tell me that you are not sure that the House is going to pass theirs and yet you, and we on the Democratic side, are in agreement on this resolution, so why not pass it and amend it?

Mr. PECHAN. I do not like to be repetitious. I did tell you, if you were listening.

Mr. LANE. I was listening but it was not very clear.

Mr. PECHAN. I do not think we should have three investigations. The Governor—

Mr. LANE. How do you know we are going to have three? You told me that the House may not pass theirs.

Mr. PECHAN. I do not know what the House is going to do with their resolution. They have to send their resolution to the Rules Committee and whatever the Rules Committee does with that resolution will be considered here when it is sent over to the Senate. Let me assure you that the Republican Membership will go along with the House Resolution and we have twenty-seven votes over here for that.

Mr. LANE. What if it does not pass? Will you go along with our resolution?

Mr. PECHAN. Oh, definitely.

Mr. LANE. Is that a promise now? You will go along with ours if the House does not pass their resolution. Is that a promise?

Mr. PECHAN. That we will have an investigation?

Mr. LANE. That you will go along with our resolution?

Mr. PECHAN. The boys are telling me, "You speak for yourself, Pechan." Well, for myself I am speaking and I say, "Yes, I will go along."

Mr. LANE. Oh, you will?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes; I will even co-sponsor it with John Dent.

Mr. LANE. Do you think you ought to call Florida to check up and find out whether you should agree or not?

Mr. PECHAN. I do not know Governor Collins.

Mr. LANE. I thank the gentleman, Mr. President, I can see I am getting nowhere fast.

Mr. President, seriously speaking, I feel this is a responsibility of every elected official. Where there are any charges of misuse of public funds, I think it is our responsibility. We have taken an oath of office to do the right thing and to protect the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Politics should not be in this thing and we should make an impartial, thorough investigation and the chips should fall where they may. All this subterfuge is holding us up to ridicule because, in my humble opinion, I do not believe that the Republican leaders want this investigation.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I understand that the gentleman has commmitted the Republican Senators to vote on the House Resolution. I wonder how many Republican Senators know what it says. Do you men on the other side agree that a preliminary investigation held by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and the Philadelphia Inquirer has revealed that the Bureau of Employment Security in the Department of Labor and Industry is staffed by persons whose records and conduct make them manifestly unfit for public service; and

"WHEREAS this investigation has also revealed the extravagant and ill-advised use of a $1,700,000 Special Administrative Fund for paying and maintaining these personnel."

Do you mean to tell me that you go along with these whereas clauses, and that these whereas clauses are your thinking in the matter? Do you go along with charges made in this resolution as being fact? You condemn these people without a trial? How can you vote for this resolution when it says in a positive sense that, whereas an investigation was held by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and the Philadelphia Inquirer revealing that these men are unfit for their jobs; that a man here had thirteen arrests and is also in business as a fuel oil dealer and on the payroll; that an investigator holds two jobs in private industry and receives a salary? Do you know that to be a fact? You go along with these whereas clauses?

We did not condemn anybody, Mr. President. We did not point a finger of guilt at any person. We still believe that we have not reached that stage that has hit Russia for so many years where men are condemned without trial.

You state in these whereas clauses, and you say to this Senate, that you are going to go along with this resolution when you specifically state that these men are unfit for office, unfit for public service; that there has been a misuse of the funds. How do we know there has been a misuse? You cannot pass a resolution stating this to be a fact and then say you are going to have an investigation. When you have an investigation, sir, you take the position that all persons in this Country are innocent until proven guilty.

I hate to see the day come when you will ask me to vote for a resolution based upon newspaper articles.

Mr. President, maybe I am an unfit Member of this Senate, but I have never received a solitary editorial or a comment of good will in the twenty-two years that I have been in this Senate of Pennsylvania, and maybe that ought to condemn me to not being a Member of this place because they do not like me. Of course, the fact that they are Republican newspapers may have something to do with the fact that they do not write nice things about me. Nevertheless, sir, you cannot condemn these people without a hearing and I will not support this resolution in its present writing or in the positive statements it makes. Maybe everything they say is true, and maybe an investigation will prove that it is true, Mr. President, but I cannot subscribe to the new philosophy of government that these men are guilty without a trial.

You lawyers on the other side, you educators on the other side that pride yourselves in teaching the youth of this State of ours, do you believe that you can vote for this in the American tradition and under the American rights?

Let us wait until tomorrow, Mr. President, and let us see what comes over from the House and then let us either amend it or reject it.

Mr. President, all we are asking for is an impartial investigation, because it applies to both political parties and their administration and not to one political party.

I am ashamed that any Member would blindly say that he vould vote for this resolution with these condemnations in it without a trial either by jury or his peers.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, will state it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, are we on the order of business of resolutions?

The PRESIDENT. No sir, we are on the order of business of Petitions and Remonstrances.

Mr. LANE. Thank you.

The PRESIDENT. There are objections to the immediate consideration of the resolution offered by the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent. The Chair refers the resolution to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have here correspondence dealing with a very serious situation, and I think it should be made a part of the record. I do not know what we can do about it. It is a very important issue; it is an issue which the Lions Clubs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are very disturbed about. It deals with the moneys made available under Public Law No. 565 with matching funds from the Commonwealth.

This petition states that:

"The Pennsylvania Legislature, in its last Session, approved and appropriated the money for the balance of the one-quarter to one-third of the total cost of such projects"; these projects being the "rehabilitation services or expanding sheltered workshop buildings to make it possible to employ more blind people."

The petition reads further as follows:

"Despite this, the Department of Welfare, State Council for the Blind, has notified all agencies in Pennsylvania that they are unable to consider financial support of these projects so important to the blind."

The thing that worries me is that in this petition it states—I cannot say that it is so; I am just stating what the petition says—that:

"The State funds will revert to the General Fund if they are not allocated by next May 31."

It states further that:

"For all practical purposes the deadline for their allocation is February 1957."

I am just wondering whether we should not take some appropriate action to at least look into this matter since the Legislature felt that it was important enough to pass the necessary appropriation two years ago.

Therefore, Mr. President, I present this petition to the Chair and ask that it be included in the Journal and the original copy returned to me for my files.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, did the gentleman from Westmoreland request any immediate action on this?

The PRESIDENT. No action was requested.

Mr. DENT. Appropriate action; that calls for an investigation, I will let you make the motion this time because I do not have the votes to pass it.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I have similar requests from Lions Clubs in my area. It poses a problem, and I am like the gentleman from Westmoreland in thinking that something should be done. Perhaps he and I can get together, when we return next Monday, and take appropriate action.

Mr. DENT. We are going to have a busy day Monday.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOLFE, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Health for payments to municipalities and municipality authorities under the provisions of the act of August 20, 1953 (P. L. 1217) entitled "An act providing for payments by the Commonwealth to municipalities which have expended money to acquire and construct sewage treatment plants in accordance with the Clean Streams Program and the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 1987) and making an appropriation," and for the repair, improvements or additions of certain sewage treatment plants.

He also, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 11, entitled:

An Act relating to and regulating atomic development activities within the Commonwealth; providing for the appointment of a Coordinator of Atomic Development Activities and fixing his duties and salary; and requiring certain departments and agencies to make continuing studies and recommendations relative to atomic industrial development.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

JOINT COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ALL ACTIONS OF THE BOARD OF PARDONS SINCE JANUARY 1, 1953

Messrs. RUTH, YOSKO, SILVERT and DENT, offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate, January 22, 1957.

Public interest has arisen concerning the activities of the Board of Pardons. In order to promote a more effective understanding of the work of the Board of Pardons and the functions entrusted to it, therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three mmbers of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House who together shall constitute a joint committee and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all actions since January 1, 1953, of the Board of Pardons in connection with the pardon, parole or commutation of sentence of persons convicted of crimes. The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to purchase any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases, and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed sixty days.

REQUEST THAT PETITION BE PRINTED IN JOURNAL WITHDRAWN

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, a suggestion has been made that I withdraw my request at this time for the petition which I just submitted to appear in the Journal. I would suggest that it appear in the Appendix to the Journal, however, as a matter of record of the Senate.

I would ask the Chair to refer that letter for suitable action to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare in order that that Committee may, if it so desires, design the necessary steps that have to be taken to correct what appears to be an injustice.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, at the request of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, the letter will be printed in the Appendix to the Journal, and will be referred to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, January 28, 1957, at three o'clock p. m., E. S. T. and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, January 28, 1957, at four-thirty o'clock p. m., E. S. T.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

SUGGESTING THAT ANY STATE-AIDED COLLEGE OR UNIVERSITY IN THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA SHOULD NOT PARTICIPATE IN ANY ATHLETIC PROGRAM WITH ANY OTHER COLLEGE OR UNIVERSITY IN THE UNITED STATES WHICH PRACTICES SEGREGATION

Messrs. DONOLOW, KALMAN, SILVERT and WEINER, offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Education:

In the Senate, January 22, 1957.

It is reported that certain universities and colleges in the south are practicing segregation in their athletic programs.

These southern colleges and universities have ruled that their athletic teams should not participate with any university or college having Negro players. Many of Pennsylvania-supported colleges and universities participate in sports with such colleges and universities operating under these restrictions; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate go on record as strongly suggesting that any college or university in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which receives State aid should not participate in any athletic program with any other college or university in the United States which practices segregation or prohibits their teams from participating with colleges or universities which have Negro members; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to all the State-aided colleges and universities in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

JOINT COMMISSION TO MAKE A THOROUGH STUDY AND EXAMINATION OF THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM IN THIS COMMONWEALTH

Mr. DONOLOW offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General:

In the Senate, January 22, 1957.

The courts in our Commonwealth are being faced with a tremendous backlog of untried civil and criminal cases. One explanation may be that there has been very little change in our judicial system in the Commonwealth since Colonial days.

The increase in population through the years, the improvement of economic and financial conditions and the large expansion of commercial and industrial activity, has brought a great increase in legal action in both the civil and criminal divisions. Thus a tremendous backlog is developing year after year with the result that cases are not being disposed of with the rapidity they should be. This condition is due to the great modern demands that have arisen as a result of our progress. It becomes necessary to reorganize the judicial system so that it can meet modern demands and also be put on an efficient and business like basis.

In some instances, the backlog of criminal cases has developed into approximately five thousand and the civil approximately six thousand. Our judges have so many duties sitting on both criminal and civil cases that it becomes almost impossible to keep up to date. In many nonbail criminal cases, in some jurisdictions, the defendants are not tried as promptly as they should be and some are held in prison untried for as long as eight to nine months.

If this problem is not met and solved as quickly as possible, we may find in the not too distant future that the entire judicial system of this Commonwealth may break down; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint five members of the Senate, the Speaker of the House appoint five members of the House and the Governor appoint five members from the judiciary who, together, shall constitute a joint commission to make a thorough study and examination of the judicial system in this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the commission shall hold public hearings, undertake such study, inquiries and surveys or analyses as it may deem relevant either through its own personnel and employes or in cooperation with other public or private agencies; and be it further

Resolved, That the commission shall from time to time but not later than one year subsequent to the date of its appointment, report to the Governor and the General Assembly, its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION ON THE PROBLEM OF RISING COSTS OF RECORDING LEGAL DOCUMENTS

Messrs. LANE, McMENAMIN and DONOLOW offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Local Government:

In the Senate, January 22, 1957.

It has come to the attention of the Senate that the cost of recording deeds, papers for estates, and all other legal documents has been steadily rising.

It is contended, that these costs in the Commonwealth are much higher than in most other states of the Union.

The matter of rising costs of recording legal documents constitute a great burden upon the ability of small estates and less affluent persons to pay; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Local Government Commission be directed to make a thorough study and investigation on the problem of rising costs of recording legal documents. The Commission should compare the costs of administering comparable recording services in other states and should consider the impact that these costs have upon smaller estates and persons in lower income brackets, and be it further

Resolved, That the Local Government Commission submit a report to His Excellency the Governor and to the Senate of its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry these recommendations into effect.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to adddress the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am about to burn some of the political bridges over which, perhaps, it would have been possible for me now and then to cross over into the inner councils of my party, a party which I have served in my small corner for more than 60 years.

The matter I desire to discuss may be in the judgment of this House purely a matter of concern only to the Democratic party. It may be a matter, on the other hand, of concern to the people of this Commonwalth. I might add parenthetically that when any man is the victim of an injustice there should be somewhere a tribunal before which he can plead. I repeat, perhaps that tribunal is not a tribunal which can be authorized by this House, but might be something that concerns only the inner councils of the minority party.

As all of you have noted in the Press, His Excellency, the Governor, has felt moved to remove one of his cabinet officers and he does so for a specific reason, the alleged misuse of a particular fund, a fund administered by and through the Department of Labor and Industry. Not only has His Excellency, the Governor, removed the Secretary of the Department, but he has also elected to destroy a bureau which performs an important function.

I note by the public Press that not only has former Secretary Torquato been dismissed, but 23 employees of the fund that has been the subject of controversy have been fired.

Let me illustrate what the employees of that fund do. Recently at a club there was a waitress and a bartender regularly employed. An investigation showed that coincident with their employment in that particular place they were drawing unemployment compensation. I submit to you that the detection of that kind of dereliction is not one that an "intellectual egghead" could have spotted by making a visit to the club at 10:00 o'clock in the morning.

As to whether or not the fund has been abused, as I have said, is a matter which this House must say, or should say, is a matter purely of party concern or of public concern. But mind you, in a statement by His Excellency, the Governor, he points to the maladministration of this particular fund by reason of the fact that there are upon its payroll men who, on report and without an investigation, were not supposed to be working. I might add parenthetically that I have spent sometime here on the Hill and I have never known a House organization in which one or two "sleepers" did not manage to occupy an official berth.

I suggest, in all seriousness, that if one department or bureau is under fire because all of its people are not working all of the time, perhaps the range of inquiry should be greatly extended.

I am interested in this case because I believe former Secretary Torquato could properly say, "An enemy has done this." I believe there is reason by inference to conclude that that enemy has been a responsible member of His Excellency, the Governor's, personal staff—none other than his Secretary Randall. There is ground to believe that the cause of ill-will, of friction, between the Secretary of Labor and Industry and the Secretary to His Excellency, the Governor, was due to the fact that a relative of the Secretary owes the Unemployment Compensation Fund of this Commonwealth in penalties and capital sum slightly more than $200,000, and the Secretary of Labor and Industry was indiscreet enough to file liens. Now, I say that if the Secretary of Labor and Industry is to be pilloried, all of those who were party to the action should be pilloried with him. I think an investigation will show that the Secretary to His Excellency, the Governor, has had one conspicuous "sleeper" upon this very payroll, a man who is so busy making steel an honorable profession that he found no time to serve the state in another capacity.

I believe that if an investigation made by and through any impartial agency were to be consummated the fact would be shown that the Secretary of Labor and Industry made no appointments to the fund in question except at the suggestion of party leaders who were either his superiors or his equal.

As I have pointed out, this may not be a matter of concern to the Members of this House, it may be a matter of concern only to the Democratic party. But I point out that His Excellency, the Governor, says that a certain type of government cannot be tolerated. I would agree with him, but an investigation might show that in times past this very fund was one of the slight pillars upon which measures essential to his program were enabled to weather the storm in this House.

The question is, has there been such a dereliction as warrants investigation? Should the entire situation be looked into in the public interest, or should the majority party say to the minority party, "It's your dirty linen, wash it after your own fashion." I want to point out that this linen, be it dirty or not, came to the notice of the public through releases authorized by the Governor's office and it would not otherwise have been known, but could have been settled in routine fashion.

I know not what other sins the former Secretary may have committed, if any. I am only contending that in the present instance, in so far as this fund is concerned, there is no reason why he should be pilloried.

There might be a reason, however, to inquire into the use of this fund because it has a distinct use as to what kind of an organization is needed in order to perform the functions for which the fund and the personnel was created. Then, if we are to be wholly pure, perhaps there are evangels of purity on both sides of this House who might want to know what adjustments can be made in existing payrolls without impairing the essential services of the Commonwealth.

I have risen because I believe that the manner in which this case has been handled is outrageously unjust. The Governor has not intimated that there were other reasons why his former Secretary of Labor and Industry should go. I am not saying that there were not other reasons. I am not endeavoring to make out a case clear across the board for the former Secretary of the Department of Labor and Industry, but I say he has been outrageously penalized by those in the Governor's office who were parties to the very iniquities of which he was accused.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. POMEROY (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 2

In the House of Representatives, January 22, 1957.

Whereas a preliminary investigation which has been conducted in the Commonwealth has revealed that the Bureau of Employment Security of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry is staffed by many persons whose records and conduct make them manifestly unfit for their jobs and

Whereas this investigation has also revealed the extravagant and ill advised use of a $1,700,000 Special Administrative Fund for paying and maintaining these personnel and

Whereas this fund is under the personal control of the Secretary of Labor and Industry as are these personnel and the conduct of the Bureau of Employment Security itself and

Whereas the fund is made up of fines and penalties collected from Pennsylvania employers who fail to make prompt payment for unemployment compensation benefits and

Whereas the personnel of the Bureau are charged with the duties, inter alia, of investigating charges of fraud in jobless benefit surveys, labor surveys and allied activities and

Whereas the funds are actually remitted to the Department by the U. S. Government out of the fines and penalties collected, as heretofore referred to and

Whereas the fund is not subject to the budgetary controls of other state funds and

Whereas a sampling of the investigations conducted under the auspices of Pittsburgh Post Gazette and the Philadelphia Inquirer, among other leading periodicals, has revealed the following examples of personnel existing practices

(1) An investigator from Philadelphia who has a criminal record of three convictions out of thirteen arrests, who is also in business as a fuel oil dealer, is receiving a bi-weekly state salary of $166.

(2) An investigator who holds two jobs in private industry is receiving a bi-weekly salary of $143.50.

(3) A full time real estate and insurance broker in Philadelphia is also on the Bureau payroll.

(4) A taproom operator who is employed by the Bureau has an establishment which has been singled out by the Commissioner of Police of Philadelphia, Thos. P. Gibbons, as a meeting place for known racketeers, and

Whereas, The District Supervisor of the Bureau in Philadelphia, John A. O'Brien, a Civil Service employe, has admitted he has no control or power over their salaries or dismissal if their work is unsatisfactory and that he cannot compel the Bureau of Employees to do their jobs, and

Whereas The Secretary of the Department of Labor has refused to acknowledge the existence of a situation which he intends to remedy, and

Whereas, An investigation announced by the Governor's Office has not resulted in any remedial measures, and

Whereas, These practices not only have staffed the Bureau with persons unfit for their tasks, but also have resulted in a waste of funds; now therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That a committee of seven members of the General Assembly be created; four from the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker, and three from the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore whose duty it would be to thoroughly investigate all present and prior activities of the Bureau of Employment Security of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee may meet, hold hearings and take testimony. It may issue subjoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, commanding any person to appear before it and to answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee deems necessary. Any person who wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the commission; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make reports of its findings together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation to this session of the Legislature from time to time as their work progresses.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. ERB RESOLUTION No. 3

In the House of Representatives, January 7, 1957.

Complaint has been made that the domestic water supply of Bellwood Borough in Blair County has been polluted and rendered inimical and injurious to the public health and objectionable for public water supply purposes through the discharge of acid mine drainage into streams feeding the water supply; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives call upon the Sanitary Water Board of the Department of Health to investigate these charges and to enforce the laws of the Commonwealth in reference thereto; and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the Secretary of Health as Chairman of the Sanitary Water Board.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. WORLEY. RESOLUTION No. 4.

In the House of Representatives, January 22, 1957.

Whereas, There are many obsolete laws upon the statute books of this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, These obsolete laws should not be repealed without a careful study first being made thereof; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a study of the laws of this Commonwealth for the purpose of ascertaining which laws are obsolete; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall make a full report of such obsolete laws with their recommendations to the next General Assembly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. RENWICK asked and obtained unaimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, may I impose on the members of this body to discuss a very serious situation that has developed in Elk County.

As Members of the General Assembly, you no doubt have had similar problems, but circumstances, perhaps, have not brought the danger to your attention as yet.

In this Commonwealth there are many mountainous areas. This being an industrial state, there are a great many trucks that travel our highways, with a great percentage coming from out of state, and consequently not subject to the strict inspection standards of this Commonwealth.

In the county seat of the county that I am privileged to represent, namely, Ridgway, the citizens of that community have been cursed with a traffic hazard that has for years, threatened the lives and limbs of all the citizens of that borough.

My fellow Members, the highway in question is Route No. 219, commonly known in our county as Boot Jack Hill, that enters the borough on the northeast side. For years there have been accidents, all resulting from heavy trucks which run out of control, down this dangerous hill. The Highway Department and Service Clubs have installed various types of warnings, but apparently the lack of enforcement of safety regulations have made the trucks monsters that run wild endangering everyone in their path.

State officials and representatives of Motor Truck industry, in cooperation with the Interstate Commerce Commission, conducted for a two (2) week period beginning November 10, 1955, a Safety and Compliance Road Check of commercial vehicles at various places throughout Pennsylvania.

These checks disclosed that trucks being operated in interstate commerce under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, were not complying with the safety rules and regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

As members of the Legislature, representing all the people in Pennsylvania, it would appear to be our duty to see that these regulations are enforced, and if not, that we enact proper legislation to curtail this danger.

In the 1955 session, House Bill No. 1848, P 1463 was introduced and passed unanimously by this body. This bill pertained to safety devices that could be used on big trucks when and if they ran out of control because of brake failure.

For some unexplainable reason, the bill died before it could become a law. It is my understanding that a similar bill will be introduced this year, and at this time I would like to personally ask each Member to study the facts involved so that he or she will be in a position to act favorable on this measure when it reaches our attention.

As stated, one never realizes the seriousness of this truck hazard until it occurs in your own county.

If I may, I would like to outline just a few of the accidents that occurred on Boot Jack Hill in the last ten (10) years.

In November, 1947, a tractor trailer carrying three thousand (3000) gallons of gas, dashed madly down the grade and came to a stop within feet of the Samuel Murphy residence in the heart of the business section of the borough of Ridgway. Fortunately no one was injured, and the gas for some unexplainable reason did not burn.

On June 11, 1949, twelve (12) tons of potatoes came to rest on the front lawn of the Murphy residence.

June 23, 1950, fourteen (14) tons of steel roared down Boot Jack and upset on the lawn of a property owned by the late Mrs. Harry Alvan Hall, also in the business section of Ridgway.

Each year thereafter it was the same story; truck after truck containing all kinds of cargo winding up on the lawn of the Murphy or Hall residence.

The climax of this series of catastrophes occurred on December 15, 1956, when a troctor trailer loaded with copper wire went out of control on Boot Jack roared down the hill, missing by minutes, a group of school children who were on their way home from catechism instruction, crashed into the historic Samuel Murphy residence, upset, and for some unexplainable reason exploded, throwing flames throughout the Murphy residence, and in a matter of minutes burning the driver to death and setting the sixty-three (63) year old brownstone mansion afire.

Four (4) hours later when the flames were brought under control, to the shock of the entire county, the mansion and it's contents had suffered a total loss with an estimated damage of $350,000.00.

Fellow Members of this House, the Murphy residence was a historical landmark of Ridgway. It had been built sixty-three (63) years ago with stone imported from Italy. It was furnished with priceless Oriental rugs and antiques, many of them valued at many thousands of dollars. The twenty-five (25) room mansion was built at a cost of $50,000.00, way back in 1891. As one drove by this beautiful structure it reminded you of the historic castles that were so numerous in the old world. Many times, I myself, on campaign trips in that area, would admire the beautiful structure as it set so proudly on the Main Street of our County Seat.

Last Friday on a trip to Ridgway to discuss this situation with the Editor of the Ridgway Record, Mr. Glenn C. Abel, I was horrified to observe that on the spot that, just about one month ago stood a beautiful landmark, only a hole in the ground remains as a living monument to the loosely enforced regulations of safety that should be observed to protect the lives and property of our citizens.

I dare say that as this story is unfolded to you, it would appear to be just another incident.

May I point out the fact that each Member in this House may have the same situation occur tomorrow as the trucks that inflicted all this damage also travel through your county and are equipped with the same type of safety devices as the one which passed through our county on December 15, killed the driver and inflicted over $350,000.00 worth of property damage on a constituent of mine.

I have here the January 10th issue of the Ridgway Record. On the front page of this issue, the Editor, Mr. Abel began a crusade which he has called "Crusade From Fear." He pleads for action by the officials of this Commonwealth and I, therefore, as Representative from his district, plead with you to cooperate and support legislation that may be introduced during this session to help protect the limbs and property of the citizens of this Commonwealth.

The Administration in Harrisburg has indicated their interest in this problem and the Governor appeared before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, calling to their attention, the failure to enforce proper safety precautions.

It is my hope that the Safety Section of the Department of Revenue will make a personal inspection of the danger in Elk County and report the steps that can be taken to curtail further loss of limb and property damage in the Borough of Ridgway.

Members from both sides of this House, I realize there are many problems that perhaps are more important than safety devices for trucks, but the primary reason for bringing this matter to your attention early in the session is to give all of you an opportunity to personally survey any similar danger in your own county so that you may be more receptive to any legislation that may be introduced to curtail this danger throughout the Commonwealth.

I beg and plead with the Chairman of the committee who will have charge of bills relating to truck safety, to please release them as soon as possible.

SENATE

MONDAY, January 28, 1957

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D.D., Pastor of Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God our help in ages past, our hope for years to come, in the hushed reverence of this moment we pause to praise Thee, to acknowledge our dependence upon Thee and to seek Thy guidance in the affairs of government.

We thank Thee that we live in a land where Thou art honored, where men can walk upright and unafraid as Thy children, where no one dare be persecuted for his faith nor ought to be discriminated against because of his color.

Keep us, O Lord, from ever letting this moment of prayer become a perfunctory performance. Make this a sacred moment in the secret presence of the most High. Help us to set our sights on the highest and best, to take our bearings from the pole star of Thy purpose.

Lift us always above petty partisanship into a great-minded statesmanship. In all our ways, in all our days, may we walk as those who walk with Thee. Thus may we find strength and vision for every task, in the spirit and after the example of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

SECOND PRELIMINARY REPORT OF SENATE COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING THE TURNPIKE, CREATED UNDER SENATE RESOLUTION No. 26-A

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, the committee appointed by the President pro tempore to investigate the Turnpike Commission at the last Session has this following additional report to hand in to the President pro tempore at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the report.

The Clerk read the report as follows:

January 28, 1957.

Due to the present unsettled conditions surrounding the Pennsylvania Turnpike operations, this Committee feels that a more thorough examination of the Turnpike Commission and its operations is imperative.

The Committee has had a copy of the 1956 audit of the Turnpike submitted to its members as of the late date (January 22,1957).

After a study of this important document, the subcommittee of the Turnpike Investigating Committee made the following findings and recommendations:

(1) That the Turnpike is in a financially sound position.

(2) That by all means the credit of the Turnpike must be maintained.

(3) That the prerogatives and the welfare of the Commonwealth and of the Turnpike users must be given full consideration.

(4) That the rights of the bond holders pursuant to the bond prospectus must be fully protected and maintained.

(5) Any legislation aimed at changing the structure of the Turnpike Commission must be the subject of further study by this Committee.

(6) Consideration for such a change (if and when advised) must give full consideration to the management and operation of the Turnpike within the structure of existing governmental agencies and departments.

(7) In view of the above mentioned findings and recommendations, this Committee must continue to sit, in order that the legislative branch of this Government may be more fully informed on this vital and necessary function of a legislative created government operation.

The PRESIDENT. This report will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the bill that I am presenting deals with the subject of wire tapping. It would forbid the practice of wire tapping within the Commonwealth I think this is an important bill and one which is worth the attention of the Senate.

Last Session, Mr. President, an identical bill was presented in the Senate and in the House of Representatives. The one in the House emerged from committee and, after some discussion, was passed by the House. Due to press of other business or for some other reason, it did not receive passage in the Senate.

The practice of wire tapping is a relatively new one. It is a part of our heritage as Americans I think that we should have privacy and security in our homes and on our own properties. I think this is a traditional American expectation and right. At the time the Constitutional provisions regarding these rights were made, wire tapping, of course, had not even been invented. It was many years later that wire tapping became a practice, after much scientific discovery and invention.

By means of this new method of invading the privacy of the individual, some serious inroads have been made, I believe, on the rights of Americans. The communications between an American citizen and his physician, his lawyer, his priest or minister or rabbi, between members of his own family in discussing the most intimate matters, are all subject to being overheard surreptitiously by strangers. Furthermore, what is said by means of the tape recorder can be so distorted and so mangled as to entirely distort the meaning and intent of what was said, resulting in an unfair picture of the conversation.

Mr. President, the practice of wire tapping, in many circles, has become a racket. For all these reasons, there has been increasing interest in prohibiting this practice. In the Federal Government, this practice has been forbidden by law. Unfortunately, the provisions of that law do not clearly extend to the various States. Therefore, Mr. President, we introduce again, at this Session, this bill calling for the total abolition of this practice.

Formerly, this bill received the commendation and approval of the Bar Association of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia and many of the individual counties of the Commonwealth. The American Civil Liberties Union, in its National, State and its local branches, has been very much interested. Many other groups have had their attention called to the evils in this practice. Particularly is this true in the State of New York where trials of various types of control of this practice have been attempted and have failed. It seems that total abolition, total prohibition is the only solution.

For that reason, Mr. President, I hope that at this Session this Senate will take the lead in passing this bill and in starting on its progress the passage of this important legislation.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. SEYLER, DONOLOW, CAMIEL, SCHMIDT, SILVERT, and WEINER read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 97, entitled:

An Act to define and prohibit unauthorized interception, divulgence or use of telephone and telegraph communications; providing criminal penalties and civil damages, including attorneys' fees, for the violation thereof and limiting the admissibility of evidence.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I noted with interest what my good friend, Senator Seyler, said relative to his bill. I regret that we did not have the opportunity to pass this piece of legislation last Session.

However, the fact that we did not pass it should not have encouraged his fellow countian, Herbert Cohen, the former Attorney General, in purchasing thousands of dollars of wire tapping equipment, as I understand it, even without going to the trouble of having competitive bidding to obtain this equipment. I am sorry that Senator Seyler could not have convinced Mr. Cohen and his other fellow countian, Governor Leader, that that was probably a waste of the taxpayers' money.

If we pass this bill, I do not know now what we are going to do with all this expensive equipment which was purchased by the Administration for the purpose of tapping wires.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I appreciate the well intentioned comments made by Senator Mahany. I would point out to him that at the present time there is no prohibition against the use of such equipment. It is entirely legitimate. It is being used by authorities of most States and by many of the local community law enforcement officers and of course, I have no criticism of them as, I am sure Senator Mahany has no criticism of the Attorney General or any other person who purchases or uses this equipment under the present law.

However, Mr. President, I am sure that Senator Mahany will join with me in saying that this is a bad practice, and I hope he will join with me and with other interested persons in seeing to it that this practice is prohibited for all persons, including the law enforcement officers of our own Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DONOLOW asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I agree with the Majority Floor Leader that to purchase wire tapping equipment by the Attorney General was certainly not a move in the right direction as far as I am concerned. However, I feel that I can say that our new Attorney General, who is very much interested and has shown his interest in the past and I am sure has taken that interest into his present office, is against any sort of wire tapping and was one of the leaders in putting House Bill No. 726 across last Session.

Mr. President, I may say that near the conclusion of the last Session of the Legislature, I took the Senate floor—I think the Journal will bear me out—and asked the Senate to pass the wire tapping bill which came from the House. Since the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania passed the Commonwealth vs. Chaitt case, in which it said that any evidence secured by means of wire tapping was evidence that could be used in the criminal courts of our jurisdiction, we have had every police department in this Commonwealth running to the wires and peeping and listening in as to what is going on.

If I may bring out a personal experience I had not so long ago, I tried a case in a county here in Pennsylvania which dealt solely with wire tapping. During the cross-examination of the police officer who testified, he admitted on the stand that he had listened into eight different telephone conversations before he had secured the correct lines that he wanted to listen into and secure the evidence.

I must bring out the language which, by necessity, was used by Justice Musmanno in the Commonwealth vs. Chaitt case. He said that it was more important that the democratic right of privacy he preserved than some bookmaker being apprehended for calling in or securing five or six number bets.

Mr. President, in my own county of Philadelphia we have people tapping each other. The police brass have their own tapping crews. The Commissioner, the Deputies, every Inspector has a tapping crew. There is not a political leader or a citizen in the city of Philadelphia today who is free from having his telephones tapped. A judge told me a few weeks ago, quite humorously—however, I do not think in our present democracy it is humorous—that when he says "Goodnight" on his telephone, he says "Goodnight" to everyone who is listening in. That is typical of what is happening in Philadelphia today, when every police official has his own wire tapping crew assigned for him so that he can obtain information as to what is going on, not among criminals but among civic leaders who have the audacity to disagree or get information on political leaders of either party so that some day it may be used in some way or other.

Mr. President, this dirty practice, according to the words used by Justice Holmes, must be brought to an end. J. Edgar Hoover has said many times that this is an archaic method of securing evidence. It is neither scientific nor logical. The sooner we, here in the Senate of Pennsylvania, show the people of this State that we will protect the right of privacy and protect the fundamental constitutional rights, the sooner we will have served the people of this great Commonwealth properly.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE PENNSYLVANIA MORTGAGE SYSTEM

Messrs. KESSLER, BLASS and BERGER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government.

In the Senate, January 28, 1957.

Due to economic changes, the raising of the standards of living and the facility of financing the purchase of property for business and dwelling purposes, each year untold thousands of deeds and mortgages are left for recording with the Recorder of Deeds of the several counties of this Commonwealth.

As a result of the recording of this vast number of deeds and mortgages, the various offices of the Recorder of Deeds are being filled to capacity.

Our Legislature saw fit years ago to enact legislation providing for a "short form" deed which was designed to conserve space in the office of the Recorder of Deeds.

Many states have appropriate legislation, which provide a title abstract system and the incorporation of descriptions in conveyances which result in shorter deeds and mortgages.

Attorneys at law, financing institutions, public officials and the general public would be greatly benefited by legislation that would simplify the conveyancing and mortgaging of property; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate:

1. The various types of "short form mortgages" and the integration thereof into the Pennsylvania system of mortgaging property;

2. The establishment of abstract of title systems with respect to the ownership and conveyancing of property together with methods whereby descriptions of property may be incorporated into deeds and mortgages by reference to prior deeds; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 28, 1957.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, February 4, 1957, at three o'clock p.m., E.S.T., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, February 4, 1957, at four-thirty o'clock p.m., E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, a few moments ago I was reminded of the nomination that the Governor sent over to the Senate naming one Frank Garufi, of 902 Warren Avenue, Apollo, Armstrong County, asking the Senate to confirm him as a Justice of the Peace in the Borough of Apollo, which is in my county. The papers, for the last week, have been full of the Labor and Industry Fund that was under former Labor Secretary John Torquato.

I find that Frank Garufi, of 902 Warren Avenue, Apollo, was one of the last employees. In fact, his employment was terminated just last week. The Governor has found him unfit to serve and has fired him, yet he sends his name over and asks the Senate to confirm him as a Justice of the Peace in my county. I would like to know whether the Governor knows what is going on.

Actually, I am confused. I was just over to the House and they are having a picnic over there. It is not the Republicans that are giving him hell; I think it is the people in his own party. Perhaps someone on the other side could straighten me out on this. It just does not make sense. You fire a man one week, at fifteen dollars and five cents a day, plus expenses, and now you are going to make him a judge. Does that add up?

I would like to have someone enlighten me. Maybe the Governor can; I do not know but it is certainly confusing to Al Pechan.

INTERROGATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I do not remember—maybe you can clear it up for me—that anyone said that the men who were suspended by the Governor from employment in the Commonwealth under the Special Fund were unfit for public office or unfit for the jobs that they held. I do not remember seeing that in any newspaper.

Mr. PECHAN. Senator Dent, I am just taking the picture as a whole. He has fired or is trying to fire Frank McSorley and Jim Torrance from their jobs, and they have not been proved guilty but he is dismissing them. Here the very next week he is bringing in Frank Garufi.

Mr. DENT. This man, as I understand it, is from your District.

Mr. PECHAN. Yes.

Mr. DENT. Do you know him to be unfit for the office of Justice of the Peace?

Mr. PECHAN. I do not even know him, but I am just wondering what is going on. Why fire him last week and make him a Justice of the Peace this week?

I am not saying that he is unfit. I do not know the man.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think the Senate has before it a question as to the fitness of this individual to occupy the exalted position of Justice of the Peace in his District. As most of us know, the position of Justice of the Peace has always been considered the people's court, and the question that we have to resolve today, with your permission since you come from that District and with your guidance since you come from that District, is whether or not the man would be a proper man for the position that he is presented to us to hold. What went on before is a matter that none of us know anything about.

I asked the Senate last week to investigate that very situation. I thought that this might be one of the things that might come out of the wholesale dismissal or suspension of a group of citizens; that perhaps in this group there might be some who are at fault and some who are not proper persons for employment in public life. I also felt that a wholesale indictment was not the American way of doing things.

This man, for all I know and from what I understand you to say since you are not acquainted with him, for all you know might be a very proper person for the position. I assume that an investigation has been made by the administrative offices through their regular channels of check-up and that he is a proper person. I would assume that his name would not be sent over here otherwise. The question that I would like is to vote on the man for the job that he comes before us for. What went on before, I do not know anything about.

I would again request that you put through the resolution that we introduced last week in order that we may clear these men. If we again, today, turn this man down, what are we doing to citizens of Pennsylvania? Are we putting them in jeopardy with their private lives? Are we saying to their employers, if they have any, that these men are not entitled to earn a living in the Commonwealth? Are we saying that we think that they can not only hold a job in the State, but they cannot even be appointed to the office of Justice of the Peace, or any other office because of an unproven or even uncharged liability?

I do not know whether the man is liable for any charges because of the conduct of his office. I know nothing about it and you do not because you so stated.

I can understand your astounded attitude in the matter. You cannot understand why a man was left go last week and he is being appointed this week. Does the one job have any relationship to the other? Do you then, as his Senator, disapprove of him taking this job as Justice of the Peace, and do you want us to follow you in the matter? I assure you that if any name comes before this group from Westmoreland County, I will take full responsibility for whoever is named by the Governor and I will come to the Senate and recommend, one way or the other, to the Members of this Senate as to how I would like them to act upon that man's nomination and I will follow whatever suggestion you make, Senator.

Mr. PECHAN. Senator Dent, I did not fire the man. I said that I am confused. I am wondering what is happening. All of a sudden, we have a change of attitude in the Governor's Office. The man was fired. It was Governor Leader that fired him. It was not Al Pechan. I do not know the man. He would probably make a very fine Justice of the Peace.

I am like you. I do not see why honest people like this man, who perhaps does not deserve it, should have their names bandied around in the Pennsylvania State Senate, but the fact is that every paper carried the story that Governor Leader fired him because John Torquato had him working for him.

I do not know. Maybe the man worked every day; maybe he worked twenty-four hours a day and did sixteen hours more work than some of the fellows who supposedly did not show up at all. I do not know.

Certainly I will okay Frank Garufi. I checked with people in Apollo to see if he is a good citizen and if he would make a good Justice of the Peace. It is Governor Leader's prerogative to send over his nominations and it is my prerogative to examine them.

In view of what has happened, what am I to do?

Mr. DENT. I would suggest, Senator, that what I would do if he were from my District, I would make the inquiry as soon as I could and I would come before this Senate with a recommndation, and I am sure that the Senators on this floor will honor whatever recommendation you make in this case.

I would say, further, that you ought to get behind the resolution that was introduced last week so that we may clear the names of those who may be unjustly criticized for whatever part they had in a governmental function. The fact that they are part time jobs is not of itself a crime.

I understand that it has been the custom in State Government for many, many years to have a large number of attorneys who are employed on a part time basis. It is also the custom, I believe, for attorneys in State Government on a full time basis to maintain their law practice and to appear in court when their clients' services demand that they appear in court, regardless of whether it is a workday on the Hill or not. I understand that many persons in State Government hold their present positions or past positions in corporations and in many going concerns. I do not know where the line has to be drawn. I only know that people are now under a cloud and your statements here today definitely prove what I tried to point out last week; that these men are condemned without a trial, that it is against the American way of life to do so, and that here is a man being denied the right of holding public office in his community for no other reason except that he happened to be unfortunate enough, as it were, to be caught in a net that was thrown into the sea wildly. My father told me, when I was a little boy, that when you cast a net into the sea, you cannot predetermine the species of fish that you will catch.

I don't know whether this man is innocent or guilty. I only know that the action today in refusing him confirmation places another stamp of guilt upon this person. I do not know him from Adam, and you state that you do not know him from Adam. I do not like to prejudge the man.

I would like to have the resolution called up, I would like to have it passed and I would like to have these individuals come before us and state their position as to what they were doing on the payroll and whether they deserved the fate that was handed out to them. I would like to have the Secretary of Labor and Industry present his case. Maybe he, too, presented the man because of the same endorsements that he now has to be named Justice of the Peace. I do not know.

I will follow whatever you say in the matter. If you say he ought not be confirmed, it is your District, sir, and I will follow you.

Mr. PECHAN. I do want to say this to you, Senator Dent. As I promised you last week, there will be an investigation. As I told you last week, I felt the one in the House, which made it a joint investigation of both bodies, would be a fair way of determining the guilt or the innocence of everybody concerned.

I want to say to you further, Senator Dent and my colleagues, that I have not prejudged anyone and if anyone has done any prejudging, it is your Governor and not Al Pechan or the Members of this side or possibly most of the men on your side. He has made wholesale firings. Whether they are guilty or not, I do not know and I want to say in so far as I am concerned, until they have their day in court, they are innocent.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, throughout the remarks made by Senator Pechan, he used the word "fired." There is no sense in adding insult to injury. These men were not fired; they were suspended pending an investigation.

Governor Leader has stated that if the investigation proves that these men did a creditable job, they will be restored to office. There is a difference between firing and a suspension, pending an investigation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I listened to the speech made by the gentleman from Armstrong and it seems to me that he used a considerable amount of innuendo. If my memory serves me correctly, there were quite a number of prominent people on that payroll whom the Governor suspended. As the Senator from Philadelphia stated, those people were suspended pending an investigation. If Senator Pechan takes the position that this gentleman is not qualified to be a Justice of the Peace, he also takes the position that this priest who was supposed to be on the payroll would not be qualified to receive some appointment.

It seems to me that the trouble here is that the Republican side is trying to use this difficulty that we are in right now to their political advantage. Last week, we sponsored a resolution. We offered to amend the resolution and, as a matter of fact, we wanted to give the Republicans our shirt in order to get this resolution passed. However, it is still in committee and I do not believe there will be any action on the part of the Senate. The reason I do not believe there is going to be any action is because the resolution reads that we should investigate the fund from the time of its inception, which was in 1945. What the Republican Majority is afraid of is this; they are afraid that we might uncover a little of their dirty linen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, evidently this particular gentleman did not intend to come back on the payroll again or else he now would not be wanting the job of Justice of the Peace. I do not envision that this man is going to be Justice of the Peace and also be an employee of the State from this fund. Therefore, we do not have to worry about this suspension. The man would definitely be terminated from his position if we go along and confirm him as a Justice of the Peace.

I do not believe that Senator Pechan was so concerned over the qualifications of Mr. Garufi for holding office as much as he was concerned over the qualifications of Governor Leader who would fire the man one week—or I should say suspend him; at least, put him off the payroll—and then send his name over to us today to have the exalted position of Justice of the Peace conferred upon him.

Mr. President, I would suggest that Senator Pechan get over his confusion by going over and calling on Governor Leader to find out why he does one thing one day and another thing the next day.

Mr. SEYLER. PRAYER

Father F. S. Lizik, pastor of the St. Francis DePaul Church, Ford City, Pa., guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Eternal God, whose Providence watches over us and every human event, we earnestly beseech Thy Blessings upon the Members of this Assembly of Thy faithful servants. Grant unto them, O Lord, the gift of wisdom and understanding, so that they may be enabled to solve prudently the many problems of our Commonwealth in a way that shall be both pleasing unto Thee, and of benefit to the people whom they serve. Assist them, O Lord, in all of their deliberations, and give unto them the courage never to flinch where truth and justice are assailed. Guide and strengthen our President, his Cabinet, the members of Congress, the Governor of our State, the officials of our community, and all others, in high position or low, who are entrusted with the task of protecting for all citizens those rights and privileges which come from Thee and from Thee alone.

Teach us all, O Lord, to be worthy instruments in extending to all men of all nations, Thy children and our brothers, the same peace, freedom and security with which Thou hast so abundantly blessed our land. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

RESOLUTION

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call up for immediate consideration the report from the Committee on Rules having to do with the revision of the Rules of this House.

I might point out that since the Members received the copies of the proposed new Rules last week there has been one slight change made to Rule 15, the fourth to the last line, which said "unless they are not privileged." That has to do with Resolutions. We are striking out the words "they are not," and it will now read "unless privileged."

Mr. Speaker, I cannot say enough about these Rules. I could tell the House the importance of them and the monumental task that our Parliamentarian and others have performed in the drafting of these Rules, but that story has been told, I am sure, at length to both caucuses, so we will not repeat it here.

I am calling up the report and asking for its immediate consideration.

The report of the Committee on Rules was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 22, 1957.

Resolved, That the permanent Rules of the House of Representatives for the 1957 Session shall be the following:

Resolutions privileged for the immediate consideration of the House are those:

Recalling from or returning bills to the Governor.

Recalling from or returning bills to the Senate.

Originated by the Committee on Rules.

Providing for a Joint Session of the Senate and House and its procedure.

Discharging committees from consideration of bills and resolutions.

Placing bills negatived by committee on the calendar.

Of sympathy or congratulations, only when they relate to Members and officers of this House and their respective families.

Adjournment or recess.

Comment: The number of sponsors permitted for House resolutions under old Rule 84 has been increased from two to four.

Non-privileged resolutions will be printed separately and placed in the files of hte Members, when reported from committee. When introduced, they will be printed in the House History and Legislative Journal.

This Rule as revised more specifically fixes the responsibility of the Speaker with respect to reference to committees of resolutions.

The phraseology of old Rule 84 has been clarified.

Resolutions for Adjournment Sine-Die and Last Day for Introducing Bills

16. (85) Resolutions fixing the time for adjournment of the General Assembly sine-die and the last day for introduction of bills in the House shall be referred to the committee on Rules before consideration by the House.

Comment: It is unnecessary to specify, as has been done in old Rule 85, that the Committee on Rules may be discharged from consideration of resolutions for sine-die adjournment and last day for introduction of bills in the House. The discharge of committee rule is broad enough so that the House may discharge any of its committees from any matter in their possession.

The phraseology of old Rule 85 has been clarified.

PETITIONS

Petitions, Memorials and Letters

17. (21) Petitions remonstrances, memorials and other papers presented by a Member shall be signed, dated and filed with the Chief Clerk to be by him handed to the Speaker for reference to appropriate committees.

The Speaker shall report to the House the committees to which petitions, remonstrances, memorials and other papers have been referred, not later than the next day the House is in session following the day of filing.

Comment: Old Rule 21 has been amended to conform with the procedure for introduction, filing and reference of petitions and other papers.

Phraseology of old Rule 21 has been clarified.

COMMITTEES

Kind and Rank of Committees

18. (22) The Committees of the House shall be of four kinds and rank in the order named:

Committee of the Whole House.
Standing Committees.
Select Committees.
Conference Committees.

Comment: In line one of old Rule 22, before the word "Committees" insert the word "the" and after the word "Committees" strike out the word "may" and insert the words "of the House shall".

Committee of the Whole

19. (23) The House may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole at any time on the motion of a Member adopted by the House.

In forming the Committee of the Whole, the Speaker shall leave the chair, after appointing a Chairman to preside.

Comment: The procedure for forming the Committee of the Whole is not changed. The phraseology of old Rule 23 is clarified.

Rules of Proceedings in Committee of the Whole

20 (24) The rules of the House shall be observed in the Committee of the Whole as far as practicable, except that a Member may speak more than once on the same question.

A motion to adjourn, to lay on the table or for the previous question, cannot be put in the Committee of the Whole, but a motion to limit or close debate is permissible.

A motion that the Committee of the Whole "Do now rise and report back to the House", shall always be in order, and shall be decided without debate.

Comment: Motions which are privileged in the Committee of the Whole, have been more completely stated.

Paragraph three is sound parlimentary procedure.

Amendments Made in the Committee of the Whole

21. (25) Amendments made in the Committee of the Whole shall not be read when the Speaker resumes the chair, unless so ordered by the House.

Comment: The words, "unless required by one or more Members", in the last two lines of old Rule 25 are stricken out and the words, "so ordered by the House", inserted after the word, "unless".

Standing Committees

22. (27) Rule 27 as adopted by the House January 7th, 1957, is renumbered Rule 22.

The Committee on Mines and Mining shall be known as the Committee on Mines and Mineral Industries.

Select Committees

23. (5) The Speaker shall appoint the Members of select committees, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

Comment: In line one of old Rule 5, before the word, "shall", the word "he" is stricken out, and the words, "The Speaker" inserted.

In line two, strike out the words "and conference", since provision for the Speaker appointing Conference Committees is in new Rule No. 25.

Committee on Rules

24. (29) The Committee on Rules shall consist of the Speaker and five other Members appointed by the Speaker, one of whom shall be the Majority Leader, who shall be Chairman.

The Committee shall make recommendations designed to improve and expedite the business and procedure of the House and its Committees and to propose to the House any amendments to the Rules deemed necessary.

The Committee shall be privileged to report at any time.

Comment: The principal amendment to this Rule is designating the Majority Leader as Chairman of the Committee on Rules.

The provision in old Rule 29 that the Report of the Committee on Rules be adopted by a majority vote is in conflict with the Rule, which requires a majority vote of the Members Elected to the House, to amend the Rules.

Paragraph two more clearly defines the duties of the Rules Committee.

Conference Committees Membership

25. (33) All Committees of Conference shall be appointed by the Speaker and shall be composed of three Members, two of whom shall be selected from the majority party and one from the principal minority party.

The Conferees shall confine themselves to the differences which exist between the House and Senate.

Comment: Old Rule 33 provided that Conference Committees be composed of Members who vote in the majority on the points of difference.

If a roll call vote were taken on the question of the House insisting upon its non-concurrence in the amendments of the Senate, any Member voting in the negative would thereby be disqualified under old Rule 33 from serving on a Conference Committee. This could result in the minority having no representation at the conference table.

Conference Committee Reports

26. (34) The presentation of reports of Committees of Conference shall be in order, after having been signed by a majority of the Members of the Committee of each House.

Consideration of a report of a Committee of Conference by the House shall be in order when it has been printed, placed on the desks of the Members and listed on the calendar.

Comment: By direction of the Speaker, in the 1955-56 session, Conference Reports were placed upon the calendar before consideration by the House. This is sound procedure which the amendment here proposed for old Rule 34 makes permanent.

Committee Powers

27. (30) Each committee shall have full power over the bill, resolution or other paper committed to it, except that the committee shall not change the subject, nor amendments adopted by the House.

Comment: Language of old Rule 30 clarified.

Committee Meetings

28. (32) No Committee shall meet during any session of the House without first obtaining permission of the House.

Comment: No change of substance in old Rule 32. Phraseology clarified.

Committee Records

29. (31) Each Standing Committee shall keep a record of all committee action, which record shall be open for examination to any Member of the Houes or to others upon permission granted by the Committee.

Records, bills and all other papers in the possession of Committees upon final adjournment of the House shall be filed with the Chief Clerk, to be kept by him for a period of two years.

Comment: The examination of Committee Records by the Senate, without the permission of the Committee, has been eliminated from old Rule 31.

Committee Reports to Be in Writing

30. (37) All reports of committees shall be in writing. Members of a committee may file a minority report in writing, setting forth the reasons for their dissent.

Comment: Language of Old Rule 37 clarified.

Negative Reports

31. (38) The recommendation by a committee that a bill be reported negatively shall not affect its consideration by the House. The words "negative recommendation' shall be printed conspicuously on a line above the title of the bill. The bill shall not be placed on the calendar except by a motion adopted by a majority vote of the Members elected to the House. If the motion is defeated, it shall not be renewed.

No bill reported negatively by a committee shall be placed on a calendar of the House unless a motion to place it on the calendar is made within five days in which the House is in session after the bill was reported from committee.

Comment: In line two of old Rule 38, strike out after the word "be," the word "negatived" and insert in lieu thereof the words "reported negatively."

In line nine after the word "by" insert "a motion adopted by."

In line eleven before the word "it," strike out the words "negatived once" and insert the word, "defeated."

In line six, paragraph two, strike out "such" and insert "the" and in line seven strike out "is" and insert "was."

Bills in the Possession of Members of Committees For Report

32. (39) When a committee has ordered that a bill, resolution or other paper be reported to the House, the Member to whom it is assigned shall make the report thereof to the Houe either on the same day or at the next meeting of the House.

Failure of a Member to comply with this Rule shall be reported to the House by the Committee, provided the official copy of the bill, resolution or other paper has been obtained. Upon a motion agreed to by the House, a duplicate certified copy of a House bill, House resolution or other House paper shall be furnished to the Committee by the Chief Clerk.

In case of a Senate Bill, Senate resolution or other paper received from the Senate, upon motion agreed to by the House, a request may be made to the Senate to furnish the House with a duplicate certified copy thereof.

Comment: In line one of old Rule 39, after the word "has," the word "directed" is stricken out the word "ordered" inserted. Paragraph one, line two, the words "or other paper" are inserted after the word "resolution." Also, in line 6, after the word "thereof," insert the words "to the House either on the same day or."

Paragraph two, the phraseology has been clarified.

Paragraph three has been added to cover Senate bills, resolutions and other papers.

Lost Bills

33. (18) A committee shall not consider a bill, resolution or other paper which is not in its possession.

When a committee reports to the House that a House bill, House resolution of other House paper referred to it is lost, upon a motion adopted by the House, a duplicate certified copy thereof shall be furnished by the Chief Clerk.

If a Senate bill, Senate resolution or other Senate paper received from the Senate is lost, upon a motion adopted by the House, a request shall be made to the Senate to furnish the House with a duplicate certified copy thereof.

If a bill, resolution or other paper is lost before it has been referred to a committee, the fact shall be reported to the House and the procedure provided by this Rule shall be followed.

Comment: Paragraph one of old Rule 18 has been incorporated in Rule 13.

This revised Rule with respect to procedure for lost bills has been broadened to include resolutions and other papers, both Senate and House. It covers bills, resolutions, etc., lost either before or after reference.

Discharge of Committees

34. (40) By resolution adopted by a vote of a majority of the Members elected to the House, a committee may be discharged from the consideration of a bill or resolution or other paper fifteen calendar days after the day on which it was referred.

Comment: The time has been extended from 10 to 15 calendar days after reference before a resolution to discharge a committee from consideration of a bill or resolution or other paper may be considered. The present 10 day provision in old Rule 40 could result in a committee being discharged within six calendar days. For example, if a bill or resolution was referred on a Wednesday and the House adjourned for the week on a Wednesday, the bill or resolution would probably not be in the actual possession of the committee to which it was referred until the following Monday.

The phraseology of old Rule 40 has been clarified.

RECORDS

Journal

35. (86) The House shall keep a Journal of its proceedings, which shall be printed and placed on the desks of the Members. (Constitution, Article II, Section 12).

A motion to correct any day's Journal shall be in order prior to its approval.

Comment: Provision with respect to correction of the Journal has been added.

History of House Bills and House Resolutions

36. (87) A weekly History showing the titles and all action on House Bills and the text and action on non-privileged resolutions, shall be compiled and indexed under the direction of the Chief Clerk and shall be printed and placed on each Member's desk.

The House History shall include a cumulative index of laws enacted during the session and the text of vetoes by the Governor.

Comment: Old Rule 87 has been revised so as to specify more accurately the contents of the House History.

HOUSE CALENDAR

37. (41) Bills and resolutions reported by committees to the House with an affirmative recommendation shall be placed on the calendar in numerical order. House bills and House resolutions shall precede Senate bills and Senate resolutions.

Comment: Phraseology of this Rule clarified.

House Bills on Postponed Calendar

38. (50) A House bill on the postponed calendar, not called up by a Member within five days in which the House is in session, after being placed thereon, shall be dropped from the calendar, unless the time is extended on a motion adopted by the House.

Comment: Phraseology of this Rule clarified.

BILLS

Bills Referred to Committees

39. (35) No bill shall be considered unless referred to a committee, returned therefrom, and printed for the use of the Members. (Constitution, Article III, Section 2).

Bills shall not be considered beyond first reading until the latest print thereof is on the desks of the Members.

Comment: A new provision is added to this Rule requiring bills to be on Members' desks before consideration by the House, beyond first reading.

Bill Confined to One Subject

40. (56) No bill, except General Appropriation bills, shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title. (Constitution, Article III, Section 3).

Comment: No change in this Rule.

Bills Amending Existing Laws

41. (20) Bills amending existing laws shall indicate present language to be omitted by placing it within brackets and new language to be inserted by underscoring. (Constitution, Article III, Section 6).

Comment: The phraseology of old Rule 20 has been ambiguous.

The purpose of the Rule as revised should be better understood.

Special and Local Bills

42. (36) No committe shall report any special or local bill for the consideration of the House, the passage of which is prohibited by the Constitution (Article III, Section 7).

Comment: Phraseology of this Rule clarified.

Special and Local Bills to be Advertised

43. (59) No local or special bill shall be passed by the House unless notice of the intention to apply therefor has been published in the locality where the matter or the thing to be effected may be situated, which notice shall be at least thirty days prior to the introduction into the General Assembly of such bill and in the manner provided by law, the evidence of such notive having been published shall be exhibited in the General Assembly before the act shall be passed. (Constitution, Article III, Section 8).

Comment: The procedure with respect to local legislation fixed by the Constitution and law is such that a Member should, before introducing a local or special bill, confer with the Legislative Reference Bureau.

Appropriations to Institutions

Not State Owned

44. (58) No bill shall be passed appropriating money to any charitable or educational institution not under the absolute control of the Commonwealth, except by a vote of two-thirds of all Members elected. (Constitution, Article III, Section 17).

Comment: Normal Schools eliminated from Rule. There are none.

Reading Bills

45. (42) Every bill and every joint resolution shall be read at length on three different days. All amendments made thereto shall be printed for the use of the Members before the final vote is taken thereon. No bill shall become a law and no joint resolution adopted unless, on its final passage, the vote is taken by yeas and nays, the names of the persons voting for and against the same are entered on the Journal, and a majority of the Members elected to the House are recorded thereon as voting in its favor. (Constitution, Article III, Section 4).

Comment: The words "To the House" are inserted after the word "elected" in the fourth from the last line of old Rule 42.

First Reading Bills

46. (43) Bills shall be read the first time in their order on the calendar. They shall be considered without debate. Amendments shall not be proposed nor is any other motion in order on first reading.

Comment: Old Rule 43, as revised, conforms to the established practice of the House for first reading bills.)

Second Reading Bills

47. (44) Bills on second reading shall be considered in their calendar order by sections or articles, and be subject to amendment. The title of the bill shall be read last.

No House bill on second reading shall be considered until called up by a Member.

Comment: Old Rule 44, as revised, conforms to the established practice of the House for second reading bills, with the exception that "the fourteen calendar day limitations for calling up bills" has been eliminated.

It serves no practical purpose. The original intent of placing a time limit on second reading bills was adopted to prevent a backlog of bills on the second reading calendar by reason of Member not calling up their bills for long periods. Bills in large numbers do not now accumulate on House calendars.

Furthermore, the Rule in this respect does not and cannot apply to Senate bills on the second reading calendar for the reason they do not have a sponsor in the House. Therefore, old Rule 44 gives Senate bills an unfair advantage.

Third Reading and Final Passage Bills

48. (45) Bills on third reading and final passage shall be considered in their calendar order.

Amendments on third reading may not be considered except by a majority vote of the Members elected.

After a bill is agreed to on third reading, the Speaker shall state the question as follows:

"This bill has been read at length on three different days, considered and agreed to and is now on final passage.

Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays will now be taken. The question is, shall the bill pass finally?"

Comment: Adding to this Rule the provision "that amendments on third reading are in order by the unanimous consent of the House" is simply putting into the Rule what is the ethablished procedure of the House.

The House Rules provide that bills may be amended either in committee or on second reading.

The Phraseology of this Rule has been clarified.

Defeated Bills

49. (60) When a bill has been defeated by the House, it shall not be re-introduced, nor shall it be in order to consider a similar one, or to act on a Senate bill of like import, during the same session.

Comment: A provision has been added to old Rule 60 that a defeated bill shall "not be re-introduced."

The procedure for defeated bills is fixed by Rule 50 for reconsideration.

Reconsideration

50. (81) A motion to reconsider shall be made by two Members who voted on the prevailing side on the original question, or in case of voice vote by any Member. The motion shall be considered only under the order of business in which the vote proposed to be reconsidered occurred.

A motion to reconsider any vote must be made on the same day on which the vote proposed to be reconsidered was taken, or within the succeeding five days in which the House is in session.

A motion to reconsider the vote by which a bill was defeated shall be in writing.

A bill, resolution or other proposition on which a vote had been taken must be in the possession of the House to be reconsidered.

The vote on a bill or resolution recalled from the Governor may be reconsidered at any time after the bill or resolution has been returned to the House.

No question shall be twice reconsidered. If the motion to reconsider is lost, it may not be renewed.

When a motion to reconsider is decided in the affirmative, the question immediately recurs on the proposition reconsidered.

Comment: To old Rule 81 is added a provision, that any Member may make a motion to reconsider where there has been no record vote; also a new provision, fixing the order of business under which the motion to reconsider may be made.

Another amendment proposed is "That a motion to reconsider may be made on the same day on which the original vote was taken."

The last paragraph of this revised Rule recites what is Parliamentary Law and the established practice of the House. (i e)

"When a motion to reconsider is decided in the affirmative, the question immediately recurs on the proposition reconsidered."

MOTIONS

Presentation and Withdrawal

51. (48) When a motion, which is in order, has been made, the Speaker shall state it, or (if it is in writing), cause it to be read by the Clerk. It shall then be in the possession of the House, but may be withdrawn by the maker, at any time before decision or amendment.

The Speaker shall put the question in the following form: viz: "Those in favor of the motion say 'aye.'" After the affirmation is expressed, "Those who are opposed, will say 'no.'"

All motions, except for the previous question and reconsideration, may be made without a second.

No dilatory motion shall be entertained by the Speaker.

Comment: The phraseology of old Rule 48 has been clarified. Also old Rule 73 has been revised and incorporated in this Rule.

The only change in substance is the provision "requiring a second to the motion for the House to go into the Committee of the Whole," has been eliminated for the reason that it is a useless waste of time.

The seconding of motions, (except those for reconsideration and the previous question), have almost universally been dropped from the Parliamentary practice of Legislative Bodies, as meaningless formality.

Privileged Motions

52. (15) When a question is under debate, or before the House, no motion shall be received but the following, which shall take precedence in the order named:

First: To adjourn, or recess;
Second: To lay on the table;
Third: For the previous question;
Fourth: To postpone;
Fifth: To committ, or recommit;
Sixth: To amend.

Debate on the motion to postpone shall be confined to the question of the postponement and shall not include discussion of the main question.

The motion to commit or recommit is open to debate only as to the reasons for or against reference to committee and shall not include a discussion of the merits of the main question.

Debate on the motion to amend shall be limited to the amendment and shall not include the general merits of the main question.

Comment: Phraseology of old Rule 15 clarified.

Adjourn

53. (16) A motion to adjourn or recess is not debatable. It cannot be amended and is always in order, except:

(a) When another Member has the floor;

(b) When the House is voting.

When a motion to adjourn is made, it shall be in order for the Speaker, before putting the question, to permit the Majority and Minority Leaders or, in their absence, Members designated by them to state to the House any fact relating to the condition of the business of the House which would seem to render it inadvisable to adjourn. These statements shall be limited to two minutes and shall not be debatable.

Comment: A provision has been added to old Rule 16 permitting recognition of the Floor Leaders, in the event of an unexpected motion to adjourn.

Comment: Phraseology also clarified.

Motion to Lay on the Table

54. (51) A motion to lay on the table is not debatable, is not subject to amendment and carries with it the main question and all other pending questions which adhere to it, except when an appeal is laid on the table.

Comment: The words "is not subject to amendment" have been added to old Rule 51. This is sound Parliamentary Law. The motion to amend is debatable, therefore is not in order to a motion to table.

Motion To Take From The Table

55. (53) A motion to take from the table, a bill or other subject, is in order under the same order of business in which the matter was laid on the table. It shall be decided without debate or amendment.

Comment: Phraseology of old Rule 53 clarified.

Previous Question

56. (68) A motion for the previous question, seconded by twenty Members and substained by a majority of the Members present, shall put an end to all debate and bring the House to an immediate vote on the question then pending, or questions on which it has been ordered.

A motion for the previous question may be made to embrace any or all pending amendments or motions and to include the passage or rejection of the bill.

Comment: The effect of the previous question is to close debate and immediately bring to a vote the question or questions on which it has been ordered by the House.

The proposed amendment to old Rule 68 more accurately defines the purpose and effect of the motion for the previous question.

Amendments to Bills or Resolutions

57. (46) No bil shall be amended so as to change its original purpose. (Constitution, Article III, Section 1.)

No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

Any Member may move to amend a bill or resolution, provided the proposed amendment is germane to the subject.

Before consideration, eight typewritten copies of a proposed amendment, signed by its sponsor, shall be presented to the Speaker, one copy of which shall be delivered to the Newspaper Correspondents.

Comment: The language of the Constitution, Article III, Section 1, more clearly expresses the purpose and intent of old Rule 46 with respect to restriction in amending bills. It has therefore been incorporated in the Rule as paragraph one.

Paragraphs two and three clarify the language now a part of old Rule 46.

A new paragraph four provides that Newspaper Correspondents shall be given a copy of each amendment presented from the floor of the House. This change is in the public interest. Under House Rule, the Press receives a copy of each bill introduced, and it is equally important that they receive a copy of each amendment.

Form For Printing Amendments

58. (49) In printing amendments to bills and resolutions, all new matter added shall be in CAPITAL LETTERS, and matter to be eliminated shall be indicated by strike-out type.

In reprinting House bills previously amended by the House, and in reprinting Senate bills previously amended by the Senate, but not in Senate bills previously amended by the House, all matter appearing in strike-out type shall be dropped from the new print and all matter appearing in CAPITAL LETTERS shall be reset in lower case Roman type.

Comment: In line two of paragraph one of old Rule 49, the words "House or Senate" are stricken out and the words "and resolutions" inserted after the word "bill" in line two.

In line three of paragraph one, the words "to the bill" are stricken out, and in line five the words, "from the bill" have been stricken out.

Division of a Question

59. (69) Any Member may call for a division of a question by the House, if it comprehends propositions so distinct and separate that one being taken away, the other will stand as a complete proposition for the decision of the House.

A motion to strike out and insert is indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost shall neither preclude amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

Comment: In line two of old Rule 69, the words "by the House" have been inserted after the word "question."

Decorum

60. (70) While the Speaker is putting a question or addressing the House, and during debate, or voting, no Member shall disturb another by talking or walking up and down or crossing the floor of the House.

Comment: Purpose of old Rule 70 not changed.

Phraseology clarified.

Debate

61. (63) When a Member desires to address the House, he shall rise and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker." Upon being recognized, he may speak, confining himself to the question under consideration and avoid personal reflections.

When two or more Members rise at the same time and ask for recognition, the Speaker shall designate the Member who is entitled to the floor.

No Member, except the Majority and Minority Leaders, may speak more than twice on any question, without the consent of the House.

Comment: Paragraph two of this Rule was formerly included as part of old Rule 3. It properly belongs under the Rules of Debate.

Old Rule 65 has been incorporated as paragraph three of this Rule with the added provision that the respective floor leaders are not limited as to the number of times they may speak.

Interruption of Member Who Has the Floor

62. (64) A Member who has the floor may not be interrupted, except for questions of order, or by a motion for the previous question.

With his consent, a Member may yield the floor for questions related to the subject before the House.

Comment: The provision under old Rule 64, "That a Member shall not be referred to by name in debate," has never been enforced—Its Parliamentary purpose was to more strictly enforce the Rule against personalities in debate. It has been eliminated from the new Rule for the reason that its enforcement is not practical.

The intent of paragraph two added to old Rule 64 is to confine interrogations to the question before the House, which is as it should be.

Debate of Committee Proceedings Not Permitted

63. (90) A Member shall not relate in debate what was done or said in committee, except such as is contained in the written report, or is authorized by the committee; nor shall a Member, in debate, discuss a bill, resolution or other matter not yet reported by a committee to the House.

Comment: To old Rule 90 has been added the provision that, "A Member shall not refer, in debate, to bills, resolutions or other matters not reported by a committee to the House." It is sound procedure that the House can consider and debate only bills, resolutions or other matters which are before them.

Personal Privilege

64. (67) Any Member may by leave of the Speaker, rise and explain a matter personal to himself, but he shall not discuss a pending question in his explanation. Questions of personal privilege shall be limited to questions affecting the rights, reputation and conduct of Members of the House in their representative capacity.

Comment: In line four of old Rule 67, strike out "any" and insert "a."

Transgression of House Rules

65. (66) If any Member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the Rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any Member may, through the Speaker, call him to order; in which case, he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted by the House to explain.

The House shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate. If the decision is in favor of the Member, he may proceed. If the case requires it, he shall be liable to censure or other punishment as the House deems proper.

Comment: The words "or other punishment as the House deems proper," have been added to old Rule 66; otherwise, the phraseology has been clarified.

VOTING

Members Required to Be Present and Vote

66. (71) Every Member shall be present within the Hall of the House during its sittings, unless excused by the House, or unavoidably prevented, and shall vote for or against each question put, unless he has a direct personal or precuniary interest in determination of the question, or unless he is excused by the House.

Comment: No change in this Rule.

Members Having Private Interest In Bill Not To Vote

67. (72) A Member, who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the House, shall disclose the fact to the House and shall not vote thereon. (Constitution, Article III, Section 33).

Comment: No change in this Rule.

Member Must Be Within the Hall of the House to Vote

68. (78) No Member shall be permitted to vote and have his vote recorded on the roll uless he is present in the Hall of the House during the first call of the yeas and nays.

The Hall of the House is defined as the floor space within its four walls and does not include the adjoining conference rooms, the lobbies or the upper gallery of the House. The Legislative Journal shall show the result of each roll call by yeas and nays and those absent and not voting.

In line two, after the word "vote" in the old Rule 78, the following words are added, "and have his vote recorded on the roll"

In line three of old Rule 78, srike out the word "on" and insert in lieu thereof the word "during".

Paragraph two of old Rule 78, insert in next to the last line after the word "and", the words "those absent and".

Call for Yeas and Nays—Reasons for Vote

69. (79) The yeas and nays of the Members on any question shall, at the desire of any two of them, be entered on the Journal. (Constitution, Article II, Section 12).

A Member may submit the reasons for his vote in writing immediately after the roll has been called and have them printed in the Journal.

Comment: Phraseology of old Rule 97 clarified.

Roll Call Not To Be Interrupted

70. (75) When the names of the Members are called, it shall be done in alphabetical order, except that "Mr. Speaker," shall be called last. When once begun, the call shall not be interrupted.

Comment: In line two of old Rule 75, strike out the words "shall be" and insert the word "are."

In line three strike out the word "who."

In the last line strike out the word "may" and insert the word "shall."

Verification of the Roll and Challenging of Votes

71. (80) Upon completion of a roll call and before the result is announced, if there appears to be need for verification, the Speaker may direct the Clerk to verify it, or three Members may demand a verification.

Any Member may challenge in writing the vote of other Members. The allegations made shall be investigated by a committee composed of the Speaker, a Majority Member and a Minority Member appointed by the Speaker, who shall submit a report to the House, not later than its next session. The House shall then decide whether the challenged vote shall be recorded or not.

If the challenged vote would change the result, the announcement of the vote shall be postponed until the House decides the case.

Comment: The words, "if there appears to be a need for verification," have been added to old Rule 80 for the purpose of giving the Speaker authority to order a verification, if, in his judgment, it is necessary.

Paragraphs two and three of this revised Rule establish a more definite procedure where Members' votes are challenged.

Changing Vote

72. (77) No Member may change his vote, or have his vote recorded after the vote has been announced, nor after an affirmative or negative roll has been declared verified.

Comment: The words "nor after an affirmative or negative roll has been declared verified," have been taken from old Rule 80 and made a part of this Rule, where they more properly should be.

Members Prohibited at Clerk's Desk During Roll Call

73. (76) No Member or other person shall be allowed at the Clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being recorded, or the vote counted.

Comment: Phraseology of old Rule 76 clarified, so as to more accurately state its purpose.

Vote by Division

74. (74) The Speaker, or any Member may call for a division of the House, when the Speaker shall again put the question distinctly and in the following manner, viz:

"Those in favor (as the question may be) will rise and remain standing until counted."

After the affirmative, he shall put the negative side of the question: "Those opposed will rise and remain standing until counted."

Comment: Phraseology of old Rule 74 clarified.

MESSAGES

Senate and Governor

75. (82) Messages from the Senate and communications from the Governor shall be received and read when the House is in session.

Bills passed, concurrent resolutions adopted, and all other communications required to be sent to the Senate, shall be messaged forthwith, if the Senate is in session—otherwise not later than its next sitting.

Comment: A new paragraph has been added to old Rule 82 directing that bills, resolutions, etc., be transmitted to the Senate when passed, without delay.

House Bills Amended by The Senate

76. (83) When a House bill or Joint Resolution has been amended by the Senate and returned to the House for concurrence, it shall not be considered until placed on the calendar and copies thereof are on the desks of the Members.

When acting on bills or joint resolutions amended by the Senate, the amendment shall be read and the question put, on the concurrence in the amendments.

A majority vote of the Members elected to the House, taken by yeas and nays, shall be required to concur in amendments made by the Senate; except for appropriations to charitable and educational institutions not under the absolute control of the Commonwealth, where a vote of two-thirds of all the Members elected to the House shall be required to concur. (Constitution, Article III, Sections 5 and 17).

Comment: A provision has been added to old Rule 83, requiring House bills and joint resolutions returned from the Senate with amendments to be placed on the desks of the Members and listed on the daily calendar, before consideration by the House. This practice was inaugurated in the 1955 Session and should be made permanent procedure.

Paragraph three of this Rule, as revised, simply recites what is required under Article III, Sections 5 and 17 of the Contitution.

Bills Vetoed by the Governor

77. (61) When the Governor has returned a bill to the House, with his objections, the veto message shall be read and the House shall proceed to reconsider it. (Constitution, Article IV, Section 15).

Comment: The phraseology of this Rule conform with the Constitution as to procedure for considering bills vetoed by the Governor.

MISCELLANEOUS RULES

Journal, Transcribing and Documents Rooms

78. (93) No person, except Members and employees of the House having official business, shall be permitted in the Transcribing, the Legislative Journal and the Bills and Documents Rooms of the House without the consent of the Chief Clerk.

Comment: Old Rule 93 is revised in order to spell out more clearly persons who are allowed in the respective record rooms of the House.

Newspaper Correspondents

79. (92) The privileges of a Newspaper Correspondent may be accorded by the Speaker to a telegraphic correspondent of a daily newspaper or recognized press association or to an official reporter for a Harrisburg daily newspaper, who is not engaged in any department of the State Government or in any other business. Not more than one representative of each newspaper or press association shall be admitted to the press gallery at one time.

Applications for admission to the press gallery shall be made to the Speaker. The application shall state the name of the newspaper or press association, its location, times of publication, and be signed by the applicant.

The Speaker shall verify the statements made in each application. If the application is approved by him, he shall issue a correspondent's card, signed by him and by the President of the Legislative Correspondents' Association.

The correspondents shall not interview Members at their desks during the sessions of the House, and shall abide by the rules and regulations adopted by the House.

The House, by majority vote, may suspend or revoke the privileges of any legislative correspondent upon the recommendation of the committee on Rules.

The card issued by the Speaker shall be presented when required by any Sergeant-at-Arms. It shall not be transferable. Any card transferred or loaned to any one shall be cancelled and all privileges withdrawn from the offending correspondent.

The gallery allotted to newspaper correspondents shall be for their exclusive use. Persons not holding correspondents' cards shall not be entitled to admission thereto.

Comment: Parapraph 5, which reads:

"The House by majority vote may suspend or revoke the press card of any Legislative correspondent upon recommendation of the Committee on Rules," has been added to old Rule 92.

Otherwise the phraseology of the Rule has been clarified.

Photographers, Radio and Television

80. (New Rule) Accredited photographers of newspapers, wire and newsreel services may be authorized by the Speaker, subject to the approval of the House, to take photographs during the sessions of the House.

Reporters of news, disseminated by radio or television, desiring to report debates and proceedings of the House, or public hearings of its committees, shall make application to the Committee on Rules, whose recommendations shall be submitted to the House for action.

Comment: This is a new rule; The purpose of which is obvious.

Visitors

81 (91) Persons admitted to the House floor, other than Members and attaches, shall not be permitted to stand while the House is in session, but shall be seated in chairs provided for them.

Visitors shall not sit at the desks of the Members, or confer with them while the House is in session.

Comment: Phraseology of old Rule 91 has been revised.

Sergeant-at-Arms

82. (94) The Sergeant-at-Arms, under the direction of the Speaker, shall, while the House is in session, maintain order on the floor and its adjoining rooms. He shall enforce the Rule with respect to the conduct of visitors.

He shall at all times prevent persons from peddling in the Hall of the House and its adjoining rooms.

Comment: The Legislative Employees Act of 1947 provides for House Custodians, under the direction of the Chief Clerk, who watch over the House when it is not in session. For this reason, the last six lines of old Rule 93 have been eliminated.

The phraseology of old Rule 94 has been clarified.

Soliciting Prohibited

83. (95) No officer or employee of the House shall solicit any Member, other officer or employee of the House for any purpose.

Comment: In lines two and three of old Rule 95, the word "subscriptions" appears to be unnecessary and therefore has been stricken out.

Supervision of Hall of the House and Committee Rooms

84. (8) Subject to the direction of the Speaker, the Chief Clerk shall have supervision and control over the Hall of the House, the caucus and committee rooms and all other rooms assigned to the House.

Except by consent of the House, the Hall of the House shall not be used for any public or private business, other than Legislative matters during the sessions of the Legislature.

Comment: Old Rule 8 has been amended to place the responsibility for the use of the House Chamber and its other rooms upon the Speaker and the Chief Clerk. During the session, the House Chamber may not be used by anyone but the Members, except with the consent of the House.

RULES

Suspension and Amending Rules

85. (88) Any Rule of the House, which is not required by the Constitution, may be temporarily suspended at any time for a specific purpose by a majority vote of the Members elected to the House.

A motion to suspend the Rules may not be laid on the table; postponed; committed; amended or debated.

No Rule of the House shall be amended except by a majority vote of the Members elected to the House, and no resolution proposing an amendment to the Rules shall be considered until it has been referred to the Committee on Rules, reported therefrom, printed, filed on the desk of each Member and placed on the calendar.

The Committee on Rules shall report to the House any resolution proposing an amendment to the Rules with an affirmative or negative recommendation within five Legislative Days from the date the resolution was referred.

Comment: The words "which is not required by the Constitution," have been inserted in paragraph one of old Rule 88.

In the last line of paragraph two of old Rule 88 is inserted the words "or debated."

Paragraph three of old Rule 88 has been stricken out and substituted therefor are paragraphs three and four of the new Rule, providing an improved procedure for permanently amending the Rules.

The Pennsylvania Manual is not now a publication of the Legislative Branch, it is edited and published by the Administrative Branch.

It is not proper under the Rules of the House to direct printing of House Rules in the Pennsylvania Manual.

The Rules of the House are printed for the use of the Members in the Legislative Directory, which is prepared under the direction of the Chief Clerk of the House.

Parliamentary Authority

86. (89) Jefferson's Manual supplemented by Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure shall be the Parliamentary Authority of the House, if applicable and not inconsistent with the Constitution of Pennsylvania and Rules of the House.

Comment: Mason's Manual has been supplemented as a Parliamentary Authority for the reason that it is designed specifically to meet the needs of Legislative Bodies at the Sate Level. Whereas, Jefferson's Manual is based exclusively on the Rules and practices of the United States Congress and is not as well adapted to State Legislative Procedures.

Mason's Manual began as a project of the American Legislators Association of the Council of State Governments in 1935. It is a thoroughly written, reliable Parliamentary guide.

Note: Rule Number in brackets refers to old Rule Numbers.

HOUSE RULES ABOLISHED

It is recommended that the following House Rules be abolished:

Printing of Bills Introduced

(19) All bills and non-privileged resolutions (exception resolutions of condolence and congratulations) when introduced, shall be printed for the use of the Members and shall be numbered consecutively.

Comment: Printing of bills and resolutions has been provided for under new Rules 13 and 15.

For this reason, Rule 19 is abolished.

Papers on the Table

(26) When in the Committee of the Whole, any papers laid on the table of the House relating to the bill or resolution before the committee may be taken from the table by the Committee.

Comment: The House alone should have the power to take bills from its table. If the committee of the Whole requires any papers in the posession of the House, the proper Parliamentary procedure would be for the committee to rise and the chairman formally present present to the House the committee's request.

For these reasons, Rule 26 is abolished.

Copies—Amendments

(47) When amendments are proposed to a bill or resolution, there shall be presented to the Chair by the sponsor thereof six typewritten copies of each amendment.

Comment: The provisions of this Rule are incorporated under new Rule 57.

For this reason, Rule 47 is abolished.

Amendment Laid on Table Shall Not Carry Bill With It

(52) When an amendment proposed to any pending measure is laid on the table, it shall not carry with, or prejudice such measure.

Comment: When an amendment is pending to a bill or resolution and the bill or resolution is laid on the table, the amendment should go to the table with it. Then when a bill or resolution is taken from the table, the amendment comes back with it.

An awkward situation could result if an amendment, which alone had been laid on the table, were at a later date taken from the table and the bill was somewhere in its course of passage, beyond recall so that the amendment, together with the bill, could be considered.

For these reasons, it is recommended this Rule be abolished—The House can always postpone action on an amendment, if delay is necessary.

Postponement—Commitment—Amendment

(54) A motion for postponement shall preclude commitment. A motion for commitment shall preclude amendment or decision on the original subject.

Comment: This Rule is incorporated under new Rule 52.

For this reason, old Rule 54 is abolished.

Postponement for Substitute Motion

(55) No motion can be received to postpone for the purpose of introducing a substitute.

Comment: This is not a sound Parliamentary Rule and should be abolished.

A situation could arise where a pending bill was not in proper form, and the bill amended by substituting new matter or an entirely new bill.

If a motion were made to postpone for this purpose, it could be ruled out of order under old Rule 55.

A motion to substitute is a motion to amend. Obviously no motion to postpone for the purpose of preventing a proper substitute motion to amend should be permitted.

For these reasons, it is recommended that Rule 55 be abolished.

Appropriation Bills

(57) No bill appropriating money for charitable or benevolent purposes will be considered further than second reading until after the General Appropriation bill shall have been reported from committee.

Comment: This Rule serves no practical purpose; in order to comply with it, the Appropriations Committee reports to the House a meaningless Skeleton General Appropriation Bill.

For these reasons, it is recommended Rule 57 be abolished.

DEBATE

Member—Must Speak from Own Desk

(62) No member shall be permitted to make a motion, or address the Speaker, unless such Member be at his desk.

Comment: With the use in the House of a public address system, Members who desire recognition by the Speaker, now leave their seats and go to the nearest microphone to address the Chair.

Therefore this Rule has outlived its usefulness and should be abolished.

Number of Times Member May Speak

(65) No Member shall speak more than twice on the same subject, without the leave of the House.

Comment: This Rule has been incorporated with New Rule 61.

For this reason, old Rule 65 should be abolished.

Form of Putting Question

(73) All motions made shall be repeated by the Speaker, who shall put the question distinctly, in the following form, viz: "As many as favor the motion will say "Aye."

After the affirmative is expressed, "As many as are opposed, will say "No."

Comment: This Rule has been revised to conform to present procedure and incorporated with New Rule 51. For this reason, old Rule 73 should be abolished.

Peddling Within the Hall of the House Prohibited

(96) No person shall be permitted to hawk, peddle or offer for sale any article of traffic at any time within the hall of the House, and it shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to strictly enforce this rule.

Comment: This Rule has been incorporated with new Rule 82. For this reason, old Rule 96 is abolished.

JOHN A. LaFORE, Jr.,
W. STUART HELM, Ex-Officio

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I have prepared amendments to three of the Rules in this new set. However, I have received a suggestion that I merely call the attention of the Members of the House to the amendments which I have in order to eliminate debate and, of couse, recognizing that the majority of the House will pass whatever Rules they wish. However, they have some merit and I would like to submit them to you.

Rule 28, which is old Rule 32, relates to meetings which are called, and I refer particularly to meetings which are called off the floor. As a matter of fact, it can also apply to meetings which are scheduled on a Tuesday morning.

We have found it is very difficult for a Member who is on two or three committees to attend two meetings if they are called simultaneously.

Last Monday we had an illustration of one meeting which was called for the Judiciary Committee and another meeting for the Ways and Means Committee. I belong to both Committees and I could only attend one. The result is that I was not registered as present in the Ways and Means Committee meeting. That occurred, as far as I know, to two other Members of the House on this side.

The amendment which I had to suggest was that the meetings should be called on an individual basis, and that while the House is in session only one Committee should be out at a time. I have been told that if I stated my position the Chair would take it into consideration in the interpretation of the Rules.

Now I refer to Rule 22, which is old Rule 27. That was debated at great length at the meeting of the House which was held two weeks ago. That Rule involves the number of Committees, and I refer particularly to the Committee on Cities and Counties First Class.

I have amendments here and I had in mind offering them to once more request the Assembly to give proper consideration to the largest city in the state of Pennsylvania. However, in view of the fact that the majority in the House undoubtedly will want to continue the Rule as it was passed two weeks ago, I am only making the statement so you will know that those from Philadelphia still feel that Philadelphia was not treated in a proper manner.

We hope, however, that in the administratoin of the Committees by the majority party, Philadelphia legislation will get proper consideration.

Finally, as to Rule 11, which is old Rule 13, I had amendments ready to provide for the opening of the session on Monday at 9:00 p. m. instead of 4:30. I did this for the simple reason, as contained in the other two amendments which I prepared, that this assembly seems to operate on conversation and to a large extent does not allow time for food.

I served in the last three sessions under three Speakers, the first of whom was a little gentleman who probably did not require much food; the second Speaker was very heavy and did not require much food; the third Speaker was quite up in years and I suppose he got along on only two meals a day. But most of us who are young and energetic and thrive on excitement get to the point where we must have dinner and we must have lunch. So in all seriousness I submit that an amendment probably should be placed in these Rules that this House should not operate during lunchtime or dinnertime. I am not specifying any particular time such as 6:00 or 7:00 o'clock. That could be at the discretion of the Speaker, but we should be treated with the same kind of consideration with which other workers are treated and given a chance to eat, rather than to sit here from 4:30 to sometimes 8:00 or 9:00 o'clock, when all the restaurants are closed and there is no place to eat. Some of the men send out for a few crackers, they ruin their dinners and ruin their digestion. We are not given a real opportunity to consume the food which is necessary to operate properly. That is what I had in mind for my third amendment.

However, in all three cases I received the suggestion that I should not submit them in order not to consume a lot of time and in order not to have them go down to inevitable defeat by the party that is now presenting these Rules as the majority.

I really submit this recommendation to you so that our Speaker will take into consideration our need for nourishment and give us a fighting chance to get dinner and to get lunch.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman that the present occupant of the Chair needs food regularly and in sufficient quantity.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, before we adopt these revised Rules, I would like to add a word of commendation from our side for the excellent job which our Parliamentarian has done in this respect.

Having looked them over and having studied them, I think it must have been a back-breaking job to go over them one by one and make the revision of language and sometimes the revision of substance which he has done.

I think this House probably will operate more smoothly from now on under these Rules, and we are praying that we are not making any mistake in adopting them.

The membership on this side, I believe to a man, intends to support the revision of these Rules.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia rise?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have briefly clarified one or two Rules.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I want to point out that in proposed Rule 13, third paragraph, where the Speaker refuses to refer a bill after it is introduced during the next two days when the House is in session, I think this Rule provides that on motion of a Member, if the motion is carried, the bill shall immediately be delivered. I think that the Speaker has the duty to refer every bill, and that duty should not be made enforceable only by a majority vote. Therefore, I do not particularly think this paragraph of the Rule is a good one.

With respect to Rule, Mr. Speaker, which says no dilatory motion shall be entertained by the Speaker, that, of course, is ambiguous and I would like to inquire of the Speaker just what his definition or his interpretation is of that particular Rule. I don't have the number. I am told it is on page 29, Mr. Speaker. It is Rule 51.

THE SPEAKER. When it becomes obvious to the Chair that motions are being made purely and simply for the purpose of delaying the action of this House, the Chair would probably interpret that as a dilatory motion.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask one further question of the Chair. Would a motion to postpone ever be considered a dilatory motion by the Chair?

The SPEAKER. If it is the opinion of the Chair that that is a proper motion, it would not be so considered.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Cambria rise

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, at various times I have spoken on the floor of this House and elsewhere, as a result of which speaking it came about that His Excellency, the Governor, was quoted, I believe, in the Press as intimating that perhaps I spoke because of spite. It has never been my practice, Mr. Speaker, to mix my personal opinions with my public service.

Now I am compelled by reason of some developments to cast aside the prepared speech, or talk on this question of personal privilege that I had prepared. For a considerable period, for many months, as a matter of fact, it has been a matter of current rumor, of sidebar gossip and of allegation that a member of the Governor's personal staff was interested in a concern that sought to deal with the Commonwealth and was dealing with the Commonwealth.

It was alleged, and rumored and stated as a matter of personal conviction and based upon records that a company known as the S and Y Trucking Company had as its president someone closely associated with a member of the Governor's personal staff—David Randall, as a matter of fact.

It was asserted to a representative of one concern which was seeking to obtain a contract to truck and sell ashes to the Turnpike that David Randall was interested in that concern and in that contract. It was not, however, David Randall who conveyed that information, but that information was conveyed.

Now the statement is made that there is a matter of mistaken identity. It is stated by Mr. Randall that there are those who are asserting that Mrs. Randall is president of the S and Y Trucking Company, but that, as a matter of fact, such is not the case.

If it has come about that someone is pretending that a member of the Governor's personal staff is personally interested in a company seeking to deal with the Commonwealth and is naming as the president of that company a Helen Randall, who is not the Helen Randall who is Mrs. Dave Randall, that is a matter of proper concern. Who is trying to frame whom? The fact that the S and Y Trucking Company has dealt with the Commonwealth is proven by the record. I have here the record which shows that last September on a certain day a contract was awarded the S and Y Company for 10,000 tons of cinders—that was in September of last year—and part of that contract was delivered. $8,000 of the money is still held in a Jonestown bank.

It is also a matter of record that the S and Y Company sought to sell and deliver cinders to the Turnpike Commission. I have been very reliably informed that at the time one of the Commissioners, not now serving, said he hoped for the sake of the Governor that the S and Y bid was not the low bid. As I have said, while the contract was pending awaiting the analysis of bids, I am informed by persons in whom I have confidence that Members of the Commission were informed that the Governor's secretary was interested in that contract.

I have within the hour been told that the Attorney General's office is investigating this situation. If there has been a case of mistaken identity, if some outfit has been trying to victimize the administration by pretending that a certain party was president of the company when that is not the case, I hope the investigation will ascertain the identity of those who are obviously attempting to frame the administration. On the other hand, if there has been a conflict of interest in so far as the employes, the personal employes, of his office are concerned, I hope the report will establish that fact.

It had been my conviction upon what I believed substantial evidence that the Governor's secretary was interested in this company by reason of various ties concerned with the official manning of the company.

Now the Attorney General will within a very short time, I am told, ascertain the facts. The only fact missing from the record is the absolute establishment of who was president of that company. The fact of sales to the Commonwealth are matter of record. The amount, the day, the date, the amount delivered, the times when the company endeavored to secure a contract, but failed by not having the low bid, are matters of record.

I am in the position of finding what I was convinced of was a case of conflict of interest by reason of the fact that there was reason to believe that someone closely connected with the Governor's personal secretary was interested in the S and Y Company. So I repeat that someone by the name which I have stated was named to certain persons before whom the S and Y Company had filed its bid in an endeavor to obtain a contract.

So whether we have a conflict of interest or a case of mistaken idenity, there is someone guilty of an offense that should merit inquiry not only upon the part of the Attorney General but might well deserve the attention of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that everybody on this side of the House commends the last speaker for his courage and his fortitude. I think he is doing a great service to the people of Pennsylvania in bringing out into the open what has been rumored around Capitol Hill, shall I say, since we came back into session. I am pleased to hear him say that the Attorney General is going to look into the matter and render a report. I am sure that if such a thing has been going on and widespread violation of the law has taken place, it certainly is something for this General Assembly to look into before we leave here and adjourn sine die.

Now I would like to interrogate the gentleman if he will consent to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am a simple farmer and I hope no lawyer's questions will confuse and confound me.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am amazed at that gentleman ever begging for mercy.

I take it, Mr. Speaker, he will consent to be interrogated within reason. I will therefore proceed.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman—and this is probably a lawyer's question—is the particular firm in question a corporation?

Mr. ANDREWS: I understand it is a company, a partnership. Whether it is incorporated or not, I wouldn't know. The S & Y Trucking Company is the designation.

Mr. JOHNSON. I might say for the gentleman's information that whether it is a partnership or a corporation the records would be found in the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office if the original incorporation was incorporated in Pennsylvania; or the filing of a fictitious name with the name of the partners, if it is a partnership, and this would be a fictitious name.

Mr. ANDREWS. First, I did not go up to the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and examine the records myself.

Mr. JOHNSON. That was going to be my question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I was informed by persons who said they had done so, and the records showed the original filing of the fictitious name of the company listed the offices I have represented.

Mr. JOHNSON. Well, the record is available.

Does the gentleman know whether anybody has been to the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office, asked for this information, and has been denied access to it?

Mr. ANDREWS. No. I understand that the information was available and I had been under the impression that some members of the Press had made inquiry there as to just the listing of the officers of the company.

Mr. JOHNSON. Does the gentleman know whether that information was made available to the members of the Press or a member of the Press?

Mr. ANDREWS. It was made available, I think, to the two members who inquired.

The question is, is the person named a question of different identity? Has there been a misrepresentation as to who the person was pretending to be Helen Randall and was not Helen Randall, at least not the wife of the Secretary of the Governor?

Mr. JOHNSON. Another question, Mr. Speaker: The gentleman referred to a contract for 10,000 tons of cinders, I believe. Who was that contract made with, if the gentleman is able to answer.

Mr. ANDREWS. It was made with the Highway Department for last September, about September 26th, for delivery in York.

Mr. JOHNSON. For delivery in what county?

Mr. ANDREWS. In York.

Mr. JOHNSON. York County?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is right.

Mr. JOHNSON. Does the gentleman know of any other contracts that have been granted that he has not related here today?

Mr. ANDREWS: I cannot confirm the statement that the firm is renting trucks to the Commonwealth. I cannot confirm that on the floor as I stand here. It is one of the factors of the situation, one of the things that is being spread.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make this further statement: I believe that there is a principle in our law, and it is only just and right, that if anybody has done any wrong, that those who were in charge of that person who might have control over the situation should be given an opportunity to clear up the wrong and bring anybody to justice who should be brought to justice.

Therefore, when the gentleman states that the Attorney General is going to make an investigation and do what he thinks is proper under the matter, I believe that as far as the General Assembly is concerned we will sit and observe and see what takes place in an important matter of this kind. If nothing is done, and if in the opinion of the House it merits an investigation, we have the machinery here, and we certainly should look into the matters which vitally affect the business of running our government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the remarks I am about to make originated through the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Price.

I have before me a letter from the Lions Club of West Philadelphia addressed to the Lion presidents throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which reads in part as follows:

> Dear Lion President: The Congress of the United States passed Public Law 565 and the appropriation to cover the cost of its administration.
> Under this law the Federal Government will furnish two-thirds to three-fourths of the cost of new machinery or expanding rehabilitation services sheltered workshop buildings to make it possible to employ more blind people—provided that the State furnishes the balance of the funds."

At this point I would like to state that in 1956 the Federal Government paid the sum of $2,539,169 for this purpose and that there has been appropriated, and approved for payment for the year 1957, the sum of $3,120,210.

The letter continues:

> "The Pennsylvania Legislature in its last session approved and appropriated the money for the balance of the one-fourth to one-third of the total cost of such projects.
> "Despite this, the Department of Welfare, State Council for the Blind, has notified all agencies in Pennsylvania that they are unable to consider financial support of these projects so important to the blind. Although the money had been appropriated and is available, the funds have been frozen and we are at a loss to understand why.
> "Knowing that all Lions Clubs are interested in the blind, I know you will welcome this opportunity to give them practical support by having your Club pass a resolution objecting to the freeze. . . .
> "The State funds will revert back to the General Fund if they are not allocated by next May 31st. For all practical purposes the deadline for their allocation is February 1957—so immediate action is essential."

Mr. Speaker, I think that not only the Lions Clubs are interested in this, but I am sure that the General Assembly should be interested in why any department on this Hill should freeze any funds which we have appropriated for any purpose.

At this time I call upon the Department of Welfare, the State Council for the Blind, to give a report to this General Assembly as to why they have not used these funds which have been set up for that purpose.

The SPEAKER. New Members of the House—Republicans and Democrats—who have not served in previous sessions, are requested to meet with the Parliamentarian in the Republican Caucus Room on the first floor tomorrow morning, January 29th, 1957, at 10:00 o'clock, A. M.

This is an important meeting for first term Members. It will begin promptly at 10:00 A. M.

The Chair would like to suggest to those Members who might be on Committees that are meeting tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock that they go first to their Committee meeting and then report immediately to the meeting in the Caucus Room.

The Chair at this time also would like to express his sincere appreciation to the Caucus Committee which have performed their duties so well after their appointment. The Chair refers specificially to the Committee on Committees, the Slate Committee and the Committee on Seating. The Chair includes in that thanks to the minority Members as well as to the majority Members.

The Chair thinks at this time he would like also to express his personal appreciation to the Parliamentarian of this House for the very able job he has done in revising our Rules. The Chair thinks this House owes him a very deep debt of gratitude.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs JOHNSON and LIPPINCOTT.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 5.

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1957.

Whereas, It has been alleged in the public press that there has been a misuse of money from the 1.7 million dollar Administrative Fund in the Bureau of Employment Security, and

Wheres, This fund is under the personal control of the Secretary of Labor and Industry as are these personnel and the conduct of the Bureau of Employment Security itself, and

Whereas, The fund is made up of fines and penalties collected from Pennsylvania employers who fail to make prompt payment for unemployment compensation benefits, and

Whereas, The personnel of the Bureau are charged with the duties, inter alia, of investigating charges of fraud in jobless benefit surveys, labor surveys and allied activities, and

Whereas, The funds are actually remitted to the Department by the U. S. Government out of the fines and penalties collected, as heretofore referred to, and

Whereas, The fund is not subject to the budgetary controls of other State funds, and

Whereas, The Governor has investigated such charges and as a result thereof has dismissed the Secretary of Labor and Industry, Mr. John Torquato and suspended the employes who were paid salaries from the fund, and

Whereas, This action of the Governor suggests that the Secretary of Labor and Industry has actually made unlawful use of the fund, therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Governor be hereby requested to submit through the Attorney General, all information and evidence of wrongdoing with respect to this fund, which he may have, to the District Attorney of Dauphin County for the purpose of submission to the Grand Jury.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION NO. 1

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 2 of today's calendar, House Resolution No. 1.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 7, 1957

David K. Darcy, Harold Foster and Harry Zietz were convicted by a jury for the slaying of William Kelly, an innocent bystander, during a holdup of a tavern in Bucks County. The jury fixed the punishment at death in the electric chair.

The conviction and sentence was appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the case reached the Supreme Court of the United States five times.

On September 29, 1956 the Board of Pardons, acting on Darcy's twenty-sixth application for executive clemency, recommended that the sentences of death be commuted to sentences of life imprisonment.

The commutations granted by the Governor have aroused public interest and indignation. The action of a non judicial body in substituting its judgment for that of the jury which heard the case, and of the many jurists who studied the case has been criticized throughout the State. The opinion prevails in many quarters that political consideration influenced the action of the Board of Pardons in this and in other recent cases.

It is imperative therefore that a complete and thorough investigation be made of the action of the Board of Pardons, to determine whether or not any abuses have occurred with respect to the powers entrusted to it; therefore be it

Resolved, (The Senate concurring) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint four members of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint four members of the Senate, who together shall constitute, a joint committee, and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all actions of the Board of Pardons in connection with the pardon, parole, or commutation of sentence of persons convicted of crimes. The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers, records, and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed sixty days.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read as follows:

Amend second paragraph of preamble, page 1, last line of second paragraph, by striking out "five" and inserting in lieu thereof: "four".

Amend third paragraph of preamble, page 1, line 2 of third paragraph, by striking out "twenty-sixth" and inserting in lieu thereof: "third".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have seen a copy of the amendments and I believe the first one is to amend the words "one time" on line 7, page 1, to "four times." Is that correct?

The SPEAKER. Can the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, answer the interrogation?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is confused with the amendment that he planned to offer. It takes out the word "five" and inserts the word "four."

I am sorry, I was over at the gentleman's desk and had the amendments and came back with his copy. I will be glad to deliver it to him.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I understand this first amendment offered would change the words "five times" to "four times." I am not rising to oppose that amendment, even though the information I have received indicates that there were five applications for a writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court of the United States, but the case was brought before the Supreme Court only once.

I had been prepared to offer an amendment changing the "five times" to "one time," but as I say, it is so immaterial for this purpose that I am not going to object to its being made "four times." I will ask the membership on this side to vote for that amendment.

The second amendment offered is also a corrective amendment and changes the word "twenty-six" to "three," so that it conforms to the facts, that number being in the Resolution in relation to the number of times executive clemency was applied for.

So I am asking the membership on this side of the House to vote for both of these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution as amended?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read as follows:

Amend the resolution, page 2, line 2, by striking out "four" and inserting "three."

Amend the resolution, page 2, line 3, by striking out "four" and inserting "three."

Amend the resolution, page 2, line 5, by inserting after "actions": "since January 4, 1950."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to yield momentarily to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, yields to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, in connection with this Resolution which involves an investigation of a constitutional board known as the Board of Pardons, I feel that before a meeting can be held the Resolution itself should be in proper order. The nature of the Committee should be such as to provide a suitable number of the majority Members and minority Members of the Houes on the Committee.

Furthermore, as the Resolution now reads, there is no time limit involved for the purpose of the investigation. For instance, if you will look at the last paragraph of the Resolution, you will see that the Committee is merely to make a report to the General Assembly within a period not exceeding 60 days, but there is no period mentioned during which this investigation is to take place, in other words, whether there is going to be a review of Pardon Board cases for one year, two years, or for one month.

It seems to me, since the primary reason for looking into the business of the Pardon Board is the Darcy case, as expressed in this Resolution, that the "Resolved" portion of the Resolution should be amended to specify a date when the investigation is to begin. As I understand from the records of the Board of Pardons, the date on which the first appeal was filed was January 4, 1950. So we have offered an amendment to conduct the investigation from the period when the appeal was first filed until the present time, which would be January 4, 1950, unto the present date.

I want to support the amendment which was offered with reference to the Supreme Court hearings. Actually, the Supreme Court of the United States only heard this case on one occasion. The other four times it was referred to the Supreme Court on certiorari and was refused. So when you use the language that the case reached the Supreme Court four times in accordance with the amendment which you just passed, it might mean that the case was heard by the Supreme Court, although it says "reached." It did not actually reach it when it was refused. An attempt was made to reach the Supreme Court and it was not successful. So our amendments would limit the language of the Resolution to one hearing by the Supreme Court.

The number on the Committee our amendment offers to reduce to three in the House and three in the Senate, instead of four in the House and four in the Senate as now contained in your Resolution, which would make it a problem as to whether you intended to appoint two from the Majority side and two from the Minority side in each branch, whereas, if you accepted our amendment to have three from each side, you could have two from one party and one from the other. Otherwise we will have a badly unbalanced situation of three and one.

With reference to the remaining language, while we have only offered the few amendments which were presented by the Minority leader, I call your attention to the fact that there are a number of other problems and discrepancies in this Resolution. It seems to me that in all fairness, if we are going to have a fair and impartial investigation of this constitutional Board, we ought to at least have this Resolution as accurate as possible, so we can start off with accurate definitions and accurate charges.

For instance, in the "Resolved" portion, the Resolution says that the Committee is directed to make an investigation of the actions of the Board of Pardons in connection with pardon, parole, or commutation of sentence. We all know the Board of Pardons by the Constitution is charged with the control of pardons and commutations, but not parole. Parole is handled by the Parole Board under an Act of Assembly which this Assembly passed some years ago providing for three members, approved by two-thirds of the Senate.

Finally, I would like to call your attention to the paragraph which refers to the action of a non-judicial body in substituting its judgment for that of the jury which heard the case and of the many jurists who studied the case having been criticized. Actually, the three appellate courts which heard the matter totalled 23 judges, nine of the United States Supreme Court, seven of the Circuit Court of Appeals and seven of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. Of those 23, eight judges decided that this particular party did not have a fair trial. While the majority decided that he did and refused to affirm the appeal, still there was plenty of room for consideration by the Pardon Board.

I further want to call your attention to the fact that the language says that the Pardon Board substituted its judgment. Actually, the Pardon Board is a Board recommending executive clemency and has nothing to do with the judgment which is required of members of the bench who are obliged to follow rules of evidence. It has permission under the statutes to abandon the rules of evidence and the evidence and testimony which is presented. So that the purpose of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, in creating this Pardon Board to recommend to the Governor executive clemency, is to take into consideration any extraneous factors or any extenuating circumstances which would justify the Governor in extending executive clemency to a person who has been convicted in a case. As I understand executive clemency, it includes the word "mercy" if he is entitled to it.

Whether it is correct or not correct, this investigating committee will establish it. In the interest of fair play and because of the fact that this Board contained such distinguished members as the present Secretary of the Interior, a present Justice of the Supreme Court and members who are well versed in the law, we ought to at least get the Resolution in such shape that it can properly be presented to a body of Members from this House who can consider it, knowing that at least we started out with a Resolution which was absolutely correct in its presentation.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I as one of the sponsors of the original resolution have not made a thorough legal study of the Darcy case. I do not think that we are here as appellate attorneys, but I do have in my possession a full page of the Sunday Bulletin of October 14, 1956. I think everyone in this House agrees that the Sunday Bulletin is a fair newspaper. It is part of the free Press of Pennsylvania and its contents are highly respected.

First, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, stated that the matter was heard by the Supreme Court of United States one time. The Sunday Bulletin, under a boxed article called "Facts of the Darcy Murder case" states as follows, among other things, "The United States Supreme Court considered this case four times."

Gentlemen and Ladies of the Legislature, I am inclined to rely on the Sunday Bulletin as being factual.

With respect to the talk concerning the Darcy case, it is my interpretation of this Resolution that it asks for an investigation of certain allegations concerning the Pardon Board, not just concerning the Darcy case.

In view of that fact, I think this Resolution should stand as it is. I do not think there is any purpose for this investigation other than to ascertain the facts. I do not think anyone by innuendo should restrict this investigation to the one case because the people of Pennsylvania have been aroused and their deep concern with the Pardon Board has been centered upon a series of events which culminated with the Darcy case.

Therefore, I ask that any action you take on this Resolution—and I am not debating the Resolution at this time because I am not in order to debate it at this time—but I say that we should not let anyone whatsoever hold up this investigation because the people of Pennsylvania demand to know the facts. They demand to know whether the administration of justice is being properly conducted in the state of Pennsylvania. For that reason, I have answered the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have gone over the three amendments offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, and I believe these amendments are quite fair. I am asking all the Members of the House to vote for his amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Would I be in order with a suggestion that I would like to make to the Majority Leader regarding the language of the Resolution that he might accomplish, if he was in agreement, by means of another amendment.

Mr. SPEAKER. Without objection, the gentleman would be in order. The Chair hears none.

Mr. ANDREWS. I am in perfect agreement with the purpose of this Resolution. I agree with the gentleman from Delaware, I believe, who just spoke that the Resolution should really not be confined to the investigation of a particular case, but should also investigate the influences that from time to time may have possibly influenced board action. But I suggest to you as a lawyer that in drawing a resolution of investigation you do not endeavor to prejudice the inquiry or state a result, or an implied result, in the language of your resolution.

You say the opinion prevails in many quarters with political considerations, that the opinion prevails. We are not now interested in opinions. We want to find out some facts. The essential part of the paragraph that is not subject to objection is that the action of a non-judicial body in substituting its judgment for that of a jury which has heard the case, and of many jurists who have studied the case, offers sufficient reason for an investigation upon the part of the House. But as you read the paragraph, you say that it has aroused widespread indignation and that there is this opinion and that opinion.

I suggest to the Majority Leader as a lawyer—I am not a lawyer—that he would admit that it was not in accordance with the proper judicial procedure or legal procedure to imply a conclusion in a resolution desiring an investigation.

I would say for the record and for the sake of the precedent I would like to see the Majority Leader redraft that portion of the Resolution beginning on page one " . . . with the commutation granted by the Governor" and so forth, and state simply the desire for an investigation of the whole business, and not the opinions that prevail about it.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to Mr. Bell, who is the sponsor of the Resolution.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, yields to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, with the greatest esteem for the capable gentleman from Cambria, whom all have learned to respect most highly because of his fairness, I fear that I cannot concur with him in this matter for the reason that I have in my hand many, many newspaper editorials from newspapers, which are generally regarded as the free Press of Pennsylvania, wherein the insinuations are contained as appears in the whereas clause of this resolution. With respect to the business of political influence, this has appeared in the Press, and again I say the free Press of Pennsylvania, newspapers which are fair on both sides, and because of this factor these allegations should be investigated.

I cannot concur with the gentleman from Cambria that a committee of this House would pre-judge this matter because I am sure that the Speaker who appoints this committee will place on it men of the caliber who are sitting in this House, women of the caliber who are sitting in this House, who will not pre-judge because they will be charged with the responsibility of ascertaining the facts.

For that reason I can not agree with the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution as amended?

It was adopted.

The SPEAKER. The resolution as amended will lie over for printing.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 105, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. VAN SANT, from the Committee on State Government, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Kessler, Blass and Berger on January 28, 1957, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE PENNSYLVANIA MORTGAGE SYSTEM

In the Senate, January 28, 1957.

Due to economic changes, the raising of the standards of living and the facility of financing the purchase of property for business and dwelling purposes, each year untold thousands of deeds and mortgages are left for recording with the Recorder of Deeds of the several counties of this Commonwealth.

As a result of the recording of this vast number of deeds and mortgages, the various offices of the Recorder of Deeds are being filled to capacity.

Our Legislature saw fit years ago to enact legislation providing for a short "form" deed which was designed to conserve space in the office of the Recorder of Deeds.

Many states have appropriate legislation, which provide a title abstract system and the incorporation of descriptions in conveyance which result in shorter deeds and mortgages.

Attorneys at law, financing institutions, public officials and the general public would be greatly benefited by legislation that would simplyfy the conveyancing and mortgaging of property; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate:

1. The various types of "short form mortgages" and the integration thereof into the Pennsylvania system of mortgaging property;

2. The establishment of abstract of title systems with respect to the ownership and conveyancing of property together with methods whereby descriptions of property may be incorporated into deeds and mortgages by reference to prior deeds; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. HAYS, PECHAN, DENT and VAN SANT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 110, entitled:

A Supplement to the act of June 12, 1931 (P. L. 588) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire lands in Harris Township, Centre County, for the use of the Department of Military Affairs; and making an appropriation," transferring the control, supervision and management of the lands to the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission; requiring the Commission to complete, and thereafter maintain, the "Twenty-eighth Division Shrine," thereon, dedicating of same to the officers and men of the Twenty-eighth Division; creating the Twenty-eighth Division Memorial Shrine Commission, and prescribing its powers and duties; and making an appropriation.

David E. Watson, Philadelphia, deceased.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, these past few weeks have been rather trying times and it is my privilege to speak my opinion in regard to a few of the particulars that have happened before.

I am taking the floor today to publicly state to G. Franklin McSorley, of Pittsburgh, that I am one member of State Government who has an abiding faith in his honesty, his integrity and his moral conduct. I say to you, and to the people of Pennsylvania, that I have known Frank McSorley for years and I know that Frank McSorley would never willfully nor maliciously violate any law of this Commonwealth or of this Nation. As a matter of fact, I do not think Frank McSorley would willfully violate any traffic law in effect in any city or county in the United States.

Mr. President, I want Frank McSorley to know, I want his wife and family to know, that I, as one of his personal friends, will stand up before the public and tell the public that I believe Frank McSorley is a man of honesty and integrity. If there is a conspiracy to assassinate this man's character, I hope that when his trial goes on down here in Dauphin County, the people will know that Frank McSorley acted with the best intentions and with the best of faith. I want Frank to know that I, for one, am in his corner because I know he would never do anything wrong.

I also want the people to know that I was one of the men who encouraged Frank McSorley to take a position as Turnpike Commissioner some years ago. As a matter of fact, I used to meet him in Pittsburgh when I took my son back to Pitt. We would often talk and I knew him long before he was active in politics. I felt that he would be a good man for the job because he knows the value of a dollar and he is a good businessman.

I apologize to him for having his character assassinated because I feel that, in a way, I was indirectly responsible for his taking an office in Pennsylvania. I know, too, that when the dirty linen is all washed, there are going to be some red faces.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, first, I want to assure Bill Lane that to my knowledge he is not alone in his admiration of Franklin McSorley as a gentleman, as a student and as a public servant. I, too, have known Frank for a great number of years and I know something that probably most of you do not know.

Frank McSorley, through his ability and the graces of God, is financially independent. There is nothing that this Commonwealth can offer to Frank McSorley that he cannot have from his own pocket. He told me—and I think it is worthy to pass on—that upon a calculation of his income from the Turnpike Commission, at the end of the year, he stands to be a loser by over $4,200, financially, for having rendered service to this Commonwealth. I mean that after the entire $15,000 is taken, he still must add $4,200 on top of that to meet his income bracket. This shows that Frank McSorley did not take public office for the purposes that most of us do; namely, to earn a living. He took it because, when he was approached, he was led to believe that his peculiar talents could be loaned to the Commonwealth in a position of importance and of necessity. To the best of his ability, he rendered that service. At this time, as Senator Lane so ably put it, he is having his character questioned because he is imbued with the milk of human kindness.

As I read the charges in the indictment, Mr. President, Frank McSorley is charged with having loaned to the former Chairman of the Turnpike Commission the use of a driver because the former Chairman owned no car nor never learned to drive. He had been requested, as I understand it from the newspapers, to act as an advisor on the unfinished thirty-five miles of road. All he asked for in the way of pay was that they provide transportation to and from this job so that he could make reports that the remaining Turnpike Commissioners desired.

I do not know any of the other ramifications of the case. I only know that citizens in this Commonwealth will think more than twice before they will jeopardize their good names and sully their records as citizens by taking a job with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I think it is the duty of every public official to stand in defense of public employees until it has been proven that they have been outside the law.

The easiest character to assassinate in America today is the man in political life. Tyrants from early days have learned the secret from whence comes the power to usurp the position of a tryant; by criticism of a particular group, a particular person or a particular object that is easy to put into the well of disrepute. On down through the pages of history and, of recent date, we watched Hitler pick on the Jewish people and ride to the pinnacle of political power by so doing. We watched, in a little country not too far away, a man by the name of Mussolini climb to the top of the rungs of the ladder of success, politically, in government by attacking the Masons in Italy. We watched Huey Long, in our lifetime, pick on the Gulf Oil Company down in Louisina and ride it to death and to glory for himself and eventual death, as comes to all tyrants. We have watched these men through our own times. It is easy for any person to pick a whipping boy.

I do not want anybody to get the impression that I go along with any proposition, so long as I am in public life, that destroys the character of one person in order that another may gain prestige, influence or affluence.

I think Frank McSorley is an honorable man. I think he was a credit to government while he was in it and I pray that a jury of his peers will find him to be that type of man and that he comes back to State Government and serves the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to inform our Minority Leader that I had a long talk with Frank McSorley last night and he told me that he only wants his name cleared and he wants no part of government.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO MAJOR ANTHONY PAUL DZIERSKI

Mr. WALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 29, 1957.

It is fitting that we pause and pay tribute to Major Anthony Paul Dzierski, the navigator in one of the B-52 Jet Bombers that encircled the globe in a record making flight that took only forty-five hours.

Upon landing, General Curtis LeMay, Commanding General of the Strategic Air Command personally conferred on Major Dzierski, the highest Air Force award, the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Hailed as one of the greatest achievements in the field of aviation, the flight will place Major Dzierski side by side with other heroes of aviation. Citizens of the United States and all freedom-loving nations hail the flight as another step in the direction of making the world safe for democracy and peace.

We are proud to honor Major Dzierski, the only native son of Pennsylvania who was a member of one of the B-52's; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby recognizes and hails the circumnavigation of the globe, as one of the greatest achievements in the aviation field and congratulates Major Anthony Paul Dzierski for the part he played in it to make it possible; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Major Anthony Paul Dzijerski, 209 Seventh Street, Winber, Pennsylvania.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

PETITIONING THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE UNITED NATIONS TO VOTE TO LIBERATE CYPRUS FROM BRITISH COLONIAL RULE

Mr. DONOLOW offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

In the Senate, January 29, 1957.

The glorious history of the United States, bespeaks the firm adherence by our Government to the unchanging and changeless principles of the right to self-determination of the right to liberty, both of which were declared in our City of Philadelphia, the birthplace of American independence, to be inalienable human rights by the Founding Fathers of our great land.

The people of Cyprus have, at incalculable expense of blood and spirit, gallantly struggled for the cause of world freedom and liberty, the ideal for which our American soliders, side by side with the Greek and Cypriote soldiers fought victoriously in two World Wars.

The people of Cyprus have overwhelmingly, by plabiseite in 1950, proclaimed their desire to be unified with their Motherland Greece, and so eminently deserve and should have the blessing of self-determination and freedom.

Freedom-loving people everywhere have reposed their abiding confidence and faith in the United Nations to secure peaceful independence to every country whose people desire and capable of sustaining an independent existence; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully petition the General Assembly of the United Nations to vote to liberate Cyprus from British colonial rule and to permit the incorporation and unification of the people of Cyprus with their Motherland, Greece; and be it further

Resolved, That certified copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Honorable Dag H. A. Hammerskjold, Secretary-General of the United Nations, the Honorable John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State of the United States of America, and the Honorable Henry Cabet Lodge, United States Delegate to the United Nations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it is sometimes necessary to engage in a melancholy duty such as I have before me today.

When word was received throughout the State of the untimely passing of Honorable G. Mason Owlett, it shocked and dismayed not only those who were well acquainted with him, but thousands of people who knew him only by his works and by his position; for outside of his home and family, the greatest interest that Senator Owlett held was the welfare of government in his county, State and Nation. His outstanding ability when a Member of this Senate of Pennsylvania was recognized and respected, not only by his Republican colleagues, but equally by his political opposition, and the work which he performed when Republican Floor Leader is still remembered as an outstanding example of brilliant, tireless and successful effort in legislative accomplishment.

The real measure of a man's worth may be found by the speech of people in his own community, and I can testify that Mason Owlett held the esteem and affection of his neighbors in his home town of Wellsboro and the county of Tioga to a degree that anyone could envy.

It is not my intention to, and I could not, eulogize Mason, because his career as lawyer, a national political leader, a business executive, and a great citizen is a personal history of accomplishments which cannot be adequately reviewed except by lengthy and careful research. If, however, I may be permitted a personal reference, it is to say that it has been my unique privilege to have been a constituent and friend of Senator Owlett and to have had him as a constituent and friend of mine.

If he were to have left a message for this body I know that he would have said, as he said so many, many times, that the Senate of Pennsylvania was the scene of the most happy time in his public life.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE FAMILY OF THE LATE HONORABLE GILBERT MASON OWLETT

Mr. BERGER, on hehalf of the entire Republican Caucus, offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, January 29, 1957.

On January 24, 1957 one of Pennsylvania's most distinguished citizens quit our life and our service.

Gilbert Mason Owlett dedicated his entire life to the service of his State.

Born at Wellsboro, Pennsylvania on June 13, 1892, he attended public school there and was graduated from Wellsboro High School in 1909. He was graduated from Perkiomen Academy in 1910, Princeton University in 1914 and from the University of Pennsylvania School of Law in 1917. He was admitted to the bar of Tioga County in 1917 and became a "country lawyer" a title he claimed for the remainder of his life.

In 1928 he was elected Republican County Chairman of Tioga County. In 1932 he was elected to this Senate and became Republican Whip during his first term. During his second term he became majority leader of the Senate and was in fact a tower of strength upon which his entire party depended.

During his first term as Senator he became the Republican National Committeeman from Pennsylvania and held that post until ill health forced him to retire, after a record twenty years.

In 1943 he became President of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association and directed his own energies and the energy of that body to the good of Pennsylvania.

With all his many business and public service activities, he still found time to work for his church, and civic and fraternal organizations, He was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian Church. He was a member of both the State and National bar associations, the Arch Club of Princeton, the Ross Club of Williamsport, the Wellsboro Country Club, the Union League of Philadelphia, the Odd Fellows, and was a 32nd degre Mason, Member of the Coudersport Consistory, A. A. S. R.

Although it seems impossible to say more of this busy man, his wife the former Sue Elizabeth Berkey, his son Edward and his daughter Mrs. Thomas Wilcox, will all attest that he was a devoted husband and father, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania pause a moment in memory of our late colleague and express our most sincere sympathy to his loved ones.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, if I may do so, I would like to say that this resolution is offered by the entire Republican Caucus of the Senate as well as by myself.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to second that motion and do so on behalf of the entire Democratic Caucus.

I also would ask permission to add a few words to those given by Senator Berger.

Mr. President, when I first arrived in this Senate of Pennsylvania, some twenty years ago, Mason Owlett was a member of this body. From the day that I became a Member until his recent death, I think Mason Owlett and myself have been personal friends. I cannot say that we always agreed politically. That was one of Mason's greatest points; he liked those who disagreed with him politically if they disagreed honestly.

During his lifetime, he received his share of both criticism and praise. I find that those who stand up and make decisions ofttimes are criticized, but when they are criticized, they are also receiving praise. I think it was Andrew Jackson who said, "You measure a man's friends by the size of his enemies." I say that Mason Owlett, politically, had many enemies but, by the same token, he had many, many more friends.

While he was on this Senate floor, I served with him for quite a few years. At any time when we had to make agreements—and every day of every Session some agreements must be made between the Minority and the Majority—Mason Owlett always kept his word.

I do not know what is in store for him in the life hereafter, but I am sure that wherever he goes he will be called "Mason" by his frends, because he was the kind of man that one never needed to be ashamed to know or ashamed to follow in a political fight.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, for the record, I would like to say that Senator G. Mason Owlett was also an alumnus of one of the very best preparatory schools in our Country, Perkiomen School. We worked together there as students.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 1 REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Rules:

JOINT COMMITTEE TO CONDUCT AN INVESTIGATION OF THE BOARD OF PARDONS

In the House of Representatives, January 8, 1957.

David K. Darcy, Harold Foster and Harry Zietz were convicted by a jury for the slaying of William Kelly, an innocent bystander, during a holdup of a tavern in Bucks County, The jury fixed the punishment at death in the electric chair.

The conviction and sentence was appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the case reached the Supreme Court of the United States five times.

On September 29, 1956 the Board of Pardons, acting on Darcy's twenty-sixth application for executive clemency, recommended that the sentences of death be commuted to sentences of life imprisonment.

The commutations granted by the Governor have aroused public interest and indignation. The action of a non-judicial body in substituting its judgment for that of the jury which heard the case, and of the many jurists who studied the case has been criticized throughout the State. The opinion prevails in many quarters that political considerations influenced the action of the Board of Pardons in this and in other recent cases.

It is imperative therefore that a complete and thorough investigation be made of the action of the Board of Pardons, to determine whether or not any abuses have occurred with respect to the powers entrusted to it; therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint four members of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint four members of the Senate, who together shall constitute, a joint committee, and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all actions of the Board of Pardons in connection with the pardon, parole, or commutation of sentence of persons convicted of crimes. The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers, records, and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed sixty days.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 5 REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1957.

Whereas It has been alleged in the public press that there has been a misuse of money from the 1.7 million dollar Administrative Fund in the Bureau of Employment Security and

Whereas This fund is under the personal control of the Secretary of Labor and Industry as are these personnel and the conduct of the Bureau of Employment Security itself and

Whereas The fund is made up of fines and penalties collected from Pennsylvania employers who fail to make prompt payment for unemployment compensation benefits and

Whereas The personnel of the Bureau are charged with the duties inter alia of investigating charges of fraud in jobless benefit surveys labor surveys and allied activities and

Whereas The funds are actually remitted to the Department by the U. S. Government out of the fines and penalties collected as heretofore referred to and

Whereas The fund is not subject to the budgetary controls of other State funds and

Whereas The Governor has investigated such charges and as a result thereof has dismissed the Secretary of Labor and Industry Mr. John Torquato and suspended the employes who were paid salaries from the fund and

Whereas This action of the Governor suggests that the Secretary of Labor and Industry has actually made unlawful use of the fund therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Governor be hereby requested to submit through the Attorney General all information and evidence of wrongdoing with respect to this fund which he may have to the District Attorney of Dauphin County for the purpose of submission to the Grand Jury.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state it.

Mr. DENT. Will the President of the Senate or somebody qualified to do so, point out where the corpse of Mr. Pechan is?

Yesterday, Mr. Pechan said that this would only be recalled over his dead body, and I want to see the body.

NOMINATIONS TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, it is my intention to call from the table all the nominations that were laid on the table yesterday, but as there is some objection to the Philadelphia Registration Commission, I would call up those nominations at this time and have them read by the Clerk.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the nominations.

The Clerk read the nominations as follows:

MEMBERS OF THE REGISTRATION COMMISSION IN AND FOR THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 7, 1957.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations just read and certain other nominations.

Which was agreed to.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, may we be at ease?

The PRESIDENT. Are there objections?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. I object, Mr. President. I object to being at ease at this moment. Before we go into any Caucus, if a Caucus is necessary, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, am I to understand that the reading of these names includes all the names submitted by the Governor for the Philadelphia Registration Commission as reported from committee yesterday afternoon?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would request of the Republican Senators that they give this matter serious consideration and allow the Registration Commission to rest upon the table temporarily, I do not want to do any injustice to any person named to that commission. There are internal problems which have to be resolved before we can give our vote on this side to the Registration Commission.

Without seeking to do any harm or injustice, I earnestly and sincerely request that these names lay on the table so that the eight Philadelphia Members in this body have an opportunity to discuss this matter over the week end. There will be nothing lost by this action since they are still serving.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WATSON. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The Clerk read the nomination as follows:

MEMBER OF THE PENNSYYLVANIA TURNPIKE COMMISSION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 28, 1957.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Merritt A. Williamson, 705 West Nittany Avenue, State College, Centre County, for appointment as a member of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, until June 4, 1961, and until his successor is appointed and qualified, vice Hon. David E. Watson, Philadelphia, deceased.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nomination.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Senator Mahany, do I understand that your delegation is satisfied that Mr. Williamson is a proper candidate for the position of Turnpike Commissioner?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, I would say that the majority of our Caucus has decided that Mr. Williamson is a proper candidate. I believe that if his name is presented, he will receive a sufficient number of votes to be confirmed.

Mr. DENT. Senator Mahany, do you feel that he has the qualifications, then, after examination, since his name came in yesterday, to perform the duties of a Turnpike Commissioner in Pennsylvania?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, I believe you were in my office when I interrogated Mr. Williamson. All I inquired into was whether or not he met the legal qualifications which provide for a two-year residence in Pennsylvania and being a qualified elector in the State of Pennsylvania for one year. He satisfied me that he meets the legal qualifications for the appointment.

I did not inquire too much into his background as to whether or not he would be a proper Turnpike Commissioner. I feel that is up to the Governor to decide whether or not the man is proprely qualified for that position.

Mr. DENT. I appreciate that because I was with you. If you asked me the question, I would be glad to give the answer to the same question.

However, Senator Mahany, am I then to understand that so long as a candidate for the Turnpike Commission meets the legal requirements the rest of the requirements are up to the appointive power; that you are satisfied with his appointment?

Mr. MAHANY. As far as this particular appointee is concerned, that is true.

Mr. DENT. All right then, Mr. Mahany, will you state whether or not the former Member of this Body, Senator John Byrne, is qualified legally or otherwise to take the position of a Commissioner on the Turnpike Commission?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, I could not answer that question. I have not examined Senator Byrne about his qualifications. As far as I know, however, he is legally qualified to hold the position.

Mr. DENT. Thank you very kindly.

Mr. President, I said earlier this afternoon that we sometimes build for ourselves the obstacles that we must surmount. We are acting as a body here today in an emergency, as I understand it, and we are taking a man whom none of us know in so far as knowledge of the man's past is concerned or his ability, other than what we have gained from so-called newspaper reports and a slight introduction to the gentleman today. Yet, we sit here and, month after month, we allow a former Member of this Senate to go without the consideration of this Body. I think that in all fairness to that man we are casting a shadow upon his character and upon his ability as a Turnpike Commissioner.

If we in this Senate take a complete stranger and accept him on a board such as that of the Commissioners of the Pennsylvania Turnpike today, I would say unanimously or as near unanimously as you can get, and we disallow the same consideration to a former Member of this Senate, we are building for ourselves the type of criticism that we cannot do anything about because we create that criticism. We give cause for that criticism.

I would say that in fairness to Senator Byrne, I request the Republicans to consider his name if you will and, if you will, call a meeting today or Monday. Please consider his name and if you feel that he is not qualified for the job, turn him down. However, do not leave him in this state of flux. Do not leave him in a position where he, himself, acts upon that Turnpike Commission under a shadow of not recognizing himself as a member of that Commission because we have withheld confirmation. If he is not a fit man for the job, turn him down. At least, give us an opportunity to show our respect and our consideration for John F. Byrne. I will appreciate it very much if you will give this consideration because I intend to bring it up again Monday.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, prior to voting on the confirmation of Dean Williamson, I should like to say a few words on behalf of a man whose name has been in committee since last May. John Byrne, a fellow Philadelphian, certainly is no one new to this body, both when he was here in the Senate as well as operating on the Turnpike Commission since last May.

I may be too young to understand how this Body, charged with the responsibility to the people of Pennsylvania, can overlook the confirmation of a former Senator, who has been operating on that Turnpike Commission successfully since May, and agree to an appointment which was submitted here just yesterday.

I have no objection to Dean Williamson. I saw him today for ten or fifteen minutes and I asked him about his qualifications. From what he tells me, I assume that he is capable. I also have confidence that the Governor would not submit a candidate for that position who did not have sufficient ability.

We have in our committee a man who has been tried at this job, a man who has been operating successfully since May and has never been indicted or fired. It seems to me that we are invoking a course of action here today which, in the future, if we can overlook that type of man and because of an emergency take the first person who is presented to us, will come back to face us in a sorrowful manner.

I know that the Members on the Republican side are as interested in running this government successfully as we are, and I know that they are as interested in seeing that the best possible men are put into these vacancies. I known this is a last hour appeal and there is nothing I can say that will bring John Byrne's name out immediately, but I do hope that the Republican Members of this Senate will sincerely and conscientiously give consideration as soon as possible to the name of John Byrne, so that we may have the opportunity to confirm him on this floor.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, I listened to Senator Dent's interrogation of you in regard to Senator Byrne and I would like to ask you this question, and I hope that you are in a position to tell the Members of the Senate the Republican views regarding this.

Do you, on the Republican side, have any bona fide reason for refusing to confirm Senator Byrne?

Mr. MAHANY. As far as I am concerned personally, I do not have any reason other than the fact that he is serving, Senator, and he is drawing his salary and doing his work. As you know, there have been a couple of fellows indicted over there, and whether they are guilty or not guilty remains to be seen. I hope both of them will be found not guilty of any charges which face them.

Senator Byrne has been over there for almost a year and it seems to me that perhaps he should have known what was going on over there. I do not see how we can excuse him. If all these things occurred which Governor Leader claims were done illegally, it seems to me Senator Byrne should have had some knowledge of them.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, you will agree that most—I would say all—of the alleged illegal operations of the Turnpike were prior to the tenure of Senator Byrne, is that correct?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not know that to be true, Senator. I understood this has been continuing offenses and has been continual almost right up to the present time.

Mr. LANE. Well, I am inclined to disagree with that statement. However, is it not a fact, Senator Mahany, that the primary reason why the Republican majority will not confirm Senator Byrne is because of politics?

Mr. MAHANY. I would not say that, Senator. It was very obvious that that was the reason you did not confirm the two Republicans whom we had up for the Registration Commission down in Philadelphia.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, we just wanted to let you know that there is a little fight in the Democratic minority. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I do believe, and I am very sincere when I make this statement, that it is a matter of poor grace as far as every Member of the Senate is concerned that on this day we are going to confirm Dean Williamson.

Senator Byrne was a Member of this Senate for quite some time, and I believe that he has the respect and confidence of nearly all the Members of the Senate. At the same time, today, he deliberately receives a slap in the face, politically, because he is not going to be confirmed, and the reason given is that he is now serving.

Mr. President, I believe that the public as a whole agrees that Senator Byrne knows nothing about the alleged illegal operations of the Turnpike Commission, and he certainly deserves the consideration and the support of thirty-four Members of this Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to belabor this subject unduly, but I feel if Senator Mahany thinks that Senator Byrne, who has been a part of the Turnpike Commission, is in any way responsible for any type of difficulty they are having over there, he should not withhold the information and he should take some action in his role as a legislator to correct this situation.

I further would like he and the other Members sitting across the aisle to mull over the fact that when I came to the Senate there were only eighteen Democratic Senators, and at that time no one could be confirmed unless they had two of our votes. I would also like to serve notice on he and his colleagues that, regardless of whether or not we have a Democratic Governor the next time, unless they elect thirty-four Senators, they may have trouble getting some of their people confirmed. If that is the way they would like to play politics and to handle this situation, I think it is perfectly all right. However, I do not believe that they should engage in this double talk which they say is for the good of the Commonwealth and they want to do all things that will help all the citizens, when at one time they are doing one thing and at another time their actions bespeak other than what their words are saying. I think that it comes in ill grace to withhold the confirmation of John Byrne when we have taken the position in the Senate to give ex-Members of this Senate positions of power and prestige, two of whom are serving this body.

I think that the position the Republican Senators have taken in this, and in all the confirmations, comes in ill grace and is one which I think they will have difficulty wiping out when we read the record back to them.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I do not think any of us should leave here today with the impression that there is any cloud upon former Senator Byrne. I think Senator Mahany probably spoke offhandedly when he made those remarks.

I think it is crystal clear in the record that all of the difficulties that the Turnpike is having result from contracts executed and work begun long before Mr. Byrne was ever on the Turnpike Commission. Most of these difficulties seem to arise from the construction on the Northeastern Extension, between Philadelphia up to north of Wilkes-Barre. I am sure that it is quite obvious to everyone that that work began and the contracts, of course, were executed before Mr. Byrne got on the Commission, and that the investigations began shortly after he did get on the Commission.

I am sure, also, that Senator Mahany would agree that if the tables were reversed, we would confirm their man and allow an outgoing Governor to have at least one fellow confirmed on the Turnpike Commission.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I hope that the record is quite clear that there is certainly no cloud on Senator Byrne. I did not mean to infer anything like a cloud on him. However, we understand and know that Senator Byrne is presently employed on the Turnpike Commission, and evidently he is drawing his salary. I hope he has a nice car and gets all the other emoluments in connection with his being a Turnpike Commissioner.

We are going along with Mr. Williamson today and giving the Governor this appointment because we want the Turnpike Commission to function. We understand that, at least, there is a threat of a suspension and I think there has been word that the Governor is going to suspend Mr. McSorley and Mr. Torrance, effective tomorrow. In order that the whole operation of the Turnpike Commission does not break down—we want them to have a quorum and we want them to have officers. That is one of the big reasons why we are going along and confirming this appointment. However, we are having a tough time in trying to carry out the Governor's wishes. He would like to have us confirm this man and I would like to confirm him. Therefore, I hope we can get to the voting and get this thing over with.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am sure the gentleman, Dean Williamson, will be confirmed. Of course, if I were politically minded, I would consider the fact that Mr. Byrne is a Democrat and Mr. Williamson is a Republican and would wonder if that fact has anything to do with the confirmation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MALLERY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I had the privilege last Saturday of attending a meeting in Tyrone, in my county, where not only the townspeople, but the citizens of Blair County paid tribute to the Gardner Guards, the Drum and Bugle Corps of Howard Gardner Post No. 281, American Legion of Tyrone, Blair County, Pennsylvania.

It was one of the most thrilling experiences that I ever witnessed. I hope that I may have the opportunity of presenting this wonderful Drum and Bugle Corps here for your entertainment and edification. The members of the Drum and Bugle Corps are made up of good citizens, sons for the most part of veterans, Democrats and Republicans alike. They have the snappiest and best drum corps that I have ever had the privilege of witnessing. I am assured that every red-blooded American would enjoy seeing these men perform.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS OF HOWARD GARDNER POST No. 281 0F TYRONE BOROUGH, BLAIR COUNTY

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution a this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MALLERY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 29, 1957.

Success belongs to those whose spirit and determination inspire them to great accomplishments. The best illustration of this fact has been demonstrated by "Gardner Guards"—the Drum and Bugle Corps of Howard Gardner Post No. 281, American Legion of Tyrone Borough, Blair County, Pennsylvania, who, by being selected the top corps in America, received the Presidential Trophy for their performance in the Inaugural Day Parade.

This was a truly stirring finish to a drama that seemed at first would result in great disappointment to the thriving borough of Tyrone. However, the courage and determination of the people of this fine community assured a different ending. In 1956, Gardner Guards were selected as the top Drum and Bugle Corps in the State. As a result, it appeared a foregone conclusion that they would be one of the groups representing Pennsylvania on Inauguration Day. The slogan of the guards was "On to Washington Come January, 1957." All that remained now was the receipt of a formal invitation to the Inaugural Parade. However, fate at times can take some rather unpredictable and disillusing turns, for as the supposed "big day" neared, Tyrone's Gardner Guards still remained uninvited for the decision had already been made that three other drum and bugle corps would represent Pennsylvania in the big parade. Instead of being a source of discouragement, this only served to fire the spirit and imagination of the good citizens of Tyrone, Pennsylvania, and in the final moments of those hectic days just before the Inauguration, a telegram reached Tyrone. In it was a brief but completely joyous message—"good news—you represent Porto Rico—heading the seventh division." It was signed by Congressman Van Zandt, shortly after another message arrived bearing the same news: it was signed by Richard M. Nixon. Finally, another similar message arrived from Munox-Marin, the Governor of Porto Rico, "So pleased to have you."

Still another hurdle remained to be scaled that was the matter of financing the trip of Guards to Washington. However, this was made short work of, for with typical civic pride and initiative, the townspeople raised the necessary funds and off to Washington, D. C. went Gardner Guards. Tyrone's "pride and joy" now wrote the next chapter to this drama of human life. The Guards composed mostly of war veterans exhibited a rare degree of talent that will long be remembered of Inaugural Parades. With a dazzling array of flawless baton twirling and exciting musical playing, Gardner Guards strutted regally by the review stand where stood President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and many other dignitaries of this and other Nations.

The next and final chapter to this heart-warming episode came in the form of personal praise directly from the President, the Vice President, and their families to the "finest of musical outfits." Now the drama is near completion for after having been declared the best Drum and Bugle Corps in Pennsylvania, Gardner Guards have been the recipient of the Presidential Trophy evidencing the fact that they are now the best corps in all of America. But the winning of this trophy means a little more than just the fact that Gardner Guards are a great Drum and Bugle Corps. The trophy in a more quiet but cogent way says—"Thank you Tyrone for the faith and devotion you possess in your Town's ideals. Thank you, for demonstrating so convincingly that pure quality of faith, hope, inspiration and determination so characteristic of all Americans. Thank you for having me come to rest amidst the warmth of a people so possessed with your ideals."

The Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania beams with pride at the accomplishments of this inspiring group of performers, known as Gardner Guards; therefor, be it

Resolved, That the Senate congratulate the Drum and Bugle Corps of Howard Gardner Post No. 281 of Tyrone Borough, Blair County, for their scintillating performance in the Inaugural Parade of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and that the citizens of Tyrone Borough be likewise congratulated for making the success of this Corps a reality; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to Drum Major John J. Clark of the Howard Gardner Post.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. BRENNINGER and WILLAREDT.

RESOLUTION No. 6.

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1957.

The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act was enacted as a humane measure to ease hardship and facilitate financial payments to those who have contracted disease arising out of and in the course of certain types of employment.

The diseases which arise from certain types of occupations, chiefly that disease often referred to as "Silicosis Asthma," have posed a problem which modern society recognizes as a public challenge.

Long drawn out and costly litigation is contrary to public wishes and unfair to those persons who have been severely tried and harmed by illness due to their work which has produced much which our society requires to maintain its modern system of manufacture and supply; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a committee of five House members to investigate methods for attaining quicker and less costly settlement of occupational disease claims; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings and recommendations to the House of Representatives as soon as possible.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GOODRICH, GIBSON, MAGEE and GRAMLICH.

RESOLUTION No. 7.

In the House of Representatives, January 29, 1957.

Whereas, The location of the interstate highways in Pennsylvania to be constructed under the Federal Highway Program has created a great deal of dispute and discussion; and

Whereas, U. S. Route 6 is a transcontinental highway reaching from California to Massachusetts and crosses Pennsylvania through the Northern Tier Counties, and is vitally important to this region because it lacks any other means of cross state transportation; and

Whereas, The Governor of Pennsylvania has recommended to the United States Bureau of Roads that the cross sta e highway to be constructed under the said program shall be a new road leading from a point near Sharon to Stroudsburg, and to the New York State line; and

Whereas, The construction of the interstate highway from Sharon, Pennsylvania, near the western entrance to our present Pennsylvania Turnpike to the New York State line will result in virtual bankruptcy of our turnpike system, thus repudiating the faith reposed in the bonds of the turnpike by the financial public; and

Whereas, Those who realize the importance of U. S. Route 6 to the State and the Northern Tier Counties know that the denial of the said interstate highway to the said counties will be a staggering blow to their growth and progress and will reduce the said route to a farm to market road; and

Whereas, This unreasonable discrimination against the Northern Tier Counties demands action by the General Assembly to save irreparable damage to this important region; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives deplores this action by the Governor of the Commonwealth and the Secretary of Highways, and recommends that all efforts be put forth to have the new cross state interstate highway constructed at, near and upon U. S. Route 6, and that the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Secretary of Highways and the U. S. Bureau of Roads be informed of the wishes of the House of Representatives in this important matter.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. WORLEY.

RESOLUTION No. 8.

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1957.

President Eisenhower has stated his belief that the United Nations Organization is essential to world peace and world progress.

The United Nations is presently engaged in endeavors to preserve world peace and avert world war. It is axiomatic that sufficient strength in the initial task would destroy the need for the latter; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania commend those men of good will who have dedicated their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to the cause of world peace, and affirm to them that every member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania is their ally; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives commend the efforts of all men of all nations toward peace, and to that end recommend;

(1) The strengthening of the United Nations to the extent that it can enforce its edicts.

(2) The creation of a world public service organization, dedicated to the realization of an equitable distribution among all peoples, of all sources of power, including ores, combustion materials, atomic power and technical "know how."

(3) That the use of all sources of power be directed to the satisfaction of human needs and wants, and to the complete suppression of their utilization in warfares, and

(4) The creation of financial resources directly available to the United Nations or to any nation which would expend its energies to these noble ends; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to President Eisenhower and to the Secretary General of the United Nations.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. McCORMACK.

RESOLUTION No. 9.

In the House of Representatives, January 29, 1957.

Whereas, It is reported that the President of the United States is contemplating extending an invitation to Marshal Tito, Premier of Yugoslavia, to visit the United States as an honored guest in April, 1957, and

Whereas, Tito is a Communist and as such represents everything that is repugnant to lovers of freedom and justice, and

Whereas, History has chronicled in bold type the many cruel and inhuman acts perpetrated by Tito on a defenseless people in his relentless drive to inflict on them a ruthless dictatorship wherein the name of God is anathema and freedoms of religion, speech and press are completely abolished, and

Whereas, Tito has ruthlessly shot down and killed United States airmen in two unarmed United States planes off course because of bad weather, and to this day he has not had the decency to offer the United States an apology, and

Whereas, Tito has imprisoned the leader of the Roman Catholic Church in Yugoslavia, Aloysius Cardinal Stepinac, as well as countless clergymen on trumped-up charges, and

Whereas, This invitation will not only be a terrible affront to thirty-four million Catholics and freedom loving Americans, but also a demoralizing blow to those lovers of freedom behind the Iron Curtain, the Resistance, who have a right to expect that the United States and all freedom-loving Nations throughout the world should denounce this barbarian and refuse to allow him into the company of decent human beings until he has proven himself worthy of such company, rather than embrace him and enhance considerably his prestige for the sake of political expediency; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that the President of the United States be urged not to invite Marshal Tito to visit the United States or to withdraw said invitation if one has already been extended, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania enabling the Legislature to enact legislation for absentee voting.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to state my reasons for voting for House Bill No. 1.

For many sessions in the past similar absentee voting bills were presented by Members of the House, and although their names do not appear on the present bill, they all can claim some pioneering credit if it finally passes the last two hurdles.

Although my name does not appear as a sponsor of the present bill we are about to vote upon, I nevertheless also consider it my baby. As early as the 1953 Session I introduced a similar bill permitting absentee voting in Pennsylvania. This bill was passed by the House but unfortunately died in the Senate.

At this Session I had ordered an absentee vote bill drawn up with the intention of presenting it on the first day on which bills were permitted. However, my bill was not released until Tuesday. Knowing that the present bill had been presented on Monday and in order to save on printing of bills when more than one bill of a similar nature is introduced, I did not introduce the present bill which I hold.

Many states extend this privilege to their citizens, and Pennsylvania should not be the exception.

I hope that every Member of the House will support this bill because of the importance of every Pennsylvania citizen being permitted to exercise his or her right of franchise, even if he or she is temporarily away from his or her voting district or is temporarily incapacitated.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, on the first day to introduce bills, January 7, 1957, I introduced and sponsored an absentee voting bill.

I am very strongly for the policy contained in such legislation, and I recommend that House Bill No. 1 now before us for consideration be given support by the Members of the House.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, as the people of this Commonwealth well know, I was the one who first worked for and took the lead in bringing about the 100 percent gas tax refund for the farmers of Pennsylvania. The proof of that statement appears on pages 138, 139, 570, 571, 572, 573, 2013 and 2162 of the Legislative Journals of 1949; and pages 188, 189, 190, 550, 551, 1671, 1877 and 7455 of the Legislative Journals of 1955 and 1956.

Today I am speaking on the floor of this House of Representatives to recommend and to urge that the membership of this body vote to make the present full gas tax refund law a permanent and continuous law. I hope you will support this bill.

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 1

Mr. BELL. MR. SPEAKER, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 1.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 7, 1957.

David K Darcy Harold Foster and Harry Zietz were convicted by a jury for the slaying of William Kelly an innocent bystander during a holdup of a tavern in Bucks County The jury fixed the punishment at death in the electric chair

The conviction and sentence was appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the case reached the Supreme Court of the United States four times

On September 29 1956 the Board of Pardons acting on Darcy's third application for executive clemency recommended that the sentences of death be commuted to sentences of life imprisonment

The commutations granted by the Governor have aroused public interest and indignation The action of a non judicial body in substituting its judgment for that of the jury which heard the case and of the many jurists who studied the case has been critized throughout the State The opinion prevails in many quarters that political considerations influenced the action of the Board of Pardons in this and in other recent cases.

It is imperative therefore that a complete and thorough investigation be made of the action of the Board of Pardons to determine whether or not any abuses have occurred with respect to the powers entrusted to it therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate who together shall constitute a joint committee and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all since actions January 4 1950 of the Board of Pardons in connection with the pardon parole or commutation of sentence of persons convicted of crimes The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth The committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed sixty days

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, at this time I would like to make a few remarks in favor of the present resolution.

I will make these remarks brief, and if it evolves that there is a floor fight I would like to come back later with a longer argument.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House of Representatives, today we are asking this House to adopt this resolution to look into certain charges that have been made with respect to the Pardon Board of Pennsylvania.

I have in my possession a large number of newspaper editorials, newspaper articles, that have appeared throughout the state of Pennsylvania. To make it very brief, the citizens of Pennsylvania are aroused. They desire to know what are the facts with respect to the present Pardon Board; and perhaps even further, whether or not it would be a good idea to have subsequent legislation introduced that would take the Pardon Board out of politics.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that the ladies and gentlemen of both sides of this House support this resolution.

Mr. WORLEY. I rise to my feet to oppose and to request that I be recorded as voting "no" on Resolution No. 1 Printer's No. 8, now before this House for consideration.

It is well known that I have for many years introduced bills into the Pennsylvania Legislature for the abolition of capital punishment, and I again introduced such a bill into this Session on January 22, 1957.

While Resolution No. 1, Printer's No. 8, does not direct a death penalty in and of itself, the Resolution is nevertheless an obvious step in the direction of capital punishment. I want to make it very clear that I will not in any way direct, or attempt to direct, the chief executive of this Commonwealth to sign a death warrant for any man.

This Legislature has the legal power to investigate the circumstances under which a commutation of sentence was brought about as an inherent right of the General Assembly so that it will have information for future legislation on the subject so investigated. This House of Representatives has the constitutional power of impeachment of the Governor and all other civil officers for any misdemeanor in office and this Legislature has the power to submit evidence for prosecution in the courts of this Commonwealth. However, my objection to the Resolution is based on the fact that it is giving comfort and support to the principle of capital punishment, a policy which I am against. Capital punishment is contrary to Divine Law, and as a Legislator, I believe it is my duty to influence the making and changing of man-made laws so that they more nearly accord with Divine Law. The application of the death penalty is brutalizing and degrading to the public mind. It leaves no room for the reformation of character, which should be the principal aim of criminal law, nor for the revision of the sentence in the event of a miscarriage of justice.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 2

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 5.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1957.

Whereas It has been alleged in the public press that there has been a misuse of money from the 1.7 million dollar Administrative Fund in the Bureau of Employment Security and

Whereas This fund is under the personal control of the Secretary of Labor and Industry as are these personnel and the conduct of the Bureau of Employment Security itself and

Whereas The fund is made up of fines and penalties collected from Pennsylvania employers who fail to make prompt payment for unemployment compensation benefits and

Whereas The personnel of the Bureau are charged with the duties inter alia of investigating charges of fraud in jobless benefit surveys labor surveys and allied activities and

Whereas The funds are actually remitted to the Department by the U S Government out of the fines and penalties collected as heretofore referred to and

Whereas The fund is not subject to the budgetary controls of other State funds and

Whereas The Governor has investigated such charges and as a result thereof has dismissed the Secretary of Labor and Industry Mr. John Torquato and suspended the employes who were paid salaries from the fund and

Whereas This action of the Governor suggests that the Secretary of Labor and Industry has actually made unlawful use of the fund therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Governor is hereby requested to submit through the Attorney General all information and evidence of wrongdoing with respect to this fund which he may have to the District Attorney of Dauphin County for the purpose of submission to the Grand Jury

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Majority Floor Leader to explain what is desired to be achieved by the passage of this Resolution No. 5?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the inquiry, this Resolution, which in effect memorializes the Governor to have his Attorney General deliver to the District Attorney of Dauphin County any wrong-doing that might have grown out of the dismissal of Mr. Torquato, was inspired by the remarks of Mr. Andrews on January 22, 1957, whereas Mr. Andrews deplored the fact that Mr. Torquato was summarily dismissed amid charges in the newspapers and that it was unfortunate, I believe he stated, that there was not a tribunal where the gentleman could be exonerated of any wrong-doing in the case.

We feel there is such a tribunal provided. We have a grand jury that can investigate a matter of this kind just as they have been investigating other things that are of interest to the Commonwealth which has made some indictments and has discharged some people I understand.

Another reason for offering the Resolution is we feel that it carries out, as I pointed out yesterday, a fundamental idea of justice that you always give a person a chance to correct his own errors or put his own house in order before any outside agency or force moves upon a situation. It is like a judge who makes an error in a trial where a motion is then made for a new trial to give the Judge a chance to correct his own error. That in effect is what we are saying here. If there has been any wrongdoing, it should be given to a grand jury and have Mr. Torquato exonerated. He is under a cloud now.

Surely if the Governor's office announces that there has been a misuse of this fund and he gives the gentleman until five o'clock, I believe, of the next day to resign and then said he has suspended 23 employes on the payroll, that in itself I believe raises, or as we say in the Resolution, suggests, an unlawful use of the funds which ought to be looked into by an appropriate authority. We feel that that type of tribunal is the place where the matter should be sifted.

I believe that answers your inquiry, does it not?

Mr. READINGER. Yes, Mr. Speaker. I desire to ask one further question.

Does the Majority Floor Leader believe that it is not a proper function of this House, or the House and Senate concurrently, to investigate a matter of this kind to ascertain what the facts are in order to determine whether legislation should be drafted, and to perhaps pass legislation to change the method of operating of that fund?

Mr. JOHNSON. I think that is true. I am not saying that such an inquiry would not be appropriate along with the matter that we have before us. That is not what is before us today. The question today is are we going to adopt this particular resolution.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the adoption of this Resolution for the reason that I think it is a futile act.

If I understand the law correctly, every Governor and every Attorney General who takes the oath of office in this Commonwealth swears to obey and defend and uphold the Constitution of Pennsylvania and its laws.

As I read the press on the matter of the dismissal of the Secretary of Labor and Industry, I did not gather there was anything said there that an unlawful act had been committed. I gathered the impression that some of the activities of the recent Secretary may have been unwise, but I saw no allegation of any unlawful act.

It seems to me that certainly the Governor of this state, if he has any evidence of a criminal act on the part of Mr. Torquato, already has a duty to refer the matter to the District Attorney of this jurisdiction, lay the facts before him and have the District Atorney proceed from there.

The District Attorney of this county if he is given no information has every right to ask the Governor, or anybody under the Governor, for whatever evidence of a criminal act they may have. He can then make his decision as to whether it should be laid before a grand jury or not. But it seems to me that when we start passing resolutions asking the Governor to do what to me is his plain duty, we are certainly doing something which we should not be doing.

I have no objection whatsoever to a tribunal being set up, such as the membership of this House or a joint committee of the House and Senate to look into this matter, in fairness to everybody involved including ourselves, and find out what the facts are, but when we start asking for the cooperation of the Governor to carry out the criminal laws of this state, it seems to me we are getting slightly ridiculous.

On January 22nd there was a resolution introduced in the Senate which provides for the appointment of a committee of four, I believe to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, to look into this entire matter and to find out whether legislation is necessary to provide for the better operation of that fund. That seems to be the proper way in which this thing should be approached and not by adopting a resolution such as this.

I do not know whether anybody might have in mind trying to embarrass our Governor by the passage of this resolution. For example, if there is no evidence in his hands of any unlawful act, he obviously is not going to give the District Attorney any such evidence because he would not have it. His very failure to give evidence might be construed by many people reading about it later as an attempt to withhold such evidence.

I say we are treading on dangerous ground if we adopt this Resolution. It is the wrong thing to do. It is the wrong way to approach it.

I do not question the gentleman's motives whatsoever in wanting to establish the tribunal where Mr. Torquato can be heard, but this definitely is not the right way to do it in my opinion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to become involved in the debate on this Resolution. However, since the Majority Leader has mentioned my name, I must of necessity, address myself to the matter before us.

I asked for a tribunal before which the former Secretary of Labor and Industry could plead his case publicly. I say he cannot have any opportunity to plead his case publicly in the secrecy of a grand jury investigation.

There has as yet been no allegation, as the Minority Leader has pointed out, that the former Secretary of Labor and Industry has erred other than in matters of discretion. An inquiry in public would reveal the fact, if it should be a fact, that this administration has or has not raised a trivial complaint against the former Secretary of Labor and Industry, or whether the administration has been hiding serious offenses.

I am very much in agreement with the Minority Leader. This Grand Jury investigation cannot operate unless the Governor concedes that he has suppressed evidence of illegality, and I do not imagine that His Excellency, the Governor, is going to inform a Dauphin County grand jury, "Yes, gentleman, I wanted to be a little easy on the former Secretary of Labor and Industry and I have been concealing evidence of grave offenses." He is not going to do that. As a lawyer, the Majority Leader knows he is not going to do that.

The proper thing, if we are going to act, is as I have requested, that there be created a tribunal before which the alleged offender can state his case, a tribunal which will be empowered to decide whether there is action due against the former Secretary of Labor and Industry, or whether the master-minds of the administration have been in error.

I want the situation to be developed as to whether the former Secretary of Labor and Industry has been guilty of any indiscretion or a criminal act. That decision can only be arrived at by an investigation made by this body. I am not adverse, if this House is so disposed, not only to investigate the use, or the alleged misuse, of this fund, but to investigate, if they want to, the entire operation of the Department as a whole.

I want to repeat, and I hope the Majority Leader pays attention to this, that in order to bring this case to the attention of the District Attorney in this County the Governor must concede that he has concealed informaion regarding guilty acts, and he is not going to do it. He would be a fool if he did. So I ask the Majority Leader and I ask the Members of this House to create a tribunal where all the facts as they affect the administration, as they affect former Secretary of Labor and Industry, can be brought right out into the open so that the people of Pennsylvania and the Members of this House will know definitely where the seed of error lies.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I personally cannot see anything unusual in this Resolution. I grant you that it is probably made possible by reason of the fact that we have a House composed of a political party different than that of the Governor.

In effect, what we are doing in this Resolution is memorializing the Governor to take a certain action which we think he should take. I cannot see anything wrong with it. I think this Resolution, as I stated before, gives the Governor a chance to put his own house in order, rather than we in the Legislature setting up a tribunal to do the job for him.

I am just going to read at random some of the remarks of the former Speaker on January 22nd. He says on page 129 in the House Journal, "I believe that if an investigation made by and through any impartial agency were to be consummated the fact would be shown that the Secretary of Labor and Industry made no appointments to the fund in question except at the suggestion of party leaders who were either his superiors or his equal."

Again, farther down in the same statement, "I want to point out that this linen, be it dirty or not, came to the notice of the public through releases authorized by the Governor's office and it would not otherwise have been known, but could have been settled in routine fashion."

It seems to me there are some facts about this matter which are peculiarly within the knowledge and information of the Governor's office. Here is a man who has been publicly maligned and dismissed summarily from office. I believe if a grand jury were to look into this matter and were to render not a true bill, perhaps some of us might be satisfied with the matter, but I believe that that is the best way to reach it.

The Governor in his actions with respect to the Turnpike matter, as you know came out in the public Press and made a public statement that this was the most colossal fraud in the history of the Commonwealth and, in effect, in the papers prejudiced these people who are presently indicted by a grand jury. He did not come to the Legislature and ask us to conduct an investigation of the Turnpike Commission. He and his Attorney General gave the information to the District Attorney of Dauphin County, who impaneled a grand jury, and they made presentments. He can do the same thing in this case. We are merely memorializing him, if he has any information, to do that very thing.

I believe, we are first giving him the opportunity to do the job himself and then, if he says in his opinion and that of the Attorney General there have been no criminal acts committed, we will, of course, take that statement and weigh it, and that may settle the matter. I am not saying that it will or it will not. But you are afraid we will say, "Well, it is just a whitewash." But public statements can be made which would clear the gentleman if there was no criminal act involved. I believe that could be done and I think we, perhaps owe it to Mr. Torquato, who I say has been summarily fired without a hearing and maligned through innuendos and statements in the newspapers. I think it would not hurt a bit to have it given to a grand jury to see whether he is in the wrong or not, and if a true bill is not found that will be a public declaration of his innocence of any criminal act.

That is all we are asking for in this resolution, and I ask the House to vote for it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I was interested in the opening declaration of the gentleman, which as I caught it, was to the effect that the Resolution had been drafted as it was drafted by reason of the fact that the majority in this House was represented by men and women who are not members of the Governor's party. Does the Majority Leader concede a possible partisan political aspect to this matter? I would judge so by the statement as I heard it.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, that is not what I said. I said that by reason of the political complexion of the Legislature with respect to the Governor's Office it is not unusual that we would memorialize the Governor to do a certain thing. I think it is probably true that if the Governor were of our own party, the two-party system being what it is, we probably would not be memorializing our own Governor. I think that is probably true.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the issue, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, at the present time is not His Excellency, the Governor. The issue is whether or not the former Secretary of Labor and Industry is or is not entitled to a public hearing. I repeat, the Governor of this Commonwealth canont send this matter to a grand jury investigation without admitting previous error upon his part, and I do not think he is going to admit previous error. The matter then will simply stay stymied and there will be no action, no investigation, and the former Secretary of Labor and Industry will remain in his present status, with people saying, "Yes, he was dismissed because of an alleged reason, but what was the real reason?" I am perfectly willing to have a tribunal established that can begin, at least, to ascertain the real reason.

So I plead to the fairness of this House that the fact that he has reported a Resolution has undoubtedly prejudiced the Majority Leader in favor of the way and the method employed.

I am quite sure if we would have been able to sit down together and talk the matter over that he would have favored a fairer, a better method of approach, and one which does not abdicate the jurisdiction of this House initially.

It is our duty initially to assume jurisdiction and we determine whether or not the matter should go before a grand jury, not His Excellency, the Governor, to determine whether it should go before a grand jury. There is no power inherent in this House which can require His Excellency, the Governor, by means of an administrative act to in any way comply with the provisions of this Resolution, whereas, if we assume original jurisdiction, are in command of the situation both as far as His Excellency, the Governor, is concerned and so far as the former Secretary of Labor and Industry is concerned.

So I plead in justice to the dignity of this Assembly, in justice to Mr. Torquato, and I even plead in justice to His Excellency, the Governor, that we reword this resolution and not pass it hastily this afternoon.

Mr. McCORMACK. I would like to make a few remarks on this Resolution. Most of it has been covered by both sides.

I want to point out to the Majority Leader that he well knows, when he tries to draw a parallel between the Governor's reference of the Turnpike scandal to the Grand Jury of Dauphin County and this Resolution, that our system of government provides, according to the Constitution, that the government shall be divided into three distinct branches, the Legislative, the Judicial and the Executive, and that the Governor has the absolute right and we can do nothing about it. What he does therefore is beyond our control.

The Majority Leader well knows that if there is evidence of wrong-doing in the Department of Labor and Industry, or in any other department in this government, then it is our duty as legislators to assume control and to conduct an investigation that accords with all the principles of fair-play with a view towards promulgating and passing legislation that will correct those defects that allegedly exist.

I think that it is shameful conduct on our part to memorialize the Governor in referring this matter to the Dauphin County District Attorney. I say it is shameful because it is inspired politically. There is no other purpose. No one here on the Majority side of the House is interested in protecting the name of John Torquato. If they are, then they certainly would not attempt to pass a resolution which states the Governor should refer this to the District Attorney. What should happen if the District Attorney of Dauphin County refuses to submit it to the Grand Jury? We are right back where we started from. And certainly we have no control over the Dauphin County District Attorney.

I say to you in all sincerity, with the desire to be fair to everyone—and certainly we have brought this out into the open; we are not hiding anything—we should adopt a resolution, or correct this one if need be, so that this House has the control of the whole situation when we can subpoena witnesses and get the full story on the record.

Mr. READINGGER. Mr. Speaker, before asking for a roll call vote on the Resolution, I would like to state it is my firm belief that if a resolution were introduced and reported from committee calling for either a separate House committee or a joint House and Senate committee, practically everybody on this side of the House, if not everybody, would support such a resolution.

I am therefore asking you again to defeat this Resolution today so that we may approach this matter in what I consider to be a much better manner.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote against this resolution because in my opinion it is a resolution which in effect limits the inquiry. I, as a Member of this House, and I think the people of this Commonwealth, are entitled to know all the facts concerning this fund from its inception up to this moment.

It appears to me that this Resolution may be an attempt on the part of the Majority party to close the inquiry at a point beginning with the administration of the fund by John Torquato.

I think the public is entitled to know whether or not John Torquato administered this fund in the same manner that previous secretaries of Labor and Industry administered it. I think the public and this House are entitled to have all of the facts concerning the administration of this fund from its inception to the present time in order that we can recommend a future course of action with respect to this fund. I do not believe that the inquiry should be limited, and in effect it seems to me that is what this resolution is attempting to do.

I am therefore opposing it and stating at the same time that I would vote for a resolution which would conduct an inquiry back into the operation of this fund from the time it was created until the present time so that we may know how this fund was operated in the past by all parties who have handled it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. READINGER and ANDREWS. and were as follows:

MANOR SCHOOL STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of students from the Manor School of Cumberland County under the supervision of their teachers Mrs. Irene Seibert and Mrs. Buttorff and Mrs. Walker parents of two of the children. They are the guests of the gentleman from Cumberland County, Mr. George.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GOODLING asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, occasionally we hear the words "mistaken identity" used in this House. I noticed by the morning Press than one Ray C. Goodling, Republican, York, among others, co-sponsored a resolution opposing the proposed Keystone Expressway.

In my humble way I try to represent a district in the very southernmost section of this Commonwealth, and the headaches in the northern section of the Commonwealth I would like to assign to the Members representing that district.

ADJOURNMENT

Mrs. KERNAGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, February 4, 1957 at 4:30 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 2:25 p. m.) the House adjourned.

Our Heavenly Father, grant unto the Members and the Officers of this Body a sacred moment of quietness as they begin the activities and the duties of another day and another week. Turn their thoughts to Thee and open their hearts to new understanding which will guide them in their thinking; courage and wisdom in their decisions, love in their attitudes and mercy in their final decisions as we ask this prayer in Jesus' name. Amen.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 1

REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred on January 29, 1957, the following resolution from the House of Representatives, reported the same without amendments as follows, viz:

JOINT COMMITTEE TO CONDUCT AN INVESTIGATION OF THE BOARD OF PARDONS

In the House of Representatives, January 8, 1957.

David K. Darcy, Harold Foster and Harry Zietz were convicted by a jury for the slaying of William Kelly, an innocent bystander, during a holdup of a tavern in Bucks County, The jury fixed the punishment at death in the electric chair.

The conviction and sentence was appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the case reached the Supreme Court of the United States four times.

On September 29, 1956 the Board of Pardons, acting on Darcy's third application for executive clemency, recommended that the sentences of death be commuted to sentences of life imprisonment.

The commutations granted by the Governor have aroused public interest and indignation. The action of a non-judicial body in substituting its judgment for that of the jury which heard the case, and of the many jurists who studied the case has been criticized throughout the State. The opinion prevails in many quarters that political considerations influenced the action of the Board of Pardons in this and in other recent cases.

It is imperative therefore that a complete and thorough investigation be made of the action of the Board of Pardons, to determine whether or not any abuses have occurred with respect to the powers entrusted to it; therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate who together shall constitute a joint committee and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all actions since January 4, 1950 of the Board of Pardons in connection with the pardon, parole or commutation of sentence of persons convicted of crimes. The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal requesting and commnading any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed sixty days.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

AMENDED HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 5

REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred on January 29, 1957, the following resolution from the House of Representatives, reported the same with amendments as follows, viz:

GOVERNOR REQUESTED TO SUBMIT ALL INFORMATION OF WRONGDOING WITH RESPECT TO THE MISUSE OF MONEY FROM THE SPECIAL FUND IN THE BUREAU OF EMPLOYMENT SECURITY.

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1957.

Whereas It has been alleged in the public press that there has been a misuse of money from the 1.7 million dollar Administrative Fund in the Bureau of Employment Security and

Whereas This fund is under the personal control of the Secretary of Labor and Industry as are these personnel and the conduct of the Bureau of Employment Security itself and

Whereas The fund is made up of fines and penalties collected from Pennsylvania employers who fail to make prompt payment for unemployment compensation benefits and

Whereas The personnel of the Bureau are charged with the duties inter alia of investigating charges of fraud in jobless benefit surveys labor surveys and allied activities and

Whereas The funds are actually remitted to the Department by the U. S. Government out of the fines and penalties collected as heretofore referred to and

Whereas The fund is not subject to the budgetary controls of other State funds and

Whereas The Governor has investigated such charges and as a result thereof has dismissed the Secretary of Labor and Industry Mr. John Torquato and suspended the employes who were paid salaries from the fund and

Whereas This action of the Governor suggests that the Secretary of Labor and Industry has actually made unlawful use of the fund therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Governor be hereby requested to submit through the Attorney General all information and evidence of criminal wrongdoing with respect to this fund which he may have to the District Attorney of Dauphin County for the purpose of submission to the Grand Jury.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, one of the bills which I am about to introduce increases the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia. Our dockets, like all over the Country, are so crowded that sometimes it takes more than a year to have a case tried.

We had hoped, during the last Session, we would get additional Courts of Common Pleas, and that we would get additional Judges of the Municipal Court. However, it was lost in the jam of the last days of the General Assembly.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am now trying to create remedial actions. One of these is to increase the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court from $2,500 to $5,000, and, accordingly, I am placing this bill before the Senate.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 126, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 12, 1913 (P. L. 711) entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia . . .," enlarging the jurisdiction of the municipal court.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, last week after I left the Senate, I went home to York and I listened to one of my favorite television programs which, I believe, is known as Capitol Correspondents. You may remember that we had ended the Session that day in a bit of confusion, and I found that that confusion was extended on this particular evening to the television program in question. I found that Senator Pechan was transferring his confusion in the Senate to his confusion on the television program. It must have been a confused day for the Senator.

Anyhow, in the course of that program—and I do not know whether this particular part was confusion or lack of information—the Senator was asked by one of the panelists the following question. The question, incidentally, was concerned with the well-known bill which Senator Pechan sponsored in 1951, one of the stormy bills of recent years, known at that time as the Pechan Bill. The question asked by the panelist was, "How many subversives have been detected and removed by the operation of the Pechan Bill?" Then we had the beginnings of the Pennsylvania numbers game. The Senator replied that twenty Philadelphia teachers, who were members of the Teachers' Union, as he recalled, had been removed. They had been detected and removed by this Act.

The panelists asked Senator Pechan whether there had been any others who had failed to sign and he said that he thought that was it. "That happened," he said, "at the original signing, under the terms of the Act."

Well, now whether this was confusion or misinformation, as I said, I do not know but the answer was definitely not correct, and I would like to get the record straight.

A very good study of the operations of the Pennsylvania Loyalty Act, during its first year, has been made by Mr. Clark Byse, of the University of Pennsylvania Law School, and it was published in the University of Pennsylvania Law Review. The study covered the operations of the Act in the first year of its operations.

Since that time, to my knowledge, and after some research on the question, no persons have refused to sign nor have any been detected or prosecuted under the Act. Instead of twenty, there was a total of exactly eight persons who were affected by the Pechan Bill. One of them, who was an employee of the Philadelphia Planning Commission, took the oath, signed the oath, and subsequently resigned because he felt it was an indignity to which he should not have been subjected as a loyal person, and also because he objected to it in principle. Seven other persons did not sign the loyalty oath and hence lost their employment.

Instead of twenty, three of these were teachers. According to Senator Pechan, there were twenty teachers from the city of Philadelphia who were members of the Teachers' Union. None of the three teachers I mentioned were members of the Teachers' Union. One of the teachers was from the city of Philadelphia, but he was not a regular teacher. He was a part time, substitute teacher. Of the other two, one teacher was from Nazareth, in Northampton County, and the other from Millville, in Montour County. As a matter of fact, of all the eight persons who were affected by this Act and the seven who did not sign, none of them were even alleged, at any time, to be in any way subversive. All of them declined the signing because of religious scruples; because they belonged to religious groups which did not approve the signing or because they had other, let us say, political scruples. That is, they just did not believe that they should be subjected to this indignity.

In addition to the three teachers, one social worker in the Department of Public Instruction did not sign. Then, at the Philadelphia General Hospital, there was one resident physician, two interns and one nurse. Even if there had been twenty people who refused to sign, and even twenty people such as I have named, this would be no glorious achievement for the great Pechan Act.

All of these people, whom I have named, were above suspicion as far as I have been able to determine, and as far as Doctor Byse has been able to determine. They were respected members of their communities; they were in no way dangerous. Therefore, if all twenty had been of that kind—however, there were not twenty. There certainly were not twenty teachers; only three of them were teachers. Of those, only one was from Philadelphia and he was part time.

I want to set the record straight, Mr. President. I know that Senator Pechan would want to have the correct information so that he could set the record straight if he is ever in the position again to talk to perhaps 1,000,000 or 1,500,000 potential television audience, and then he can tell the facts as they are. The Senator may have been confused by the fact that subsequent to this time there were some teachers from Philadelphia who were discharged. However, Mr. President, they were not discharged under the Pechan Act. They were discharged under the terms of the Teacher Tenure Act which had been in existence long before Senator Pechan thought of this bill or before whoever thought of it gave him this bill.

The Teacher Tenure Act had been in operation for a long time. As a matter of fact, we weakened the Tenure Bill when we put in the Pechan Bill, because we repealed the provision that had to do with subversives and with loyalty.

The only prosecutions that I know of—and this was the case of the Philadelphia teachers—were not done under the Pechan Act. This indicates, in the minds of the people of Philadelphia who wanted to prosecute these teachers, that the Pechan Act was not the sort of instrument they needed to do an effective job.

Therefore, Mr. President, in the light of the information I have just cited for the benefit of Senator Pechan, and in the light of the fact that this Act has not done any good, that it has done a certain amount of harm; that every day it is on the books it acts as an inhibiting force on the minds of people who are dealing with social science; that it inhibits them from speaking and from thinking, and following the truth to whatever ends it may lead them; that many quite honest teachers and other people who would like to investigate the truth and speak the truth and who believe that one of the important things to be done is to let our people have the full information about the competing systems in the world in order for them to judge and see the superiority of our own, and, incidentally, Mr. President, I notice that the American Legion, a stalwart organization, a patriotic organization, has come out for this point of view.

In view of those facts, Mr. President, I am proposing at this time a bill which would repeal the Pennsylvania Loyalty Act. At the same time, Mr. President, on behalf of two of my colleagues, Senator Hays and Senator Kalman, I am introducing another bill which has no connection with the subject about which I have been talking.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, my distinguished colleague from York said that he was looking and listening to a television program on which I appeared last week.

The Loyalty Oath Bill, which was passed in 1951, I would like to forget about as much as I can, but I want to keep the record straight, too. Senator Seyler said that I said I was confused. Well, I certainly had every reason in the world to be confused that day because I think that was the day we were talking about the Justice of the Peace from Apollo, whose name had been sent over here the day following Secretary Torquato's firing and many other things, and I was wondering why all of this was happening. However, the question was asked me as to how many people the Loyalty Oath Bill was responsible for their retiring, and I think maybe I did say it was twenty teachers from the Philadelphia Teachers' Union.

I do not know what the record is. I read the Philadelphia papers and at one time I saw where eighteen teachers were being indicted and some of them questioned, but I do not know whether it was a result of the Loyalty Oath Bill or whether it was the Loyalty Oath Bill itself that was responsible. We do know that as a result of the Loyalty Oath Bill, a great many people,—the people he is talking about who thought that their rights were being taken away from them—some of them refused to sign it. I do not say that they are subversives. Maybe deep down in their hearts, because of their religious beliefs, they do not believe in taking the loyalty oath. Nevertheless, if you will recall in 1951, this Nation was being infiltrated and this bill was not directed at schoolteachers. This bill was directed at people who were working not only in our schools, in our colleges, in our municipalities but also for the State. That was the reason the bill was introduced.

If you will recall, that bill, when I first introduced it, was inspired by the American Legion. As Chairman of the American Legion Legislative Committee, I introduced the bill. It contained four pages when it was introduced, and in order to be fair to teachers and everybody concerned, we wound up with a bill that was thirty-four pages long.

Under the Loyalty Oath Bill, nobody, and I mean nobody, is denied his day in court. Before the bill was introduced, a child could come home who didn't like his teacher and say that professor so-and-so was teaching communism. This ten year old child would tell his parent, the parent would tell the school director and the school director could say, "Well, now you are not teaching communism," and it would be character assassination. Those of you who were in the Senate at that time know how I worried, how I struggled, so that no one's character would be assassinated.

He forgot to mention the gentleman at Penn State who refused to sign it. I think it was Dr. McCrae who caused a great furor about his rights being taken away. I do not think he was a teacher; he had something to do with a publication.

The only reason I came up to defend my statement is because I was afraid the Senator from York was getting to the point where he wanted me to co-sponsor the repeal of the Loyalty Act.

Another statement that he made left the impression that the American Legion was now for the repeal of this Act. Let me just say this. I go along one hundred per cent with the American Legion's thinking that communism should be taught in our schools. I think that our children have the right to know what communism is, what it has done to Russia, what it has done to Yugoslavia and the other communistic nations; but I think that it should be taught at its face value, as it really exists, and not as some teacher who has a philosophy of his own tries to bend this young twig, this young child, to his thinking.

If we are not going to teach Americanism when this child is just a little fellow, and respect for the American Flag when he is just a young child and growing up, when is he going to learn to be a good American?

I still say, as I said in 1951, I do not see why any American is afraid to stand up and say that he is an American and sign his name and say that he is loyal to this Nation.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am not going to reply at length here. I am just going to reply very briefly.

Just to give you an example of the confusion that was rampant on that particular program, which I said before is one of my favorite programs, the announcer of the program, who is usually a suave, smooth talking fellow, had Senator Pechan promoted to Majority Leader of the Senate, so that the Senator had to correct him on that. One of the newsmen, the one who usually starts the questioning and who is another very fluent and very suave gentleman on television, asked Senator Pechan whether it was true that he was going to run for Lieutenant-Governor in 1958. This just gives you a small idea.

Then the program closed with another one of the newsmen, who writes for a Pittsburgh newspaper, asking Senator Pechan why it was that, in spite of the fact that he knows that the Senator bets on the races, the Senator always votes against the horse racing bill. Well, you can imagine the confusion that resulted there. I mean, the gentleman's answers were confused. Finally, the poor master of ceremonies had to close the program.

I just give that example, Mr. President, to show that Senator Pechan really was heckled and harried on that program, and I could not blame him if he was a little bit confused.

To get to the subject we are talking about, as I understood the Senator, he said first of all he started out with a simple bill of four pages and it left here with, I forget how many pages he said. He neglected to mention when it got in the House, they left nothing but the title and completely rewrote it so that it had even more pages. I assume by that the Senator is saying. "Do not blame this whole thing on me."

The second thing he said was, as I understand it, that the situation then was bad, it has changed now and if that is so, of course, this would be another reason for repeal.

The third thing he said, he is implying that I said the American Legion is in favor of this repeal. I did not say that. I am a member of the American Legion, but I do not presume to speak for the American Legion in this Commonwealth. Apparently, however, the Senator agrees with the American Legion's duly enunciated policy that we should encourage our secondary schoolteachers to teach about communism and other isms so that the contrast may be made plain, and I am telling the Senator right now that one of the things that inhibits this, and one of the reasons possibly why an organization like the Legion has to come out and make this sort of plea right now, is partly due to the inhibition of legislation such as we have now on the books.

Now for all the reasons that the Senator unconsciously gives us, although he consciously says he is still against the bill, it seems to me he has given us a lot of reasons from deep down in his subconscious why perhaps he should be for the bill.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

CONTINUING SENATE TURNPIKE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE OF 1955

Messrs. FLEMING and DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, February 4, 1957.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO APPROPRIATE MONEY FOR THE FEDERAL INDEPENDENCE HALL PARK

Messrs. STIEFEL, CHAPMAN and CAMIEL offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 4, 1957.

As the slipping years of paucity of action round out a full decade of inadequacy and in some instances of abject inaction, the rapid completion of both the Independence Hall Park and the Independence Hall Mall should become a "must" of compelling urgency on the agenda of the current session of the United States Congress and the General Assembly of Pennsylvania.

Acquisition of land by purchase or condemnation, for the creation of the Park and the Mall, could have been accomplished at a minimum of cost in the late forties when prices then prevailing were low compared with the inevitable increases of the land and building values resulting from inflation and other causes that are swelling current prices.

Additional delays in the completion of the Independence Hall Park and Independence Hall Mall or paucity of appropriations would further retard the development of the entire area of Old Philadelphia that could become a Mecca of Tourism and thus slow up the influx of visitors from all over the United States, whose annual number now exceeds 1,300,000 and is expected by the National Park Service to exceed 2,000,000 by 1960.

Therefore, Be It Resolved that the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in the name of the People of Pennsylvania, memorialize the Congress of the United States to appropriate during its current session not less than the sum of seven and a quarter million dollars which is needed for the acquisition of the remaining land and buildings in the area designated for the Federal Independence Hall Park.

And Be It Further Resolved that upon the passage of the instant Resolution, copies thereof be forwarded by the Secretary of the Senate to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President of the United States Senate and to each member of Pennsylvania's Congressional delegation, as well as the United States Senators from Pennsylvania, Edward Martin and Joseph S. Clark, Jr.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I note that the resolution memorializes Congress for a $7,250,000 appropriation for this purpose and there may be some doubt as to whether we need more or less than that amount.

Therefore, I suggest that it go to a committee and I object to its immediate consideration.

The PRESIDENT. There being objection, the resolution is referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE UNITED STATES ARMY CORPS OF ENGINEERS TO CONSIDER MAKING A CHANGE IN THE DESIGN OF THE BEAR CREEK DAM

Messrs. YOSKO, SCOTT, VAN SANT, FLACK and

MURRAY offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 4, 1957.

Whereas, it is important for the industrial and recreational development of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that all of its water resources be conserved and properly developed for the needs of the future; and

Whereas, there is every indication that in coming years there will be an increasing need for large water reservoirs for water supply recreation, and the retention of ground water; and

Whereas, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers is planning to build a single purpose flood control dam on the upper Lehigh River, called the Bear Creek Dam; and

Whereas, the present design of the Bear Creek Dam can be changed to provide for a larger base so that additional height could be added when required at some time in the future; and

Whereas, this design change would make the Bear Creek Dam adaptable at some future time to providing a much larger permanent reservoir, with a much greater storage capacity for water supply, recreation, and ground water retention; and

Whereas, this change would cost a moderate amount of money, and would not hamper its flood control function,

Now, Therefore, It Is Resolved That this Body request that the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers give careful consideration to making such change in the design of the Bear Creek Dam as would give it the capacity for having additional height added to it at some time in the future, for the benefits enumerated above; and

Resolved That this Body request that the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers study this problem as expeditiously as possible so that no time will be lost.

And Be It Further Resolved That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, as well as the following:

Congressman FRANCIS E. WALTER
Congressman DANIEL J. FLOOD
Congressman GEORGE M. RHODES
Senator EDWARD MARTIN
Senator JOSEPH S. CLARK, JR.
Chairman FRANCIS A. PITKIN,
Interstate Commission of the Delaware River Basin.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 1 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Concurrent Resolution No. 1.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

JOINT COMMITTEE TO CONDUCT AN INVESTIGATION OF THE BOARD OF PARDONS

In the House of Representatives, January 7, 1957.

David K. Darcy, Harold Foster and Harry Zietz were convicted by a jury for the slaying of William Kelly an innocent bystander during a holdup of a tavern in Bucks County. The jury fixed the punishment at death in the electric chair.

The conviction and sentence was appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the case reached the Supreme Court of the United States four times.

On September 29, 1956 the Board of Pardons acting on Darcy's third application for executive clemency recommended that the sentences of death be commuted to sentences of life imprisonment.

The commutations granted by the Governor have aroused public interest and indignation. The action of a non judicial body in substituting its judgment for that of the jury which heard the case and of the many jurists who studied the case has been criticized throughout the State. The opinion prevails in many quarters that political considerations influenced the action of the Board of Pardons in this and in other recent cases.

It is imperative, therefore, that a complete and thorough investigation be made of the action of the Board of Pardons to determine whether or not any abuses have occurred with respect to the powers entrusted to it; therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House and the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate who together shall constitute a joint committee and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all actions since January 4, 1950 of the Board of Pardons in connection with the pardon, parole or commutation of sentence of persons convicted of crime. The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases, and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed sixty days.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

A motion was made by Mr. MAHANY and Mr. DENT,

That Rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from committee to lie over for one day, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. SEYLER. During the last Session, Mr. President, I consistently opposed those investigations which, it seemed to me, did not lead to sufficient legislative action to warrant the expense, both of the Commonwealth's money and of the time and energy of the Members of the Senate. We lived through that Session and we had a number of investigations. It is my studied conviction that none of the investigations that were held during the last Session, which in some cases cost the health of the Members and, in all cases, cost time and energy and a lot of money, justified the expense of those investigations.

For that reason, Mr. President, it is my intention, for the same reasons, to vote "no" on this motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was concurred in.)

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

AMENDED HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 5 TAKEN FROM TABLE AND CONCURRED IN

Mr. MAHAY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to call from the table House Concurrent Resolution No. 5.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am told that I am premature in this request and inasmuch as the resolution was amended in committee, it will have to be reprinted.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, withdraws his request concerning House Concurrent Resolution No. 5.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the Minority Leader and I have agreed now that we should act upon this resolution if we have the unanimous consent of the rest of our colleagues.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, has requested unanimous consent to call from the table House Concurrent Resolution No. 5, which was reported from committee today. Will the Senate give its unanimous consent? The Chair hears no objection.

This resolution was amended in committee, and the Clerk will read the amendment first and will then read the resolution as amended.

The Clerk read the amendment and the resolution as follows:

Amend Resolution page 2, line 3 by inserting after the word "of" and before the word "wrongdoing": "criminal."

GOVERNOR REQUESTED TO SUBMIT ALL INFORMATION OF WRONGDOING WITH RESPECT TO THE MISUSE OF MONEY FROM THE SPECIAL FUND IN THE BUREAU OF EMPLOYMENT SECURITY.

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1957.

Whereas, It has been alleged in the public press that there has been a misuse of money from the 1.7 million dollar Administrative Fund in the Bureau of Employment Security, and

Whereas, This fund is under the personal control of the Secretary of Labor and Industry as are these personnel and the conduct of the Bureau of Employment Security itself, and

Whereas, The fund is made up of fines and penalties collected from Pennsylvania employers who fail to make prompt payment for unemployment compensation benefits, and

Whereas, The personnel of the Bureau are charged with the duties inter alia of investigating charges of fraud in jobless benefit surveys, labor surveys and allied activities, and

Whereas, The funds are actually remitted to the Department by the U. S. Government out of the fines and penalties collected as heretofore referred to, and

Whereas, The fund is not subject to the budgetary controls of other State funds, and

Whereas, The Governor has investigated such charges and as a result thereof has dismissed the Secretary of Labor and Industry, Mr. John Torquato, and suspended the employes who were paid salaries from the fund, and

Whereas, This action of the Governor suggests that the Secretary of Labor and Industry has actually made unlawful use of the fund; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Governor be hereby requested to submit through the Attorney General all information and evidence of criminal wrongdoing with respect to this fund which he may have to the District Attorney of Dauphin County for the purpose of submission to the Grand Jury.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Is it your interpretation of this resolution that the resolve clause which says, "That the Governor be hereby requested to submit through the Attorney General, all information and evidence of wrongdoing with respect to this fund, which he may have, to the District Attorney of Dauphin County for the purpose of submission to the Grand Jury," means any criminal wrongdoing at any time during the lifetime of the fund?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is my understanding that this resolution would instruct the Governor that if he knows of any criminal wrongdoing on the part of anybody in connection with this particular fund, he should submit his findings to the Grand Jury.

I want to further state that perhaps this fund is misnamed. I think what they meant was the Special Fund that has been subject to this controversy and which is under the supervision of the Secretary of Labor and Industry and not the Administrative Fund. However, we feel that the Governor will know what fund we are referring to.

Mr. DENT. Then, if it is the understanding of the Legislature that there are no restrictions as to the time element in this matter, I see no objection to the resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, in listening to Senator Dent's interrogation, I take it then that it is your opinion that under the provisions of this resolution, the Governor could instruct the Attorney General to go back to 1945. Is that correct?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Lane, I shall be frank and say that the resolution is more or less innocuous. Any citizen of Pennsylvania has the right to present any evidence which they have relative to wrongdoing to the Grand Jury, regardless of who the wrongdoing is done by. All we are doing is saying to the Governor of Pennsylvania, "If you know that Mr. Torquato committed any crime, then we suggest to you that you submit what evidence you have of that crime to the Grand Jury of Dauphin County." We do not mean to limit the investigation to just the Democrats, of course.

If the Governor knows of any criminal acts which have been committed by anyone in connection with the previous Administration, then I also suggest to the Governor that he submit his findings to the Grand Jury of Dauphin County in relation to that. In other words, it will give these people a chance to have their day in court and not be subjected to these accusations, counter accusations and malignments in the newspapers.

I would say that if the Governor knows of any criminal acts which these men are guilty of, then it is up to him to present his findings to the Grand Jury the same as he did in connection with the Turnpike. We did not have any legislative investigation relative to that; yet the Governor found a way to, as he says, "clean up" certain things which were done in connection with the Turnpike Commission. We want him to do the same thing with the Labor and Industry Secretary or anybody else in connection with this fund.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, Senator Mahany. I more or less agree with your statement that everyone should have his day in court. I agree with you in saying that the resolution is innocuous and that any taxpayer could take the same action. However, there is one other point I would like to make.

Since you are a very prominent member of the Bar, probably you can answer this question. What is the limitation of action on this? That is, what is the term, five, seven or what in regard to the misuse of public moneys? What is the limitation of action under the Penal Code?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Lane, I usually charge for advice such as this.

Mr. LANE. Since you gave us a little free advice before, perhaps you could give us a little more.

Mr. MAHANY. Offhand, I would say that there is a two-year statute of limitations.

Mr. LANE. There is a two-year statute of limitations. That is just what I thought. As a matter of fact, if any skulduggery is uncovered by the Grand Jury, they could not be presecuted, is that correct, after the two years have expired?

Mr. MAHANY. I think it is up to the defendant to claim the protection of the statute of limitations. I have had clients who were indicted and they did not get off the hook until I got into court and plugged the statute.

Mr. LANE. I am quite sure that if any of those who were indicted would secure the services of a prominent attorney, they would not be subjected to any criminal prosecution. The point I want to make, and the point I want all the Members of the Senate to know about, is this. There is a limitation of action on this which actually is two years. There cannot be any prosecution after the two years have expired. That means that you will just investigate the past term, which I agree we should investigate and give everyone his place in court.

Mr. President, I am going to vote for this resolution. However, it means that we Democrats are going to investigate Democrats. I am in favor of that and if they are dishonest, they should be investigated.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, is it the intention of the Majority Party, in the event that the resolution now under discussion is adopted, to then forget about Senate Resolution, Serial No. 1, which would be a thorough investigation of the fund from its inception by this Senate Body?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we do not have that resolution before us. However, I would say that if this resolution were adopted, then we would see no reason to adopt Senate Resolution, Serial No. 1.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Thank you.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I intend to vote for the resolution which is before us this afternoon However, I do not feel that this is a solution to the situation in which this Senate finds itself by reason of this so-called scandal in this Special Fund being administere by the recent Secretary of Labor and Industry.

The purpose behind the investigation, as I understand it, Mr. President, is to find out what the system was in its entirety, from the inception of this fund, in administering this fund and what use was made of those moneys.

As was stated in the interrogation between Senato Lane and Senator Mahany, it is possible from the resolution which is before us that there may have been person who mishandled this fund more than two years prior t the time when this matter was brought out into the open. Therefore, there would be no Grand Jury investigation in so far as anything that happened two years prior to this date. What we are trying to find out, for the benefit of the people of Pennsylvania and in order that the shall be no repetition of such a situation, is what has happened since the inception of this fund.

If it is the intention of this Body merely to pass the resolution now before us and to forget Senate Resolution Serial No. 1, which would be an over-all investigatio then I think that the Members of this Senate are ducking in plain words, a responsibility that they owe to the citizens of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I intend to vote for the resolution in all consistency with my previous position. Of course, I should. However, I wish to state for the record that I feel this is a useless piece of action.

I know the Governor of the Commonwealth and I know that in due time if he uncovers any evidence that should be presented, he will present it to the proper authorities I do not know quite as well the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, but from what I have heard, I have great faith in his integrity and I believe it would be his advice to the Governor to do just that.

Therefore, while I vote for this, any invidious connotations which may attach to this, I will divorce myself from. I think this is useless but, nevertheless, I will vote for it as a proper move.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

CALENDAR

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 10, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "The Penal Code" changing penalties for removal of bodies from burial places for destruction injury or removal of cemetery property.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 11, on second reading, entitled:

be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, most of the Members will recall that last year I co-sponsored about five different pieces of legislation in regard to the utilization of atomic energy for peacetime purposes. The bills failed to pass, due to the fact that they were quite expensive and they were going to cost a lot of money. So, I agreed that they die in committee.

This year I wrote to the Council of State Governments, after receiving their booklet in regard to a uniform act covering State operations concerning the utilization of atomic energy for peacetime purposes. They sent me a copy of the act, and I had Mr. Glidden over there write the legislation up. I sent a copy of it to the Governor, I talked with various Members of the Senate and I have on this bill a number of Republicans; namely, Senator Mallery, Senator Wade, Senator Pechan and Senator Stevenson.

I feel that if the bill is recommitted, we are going to be left out in the cold because, according to the information I have received from the Council of State Governments, there are now eight eastern States that have adopted this kind of legislation, and have used the outline of this particular bill. The bill had to be changed a little bit to comply with the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and I think most of us will agree that Mr. Glidden is a very able man when it comes to drafting legislation.

I feel that it is a mistake to recommit the bill because we are going to let this drag along and one of these days —we are not going to pass anything like we did two years ago—we in Pennsylvania are going to be behind the times again. Therefore, I respectfully request that if there are any questions on this, if any of the Members on the other side feel that the bill is not just proper, maybe we could amend the bill on the floor. I would like to keep it on the calendar. Not that I have any personal pride in sponsorship because this bill is co-sponsored by Senator Dent, Senator Wolfe, Senator Yosko, Senator Seyler, Senator Weiner, Senator Donolow, Senator Stiefel, Senator Mallery, Senator Wade, Senator Pechan, Senator Stevenson and Senator Camiel; it is not that. I would just like to get something done because everyone talks about the trouble we have in Pennsylvania with industry. I feel that once we get something working and have a co-ordinator set up whereby we can amend our laws and study our laws to conform with the problems of utilizing atomic energy for peacetime purposes, we will be getting somewhere.

If we recommit this bill, I think we are making a very grave mistake.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am advised that on February 27 of this year the National Association of Public Utility Commissioners is going to have a meeting. They are going to get together on a uniform bill relative to this subject. It was for this reason that I asked that this bill be referred back to committee, awaiting the outcome of this conference so that after they have the conference, we may have the advantage of their findings and their suggestions relative to the uniform bill.

It was not for the purpose of having the bill killed in committee, Senator, that I made this motion.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may I say to Senator Mahany that as of today and tomorrow, Rear Admiral Kitts—K-i-t-t-s—Retired, of the United States Navy, is conducting a forum on peacetime atomic energy uses in New York City. As a matter of fact, I was supposed to be there today but due to other circumstances, I could not make it. He has written me letters in regard to this. As a matter of fact, they are using the same type of bill that we have before us right now.

The Public Utility Commissioners might be having a meeting, but this is the bill that is used and recommended by the Council of State Governments, and I do not see why it should be committed anyway. Keep it on the calendar and wait and get their report. Why should we recommit the bill, because I do not think there will be any improvements on it?

The only question I can see in the bill is the $20,000 a year salary for the co-ordinator. There might be a question on that, but that is all I can see. I think it should be on the calendar, Senator Mahany.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, it may be some time before we are ready to act on this bill and rather than have it appear on the calendar day after day, I feel it should go back to committee. I feel that, perhaps, the committee may appoint a subcommittee to meet with these people to whom you refer, and get all this information so that we may have it available for our use when we finally consider the bill.

It was for that reason that I made my motion. I notice that we are getting beyond the curfew hour here and I would like to dispose of this so that we can put the rest of the calendar over in order.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to state to the Membership that Senator Mahany has the majority of votes on the other side, and if that is the wish of the Republican Majority, there is not anything we can do about it.

I still believe it is a mistake and I ask my colleagues to vote "no," because there is not anything wrong with this bill. If it gets back in committee—I know how committees are. I have been on them for a long, long time; they lay everything aside and the first think you know, everything is dead.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

Berger,	Harney,	Mallery,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Wagner,
Chapman,	Kopriver, Jr.,	Propert,	Walker,
Ehrgood,	Kromer,	Scott,	Watkins,
Elliott,	Madigan,	Stevenson,	Watson,
Flack,	Mahany,	Taylor,	Whalley,
Fleming,			Wolfe,

NAYS—17

Camiel,	Lane,	Murray,	Seyler,
Dent,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Derk,	Miller,	Sarraf,	Weiner,
Hays,	Mullin,	Schmidt,	Yosko,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER CONCERNING TIME OF ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, last Session several members became ill by reason of being held up for their dinner and staying out too late here on the business of the Session. I remember that Senator Holland suggested that we try to close our business for the day at six o'clock and we did. We found that as a result of that, many of us were more happy and better contented and had better health, so I hope that we can continue on with that six o'clock closing during the balance of this Session. I see now that it is ten after six, so we are ten minutes late today.

REMAINING BILLS ON TODAY'S CALENDAR OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, under the circumstances, I ask unanimous consent that the remainder of the bills on today's calendar be passed over in order so that we may adjourn.

The PRESIDENT. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 8, entitled:

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1957.

The House met at 4:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker announces with profound sorrow the death of our beloved Chief Clerk of this House, The Honorable William E. Habbyshaw, on Sunday morning, February third, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven.

Following Prayer by the Chaplain, as a mark of respect to his memory, the Chair requests the Members to stand in silence with bowed heads until the sound of the gavel.

PRAYER

Dr. Dwight R. Guthrie, Professor of Bible at Grove City College, Grove City, Mercer County, Pennsylvania, a brother of a Member of this House, the Honorable W. Mack Guthrie, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Everlasting God, who by Thy Son revealed the perfect way of Truth and Righteousness, vouchsafe, we pray Thee, unto those assembled here Thy gracious presence. May Thy blessings of wisdom and understanding drop as from the windows of heaven and may these minds and hearts be ready to receive them when they come. As we bow in Thy presence we ask for nobility of purpose, the desire to pursue the common good and the willingness to decrease, if need be, that Thou mayst increase. May this Assembly never lose sight of the fact that our great Commonwealth is the Keystone State—that the arch of Liberty, Justice and Equality for all is literally held in place by its decisions. Attend Thou these deliberations and guide the hearts, the lips and the feet of all who walk in these Halls.

We pause today, O Father, in honor and respect for one who was for a time a member of this elected body and who for a dozen years was the Clerk of this House. We thank Thee for his twenty-five years of service to the Commonwealth. Bless all who loved him and cherished his friendship. Thou knowest that he was capable and that his work was well done. May each of us here present do our work in such a way that we will some day hear the words addressed to us "Well done, thou good and faithful servant . . . enter thou in to the joy of thy Lord."

In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mr. OGILVIE. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, speaking for the Members of the Dauphin County delegation, Messrs. Hocker, Moody and Bowman, and with a heavy heart, a feeling that I know is borne by all the Members of this House, I present on behalf of the Dauphin County delegation the following privileged resolution.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 4, 1957.

In the early morning of February third, 1957 our good friend "Uncle Bill" Habbyshaw, breathed his last and took leave from our earthly life.

William E. Habbyshaw dedicated his entire life to the service of his fellow men and it is our great good fortune that more than two decades of his life was spent among us. He was first elected to the House of Representatives in 1932 and remained a members during five sessions of the legislature. While Member of the House, he was Chairman of the State Government Committee and a Member of the Joint State Government Commission. In 1943 he became our Chief Clerk and his tenure in that office is marked with competence, devotion to duty, and genuine affection for every member. We learned to respect his ability, admire his integrity, and enjoy his friendship.

But his life of service encompassed more than his work here. He was a member of the Hummelstown School Board, the Dauphin County Board of School Directors, and clerk to the Dauphin County Commissioners. He was active in all civic and community affairs, the Masonic organization and in other worthwhile lodges. He was a member of the Advisory Board of the Harrisburg Hospital, the Cemetery Board of Hummelstown, a member of Brownstone Lodge No. 666, F. & A. M. of Hummelstown; Elks Lodge No. 1092 of Middletown; the Harrisburg Consistory; Tall Cedars of Lebanon of Harrisburg; Zembo Temple, the Jester Club and the Republican Club.

He was Secretary of the Dauphin County Republican Committee and was many years active in the affairs of the Republican Party.

He was born in Hummelstown, educated in the Derry Township public schools and lived in that area during the remainder of his life.

He was a devoted husband and father, a loving grandfather and God granted him the rare privilege of enjoying a great grandchild.

His family and friends will be ever conscious of the loss they have suffered, for he is a man who cannot be forgotten. Truly good men are too few and the loss of one is a tragedy for all of us. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives pause in memory of our beloved colleague and friend and extend our since sympathy to the loved ones of William E. Habbyshaw, his wife, Media, his son Kenneth, his grandchildren and great grandchild, his sister and brothers and his nieces and nephews and bid them the courage in this sorrowful hour, which marked his every living day. And be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Media Habbyshaw and his son Kenneth Habbyshaw.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, January 28 and Tuesday, January 29, 1957? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. Speaker, I have noticed in the Legislative Journal my vote on Resolution No. 5 is recorded as "nay" and it was cast as "yes." I wish to have that corrected.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman state the date?

Mr. JENKINS. I believe it was January 28th, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the record.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. MULDOWNEY, FRASCELLA, McKEEVER and AMARANDO. RESOLUTION No. 10.

In the House of Representatives, January 29, 1957.

On Wednesday, January 23, at 9:27 o'clock, A. M. Prince Rainier III and Princess Grace were blessed with the birth of their first-born child, Princess Caroline. The whole world rejoices because of the happiness and joy that will fill the hearts of the Prince and our beloved Princess Grace with the arrival of their new-born child.

While the baby-like sounds which the infant gave forth were like a whisper in a storm in the face of the booming twenty-one gun salute in honor of her arrival, the justly proud Prince and Princess will long remember and cherish them in their hearts; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives congratulate Prince Rainier III and Princess Grace on the birth of their first child; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Prince Rainier and Princess Grace.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. STECKEL, Mrs. MARKLEY and Mr. STIMMEL RESOLUTION No. 11

In the House of Representatives, January 29, 1957.

The present northern terminus of the Northeastern Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike is at Emerald Interchange at the convergence of Pennsylvania routes 29, 45 and 145 in Lehigh County.

The present plans of the Turnpike Commission are to eliminate this interchange after March 15 of this year, when the new section to Scranton will be opened.

The interchange at Emerald is of vital importance to all traffic approaching the turnpike from route 29, 45 or 145, because the only alternate route is over a hazardous road in extremely poor condition.

The maintenance of the Emerald interchange would promote safety for persons using our roads, convenience and expedite traffic approaching the turnpike from that area, and provide needed revenue to the Turnpike Commission; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania respectfully request the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, to alter its present plans so as to make the Emerald Interchange a permanent part of the Pennsylvania Turnpike system; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. JENKINS. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 12.

In the House of Representatives, January 29, 1957.

The movement to encourage special attention to the sick and shut-ins is being sponsored by Shut-In Clubs and various other organizations throughout the Commonwealth and the Nation.

Few people deserve or appreciate kindness and attention more than those confined in homes, hospitals and institutions because of illness or infirmities.

Neighbors and relatives most frequently provide the solace therapy of friendliness to these shut-ins, but there are many who are denied these comforts.

Earl Rutter, the founder of Shut-In Day for the past 18 years, has energetically and humanely visited these shut-ins, bringing them the joy and attention and the pleasure of thoughtfulness.

In this activity, which is done as a hobby just to bring a little laughter and sunshine into the lives of the shut-ins, Earl Rutter has traveled more than 134,000 miles and visited and entertained 150,000 persons in private homes, hospitals, institutions, orphanages and old folk's homes; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby requested and authorized to proclaim September 19, this year and annually thereafter, as "Earl Rutter Day" in appreciation by the people of this Commonwealth for his efforts as Pennsylvania's No. 1 Shut-In Entertainer; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be directed to send a copy of this resolution to Earl Rutter, Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

O Eternal God and Lord of all mankind, we give Thee thanks for the kind providence that permits us to assemble again in this historic place. As Thou, in Thy goodness, hast been pleased to let the light of Thy countenance fall upon the Assembly Fathers of other days, so do Thou become a lamp and a light unto this Assembly's pathway. May the folks back home be represented in such a way that their high hopes and desires will find expression in the decisions which are made in this legislative chamber. O merciful Father, stoop to our weaknesses, mighty as Thou art, and not only make us strong but give us courage to stand for the right at all times—though the foundations of the earth may shake about us. May these Representatives remember, as they face the difficult and seemingly insoluble problems of this biennium, that Thou are an ever present help to all who call upon Thee—Through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. GRAMLICH, DAVIS and VARNER.

RESOLUTION No. 13

In the House of Representatives, February 4, 1957

The death of the Honorable John H. McKinney, a former member of this House of Representatives, on December 2, 1956, is a great loss to his family, his friends and his community.

Mr. McKinney was a life long resident of Venango County. A lawyer by profession, he was active throughout most of his life in the oil production industry and operated leases in the Bredinsburg area. He was a veteran of the First World War.

His long service in the Pennsylvania Legislature spanned eleven terms in the House of Representatives, and he completed his long legislative career in 1952. While a member of the Legislature, he was chairman of the judiciary committee from 1939 to 1952, and was a member of the Joint State Government Commission in 1951 and 1952.

He was an active member of the Bredinsburg Methodist Church for many years. He belonged to the Franklin Post No. 476, American Legion, and was a past chef de garde of the 40 and 8. He was a member of the Venango County Bar Association.

Mr. McKinney's public spirited activities and long service to government marked him as an exemplary citizen whose memory will long be cherished by those who knew him and benefitted from his association; therefore, be it

Resolved, That each member of this House of Representatives hereby extend his personal sympathy to the surviving members of Mr. McKinney's family upon their recent loss and bereavement; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Mrs. Helen I. Humes McKinney, at her home in R. D. 2, Franklin, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. PIPER. RESOLUTION No. 14.

In the House of Representatives, February 4, 1957.

The State Sanatorium at Hamburg, Pennsylvania has long been known to the residents of the immediate area and of the entire county as the Hamburg State Sanatorium; and

The residents of the county and immediate area have made the designation a part of the common parlance and mode of speaking in their daily life; and

The name was recently changed by administrative action without regard to local sentiment to the Dr. Charles H. Miner Sanatorium; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives requests the Secretary of Health to have necessary measures taken to designate the State Sanatorium at Hamburg, Pennsylvania as the Hamburg State Sanatorium; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Secretary of Health.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. MULDOWNEY and WARGO. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 15.

In the House of Representatives, February 4, 1957.

In a small way, the General Assembly accorded our Pennsylvania National Guard much deserved recognition by adopting the following concurrent resolution:

"The 28th Infantry Division is the holder of a proud record. Some units are direct descendants of Benjamin Franklin's 'Battalions of Associations' organized in 1746, while others trace unbroken lineage from the Revolutionary War.

Some units of this famous division were engaged in every war in which we, as a nation fought.

Pennsylvania is justly proud of the 28th Division, which was referred to by General Pershing as the 'Iron Division' and called by the Germans of World War II the 'Bloody Bucket Division' in acknowledgment of the fury with which the division fought.

Because of its background, the service it rendered its country and the honor it has brought to Pennsylvania, it is fitting and appropriate that legislative recognition be accorded the 28th Infantry Division; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That United States Highway Route No. 322, extending from Chester, Pennsylvania through Meadville and Jamestown, Pennsylvania, to the Pennsylvania and Ohio boundary line be dedicated as a memorial to the 28th Infantry Division and that this portion of the highway be known as the '28th Division Highway'; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Highways shall erect along the highway suitable tablets and markers and shall carry out suitable landscape development to perpetuate this resolution, but shall not replace the officially designated route number of the highway hereby designated as the '28th Division Highway'."

Unthinking persons in high government positions have made statements which could be construed to be derogatory to our National Guard; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reaffirms its faith in the Pennsylvania National Guard for the feeling of security it affords us and is proud and honored that our National Guard is our first line of National defense.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 1

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 7, 1957.

David K Darcy Harold Foster and Harry Zietz were convicted by a jury for the slaying of William Kelly an innocent bystander during a holdup of a tavern in Bucks County The jury fixed the punishment at death in the electric chair

The conviction and sentence was appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the case reached the Supreme Court of the United States five times

On September 29 1956 the Board of Pardons acting on Darcy's twenty-sixth application for executive clemency recommended that the sentences of death be commuted to sentences of life imprisonment

The commutations granted by the Governor have aroused public interest and indignation The action of a non judicial body in substituting its judgment for that of the jury which heard the case and of the many jurists who studied the case has been criticized throughout the State The opinion prevails in many quarters that political considerations influenced the action of the Board of Pardons in this and in other recent cases

It is imperative therefore that a complete and thorough investigation be made of the action of the Board of Pardons to determine whether or not any abuses have occurred with respect to the powers entrusted to it therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint four members of the House and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint four members of the Senate who together shall constitute a joint committee and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all actions of the Board of Pardons in connection with the pardon parole or commutation of sentence of persons convicted of crimes The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth The committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed sixty days

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE RESOLUTION RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1957.

Whereas It has been alleged in the public press that there has been a misuse of money from the 1.7 million dollar Administrative Fund in the Bureau of Employment Security and

Whereas This fund is under the personal control of the Secretary of Labor and Industry as are these personnel and the conduct of the Bureau of Employment Security itself and

Whereas The fund is made up of fines and penalties collected from Pennsylvania employers who fail to make prompt payment for unemployment compensation benefits and

Whereas The personnel of the Bureau are charged with the duties inter alia of investigating charges of fraud in jobless benefit surveys labor surveys and allied activities and

Whereas The funds are actually remitted to the Department by the U S Government out of the fines and penalties collected as heretofore referred to and

Whereas The fund is not subject to the budgetary controls of other State funds and

Whereas The Governor has investigated such charges and as a result thereof has dismissed the Secretary of Labor and Industry Mr John Torquato and suspended the employes who were paid salaries from the fund and

Whereas This action of the Governor suggests that the Secretary of Labor and Industry has actually made unlawful use of the fund therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Governor be hereby requested to submit through the Attorney General all information and evidence of criminal wrongdoing with respect to this fund which he may have to the District Attorney of Dauphin County for the purpose of submission to the Grand Jury

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

JOINT SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR ROY E. FURMAN PRESIDING

The LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. The Joint Session will be at ease awaiting the arrival of His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you the Governor of Pennsylvania, the Honorable George M. Leader.

The LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. Members of the General Assembly, I have the honor and privilege of presenting His Excellency, George M. Leader, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR GEORGE M. LEADER

GOVERNOR LEADER. Mr. Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker, Members of the General Assembly:

The Governor of Pennsylvania has only two opportunities to come before the General Assembly with a budget—the thick document which, in its maze of figures, determines the course of government in this Commonwealth.

The Governor's first budget must come early in his experience, fresh with the hopes of a new administration, eager to take up new causes and right old wrongs.

That was the pattern of the budget submitted to you two years ago. The General Assembly, while it disagreed with my recommendations as to taxes, agreed so fullheartedly with the recommendations as to appropriations that the full program which we urged was substantially adopted.

In his second last budget, the Governor has the benefit of his two years of responsibility. Program decisions have been reached; the lights and shadings which play upon the fundamental structure of state government have taken the color of the administration and its purposes. Such a process is as natural as growth itself. I trust it is reflected in this budget.

Let me say that I would have been the happiest public officer in the United States if I could have brought you today a budget less burdensome than the appropriations for the 1955-57 biennium. I dare say that President Eisenhower would have been equally happy a few weeks ago if his budget for the National Government could have been something less than a peace-time record in its demand for 71 billion, eight hundred million dollars for a single Federal year.

But the hard facts of life prevented him, as they prevent me, from accomplishing such wishful thinking. The rising economy, the rising population, our rising standards of living and of humanitarian care, the lessening value of the dollar itself—all of these compel every chief executive, President or Governor, Mayor, or School Board President, to ask for budgets that are records in dollar terms.

I have already cut almost $175 million of dollars from the budget requests of the state departments and agencies and the state-aided institutions for all of which there was a very good case. I found I could not cut more deeply and remain in compliance with existing law and with the existing responsibilities that the Commonwealth assumes on behalf of its people. There is scarcely a trace of new program in this budget.

My submission today deals only with the General Fund of the Commonwealth. I will submit separate messages and budgets for the special funds, principally because it is important to us all that the highway program, which has reached such enormous size, be given the special consideration which is its due.

The budget as submitted, confined to programs authorized and to increased expenditures directed by existing law, comes to a total of $1,476,849,102.

This is $172,677,292 more than the appropriations enacted or required as deficiencies for the biennium of 1955-57.

Of this increase, $103,656,652—more than half—are increases in the subsidies which the state pays to its school districts for education, to its municipalities for pure streams, to its counties for public health units, and many others, all under formulas and policies which the Legislature has adopted and which the Executive has no choice but to include. This includes an increase of $6,400,000 for payments to sufferers from occupational diseases—one of the state's obligations which is increasing at a rate which is positively alarming.

These are the true "mandated" increases, in the sense of the term as we have come to use it in discussion of the state's finances. They cannot be reduced unless the Legislature is willing to change the provisions of existing law and policy. They are not spent by the state itself. They are distributed to others.

The state's payments for debt service and authority rentals are fixed still more firmly in that they are binding contractual commitments. The combined cost of such debt service in the 1957-59 biennium will be $99,915,020—an increase of $4,270,000.

Other increases, while not mandated as subsidies, are in fact compulsory as operations of the state itself. As an illustration, the Legislature in the past session directed the Department of Health to assume the operation of the Leech Farm Tuberculosis Hospital in Pittsburgh as of January 1, 1957. That will cost the Commonwealth an additional $2,071,040 in the coming biennium.

By way of further illustration, the Legislature increased judges' salaries. That largely explains an increase of $1,047,646 in appropriations to the judicial branch.

The Legislature, very properly, also approved a modern program of mental health for Pennsylvania. This will cost us an additional $23,895,383 to operate on a 24-month basis in the next biennium, and, even at that, the Secretary of Welfare believes he has been very harshly dealt with.

The budget likewise contains increases of $4,430,448 for the state-aided universities and $1,434,125 for the Teachers' Colleges.

I could cite many other similar illustrations, but it is not my intention to make this budget message a lengthy exposition of every item in the budget. The budget itself, in its new program type of presentation does that. It is merely my intention here to show how, for the most part, the budget increases consist of inescapable obligations.

This is not a "fat" budget, swollen for bargaining with the Legislature or for creating new payroll.

To the best of my ability and judgment, it is a nonpolitical statement of the Commonwealth's needs for the next two years. I hope the General Assembly will receive it in that spirit.

I invite the Legislature to go over the budget with a fine-toothed comb. The executive branch will cooperate with a full heart in every honest attempt to reduce the total of our expenditures. But I must quickly add that I will necessarily oppose any attempt to cut back services vital to the people of our state, particularly in our program for mental health and for the decent care of our retarded children. We have made tremendous strides in the past two years, compensating for the neglect of a life-time. As Governor, I am proud that this administration has brought a sense of urgency to these problems. As long as I am charged with responsibility in the state's affairs, that awakening of our public conscience will be my great concern. We must never return to the cruel and thoughtless days when a dollar in state expenditure was given a higher priority than the rescue of a tortured soul.

I am happy to report that the budget provides for the continuance of our industrial development program without any sizeable increase in funds. It appropriates $5,000,000 to the Industrial Development Authority, as in the appropriations for the last biennium, and $5,000,000 for assistance in slum clearance and urban redevelopment, again as in the last biennium.

I would suggest, so that future planning may be assisted, that the Legislature declare it a matter of state policy that we will agree to pay one-half of the non-Federal cash requirements of redevelopment projects undertaken by Pennsylvania communities. The biennial appropriation of $5,000,000 is geared to such a program, based upon an assumption of $100,000,000 in Federal funds to become available for Pennsylvania's use in the next ten years.

As further aids to urban redevelopment, the budget contains appropriations of $1,196,000 for the continued progress of Point Park in Pittsburgh and $1,050,000 for the continuance of the Independence Mall project in Philadelphia. If it is desirable to achieve greater speed in these two projects than the state's current revenues can provide, I suggest to the Legislature that they be transferred to the General State Authority with its larger capacity to make immediate funds available.

It would be proper to comment in this message on the recommended appropriations for the six medical schools in Pennsylvania which receive state aid. This aid is measured by a reimburseemnt formula of $2,000 per year per student. It totals in this budget $10,834,000, a figure that is close to the previous appropriation of $10,816,052.

We had hoped that the appropriations to the medical schools could have been reduced by the sum of $2,040,000 which the state was instrumental in securing for them from the Longwood Foundation. In the final event, it developed that this could not be done without jeopardizing the Foundation grants and the balanced programs of the schools. Medical education in the Commonwealth has been the gainer by the school's fortunate action of funds, but the Commonwealth will gain also because the executives of the six schools have agreed that the medical schools, far more than in the past, will assist the medical specialties required by the Commonwealth itself.

Another budget item which requires explanation is the provision in the Department of Property and Supplies of $6,455,848, to buy the motor vehicles—cars and trucks—which the state needs to put its fleet replacement on an annual basis. This is a case of spending money to save money. A wholly new fleet is far more economical to operate; and we have learned that the state can sell year-old cars at auction at a price equivalent to the price which the state, as a large buyer, pays for them when new.

To recapitulate:

The total appropriations requested in the budget as submitted come to $1,476,849,102. That is the amount required, as I stated earlier, for existing program and existing commitments.

Some additions must properly be considered.

There is an amount, now calculated at $33,547,200, which the school districts in the state expect to received as reimbursement for teachers' salary increases approved by the last session of the General Assembly.

We must expect a payment of approximately $5,600,000 by the state, as the employer, to the social security of its own employees and to public school employees throughout the state. In the past, such employees were not eligible for membership in the Federal social security system.

I would most strongly urge the Legislature to correct the gross unfairness in the present law which makes Philadelphia alone, of all the state's communities, ineligible for state reimbursement of a portion of its public health costs. This will add $3,100,000 to our budget needs. The budget recognizes that the Philadelphia General Hospital, operated by the City of Philadelphia, should receive the same reimbursement for its care for indigent patients as voluntary hospitals throughout the state.

This administration has tried to be scrupulously fair to every region in Pennsylvania. We do not believe in upstate versus downstate, or the East versus the West, or in county versus city. We recognize the tremendous and growing problems of our great metropolitan centers in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh districts, and we are insisting that they receive the same sympathetic consideration as other areas in the state.

Finally, I recommend that the Legislature add $3,000,000 to the budget for state aid to airport development. Our program for the next biennium would contemplate such assistance to airports in: DuBois, Erie, Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre-Scranton, Greater Pittsburgh, Reading, Philadelphia, St. Mary's, Bradford, Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton, York, and Pottsville.

If the Legislature adopts these recommendations and adds them to the budget, the total appropriations for the next biennium will come to $1,522,096,302.

To that great sum, we must still add the anticipated deficit from our 1955-57 operations, now estimated at $82,242,433.

The total revenue need for a balanced budget in the next biennium will therefore come to $1,604,338,735.

To make the need less, the Legislature can do only one thing—cut the budget.

To meet the need, the Legislature can do only one thing—enact legislation which will provide the necessary funds.

I would say this to you at the very beginning of our discussion of revenue needs. In my responsibility as Governor, I will approve any tax program which this General Assembly enacts which "will support the services to which the State is committed, be fair in its application to the people of this state, contain a basic measure of adjustment to the inflationary economy in which we live, and be stimulating to the economic development of Pennsylvania." The quotation is from my directive to the Tax Policy Advisory Committee, with whose report, I am sure, you are familiar.

Further, I do not believe it is right to hold either of the political parties to sole responsibility for taxation, even when so tempted by a turn of politics which has vested overwhelming control of the General Assembly in the party which is not my own. I will therefore urge the Democratic members of the House and Senate to search their consciences equally with their Republican colleagues, and assume their share of responsibility for financing the government of their state.

It seems strange, does it not, that the Federal Government, no matter how divided politically between the President and Congress, can find each year a solution to its fiscal problems without an enormous amount of partisan rancor and delay.

Our task, it is clear, is not quite so difficult as the Federal Government's. Indeed, Pennsylvanians alone will pay to the National Government five times as much as they will contribute to the support of their state this coming fiscal year. I would suggest, however, that our standards of performance in Pennsylvania can be so raised that we too can finance our state with a relatively nonpartisan program.

This issue of taxes, if I may venture a political observation to many who are far wiser in politics than I, this issue has been beaten to death in Pennsylvania.

In our own case, the revenue estimates for the next biennium as shown in this budget, based on the existing tax structure, total $1,488,725,504. It seems reasonable to transfer to the General Fund $7,000,000 from the Special Disaster Relief Fund because the revenues will have exceeded the appropriations by that amount at the end of the biennium. The $108,613,231 still needed to balance the General Fund requirements as stated in this message can be found in the recommendations of the Tax Policy Advisory Committee.

The Legislature may find other and better ways to achieve a balanced budget.

Certainly, however, the example before us of a program unanimously adopted by the representatives of labor and management, local government and the two parties who served on the tax policy advisory committee, should prove to us that reasonable men—resistant to special interest pressures—can work out a fiscal program by which the state can live.

I would most strongly urge, as I did in 1955, that the Legislature repeal the Excise Tax on Foreign and Domestic Corporations, which is a definite handicap to economic growth within the state. I would urge further that we repeal the Corporation Loans Tax as well, and permit the Manufacturers' Exemption from the Capital Stock Tax to take effect on its due date—January 1, 1958.

We would all like to see, I am sure, the full strength of this state's magnificient industrial and financial structure aligned solidly with its government in a great drive for economic growth. A change in tax emphasis, as I have here suggested and as the Committee unanimously recommended, would be the signal for such an alignment.

I would also again ask the Legislature not to insist on the Stamp Plan as a part of the Sales Tax. The benefits of the Stamp Plan are temporary in that is gives us some additional cash in the first biennium of its adoption; ever after, it would cost the state at least $12,500,000 a biennium in the cost of the stamps themselves, their redemption, and the payment made to the banks which will distribute them.

Because the Stamp Plan is included in existing law, the budget for the Revenue Department contains $2,500,000 for the printing and handling of the stamps. That is one budget reduction which the Legislature can make with ease.

It should be pointed out that legislation requiring monthly deposits of the Sales Tax would bring an acceleration of revenue of about $17,500,000, or a sum only $7,500,000 below the acceleration estimated under the stamp plan. There simply is no reason, even of temporary convenience, why we should have the troublesome, expensive and wasteful stamps.

I think we are all thoroughly conscious of the magnitude of our task. These are huge sums we speak of; and the burden of raising them and spending them for the services which they purchase is a great one.

In the beginning of this message, I talked of a governor's budget.

That is what it is, and I take full blame or praise for it.

But in its great scope and range and cost, it is not a governor's budget. It is the Commonwealth's budget, built according to the structure which the people, through the action of many elected Legislatures, over many, many years, have determined for their state.

As an enduring structure, the budget and the government it represents have foundations in service which cannot be ripped out without damaging the whole—without risking collapse in our society.

The state government pays half of the cost of public education in the Commonwealth.

It provides the only tax funds in Pennsylvania which go to higher education, the college and university training which gives us the ability to manage and direct this vastly intricate economy.

The state government pays the full cost in Pennsylvania for the treatment of mental illness.

The state government pays very nearly the full cost of the treatment of tuberculosis.

The state government provides practically all the public funds which go toward the operation of our voluntary private hospitals.

The state government has the full burden of relief and public assistance, which now, in a period of relatively full employment, must be society's conscience fund for the subsistence of the unemployable.

In much of Pennsylvania the state government provides the only public health service, the only effective police service, the only park and recreation service.

The state is the partner of local government in a score of tasks from urban redevelopment to the care of delinquent and dependent children. The state government is the associate of the Federal Government in a multitude of labors, from flood control to mine drainage.

These things, and a hundred more in every locality and in every occupation, are the expression in human life of the cold type and rows of figures in this budget.

The budget itself is far more than a budget for the operations of the state. It is as truly a budget for thousands of school districts, Penn State University, 14 Teachers Colleges, the 67 counties, the cities, boroughs and townships —large and small—in the Commonwealth.

The budget and this message carry the enormous sum of $864,327,794 for distribution in subsidies—more than 57 cents out of every dollar which we expect to disburse from the General Fund.

It carries a rigid amount of $99,915,020 for debt service and authority rentals—almost 7 cents out of every General Fund dollar.

Public assistance, another form of subsidy, this time to individuals, will cost $150,000,000—about 10 cents out of every General Fund dollar.

From the remaining 26 cents, we must pay over 15 cents for the institutions which the state itself operates—mental, correctional, medical and surgical hospitals, tuberculosis sanatoria.

A Governor, as you can see, is not left much room for choice. Much of his budget is foreordained.

But it is not foreordained that we act so that the trust reposed in us is fully executed. That is a matter for our own wills.

As I conclude this message, and as you take up your difficult task in the General Assembly, perhaps we should all restate our belief that we owe to the people of Pennsylvania something more than a selfish exploitation of power or a perfunctory discharge of responsibility.

No one likes to pay taxes, I am sure, but I am equally sure that the objections melt away when it is realized that a good purpose is served, that the government which the taxes support functions honestly and efficiently within the limits of human error.

A budget such as Pennsylvania now requires must be supported by something more than revenues. It must be supported by an affirmative faith in the rendering of service. It must be supported by energy and dedication; by a fierce belief in good government. I do not see how we can be for anything less, and still live with ourselves and our constituents.

It must seem strange to others that an insistence on high standards should provoke so much startled comment, such wide-eyed astonishment, here in the Capitol of Pennsylvania. It must be that all of us, Democrats and Republicans, have been lax too long over too many years.

I will tell you now that I intend to support this budget by an unceasing effort through the next two years to give this state the best government it has yet received. My ambition as Governor, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Legislature, is a very simple one. I want to leave to my successor a state without a deficit—a state without a deficit either in money at the biennium's end, or, more important still, a state without a deficit in its moral values as to what its government should be.

I am confident that the 210 members of the House and the 50 members of the Senate will share equally in my hope.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

The LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. Governor Leader, on behalf of the General Assembly I want to thank you for your excellent address.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

O God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come, our guide in life, our strength in strife, our inspiration in love, our guide in all the things that Thou hast allotted unto us to do, we pray that in this devotion to service which Thou hast called us to, we may continually give our best.

We thank Thee that somewhere, sometime, some devoted parent or teacher has sowed the seed of this faith in our hearts, that Thy spirit hast watered and nurtured it, and we pray we may continue humbly to try to exemplify it in our life, so that Thy Name may have all the glory, all the honor and all the praise in a world without end. Amen.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

PRAYER

Dr. Frank W. Ruth, Pastor of the Bernville Evangelical and Reformed Charge, a former Member of the House and now a member of the State Senate, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

What a friend we have in Jesus,
All our griefs and sins to bear;
What a privilege to carry everything to God in prayer.
O what peace we often forfeit,
O what needless pain we bear;
All because we do not carry everything to God in prayer.

Our dear God, today as many of us will for the last time on this earth look upon the face of one who was a friend to many, help us to realize the uncertainties of life and the certainties of that which we call death. Help us so to live that we can say,

O love that will not let us go, I give Thee back the life I owe,

That from Thine ocean depth its flow, may richer, fuller be.

Guide us in our work today that it may honor and glorify Thy name, we ask it in the Master's name. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. MULDOWNEY and Mrs. PASHLEY.
RESOLUTION No. 16.

In the House of Representatives, February 5, 1957.

It is the custom each year for the National Fire Protection Association, with headquarters in Boston, Massachusetts, to make awards to cities and towns throughout the United States on a basis of their participation in fire prevention activities.

During the four consecutive years of 1952, 1953, 1954 and 1955 the City of Philadelphia has received the highest award for cities in the United States having a population of 500,000 or more.

In two of the four years the city has won the Grand Award which is first place for cities and towns of all classes in the Nation.

Again on January 23, 1957 the National Fire Protection Association notified the city that it had again achieved first place in the United States for the year of 1956.

This record of achievements is unparalelled in the city's history and is indeed a great compliment not only to the brave men of the fire departments but to all citizens of Philadelphia who have cooperated in this great program of fire prevention; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its hearty congratulations to the officers and men of the city's fire department and expresses its sincere appreciation to all the citizens of Philadelphia for the unheralded work and labor that must necessarily have been expended to achieve such distinguished national recognition.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. CLEVELAND and STRAUSSER.

RESOLUTION No. 17.

In the House of Representatives, February 5, 1957.

During the past year we have seen all too many of our citizens die in the battle of the highways.

Many of the accidents causing death have involved the huge vehicles which are becoming more and more common on our highways. Recently in Monroe County five young people died in an accident involving an omnibus.

The frequency of these occurrences indicate that our traffic laws are not adequate to meet present day needs; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a study of our traffic laws giving particular attention to the practicality of traffic laws with respect to large vehicles; the adequacy of penalties; and the difficulties of enforcement and to make a report of its findings togther with its recommendations for legislation to the next General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. VARNER, PURSLEY, BRAND and WHITTAKER.

RESOLUTION No. 18.

In the House of Representatives, February 5, 1957.

Whereas, The District Engineer, of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has recommended that the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads construct the Keystone Shortway from Sharon, Pennsylvania, to Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania as part of the Federal Inter-State Highway System; and

Whereas, The Construction of the Keystone Shortway will provide the eastern United States with a modern defense highway in the event of another war; and

Whereas; The North Central Counties of Pennsylvania have no modern highway presently to the east or west for commercial and passenger vehicles; and

Whereas; The Construction of the Keystone Shortway will open up vast new areas of Pennsylvania for industrial and recreational development; and

Whereas, In the 1955 Session of the General Assembly, the House of Representatives voted 173 to 3 in favor of the Keystone Shortway and the Senate of Pennsylvania voted 39 to 0 in favor of the Keystone Shortway, as a Turnpike facility for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The Construction of the Keystone Shortway will be the most direct route across the State of Pennsylvania, thereby saving millions of dollars in construction costs; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives recommends that the Keystone Shortway be constructed, and that the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Secretary of Highways and the United States Bureau of Public Roads be informed of the wishes of the House of Representatives in this vital matter, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, to the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Secretary of Highways, and the United States Bureau of Public Roads.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. GOLDSTEIN, WILT, VARNER and AGNEW.

RESOLUTION No. 19.

In the House of Representatives, February 5, 1957.

It has come to the attention of the House of Representatives that certain charges have been made to the effect that there are in the vicinity of six thousand more employes on the State payroll than there were in the previous administration. In view of the fact that the cost of running all levels of government has increased greatly, the issue of "economy in government" has become an extremely vital one for the taxpaying public; therefore be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring), That the President pro tempore appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House who together shall form a committee for the purpose of investigating all branches of the State government for the purpose of determining the validity of the above mentioned charges and if so validated to determine if such an increase in the number of State employes is justified; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings together with its recommendations for all measures and appropriate legislation to alleviate existing conditions to His Excellency, the Governor, and to the President pro tempore of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. FILO, KAMYK, RIGBY and AGNEW.

RESOLUTION No. 20.

In the House of Representatives, February 5, 1957.

The County of Allegheny, Pennsylvania, is served by only one television station of the VHF category, although television as a medium of communication and entertainment was introduced in Allegheny County on January 11, 1949, by the establishment of WDTV, which was owned by the Dumont interests.

After the passage of a period of eight years of such establishment, the Federal Communications Commission has failed to license the establishment of additional VHF television stations.

The County of Allegheny is a heavily populated area and a leading world center of industry, commerce, education, medicine, and the arts, and the County of Allegheny is now in the midst of a famed and world-renowned renaissance; and the failure of the Federal Communications Commission to grant additional VHF licenses has deprived the County of Allegheny of program choices for the benefit of its people, commerce and industry, thus discriminating against the County of Allegheny and favoring many small communities which do not have as great a need in this respect.

This discrimination has deprived the County of Allegheny of opportunities to employ the talent and technical ability of its people, and has impeded the growth of the television industry in the County of Allegheny.

Despite repeated applications and protests, the Federal Communications Commission has thus far ignored the rights and needs of the people of the County of Allegheny, and has, in fact, disregarded the recommendations of the Commission's own staff to the effect that the Allegheny County area is entitled to the licensing of additional television stations; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, acting on behalf of the people, commerce and industry of Allegheny County, insure that steps be taken immediately to bring the aforesaid grievances to the attention of all public officials and official public bodies concerned with such matters, in order that additional television station licenses may be granted in the County of Allegheny; and be it further

Resolved, That the foregoing resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to:

Federal Communications Commission,
Washington, D. C.
Honorable Edward Martin, United States Senator.
Honorable Joseph S. Clark, United States Senator.
Honorable Herman P. Eberharter, Member of Congress.
Honorable Elmer J. Holland, Member of Congress.
Honorable James C. Fulton, Member of Congress.
Honorable Robert S. Corbett, Member of Congress.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. GROSS. RESOLUTION No. 21.

In the House of Representatives, February 5, 1957.

The Department of Highways has now under construction a bridge in Manchester Township, York County, on Township Route 839, known locally as the Memorial Bridge.

This bridge services one "hobby" farmer on a highway which according to Highway Department surveys is traveled by a total of two cars per day, and is located fifteen hundred feet south of another bridge and three thousand feet north of still another bridge.

The action of the Department of Highways is even more curious in that the department has refused to build bridges in the adjoining townships of Springettsbury and Spring Garden where they are desperately needed, as is attested by the vain pleading of nine civic organizations, fifty business establishments and fifteen thousand individuals. They have sought two over passes or underpasses to permit access across the highway, which is essential to their communities, but their requests and protests have been ignored; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of Highways report to the House of Representatives within thirty days his reasons for refusing to build these needed structures and his reasons for building this unnecessary bridge and include in such report all political pressure urged upon him, and the full extent that political considerations influenced his judgment; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be delivered to the Secretary of Highways.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mrs. KOOKER and Mr. KELLER.
(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 22.

In the House of Representatives, February 5, 1957.

Recent events have witnessed a surging rise in the price of gasoline and fuel oil. The rise in crude oil has been at thirty-five cents per barrel and the rise in gasoline prices has been one cent a gallon.

Considering the staggering effect these price increases will have on the outlay of American motorists, and the financial burden presented to those using oil for heating purposes, the Senate of the United States has proceeded to adopt measures necessary for the proper investigation of this matter.

The House of Representatives of Pennsylvania firmly believes that these price rises coming at this time creates a serious burden on our economy and that it is the responsibility of the Congress of the United States to protect the economy of the nation and the welfare of all the public directly concerned, therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to investigate the factors leading to the rise in the price of gasoline and fuel oil in order to determine if any such rise in prices has been unfair and to take such action it deems best for the protection of the American public and the economy as a whole and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to presiding officers of each House of Congress of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. E. HAROLD MILLER, Pastor of The First Methodist Church, Duquesne, offered the following prayer:

May we pray?

Our Father and our God, these are days that try men's minds, depress their spirits and wear down their better judgments. These are days that, in spite of all our material prosperity, we find ourselves in many instances spiritually poverty-stricken. Much of this which faces us is in our own failure to realize and to measure what is the eternal good.

Give unto us then here gathered to measure life in the light of the actions and deeds as laid down for us in the biographies of the apostles and teachers of old, and consummated in the perfection in the deeds of Thy Son, so that even though what we do may not measure up to what He would have expected of us, we shall be given His approbation because we have nobly tried to make for this our day in the field of government one of which He would be justly proud over which to preside.

In the Name of Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT laid before the Senate the following communication, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

COUNCIL-MANAGER GOVERNMENT

FOUNDED—1768.
Office of Borough Manager. INCORPORATED—1836.

February 6, 1957.

Mr. L. Letzler
Chief Clerk of Senate,
State Capitol,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Letzler:

At the last meeting of Borough Council on January 21st the problem of Daylight Saving Time was discussed. Here as throughout the Commonwealth we have experienced confusion over the starting, duration and ending of Daylight Saving Time. Borough Council is of the opinion that if we are to avoid confusion the State must establish a policy. Therefore the following resolution was passed: "In order to avoid the confusion between boroughs, townships and cities regarding Daylight Saving Time: Be it here resolved we hereby petition the State Government of Pennsylvania, which includes our House of Representatives, Senate and Governor, to enact a law which shall govern the start, time of duration, and ending of Daylight Saving Time throughout the State of Pennsylvania."

We sincerely hope that you will do everything within your power to bring order out of confusion by working for the passage of such a measure.

Sincerely yours,

(s) ROBERT R. MITCHELL.

Robert R. Mitchell,
Borough Manager.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, one of the bills which I am about to introduce will attempt to relieve the congestion in our Courts of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County.

This bill, Mr. President, will attempt to shift the burden and place it upon the shoulders of the Municipal Court.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, in recent months the newspaper industry has been terribly hit by the increased cost of newsprint. Most of this newsprint comes from Canada. I do not know whether there is much that we can do about it; however, coming from a rural area where we have a great many weekly and small daily newspapers, I am becoming alarmed. I think there are some 338 of these small newspapers in Pennsylvania and, recently, some thirty of them have raised the price of their five-cent newspapers to seven cents. I am a little bit fearful that unless Congress investigates this matter, it will drive a great many of the small newspapers out of business and I, therefore, am presenting this resolution.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO INVESTIGATE THE SHARP AND CONTINUOUS RISES IN THE PRICE OF NEWSPRINT

Mr. PECHAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 11, 1957.

Certain producers of newsprint have announced an intended increase of $4.00 per ton in newsprint to be supplied to American newspapers.

It is of the utmost importance to the citizens of this Commonwealth as well as of the other States that the newspapers continue to be published in the small towns and cities as well as in the metropolitan areas.

Such continued publication of the newspapers is threatened by the intended rise in the price of newsprint.

This threat can only be met by congressional action following an investigation into the whole subject of the production of newsprint and the development of new sources of supply of newsprint in this country.

Congressional action in this regard is already being, or is about to be sponsored by members of Congress; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth memorialize the Congress of the United States to investigate the subject of the sharp and continuous rises in the price of newsprint and to follow such investigation by appropriate legislation to meet the threat of further intended rises in the price of newsprint in this country including action to promote the development of new sources of supply in this country of newsprint: and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE SAFEGUARDS IN TARIFF AND TRADE LEGISLATION

Messrs. WAGNER, WALKER, KROMER, SCOTT, WHALLEY, FLACK and VAN SANT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

In the Senate, February 11, 1957.

The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability.

The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous price cutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment.

Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedented high level, or close thereto, lest we become insolvent.

Unemployment caused by the imports of residual oil, which represented 3.43 times the average of 45 million barrels imported in 1946, to approximately 154 million barrels in 1956, or the yearly equivalent of 36,640,000 tons of coal; and unemployment caused by imports of crude oil; various types of glass, steel, aluminum, brass and zinc products; pottery and chinaware; granite, tiles, cement, hardboard, plywood, hardware, plumbing, flat glass and other building supplies, lace, carpets and all kinds of woolen, cotton and synthetic fibre manufactured goods; leather and fabric gloves; bicycles; hydraulic turbines; machine tools and other machinery; heavy electrical equipment and other electrical industry products and electronics; watches, clocks and parts; optical industry products; cutlery; scientific apparatus; pencils and pens; pins, clips and fasteners; soft fibre; insulation board and manufactured cork products; chemicals; toys; mushrooms; farm, dairy and dried milk products, wallpaper, hats and millinery, printing industry products; ladies hand bags and leather goods; nails, wire, screws, bolts and nuts and many other commodities; will render the upholding of the economy at its high levels cost uncertain and difficult unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom thus eliminated.

Agricultural products such as wheat, wheat flour, cotton, butter, cheese and peanuts enjoy the protection of import quotas.

A maximum of satisfactory trade results from a prosperous domestic economy freed from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition: therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to provide adequate safeguards in tariff and trade legislation, including import quotas and an effective prohibition against dumping of imports in the United States; against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standard of our workmen, and the stability of our economy by unfair import competition and that the existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 6, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Resolution, Serial No. 6, which was reported from committee today.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

CONTINUING THE SENATE TURNPIKE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE OF 1955

In the Senate, February 4, 1957.

It has recently been revealed that certain activities of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission have allegedly been performed in an illegal manner. It is entirely possible that there are other functions and activities of the Commission which are not being carried out in the best interests of the Commonwealth or the purpose for which the Turnpike Commission was created; therefore be it

Resolved, That the committee which was appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate during the 1955 Session of the General Assembly to investigate activities of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission continue and extend its investigation to all functions and activities of the Turnpike Commission; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of their findings and recommendations to the Senate at this Session of the Legislature.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 5, entitled:

An Act authorizing the recovery of damages from parents of children destroying property

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. PECHAN offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 4 by striking out "five hundred dollars ($500)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "two hundred and fifty dollars($250)."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I was listening to these amendments very carefully in the hope that something would be included in these amendments which would make the bill constitutional.

I remember that during the last Session, we had all the constitutional lawyers sitting on the other side of the aisle, and I hope they do not think it is presumptuous of me to become a constitutional lawyer on this side of the aisle.

However, Mr. President, I think that this bill, like all bills of this type, is in error in this regard. You cannot hold someone liable for damages wherein the act was not committed by that very person. Under our law today, even a dog is entitled to one bite before we take some action against the owner. I believe you will find in Purdon's Statutes, on the books today, that a youngster who shows himself in any way to be vicious or who creates any damage and notice is taken of his actions, then the family thereafter will be liable for any one of his acts. We are going ahead of this type of thinking and are making the parents immediately liable.

I believe that the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, in its Sunday magazine section, called "This Week," had quite an extensive writeup on this problem, and they found that they never had any good results by putting this type of law on the books. The net result was that when the father was penalized, his bitterness or anger would turn toward the child, himself, either resulting in severe physical injury to the child or else the child would become an outcast or excommunicated from the family. This is a terrible type of punishment to visit on anybody.

These are some of the things which we are promoting by passing this type of legislation. I think that probably the Senator is moved by good intentions to do something about the problem of juvenile delinquency. I think all of us are motivated by that problem. However, I do not think there is any Member sitting here, unless he led a very sheltered life, who, at some time or other during his youth, did not engage in some kind of prank or do some foolish thing that might have been considered a delinquency on his part.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I wonder whether Senator Weiner knows that this bill is on Second Reading and that we will not act on it finally until tomorrow, at which time such debate as he is now giving would probably be more in order.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would suggest that the Senator withhold his statements until tomorrow or until we are ready to act on the bill on Third Reading and Final Passage.

The PRESIDENT. It is proper for any Member to discuss the amendments. The section has been agreed to, although the bill, as amended, has not been agreed to.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am not debating the bill. I am merely offering to the sponsor of the bill some "advice" on what would be the proper amendments and which would probably bring this bill in line with what would be constitutional, or what I would consider to be constitutional.

I think it also would bring it in line with what we feel would be the proper solution to the delinquency problem. I believe, like some of my colleagues on both sides, we could also further advise the Senator that there is no easy solution to this rather complex problem nor can he do it with any one-page bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

MOTION TO RE-REFER BILL

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. , Printer's No. 18, on second reading, as amended, be referred to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—13

Barr,	Hays,	McGinnis,	Schmidt,
Kent,	Kalman,	Murray,	Seyler,
Lerk,	Lane,	Sarraf,	Weiner,
Monolow,

NAYS—31

Elliott,	Mahany,	Taylor,	Wolfe,
Flack,	Mallery,	Van Sant,	Yosko,
Fleming,	Pechan,	Wade,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 5, Printer's No. 18, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I object to the bill going over in order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, will state it.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, is it a rule that when a bill is amended and it is requested that it go over in order, that it go over in order?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, repeat his question. The Chair did not hear him correctly.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, the bill, as amended, must be printed. Therefore, at this time, I object to it being considered on second reading, as amended, until it is reprinted and on the desks.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Pechan and I do not have any objection to the bill going over in order. If Senator Schmidt would like to have further time to read this bill, as amended, we will be happy to cooperate with him.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, what is the status of the amendment to the bill?

The PRESIDENT. The section has been amended and the title has been approved. However, the bill has not been approved as amended. That was the question before the Senate.

In order to settle this controversy, the bill, as amended, will be passed over in order and will appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar. The amendment to the section was agreed to and that will be included in the bill appearing on tomorrow's Calendar.

REQUEST FOR RULING BY THE CHAIR ON QUESTION OF WHETHER A BILL ON SECOND READING IS DEBATABLE

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I do not wish to prolong the controversy, but I would request the Chair, at sometime in the future when all of the members of the brain trust have had time to study the rules, to hand a ruling to the Senate on the question of whether a bill is debatable on second reading.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will give that ruling when he can find the rule to be applied in Mason's Manual. The Chair hopes to give that ruling tomorrow. However, with all the advice, the Chair is a little bit confused.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 24, Printer's No. 5; and Senate Bill No. 25, Printer's No. 24.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 57, on second reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 11, 1911 (Pamphlet Laws 275) entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures . . . . ." to include instruments used in weighing serviced commodities be recommitted to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the sponsor of this bill is not on the floor at the moment. He explained the act to those of us interested in it, and I personally cannot see any reason why this bill should go back to committee.

Mr. MAHANY. I am sorry, I cannot hear you.

Mr. DENT. Thank you for the compliment. Everybody says I talk too loud, too long and too often.

Mr. President, the sponsor of this bill is not with us at the moment. I talked to him about the bill, itself, and I became rather impressed with what he was aiming to do.

I am wondering what the reason is for sending it back to committee when all it does is try to see to it that individuals who do business with wet laundries in Pennsylvania at least have an opportunity of having the scales checked where the laundry is weighed. This applies to coal or any other item which is purchased and where scales are used. I do not see any reason why this bill should go back to committee. I would suggest that you weigh your decision in the matter, and I would like to have the bill go over instead.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in answering the Senator, the bill does not refer to any kind of laundries, wet, dry or otherwise. It is quite indefinite. If Senator Stiefel wanted to have this confined to weighing in laundries, he should have used the language which would have made it more specific and which would apply to that type of service only.

The reason we would like the bill to go back to committee is in order for the committee to work it out and make the bill more definite in its application. That was the reason for my motion to recommit the bill to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. DENT. I can agree with you. However, I only talked to the gentleman, and since you have given your explanation, I looked at the bill and I see that it does not specifically apply to laundries. The sponsor, however, gave me, and some of the other Senators who talked to him, the impression that that was exactly what he had in mind.

I would not like to be put in the position of voting against the bill—or voting to send this bill back to committee—if it is intended by the sponsor to see to it that such devices, which are used in laundries, are at least checked by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as to their accuracy. You all know that when an item is sold by weight, there can be some dishonesty take place.

I would like to ask, if the gentleman would leave it on the Calendar where we can reach it for amendment rather than send it back to committee.

Mr. MAHANY. As I understand it, Senator Stiefel is a member of the Local Government Committee and no doubt the Chairman of the Committee could draft a good amendment to this. Then, the bill could be reported out for further action. I would like to have it recommitted for that purpose and not for the purpose of killing off the legislation.

Mr. DENT. Is it going back to the Committee on Local Government?

Mr. MAHANY. That is right.

Mr. DENT. I understand that Senator Stevenson is still the Chairman of that Committee, and I have the greatest confidence and faith in Senator Stevenson. I know that he will give us a hearing on the bill if we so desire.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 65, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27 1923 (P. L. 858) entitled "State Employes' Retirement Law" extending the time within which State employes may become "original members"

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

An Act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States or of any of her allies during the Korean Conflict providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who because of death or incapacity cannot personally receive compensation imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General making an appropriation and providing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 75, the bill just read, be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 97, Printer's No. 21, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 124, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 13 1953 P. L. 431) entitled "The Pennsylvania Civil Procedural Support Law" further providing a procedure for enforcement of the act

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McGINNIS offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1 (Section 9), page 2, line 20 by inserting after "obtain": "when not in default of the court order."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGINNIS, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator McGinnis, what is the purpose of this amendment which you are offering?

Mr. McGINNIS. It came from the Attorney General's Office. It protects the payer whereby if he pays all that is due, no judgment nor anything else is necessary.

Mr. MAHANY. I understand this to be a suggestion from the Department of Justice that would approve this bill, is that correct?

Mr. McGINNIS. That could be.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 130, (Pink,) on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING, AMENDMENT OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 141, entitled.

An Act requiring that meetings of the governing body of authorities be open to the public

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to offer the following amendment to Senate Bill No. 141. The purpose of the amendment is to provide for notice to the public when these meetings will be held.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 2, by inserting after "public" A public notice setting forth the time and place of the meeting shall be posted in a conspicuous place at the location where the meeting is to be held at least ten days prior to the date of any meeting.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, upon first looking at this amendment, I believe that I oppose it inasmuch as it might well be that we might want to have a special meeting of the Authority and probably we would not want to wait ten days. There is a possibility that it may be urgent. There might be a necessity for an emergency meeting and to wait ten days may result in a chaos of some type.

I feel that, under the circumstances, this amendment is not necessary. If it is a regular meeting, then everyone would have notice of when the meeting would be held. If it is a special meeting that must be called in a hurry, then this would defeat the purpose of having the special emergency meeting.

Therefore, Mr. President, I oppose the amendment.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to refer the Majority Leader to the recent court decisions that have been handed down in these matters, whereby if you are stating what this bill states and trying to do what the purported purpose of this bill is, which is to allow the public to attend any of the meetings of these different Authorities and you give them no notice, I think you are not accomplishing the purpose of this bill.

Secondly, there is no pride of authorship nor is ten days a magic word. If you would like to have twenty days, five days or three days or any other number of days, I think the public should have some notice. Otherwise, there is no reason for the public to be present at these meetings. They will never know there is a meeting going on.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, for the information of the Members of the Senate, I wish to advise that Judge O'Brien recently ruled in Allegheny County that all Authority meetings must be open to the public. I think you should consider that when debating this legislation. Of course, that is a court decision and it has been in all the newspapers.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Does this mean that when the General State Authority meets, everybody is permitted to come into the meeting?

Mr. MAHANY. All are welcome, Senator Barr. However, I would object to this ten days' notice. Sometimes we have to have a meeting of the General State Authority within twenty-four hours. There might be something we would like to have done in a hurry and this would prevent us from holding such a meeting. The Governor might decide, for instance, tomorrow, that he would like to have a meeting of the General State Authority, and we would go over and have the meeting. If we adopt this, we would have to have ten days' notice before we could hold this meeting.

Mr. BARR. I agree with you; I think ten days is too long.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the Majority Floor Leader tell us what he would consider a fair amount or number of days in order to give the public notice so they could be present at these meetings, should they so see fit?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am not the sponsor of this bill, and I have no particular ideas on it. I feel, perhaps, that if there is any controversy over the provision relative to giving notice, then we should refer the bill back to committee and have the committee thrash that out.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the Majority Floor Leader consider these amendments or would it make him happier if we inserted a further amendment making it read, "a regular meeting" or "regular meetings" so all the contingencies of an emergency meeting would be taken care of?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, taking the General State Authority, of which I am a member, as an example, we do not have any regular meeting dates. We are called at the request of the President of the General State Authority, who is the Governor of the Commonwealth. We are notified from time to time when we will have these meetings. We hold special meetings sometimes when something arises which needs our attention. We really do not have what you might call regular meeting dates of the General State Authority.

Under those conditions, Mr. President, I do not think you should put this limitation on, the way it is set forth in the amendment.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the Majority Floor Leader suggest to this Senate that there be no notice given to the public? Is that what he is asking us to do?

Mr. MAHANY. Usually, the public has notice of everything we do in the General State Authority meetings. If we pass this legislation, the newspaper people will probably be there and will cover the meeting very well for the general public.

I cannot imagine that if we had ten day's notice, there would be many of the average citizens come to the meeting. They are usually represented by the members of the press. I think that if what you are trying to reach here. You are trying to make these meetings open in order for the press to be there to cover the business which comes before the meeting. In that way, the reading public will have notice of what has been done.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. President, if this amendment is not put into the bill, or an amendment similar to this, you will merely have an act of this Assembly stating that:

"All meetings of the governing body of every authority created pursuant to any act of the General Assembly shall be open to the public."

Mr. President, how is the public going to know when these meetings are to be held, where they are to be held or what is going on at these meetings? I think one of the problems involved in any of these Authorities is the fact that they have been doing many things on their own and have become sort of a government unto themselves. We, nor the average citizen, do not know what is going on until either a probe is made because of some misdoings or non-doings of the Authority or else things have gotten into a state that they are quite upset about the entire thing and somebody must either make a judicial probe or a legislative probe.

I cannot see the reason for not allowing the public to have some notice of some type. Without it, the public does not have any idea when these meetings will take place or even where to go when the meetings are being held. I am not asking, nor is any Member asking, that they give notice in the newspapers or advertise or do anything which would prove costly. We are merely asking that a notice be placed on the bulletin board of the Authority headquarters so that any citizen can walk in and read it off the bulletin board. Then, if he wishes to or takes an interest, he can be present at these meetings.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, as one of the sponsors of the bill and with a definite idea of what we are trying to accomplish—and I am certainly in sympathy with what Senator Weiner is trying to do—I would like to suggest to Senator Weiner, if he will, that he withdraw the amendment. We will put the bill over in order and he, Senator Dent, Senator Whalley, Senator Harney, Senator Mahany and anyone else who is interested, can sit down together in the next day or two and draw something up which will be agreeable to everybody.

AMENDMENT WITHDRAWN

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, at the suggestion of my colleague, Senator Fleming, I will be very happy to go along with that suggestion, and I now withdraw my amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 141, (Pink,) on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED PURSUANT TO HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 1

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of the following committee, pursuant to House Concurrent Resolution

No. 1: the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Scott; the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming; and the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 61, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code," changing existing maximum gross weights and annual registration fees and establishing additional registration classes and fixing their annual registration fees and maximum gross weights for commercial motor vehicles and truck tractors.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to give two jobs to my colleague, Senator Dent, and I want to tell him what they are before I ask him whether he will do them or not.

The first job is to find out from the Secretary of Property and Supplies how much the average cost of the cars were which were bought by the State under the new purchase plan and how much the average price was for which they sold these cars.

There was some plan a year or so ago that we were giong to make some money on this new plan of purchasing cars. Now I note that there has been a question as to whether or not we were making money on it or losing money and if so, how much.

I note that the Governor has a little item in his budget of, I think, $6,000,000 to purchase cars, which is more money than we have ever had in a Budget for this purpose before.

I would like to have the Senator get in touch with the Secretary of Property and Supplies and find out how this plan is working, and whether or not we are making the money that we thought we would make when we passed this plan a couple of years ago.

The other job I would like to have him do, and report back to us, is to find out about our newly made Member of the Turnpike Commission, Mr. Williamson.

It was my understanding when I had a conference with Mr. Williamson, and I believe Senator Dent was there at the time we interviewed him, that Mr. Williamson stated he would not be on two payrolls; that he was going to divorce himself from one or take a leave of absence so that he would not be on the payroll of the State University and he would not, at the same time, be on the payroll of the Turnpike Commission.

I would like to have the Senator find out whether or not Mr. Williamson is on both of those payrolls and if so, if the arrangement is according to the understanding which he and I had at the time we interviewed him and subsequently confirmed his appointment as a Member of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Those are two jobs I have for you, Senator. Would you undertake to find out these things and report back to us?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I shall be happy to direct the question for information on the automobile purchase plan, and how it is operating and the benefits that may derive to the Commonwealth to the Secretary of Property and Supplies immediately.

On the second question concerning Professor Williamson, from Penn State, and his understanding that he would only be on one payroll, I can assure you, Senator, that the Democratic Caucus interviewed Mr. Williamson the same as your group did and that question was asked Mr. Williamson, and he definitely stated to all of us that he had no intention of being on two payrolls, and it was not his intention.

At that time I was talking to the Governor, while we were in Caucus, and I asked the Governor what the plan was on this question that came up before our caucus, and the Governor assured me, and I, in turn, assured the Caucus that the Governor said that Mr. Williamson would serve in but one capacity and that would be on the Turnpike Commission, if we confirmed him, and would only draw one State pay.

I will try to find out if there is anything different. I know of nothing to the contrary.

Mr. MAHANY. I would call Senator Dent's attention to the fact that the Governor, through the public press, has stated that it was his idea that Mr. Williamson would be on both payrolls; that he understood that Mr. Williamson is going to continue on in some capacity at Penn State and draw some money from Penn State, and also would draw some money from the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

If the Governor has been misquoted in the press, I would like to find out whether or not that is so. On the other hand, if he has been correctly quoted, I would like also to know that.

Mr. DENT. I shall do my best to get the information and present it to the Senate.

So that we may set a definite time for this celebration, I move that the ceremonies in connection with the celebration of President Lincoln's birthday in the Senate be held at 3:00 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, on Tuesday, February 12, 1957.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 8, Printer's No. 16, entitled "An act making an appropriation to the House of Representatives and to the Senate for payment of expenses of members and Senators," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time wishes to make a very short statement concerning a declaration of policy for the future operation of this House.

The Committee on Rules has recommended a schedule for House sessions on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays during the remainder of the month of February.

The Rules provide that on the appearance of a quorum the Speaker shall proceed with the business of the House.

Some of our Members are apparently under a misapprehension that the business required to be done by this House is represented by the number of bills currently appearing on the calendar. They reason that if there are few or no bills on the calendar, sessions should be deferred until there is a full calendar.

This as you know, is far from the truth, since there are 31 standing committees (the work shops of the House), whose constitutional duty and responsibility it is to produce legislation for the consideration of the House. These committees cannot function unless the Members are here to attend committee meetings.

The Chair now goes on record and serves notice that, as long as he is your Speaker, no business will be conducted in this House in the absence of a quorum.

On the first day of January each of us here in this very Hall took the constitutional oath that we would perform the duties of our office with fidelity. Many of us, in campaigning for election to this body, promised our constituents we would not be absentee Members of the House.

In years past, first Wednesday sessions, then later Thursday sessions, were attended only by the faithful few. Empty chairs in large numbers were in evidence on both sides of the House.

It is neither right nor just that those Members who conscientiously perform their duties should shoulder the responsibility for carrying on the public business while an overwhelming number of Members deliberately walk out before the House has adjourned for the week to return to their homes and their private business without requesting a leave of absence. Ask yourselves, is it fair that a handful of Members of this House should stay here in an attempt to carry on the legislative business and, in so doing, subject themselves to public criticism?

Each of us, as a result of the increased compensation provided by the 1955 Legislature, is now adequately paid for the time spent here. Let us remember the commitment on which this pay bill was enacted. Was it not to make it financially possible for us to remain in Harrisburg to do our work? Surely there is now no excuse for our not doing so.

A Member who hereafter absents himself from a session of this House without being excused from attendance by the House will do so at his own peril.

May I repeat, if at any time this House is without a quorum, there will be no business transacted. Members who are present may take whatever action they elect under the Constitution and the Rules of Procedure for a call of the House.

Consent calendar Wednesdays and Thursdays, or on any other day, are at an end. We have a mandate from those at home who elected us to stay on the job and get it done. We propose, with your support and your help, to do just that.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am sure that we all listened to your statement with a great deal of interest and with a great deal of pride in the Speaker that he has taken this very strong forward step in a good-faith plan to eliminate what we call the consent calendar.

I know that many of us who have been here on a Wednesday or a Thursday with just a few people in this House, and having passed bills of great importance to the people of this state on a consent calendar, I am sure we were not ashamed of ourselves—I will not say that—but we just did not like it too well even though they were not of a controversial nature.

We want to get out of here as soon as we can, as we have repeatedly said, in a short well-run Session. One way to do it is for all of us to be here on a full business day on a Wednesday or the last day of the week so that the newspapermen will not be able in their papers to say, "Well, again the House of Representatives passed a bill appropriating "X" number dollars with only fourteen people in the House."

If there is one way that we can raise the esteem of the people of this state in their Legislature, it is being here on the job, doing the job well and faithfully. You know that is one thing we must do, restore the faith and confidence of the people in their Legislatures. After all we are a great bulwark in our democracy. We are the voice of the people and they expect us to be here to do the job.

As I say, I congratulate the Speaker, and I believe that we will all back him to the hilt and be here on the last day of the week to do a good job as we are expected to do.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to add my word of commendation to the position taken by the Chair in this matter.

I agree one hundred percent that we should stay here during working days and that we should have only working days while we are here. I do not know whether we acquired bad habits over the years that have gone by. Perhaps it was always fundamentally wrong that we had the so-called consent calendars. As the Speaker has so well pointed out, one of the reasons we had some of those was because of the habit the Members had acquired of simply leaving without telling anybody they were going and without asking anybody's leave.

I assure you that the Members of the minority party are going to cooperate one hundred percent with this new setup. If we have any renegades on this side who will not cooperate. We assure you that in caucus we will do our utmost to make them understand that we are here to work on the days we have sessions, and we assure you of our cooperation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, the Speaker has announced a program, the consummation of which is devoutedly wished. However, the Speaker in and of himself is simply the agent of this House, and in order to establish his program he must needs have the cooperation of the House.

The older Members will recall the fact that at various times in the past there was a call of the House and the suggestion that the absentees be sent for, but in every such instance there were Members prepared to offer an excuse, or to make a motion that further proceedings under the call of the House be dispensed with which rendered the Speaker impotent as far as compelling attendance is concerned.

I believe in conformity with the program that the Speaker has announced it should be our policy to sustain the Speaker to the extent of declaring those who are not present without a valid excuse—and I emphasize the words "valid excuse"—be declared in contempt until they have purged themselves of the contempt.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 57, entitled:

An Act amending "The Penal Code," approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), prohibiting sales by publishers or distributors of magazines, newspapers, periodicals or other publications which require purchase of other such publications.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 10, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 7, 1901 (P. L. 20), entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class," providing for minority party representation in council.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 17, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 12 1935 (P. L. 677) entitled "An act to fix the status of officers and employees of the Commonwealth and political subdivisions thereof while in training with the armed forces of the United States" including members of the United States Coast Guard Reserve.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 62, entitled:

An Act amending the "County Institution District Law" approved June 24 1937 (P. L. 2017) authorizing the granting of financial assistance by deferred loan or otherwise to political subdivisions or municipality authorities for construction of water supply system with service available to an institution of the district.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Guthrie.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Guthrie, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GUTHRIE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain the meaning of this amendment he is proposing. I am raising this question on second reading because I am of the opinion that probably some other amendments are necessary to this bill, which would have to be made on second reading. I would like him to make an explanation of this bill.

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean an explanation of the bill? There is not an amendment at this time.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am speaking of the bill itself which amends the law.

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman want to know what the bill does?

Mr. READINGER. That is right.

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, the bill permits the county commissioners to advance 20 percent of the cost of planning an authority to the local subdivision such as a township, that money to be returned as the authority is completed.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that this bill means that the county would not get the money back for a period of 20 years, if that is the amortization period of the authority creating the water supply?

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the bill before me, but I do know that the money is returned to the county commissioners; the county is not out any money. How that money is to be returned, or at what time, I am not prepared to say right at the moment.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I suggest that this bill be put over temporarily. I think it requires some study and, possibly further amendments to protect the county's position in cases where they might want to assist these institution districts or these water authorities. I am not trying to delay the bill, but I do think it needs some amendments and I ask for a slight delay.

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to agree to pass it over.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the section?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the second reading postponed calendar.
The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 76, entitled:

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 159, entitled:

An Act reenacting and amending the act of July 20, 1953 (P. L. 550) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the annexation of parts of a second class township to boroughs cities and townships" eliminating from the provisions of the act cities of the second and second classe A * * *

The first section was read.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?
The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, rise?
Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, this is a Local Government Commission bill and I do not see the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, in the House. I believe the gentleman intends to offer amendments, is that correct?
Mr. PETROSKY. Yes, sir.
Mr. JOHNSON. I have received the amendments, but I have not been able to clear them, as it were, with any member of the Commission. I am wondering if we can pass this bill over, or place it on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, pending a study of the amendments.
On the question recurring,

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 7, entitled as follows:

An Act amending "The Penal Code" approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), making it unlawful to knowingly listen into deliberations of juries.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentleman advise us whether he thinks this bill is necessary in view of the status of the present law on the subject?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentleman tell us in what respect the present law is insufficient to control the situation or punish any offenders?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I know of no law on the statute books which prevents eavesdropping on juries.

I have written an article concerning this legislation which was published in the Dickinson Law review in the March 1956 issue.

I do not want to go into extreme technical details on it, but from the court opinions themselves they define clearly the rights of the district attorney before a grand jury. They define the rights of a judge who might go into a jury room, and there are a couple cases on that.

Furthermore what brought this about was the eavesdropping with reference to the fund of the Ford Foundation in the Federal Courts in the Midwest. In those cases the men who did the eavesdropping and who made the tape recordings with concealed microphones without the knowledge of the jurors had the prior approval of the courts. That was most reprehensible.

During the last session of Congress it saw to it that legislation was passed to prevent a recurrence of the eavesdropping on juries in Federal Courts. This will prohibit the same thing in our state courts.

Mr. READINGER. Do I understand that this bill means that a court could not give permission to any person to listen to the discussion of a jury?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right.

Mr. READINGER. Is it your understanding that under the present law no court has the right to give such permission now?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, with what happened, and the probability that some judge might get that notion, I thought we would just put a stop-gap in and prevent it.

Mr. READINGER. Does the gentleman know of any instance where this has happened in Pennsylvania with or without court permission?

Mr. TOMPKINS. There are instances where the court itself has gone before the jury, and the Supreme Court has very severely criticized them for it. There are instances where the district attorney has remained in the grand jury room, and the courts have very severely criticized them for it.

These cases point it out very clearly. This particular article was put into the Legislative Journal last year—I cannot give you the page reference on it, but the complete article is there, Mr. Speaker—with the idea that some judge might get that notion and with the idea that some district attorney might want to stay in on he deliberations, or some judge might go into the jury room during deliberation. I think it is a necessary piece of legislation to protect the deliberations of juries. If a juror gets the notion that he cannot freely discuss a case, it is going to break down the very fundamentals of our system of jurisprudence.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman one further question?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, sir.

Mr. READINGER. Do the courts not now in Pennsylvania have the power to punish for contempt any person who would eavesdrop on the discussions of a jury?

Mr. TOMPKINS. They may, but I do not know.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask one further question? Suppose a tipstaff were stationed near the door of a petit jury and the jurors in their work became so enthused in their discussion that their voices were quite audible outside the door, would the gentleman not say that the tipstaff would be knowingly listening to this conversation, or talk, and therefore would become guilty of a misdemeanor?

Mr. TOMPKINS. If he places himself in a position in relation to the jury room where he deliberately wants to try to listen in, yes, that would be a violation. But if at this station they engage in conversation loud enough that he might hear, and if he has not knowingly and deliberately put himself in that position. I would say no, that is not a violation.

If the gentleman will recall, a similar bill was passed during the last Session. In the rush of the final days with respect to the amendment, the Printer did not get the word "knowingly" before the attempt to listen in on juries, and the Governor vetoed it for that reason.

This specifically has in it the word "knowingly" before "listening in" or "attempting to listen in" and corrects the objections which the Governor raised in his veto.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote against this bill on the grounds that I do not think it is necessary legislation. I believe the courts now have adequate powers to control the activities of anybody who tries to listen to grand jury, petit jury or special jury proceedings with an intent which would militate against the best welfare of the judicial system and the jury system.

The case which I just cited, while it might be extreme, probably happens frequently where a court official, such as a tipstaff, is directed to sit near the door of a jury room to keep anybody from going in or going out who is not authorized to be there. If he hears anything that is being said, he is knowingly listening because he knows he is there and he knows he is listening and is hearing. Conceivably he could be charged with being guilty of a misdemeanor and could be convicted under this statute.

I know it is not an important point I am raising and probably never result in a prosecution of any kind, but it could.

I am leery of expanding the law creating crimes where the law already adequately protects the proceedings. I am going to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. ANDREWS. If I am in order at this time, I should like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Majority Leader whether the majority has in mind to fortify the Appropriations Committee with an adequate technical staff?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, we have had conferences with the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations and he is at the present time addressing himself to that very problem which the gentleman mentions. He expects to have an adequate staff to do a thorough auditing job on the budget so that we can get the job done expeditiously and know what is in that budget when they get through.

Mr. ANDREWS. A further question: Are there funds immediately available with which to finance such a staff?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would say that he does not have enough funds to do the contemplated job, that is true, and an appropriation bill would be in order after the amount of money needed has been ascertained.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have long contended that the major committees of this House cannot possibly adequately contend with the problems that confront them, lacking adequate technical staffs.

I have been in the House for quite a number of years, I have sat in meetings of the Appropriations Committee. They all have lacked technical assistance and have not been in a position to analyze the various items of the budget item by item. It is impossible to pass upon a line-by-line budget unless line by line is examined and there is a force at hand to conduct the research necessary to properly inform the members of the Committee.

If the majority decides to adequately fortify the Appropriations Committee with a technical staff, I certainly will urge the Members on this side of the House to support the appropriation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. VARNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, last Thursday the Governor said every state employe must turn in an honest day's work before he can take outside employment.

This article appeared in the Oil City, Pa., Derrick, a daily newspaper.

> And he made it plain that any outside job must not conflict in any way with 40 hours a week of official state duties.
> Anyone who has (outside) conflicting activities that interfere with his state job will be asked to resign or be dismissed, the Governor declared at his weekly news conference.

Nearly two years ago on March 29, 1955, the following story appeared in the Clarion Democrat, Clarion, Pa., with the headline:

> Editor of Democrat Named to State Post.
> The Hon. John R. Torquato, Secretary of Labor and Industry in Governor George M. Leader's cabinet, has announced the appointment of Walter L. Smith, editor of the Clarion Democrat, to a position in the Department of Labor and Industry.
> Mr. Smith, whose home is at 74 South Fourth Avenue, Clarion, will serve as an inspector for the State Workmen's Insuarnce Fund in an area embracing several counties. He will report to the Hon. Samuel Gunnett Neff, former State Senator from Beaver County, who is now manager of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.
> The Clarion man's appointment, which was made in Harrisburg last Tuesday, will not conflict with his editorship of the Clarion Democrat and of the Clarion Conveyor, a tabloid newspaper published every other week for the employes of the Clarion plant of Owens-Illinois.

I wanted to call this to the attention of the Governor's office and the people of Pennsylvania because the Governor has now come to the conclusion that this kind of people should be dismissed, and with that I concur.

SENATE

TUESDAY, February 12, 1957.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. E. HAROLD MILLER, Pastor of The First Methodist Church, Duquesne, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Our Father and our God, we come once more into this the sanctuary of law and order, refreshed by the memories that this twelfth day of February brings to all thinking men, regardless of party affiliation. We come thanking Thee for the inspiration that memory of him awakens within us; for the spirit of brotherhood that the needs of his life revitalizes in our hearts.

We would, therefore, pray that as we seek for the answers to the complex problems which so often are ours with which to deal, that we will not strive in our own poor strength alone. We would remember that He who was greater than any of us sought, without ceasing, Thy divine guidance with ever fervent zeal.

Give unto us, therefore, again to realize that without Thee we can do nothing of lasting value, but with Thee as our constant Guide and Helper, all things are possible.

Bless us then in this hour and in every hour as we strive with Thy help to make for this and every day one which shall be worthy of Thy divine approval, for Thy Name sake, we pray. Amen.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

He also presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., February 12, 1957.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

No laws, however wise, can take the place of honest public servants devoted to ethical principles and dedicated to the best interests of those they serve.

We shall always need men and women of high personal integrity in our elected and appointed offices; and for the most part, this Commonwealth has been exceedingly fortunate in getting them.

But given honest and able public servants, we still must provide the good laws under which good government flourishes.

I recommend two such bills to this Legislature.

The first defines and regulates conflicts of interest on the part of State officials and employes. An analysis of the proposed bill is attached to this message.

St. Matthew said that "no man can serve two masters."

By the same token, no public servant can serve the general weal and his own self-interest in those cases where the two are unalterably opposed to one another.

In many cases, these clashes of interest are obvious and unmistakable.

In other cases, the issue is far from being open-and-shut, and honest men find it hard to decide whether a course of action is proper or improper.

It is in the hope of defining the unmistakable conflict and of throwing light on the twilight area of conduct that we propose this legislation.

A great many conflicts of interest are unavoidable, of course. A member of this Assembly who votes on a tax law is affecting his own tax payment as well as everyone else's.

But in the twilight area of which I spoke, there are also conflicts of interest which, as things now stand, can only be resolved in terms of individual judgment.

This, then, is the problem: how are we to separate the unavoidable conflicts of interest from the dubious and the venal?

The proposed bill attempts to make that separation in clear and unmistakable fashion.

I might mention that a number of Departments in the State have long been aware of the dangers inherent in conflicts of interest. The Department of Justice, for example, has for some years prohibited its salaried attorneys from appearing for the defense in criminal cases, or from representing any plaintiff in an action against the State or a State agency. But it has taken such action through administrative decree.

This bill would clarify, define, and punish violations of the law. I strongly urge its adoption.

The second legislative act I propose would require the registration of lobbyists and a public accounting of their expenditures.

I believe that the people of this Commonwealth have the right to know officially what person and what interest is attempting to influence legislation and public policy in Pennsylvania. And I believe the people of this State have a right to know what sums of money are being spent to exert that influence.

Lobbyists represent pressure groups. As such they provide a real service in directing and stimulating expressions of opionion by their membership and other interested persons.

In presenting the opinions of a group, in bringing before the members of the General Assembly an expert knowledge of that group's opinion, they often perform an invaluable function.

The danger of such pressure groups, of course, is that they may sometimes bring about the subordination of the over-all interest to the interests of the articulate and well-organized few.

In any case, I feel that this proposed bill will spotlight their activities in a manner that cannot fail to benefit the cause of good government.

If lobbyists are required to register and account for what they spend, it cannot fail to help the legislators themselves, and the members of the press whose unofficial job it is to help guard the interests of the people.

Certainly I find it difficult to believe that the members of this Assembly could argue against this good government measure.

Pressure groups have their place in the legislative scheme of things. But so long as they seek to influence legislation, they should be required to make their activities public.

Such a law has been on the Federal Government's books since 1946, and a number of state governments have adopted similar legislation since that time.

The bills which I here recommend possess a quality in common:

Both seek to protect the welfare of the many from erosion for the benefit of a few.

In one case, we seek to limit the action of a public servant who finds himself at cross-purposes with the over-all good of the Commonwealth.

In the other, we seek to identify pressure groups clearly enough so that the most expert techniques of persuasion, and the most substantial of bank accounts, will not subordinate the general welfare to the particular goals of a few.

Together, these bills strike at the heart of special interest government-whether on the part of the individual or the pressure group.

Together, their enactment cannot fail to increase the confidence of Pennsylvania's citizens in their State Government and in its desire to serve all of them honestly and well.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

Subject: Conflict of Interest Bill

To: Hon. George M. Leader, Governor of Pennsylvania

From: Hon. Thomas D. McBride, Attorney General

The proposed conflict of interest act is designed to delineate clearly the boundary between permissible and prohibited action by State officers, employes and legislators in matters involving the State. It accomplishes this goal by treating three broad areas of possible conflict: (1) representation during a period of service or employment; (2) sale of goods or services to the State during a period of service or employment; and (3) representation subsequent to a period of service or employment. Prohibitions with respect to the first two areas of activity also cover firms, partnerships, associations and corporations in which such State officer, employe or legislator is a member of stockholder. However, representation in one's own behalf is permitted.

Both the Federal and New York statutes have been studied in drafting the proposed act, but neither is identical to the recommended legislation for Pennsylvania. While New York's format of a separate conflict of interest statute has been adopted rather than the Federal approach of adding relevant sections to the penal code, the latter's more realistic substantive coverage has been preferred to New York's looser treatment. For example, New York bans representation by State officials during their service or employment only on a contingent fee basis; whereas, in both the Federal and Pennsylvania views, a conflict of interest is not dependent on the contingency of the compensation.

A section by section analysis of the bill will prove helpful in understanding its scope and application.

Section 1 is the short title and needs no explanation.

Section 2 contains definitions and makes explicit the broad meanings to be given to the terms defined. "Agency of the Commonwealth" includes not only State Departments, but also departmental boards and commissions (e.g. Board of Pardons), independent boards and commissions (e.g. Liquor Control Board) and independent instrumentalities (e.g. Turnpike Commission, General State Authority). "Prohibited person" includes corporations in which the officer's, employe's or legislator's stock ownership is indirect (e.g. stock owned by wife) as well as direct.

Section 3 deals with representation during service or employment. Subsection (a) prohibits the performance of compensated services in relation to any matter either pending before a State agency or in which such agency is involved. This includes informal contacts and conferences, formal hearings and court proceedings. However, the subsection makes it clear that such prohibition does not apply where the matter involved is ministerial and not discretionary in nature, such as the filing of a tax return with the Department of Revenue or of articles of incorporation with the Department of State. If, subsequently, however, the tax return is questioned by the State and an adverse situation develops, futher representation would be prohibited.

Subsection (b) deals with certain lobbying activities. No prohibited person may lobby or otherwise perform services in relation to any matter or bill before the General Assembly if he receives any compensation therefor other than that received from the Commonwealth in the course of his service or employment. This exception for official compensation is necessary so that, for example, an executive officer of the State may urge passage of a bill desired by his Department, an activity in which he may rightfully engage.

Section 4 treats the sale of goods or services to the State by prohibited persons. Such sales, as is explicitly stated in the section, are completely prohibited.

Limitations on representation by an officer or employe of a State agency—but not by a legislator or officer or employe of the legislature—following the termination of his service or employment are common features of conflict of interest laws, and section 5 attempts to detail specifically what is prohibted. Any appearance before a State agency or transaction of business with a State agency or receipt of compensation for services rendered is prohibited if the matter involved is either one of two types: (a) a matter which the officer or employe handled or participated in personally during his service or employment regardless of which agency the matter was before or in at the time or (b) a matter which was before or in the agency in which the officer or employe served or was employed during the period of his service or employment regardless of whether he personally handled the matter. Since a criminal offense is involved, however, knowledge at the time the officer or employe subsequently makes his appearance or transacts his business or receives his compensation that the matter had been before or in his agency during his period of service or employment is required before penalties can be imposed. In all cases, the prohibition is limited to a period of two years following service or employment.

One exception is made to the restrictions of section 5. Occasionally, a person may leave State service or employment who, subsequently, is needed by the State to aid it in dealing with a matter handled by him during his period of service or employment. He may be retained by the State and make any appearance, transact any business and receive compensation pursuant to his retention without violating the provisions of section 5.

Section 6 is an implementation section requiring every State agency to keep a record of appearances before it at any hearing, investigation or inquiry which it may conduct.

Section 7 is a penalty provision. Any violation of the prohibition sections of the act is a misdemeanor carrying a fine up to one thousand dollars or imprisonment up to one year or both. In addition, representation or sale of goods or services during a period of employment requires removal from office or employment and subsequent disbarment from office or employment when a person is convicted of such representation or sale.

Because of the intricacies which arise in making specific application of the act, the Attorney General is empowered to promulgate rules and regulations under the act. These rules and regulations will provide more detailed guides of conduct for persons falling under the act's restrictions and more easily enable him to chart his activities.

In order that a reasonable time may be given following enactment to study the acts provisions and scope, section 9 provides that the act shall not become effective until ninety days after enactment.

Mr. STEVENSON, on behalf of Mr. WALKER, from the Committee on Local Government, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Lane, McMenamin and Donolow on January 22, 1957, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE RISING COSTS OF RECORDING LEGAL DOCUMENTS

In the Senate, January 22, 1957.

It has come to the attention of the Senate that the cost of recording deeds, papers for estates, and all other legal documents has been steadily rising.

It is contended, that these costs in the Commonwealth are much higher than in most other states of the Union.

The matter of rising costs of recording legal documents constitute a great burden upon the ability of small estates and less affluent persons to pay; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Local Government Commission be directed to make a thorough study and investigation on the problem of rising costs of recording legal documents. The Commission should compare the costs of administering comparable recording services in other states and should consider the impact that these costs have upon smaller estates and persons in lower income brackets, and be it further

Resolved, That the Local Government Commission submit a report to His Excellency the Governor and to the Senate of its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry these recommendations into effect.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO ESCORT THE GOVERNOR TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the Sergeant-at-arms.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. President, I have the honor of presenting a committee on behalf of the Senate.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I have the honor of presenting His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thanks the committee, and invites the Governor to the rostrum.

MEMBERS OF BOY SCOUT TROOPS PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I would like to present to you, and to the Members of the Senate and to the Governor as well some distinguished guests, although it is hardly necessary to present them this afternoon to the President or the Governor, because you both honored us at a luncheon.

The particular guests I refer to are members of Boy Scout Troops throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who are here in Harrisburg for an official visit. These young men have been selected from their Scout areas and, as I said a moment ago, have just attended a luncheon at which you and the Governor honored us with your presence.

These young men are students of government and each and everyone has distinguished himself by advancement in Scout Troops.

I am happy, therefore, Mr. President, to present them to you if you will extend a word of greeting to them, please.

The PRESIDENT. Will the members of the Boy Scouts of America please stand in order for the Members of the Senate to see how many of you are represented here?

On behalf of the Governor and also the Members of the Senate, I want to say to the Boy Scouts that we are honored to have you with us this afternoon. We hope that you will enjoy your little visit here with us today and will come back again at a later date.

CEREMONIES COMMEMORATING THE BIRTHDAY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

The PRESIDENT. The time for the ceremonies commemorating the birthday of Abraham Lincoln having arrived, the Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Walker.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, His Excellency the Governor, Fellow Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

As we pause in our duties as members of the Senate to pay reverence to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, the sixteenth President of the United States, who was born this day in the year 1809, I am sure we do so united in our belief that few men in recorded history have left such a rich heritage to posterity.

Throughout the length and breadth of this great land of ours, yes throughout the world, today men pause, reflect, and again study the short life of this man who truly was one who pulled himself up by his own bootstraps, and left for all a pattern in living, loving, and serving that grows in beauty and magnitude with each succeeding year.

Lincoln has properly become a legend for decent, honest and faithful service as an individual as well as a public servant.

The story of his ancestry and his Pennsylvania roots is a source of pride to all Pennsylvanians as well it may be. Time permits only a few passing references, but it is established that the story of the Pennsylvania Lincolns originated with the brothers Mordecai and Abraham Lincoln, who came to our Commonwealth from New Jersey in the year 1720.

Mordecai Lincoln eventually settled in Berks County, and was the great, great-grandfather of President Lincoln.

Abraham's descendants took up their abode in Philadelphia, and some of them still reside at Darby on the southern outskirts of that city.

On at least three occasions, President Lincoln visited Philadelphia. He was there in June 1848 to attend the National Whig Convention; and again in 1861, enroute from Springfield, Illinois to Washington, D. C., where he was to be inaugurated President of these United States; and again in the year 1864 when he was the guest of honor at a Sanitary Fair. After his death, his body was viewed lying in state at both Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

Other points in Pennsylvania where Lincoln is known to have delivered addrseses are Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Lancaster and, of course, Gettysburg. There he spoke more eloquently than any other man has ever spoken in the English tongue. He did not know, when he spoke at Lancaster, that his own grandfather was born in Lancaster County, or in the adjacent County of Berks, and married a Berks County Girl named Ann Boone, who, incidentally, was a Quaker and a sister or an aunt of the famed pioneer, Daniel Boone. History tells us that his grandfather, the grandfather of our beloved President, was killed in an Indian massacre in the year 1786 at Hughes Station in Kentucky, about twenty miles east of Louisville.

Lincoln's formal education totaled about one year, but his insatiable hunger for knowledge, fed by a prodigious, life-long dedication to good reading, developed Lincoln into a brilliant lawyer, and he earned for himself the reputation of being the outstanding trial lawyer in the Eighth Judicial Circuit of Illinois. His desire to be of help to his fellow man led him into politics, the Legislature, Congress and the Presidency.

Lincoln was a most unusual man, standing six feet four inches in height and weighing about two hundred pounds. No man has ever looked into that face, or its likeness in stone or photograph, and failed to be impressed with his genuine sincerity, goodness and mercy. His hands have been preserved for posterity, and casts of them can be seen in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C. They, too, are eloquent of the greatness, devotion and love of, in my humble opinion, the greatest citizen of our great Nation in all time. Few folks ever view the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., and see the likeness of Abraham Lincoln sitting in his chair without a resurgence of patriotism and devotion to the principles for which he gave his all.

In a lifetime of study of history, I know of no man who began life in humbler surroundings and rose to the pinnacle of his government, and who has left so much for all of us to emulate. To him, obstacles that defeat too many of us became stepping stones to greater usefulness to his fellow man. His recorded quotes and phrases are as appropriate today as when spoken about a hundred years ago. They carry, it seems to me, almost a biblical overtone in usefulness and truth that makes them bywords almost every day of our lives.

His simplicity of speech is best exemplified by his world famous Gettysburg Address, today known to every schoolroom and pupil. Edward Everett, the brilliant orator who was the principal scheduled speaker at this ceremony for the dedication of the Battlefield at Gettysburg, wrote President Lincoln the day following the exercise and said in part:

"Permit me also to express my great admiration of the thoughts expressed by you, with such eloquent simplicity and appropriateness, at the consecration of the cemetery. I should be glad if I could flatter myself that I came as near the central idea of the occasion in two hours as you did in two minutes."

President Loncoln's reply was as gracious as Mr. Everett's compliment. He wrote:

"I am pleased to know that in your judgment the little I did say was not entirely a failure. I knew Mr. Everett would not fail."

In closing, I wonder if we may not take stock of our own responsibilities. In Lincoln's day, the issue was "Freedom Versus Slavery." Today, as I see it, the issue is still the same, "A Free World Versus Communist Enslavement." In Lincoln's day, our young Nation was the battleground on which this issue was decided.

Today the world is the battleground but in each case, freedom and the survival of the Nation is the issue. Lincoln made the Nation safe and freedom secure. Today, we are determined to do no less for ourselves and for the world.

This, nothing less, is the labor to which we are called and our strength dedicated. These words reach back through the years to the man whose memory we honor today, and the echo comes back to us strongly in Lincoln's well known words:

"With malice towards none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

The PRESIDENT. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, to me this is the greatest honor in being selected to deit in the Senate was in 1943, the year "Colonel Dent" became the leader of the Democratic Minority. I believe it was in 1943 when "Colonel Barr" served his first term in the Senate.

It is very difficult to find new material for the delivery of this address. However, Mr. President, I believe now is a propitious moment to call to your attention that His Excellency, the President of the United States, proclaimed preparations for the celebration and commemoration of the Centennial of the Civil War. I believe Pennsylvania should also be the vanguard of this movement, because Pennsylvania has been the arsenal of democracy in America which contributed a lion's share to the victory of the Union.

For this reason, Mr. President, it is proper now, during this current Session of the General Assembly, to select such a commission that would evaluate the contributions of Pennsylvania to the victory of the Union. I envision liver the Lincoln Day Address. The first time I delivered a whole shelf of books dealing with Pennsylvania's contributions and, of course, a commemorative year in the celebration because it was on the soil of Pennsylvania that the Confederate Army was crushed.

Gettysburg, as the selection of the Gettysburg Battlefield, was accidental due to a young Confederate Lieutenant who found a supply of boots in a store in Gettysburg and decided to come back, and he became enmeshed in a battle with the vanguards of the Union Army. As a result of that, the Gettysburg Battle was held in a terrain which was not advantageous to the Confederate Army. If it had not been Gettysburg, it would have been a different locality in Pennsylvania because the gray fox of the Confederacy, General Lee, came to Pennsylvania not to invade the North or to cut the jugular vein of the Union, he came to Pennsylvania to knock out the arsenal of the Union strength. It was figured out that if Pennsylvania would be vanquished, then the Confederate Army would still have a chance.

Let us bear in mind that at just about the time the Gettysburg Battle was fought, Vicksburg was conquered and, as President Lincoln announced, the Father of Waters was again rolling unvexed to the sea. The opening of the Mississippi disjointed the Confederacy and brought near its doom.

Pennsylvania was the leader of the Union. To tell the story of Pennsylvania's support of Abraham Lincoln in his efforts to preserve the Union would require virtually a complete history of the Civil War. Every man who went out from Pennsylvania firesides to fight and die for the Union, every cannon, rifle and implement of war manufactured in the great industrial plants of Pennsylvania, every dollar subscribed by Pennsylvania citizens toward the war effort, would be part of that story.Greatest of all, perhaps, was the fact that Lincoln felt he could depend upon Pennsylvania.

The General Assembly of Pennsylvania passed a resolution on January 24, 1861, calling upon the Federal Government to maintain its authority and pledging the faith and power of Pennsylvania to the support of such measures.

President Lincoln called for 75,000 volunteers on April 15. Pennsylvania's quota was fourteen regiments, but so enthusiastic was the response of Pennsylvania that there were enough men who volunteered to fill twenty-five regiments. During the war, Pennsylvania contributed 362,284 men for the Union Army and more than 14,000 men to the Navy.

To train the Pennsylvania recruits, Camp Curtin was established on the outskirts of Harrisburg and, after the training of the original volunteers, the Federal Government took it over for the rest of the war. Three hundred thousand Union soldiers passed through Camp Curtin while the war continued. It was also a supply depot, a hospital and a prisoner detention camp. There were other camps at Easton, West Chester, Philadelphia, Chambersburg and Pittsburgh.

Pennsylvania supplied not only men, but leaders. Some of the outstanding officers of the Civil War were Pennsylvanians, including McClellan, Meade, Reynolds, Hancock and McClure. In all, there were two commanders-in-chief, twelve major-generals and forty-eight brigadier-generals. To naval leadership, the State gave Admiral David Porter, who opened the Mississippi, and three Rear-Admirals, Stewart, Dahlgren and Godon.

Mr. President, I have here a speech which takes up twelve pages. I am not going to read it in full; I am going to present it to you in mimeograph form.

However, I want to say that President Lincoln always cherished visits to Pennsylvania. He is the one who always presented to the people, stressed and underscored, the greatness of the Declaration of Independence. He summarized in one expression the gist of the Declaration of Independence when he said:

"The Declaration of Independence gave promise that in due time the weights would be lifted from the shoulders of all men."

On February 22, 1861, President Lincoln delivered a speech at Independence Hall in Philadelphia. It was on the first occasion of his visit, and the next occasion of his visit was when he was lying in state on his way to Springfield for burial.

There are many mementos of Lincoln which are numerous in Pennsylvania, from the Lincoln country of Berks County whence his ancestors came, to Gettysburg where he delivered his immortal address. I want to say that I doubt whether there is any topic in American history or in American literature which, annually, adds more literary contributions than the topic of Lincoln generally, and the Gettysburg Address, in particular.

You know, Mr. President, I never quarrel with the press. I am somehow awe-inspired by their representatives. However, what I am going to say I do not want to be construed as an aspersion or an attempt to evaluate the significance of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, not only here in America but also in England.

Even Lincoln, himself, after the delivery of his address, felt downcast. My learned colleague from Cambria already pointed out to you how gracious Everett was in praising the President's address. However, the President, himself, did not think so. Even Everett, in a whisper, not officially, said to Seward, "It is not what I expected of him. I am disappointed." Then he said to Seward, "What do you think about it?" Seward said, "He has made a failure and I am sorry for it." Lamon said, "I am sorry to say that it does not impress me as one of his great speeches."

When President Lincoln came back to Washington, he said to Lamon, "I tell you, Hill, that speech fell on the audience like a wet blanket. I am distressed about it. I ought to have prepared it with more care and elaboration."

The public's first reaction was one of deprecation. First of all, the impression was poor because of the sudden conclusion of the address. He seemed to have stopped as soon as he had begun. No one expected him to end when he did. All were prepared for much more than they heard. Of course, the next day, Everett wrote to Lincoln as follows:

"I should be glad if I could flatter myself that I came as near to the central idea of the occasion in two hours, as you did in two minutes."

Carl Sandburg, a great authority on Lincoln, said that this was a sincere opinion. However, another biographer, Barton, says that it only proves that Everett knew how to pay a gracious compliment and does not prove that he believed Lincoln had really made a great speech

This is what the London Times said:

"The ceremony was rendered ludicrous by some of the sallies of that poor President Lincoln. Anything more dull and commonplace, it would not be easy to produce."

Now, coming to Harrisburg, the Patriot and Union of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, said:

"The President succeeded on this occasion because he acted without sense and without constraint in a panorama that was gotten up more for the benefit of his party than for the glory of the nation and the honor of the dead. We pass over the silly remarks of the President; for the credit of the nation we are willing that the veil of oblivion shall be dropped over them and that they shall no more be repeated or thought of."

The Chicago Times said:

"The cheek of every American must tingle with shame as he reads the silly, flat and dish-watery utterance of the man who has to be pointed out to intelligent foreigners as the President of the United States."

The New York Tribune said:

"The dedicatory remarks were then delivered by the President." They said no more.

How modern these reactions of a partisan press seem. But, through the murk of abuse that every President from Washington on has had to endure in the name of democracy, there shone some rays of light.

The first to appreciate the Gettysburg Address was the Springfield Republican, of Massachusetts, which read as follows:

"Surpassingly fine as Mr. Everett's oration was in the Gettysburg consecration, the rhetorical honors of the occasion were won by President Lincoln. His little speech is a perfect gem; deep in feeling, compact in thought and expression, and tasteful and elegant in every word and comma. Then it has the merit of unexpectedness in its verbal perfection and beauty. Turn back and read it over; it will repay study as a model speech."

Then came the Cincinnati Gazette:

"That this was the right thing in the right place, and a perfect thing in every respect was the universal encomium."

The Providence Journal said:

"We know not where to look for a more admirable speech than the brief one which the president made at the close of Mr. Everett's oration. But, could the most elaborate and splendid oration be more beautiful, more touching, more inspiring, than those thrilling words of the President? They had in our humble judgment the charm and power of the very highest eloquence."

Fortunately enough, Everett's speech was so long that the poor weekly newspapers throughout the Country did not have the space nor money to spend to reprint it. They limited themselves to printing the brief address by President Lincoln Therefore, this brief address became known throughout the Country in a short while.

Today, the Gettysburg Address is considered the outstanding masterpiece of the English language. Analysis reveals that of its 266 words there are 190 of one syllable; fifty-six are of two syllables. Only the remaining twenty words have more than two syllables. This is no minor accomplishment. As I already stated, in literature, it is considered the greatest gem of the English language.

Earl Curzon, when he was Chancellor of the University of Oxford, in dedicating a bronze tablet on November 6, 1913, on which was the contents of the Gettysburg Address, said that there are only three masterpieces which are outstanding in the English language. The first is William Pitt's toast to the victory at Trafalgar; the second is the Gettysburg Address, and the third is Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address. Of these last two speeches, he has the following to say:

"They were uttered by a man who had been a country farmer and a district lawyer before he became a statesman. But they are among the glories and treasures of mankind. I escape the task of deciding which is the masterpiece of modern English eloquence, by awarding the prize to an "American."

Leo Tolstoy, the great towering figure of Russian literature, said about Lincoln that he is "Christ in Miniature." I maintain that no person demands such a universal sweep throughout the world as Abraham Lincoln. He has a cosmopolitan impact. You can find his pictures in the frozen tundras of the north or in the tropics. All over the world, people are Lincolnists.

I personally had a touching experience. Back in 1920, I accompanied the Commander of the Australian Forces in Europe, General Monash, throughout the Holy Land. Then, I discovered that General Monash had, for each day, a saying uttered by Lincoln. Furthermore, he always had Lincoln's portrait on his desk. He used to say, in the words of Napoleon who said of Goethe, "C'est L'homme;" this is the man.

We ought to be proud, as Americans, that this Country produced such a titan.

Coming back to the opening of my remarks, I believe that of all the States, Pennsylvania has to lead in organizing the commemoration of the Civil War victory. Above all, through this we will inculcate in the hearts of our youth a feeling of pride in having a man of such majestic and sweeping impact upon the world. For this reason, I urge you not to overlook this chance.

STUDENTS FROM STATE COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I would like to report that among the many distinguished young citizens in the Senate Chamber today is a group of young citizens from one of the best high schools in the State of Pennsylvania, State College High School. They are here with a member of their staff, Mr. Lindley Yerg.

The PRESIDENT. Will the members of the State College High School please stand?

On behalf of the Members of the Senate, the Chair welcomes this group here with us today and we hope you enjoy your stay with us.

GOVERNOR GEORGE M. LEADER PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has the honor now to present to you, His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, George M. Leader.

REMARKS BY GOVERNOR GEORGE M. LEADER

GOVERNOR GEORGE M. LEADER. Thank you very much, Mr. President and Members of the Senate. Let me assure you I am not here to make a speech.

If I may add just one word to what my distinguished friend, Senator Stiefel, said here and reported here in quoting what was said in the press following Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, there was just one little paper, I would like to add, and that was a little weekly paper down in Hanover, Pennsylvania, which was published by a chap by the name of Leader; perhaps some distant relative. His daughter covered that address and was one among that minority group who reported that address favorably.

If that has any significance on this occasion, perhaps it is the fact that we Leader's are better able to appreciate a good address than we are to deliver one. That is the approach I hope to take here today.

I think if I may add just one word beyond that, I think perhaps the great lesson to be learned from Lincoln as we hear what he said and hear what he did, the real significance and the thing that is important to us today, is to recognize that these are only evidences of his deep conviction and his great faith. I think all of us would be very wise to draw on that same type of conviction and faith and the degree to which we are able to draw on it, in a large measure, is going to determine how much we are going to serve our fellowmen here in this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the months and years ahead.

I am always grateful for your kind invitations to come to the Senate. I am never disappointed. I recall last Session, when I came over here to commemorate Chief Justice Marshall, the fine oratory of Senator Stiefel and Senator Blass. It is nice to hear from Senator Walker, and it is nice to see that the name Walker is again well represented on the Republican side of the Senate. It is always fine to hear from my good friend, Senator Stiefel.

I hope all of us will learn a great lesson and draw great inspiration from what we have heard here today. Thank you very much.

The PRESIDENT. The committee to escort the Governor will assemble at the rostrum.

The addresses of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Walker, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, together with the remarks of His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, on yesterday's Calendar there appeared a bill, Senate Bill No. 97, which had to do with the subject of wire tapping and the outlawing of this practice in the State of Pennsylvania.

Under our democratic process we ought to let everyone who has some feeling in this matter have an opportunity to be heard. In accordance with that belief, which I believe all of us subscribe to, I am introducing the following three bills which will allow the District Attorneys and the police in this Commonwealth to get a proper hearing before the committee.

I am sure the Chairman of that Committee, who is very fair and who wants to do the right thing, will have these bills in front of him when they take up the hearings in this matter.

Mr. President, this does not necessarily represent my point of view or some of the points of view of the other Members of this Senate. However, in fairness to those Members and with the idea of giving an opportunity for them to be heard, I am presenting these bills.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, among the bills which I am about to present to the Chair is a bill dealing with an appropriation for the Independence Hall Mall in Philadelphia. We feel that whatever has been provided in the budget is not sufficient.

Now it is clear that if all the land would have been acquired seven or eight years ago, the cost of the Mall would be about $5,000,000 less. If we procrastinate this time, the expense will again rise.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Chapman and myself, I offer this bill and some other bills which Senator Chapman and I are also sponsoring.

SENATE RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO CLARIFY AND RELAX STRICT REQUIREMENTS OF THE FEDERAL SOCIAL SECURITY LAW

Messrs. LANE, BERGER and DENT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 12, 1957.

The Social Security Act has been extended so as to provide benefits for totally disabled persons who are over the age of fifty years.

The law as written is difficult to interpret and administer and the few persons who come within its general scope are unsuccessful in obtaining benefits.

The humanitarianism of the law cannot be questioned and if practicable and possible, should be clarified and made less stringent so that worthy totally disabled persons over fifty years of age can obtain benefits it affords; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania memorialize Congress to clarify the existing provisions and further to relax the strict requirements of the Federal Social Security Law that relates to eligibility for benefits for totally disabled persons over the age of fifty years; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of both Houses of Congress and to each Senator and Member of the House of Representatives from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, since today has been set aside to commemorate the birthday of that great American, Abraham Lincoln, it is good to reflect a little upon the many things he said during his lifetime which have a great deal of bearing upon our Nation, its peoples and its way of life.

I do not know how many of you have ever taken the time to note an inscription contained upon the wall of this Senate. It is accredited to Abraham Lincoln from one of his speeches. I believe the date was somewhere near the time when he departed for Washington to take office. His speech was made in Springfield, Illinois. The inscription is right in front of the Senate, on the left-hand wall and it is there for all to see. I would like to quote from it:

"It was not the mere matter of separation of the colonies from the motherland, but that sentiment in the Declaration of Independence which gave liberty not alone to this Country but hope to all the world for all future time."

Abraham Lincoln had a peculiar knack of placing his finger upon an understanding phrase that in a few words expressed all that could be found in an occasion, in a book or page of history.

Today, upon the face of the earth, nations are still struggling for that one great achievement of all mankind, liberty of the individual, liberty in all its forms. We are, at this present time in the world, engaged in a great controversy, one which blows hot and one which blows cold. At this moment, we find that the Mid-East is the focal point of this great struggle. Perched in this ancient land, practically in the center of it, is a band of patriots gathered together in the hope that they may exemplify the actions of the pioneer fathers of this great Nation in establishing here in the midst of this desert land a nation conceived and dedicated to the same principles that are the foundations of our great Nation and its liberties. This little nation has tried to re-create in the Middle East the type of government that we here enjoy, the type of government which has strived through the years to allow each and everyone of us to express ourselves in any of the activities in this Nation without fear of repercussions or retributions because of our race, religion, creed, color or standing in life. This little nation finds itself now beset by many problems.

Those of us who have studied the history of the Jewish race know full well the struggles which have been their great burden from the early days of recognized mankind. We know their deep love of the soil; we know of the great history behind this people as an agrarian race. We know the persecutions and pogroms through the years which have driven them from the land and from the ownership of land. They have been driven into the classification of money lenders and merchandisers and business people because they have had to keep near at hand their worldly possessions in order to be able to flee on a moment's notice.

Not too many years ago, the leaders of the world, in their wisdom, helped this band of people to carve out for themselves a small dependency. Today, we hear on every hand many threats that we, the American people, have become so embroiled in international affairs that we are forgetting the principles upon which this Nation has so long endured and survived. I believe that fundamentally it would be wrong and I know that, for myself and speaking for the sponsors of this resolution, Senator Frank Ruth and Senator Joseph Yosko, it behooves us as the legislative body of this great State to make known to our Representatives in Congress, if we will, the feelings that we have on this matter. The threat of the application of sanctions on Israel go deeper than a mere economic move. It changes our concept of the American idea of liberty and justice and the rights of peoples to seek these things.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like at this moment to have the privilege of presenting to this Senate, on behalf of my co-sponsors, a Senate Concurrent Resolution dealing with the problem of the sanctions on Israel and a memorandum to our Congress regarding our feelings.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO STRONGLY RESIST ANY EFFORTS BY THE UNITED NATIONS TO IMPOSE SANCTIONS AGAINST THE STATE OF ISRAEL

Messrs. DENT, RUTH and YOSKO offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 12, 1957.

Whereas, the State of Israel stands out as a bulwark of democracy in the Middle East and throughout the world, and

Whereas, both Republican and Democratic Governors of our Commonwealth have visited this nation and have reported back to us on the amazing qualities of its citizens and its progress, and

Whereas, in their fight for existence, these valiant pioneers deserve the respect and full support of freedom loving peoples everywhere,

Now, Therefore, be it resolved, and it is hereby

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the name of the people of Pennsylvania, memorialize the Congress of the United States that strongly resist any efforts by the United Nations to impose sanctions against the State of Israel, and that a copy of this resolution be sent immediately to the President of the United States, the presiding officers of both the Senate and the House of the United States of America, and to each member of Pennsylvania's Congressional delegation, as well as the United States Senators from Pennsylvania—Honorable Edward Martin and Honorable Joseph S. Clarke, Jr.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, inasmuch as there are some Members of the Senate off the floor at the present time who I know want to vote on this important matter, I suggest the resolution be sent to the appropriate committee. I, therefore, object to its immediate consideration.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution and, therefore, refers the resolution to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS TO MAKE CERTAIN CHANGES ON ROUTE 22

Messrs. YOSKO and VAN SANT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 12, 1957.

Safety is a most important consideration in constructing a modern highway. And yet the tremendous cost of building at times leads to unfortunate attempts at economy. This is especially true at the eastern end of the relocated U. S. Route 22, known as the Lehigh Valley Thruway.

The directional signs at the various interchanges and traffic circles are inadequate in size and placement to guide the motorist who is unfamiliar with the road. At night they are poorly lighted, adding greatly to the confusion in the movement of traffic.

Approaching the city of Easton there are two of the worst curves on any modern through highway from one coast to the other. So frequent have traffic accidents occurred on these curves as to lead to the name "Graveyard Curves" being locally applied to them. Between 1955 and 1957, four were killed and sixteen injured in thirty-nine accidents.

The recent setting up of a 24 hour police patrol resulted in 27 arrests for speeding, largely by persons coming unexpectedly on the curves and failing to reduce their speed. While patrolling is good and necessary, it cannot take the place of a safe highway. The physical hazards are still there; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania call upon the Department of highways:

(1) To install proper lighting and directional signs at all interchanges and traffic circles on Route 22 by-pass from Allentown and Bethlehem through Easton.

(2) To resurvey the area approaching Easton, looking towards the elimination of dangerous curves by relocating the highways as a straight course to the existing Easton-Phillipsburg Bridge over the Delaware River, or the building of a new bridge over the river, joining with Route 22 without necessitating dangerous curves, the building of a bridge to meet a highway rather than a highway to meet a bridge.

(3) To confer with the officials of all affected municipalities, chambers of commerce and the Lehigh Valley Motor Club; and

(4) To confer with the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission and highway officials of the State of New Jersey as to the feasibility of constructing a new bridge; and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of these resolutions be transmitted to Hon. Joseph J. Lawler, Secretary of Highways.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution jus read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO FURNISH THE SENATE CERTAIN TAX STUDY INFORMATION

Messrs. MAHANY and BERGER offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 12, 1957.

Whereas, Certain revenue measures, including a sales tax bill, have been introduced in the House of Representatives; and

Whereas, The Senate will be called upon to consider such of these measures as may be passed by the House of Representatives; and

Whereas, It has been reported in the press that Governor Leader has engaged certain experts to advise him with respect to the adequacy of the administration of the present sales tax and its actual and anticipated yields; therefore, be it

Resolved, That, in order that the Senate may be fully informed, the Governor is respectfully requested to furnish to the Senate the names of the experts so engaged, the fees paid for their services, and a full and comprehensive statement of their findings and recommendations.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

RULING BY THE CHAIR CONCERNING DEBATING AMENDMENTS AND BILLS ON SECOND READING

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, at this time, wishes to rule on the points of order that were raised yesterday on the question of the discussion of amendments and bills on second reading.

The Chair stated, in effect, that on second reading the matter of consideration of amendments was the principal subject of discussion. However, in this discussion, it would be only natural and proper to digress at times and discuss the entire section of the bill. This same procedure could continue until all sections of the bill were amended and approved.

Finally, when the question is put, "Will the Senate agree to and pass the bill on second reading," or "second reading, as amended," it is proper then to discuss the entire bill. This can be done by any Senator or Senators who are given recognition by the Chair.

A roll call vote may also be demanded as to each section and/or the entire bill.

On the points of order raised, the Chair so rules.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I wish to thank the Chair for the learned decision as given. I think it is an important point because it sets a precedent for the future.

The answer yesterday, it seemed to me, would have closed the ability to discuss a bill on second reading, which may sometimes be a very important privilege for a Senator.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, for the benefit of the Members of the Senate, these amendments are amendments to the so-called truck safety bill, passed in the last Session. When it came time to license the cars at the beginning of the year, when the former law became effective, it was discovered that there were some discrepancies in the measure and some very outstanding injustices to the dealers of trucks and the users of trucks.

These amendments that have been offered create some new classes and allow those classes, if this bill is enacted into law, to exist only until May 31 of this year. In other words, the large inventory of trucks held by some dealers in Pennsylvania could be moved if this becomes law without jeopardy or injustice to the dealers of those trucks or the users of those trucks when they are purchased.

Now, I suggest that we include these amendments in the bill or adopt the amendments, and then after the bill is printed, we could study it until the early part of next week.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 8, lines 9 to 15, inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 3, page 8, lines 16 to 19, inclusive, by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Section 2. This act shall be effective immediately upon final enactment."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendment:

Amend title page 2, the 12th and 13th lines, by striking out the following: "changing existing maximum gross weights and annual registration fees and".

It was agreed to.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, yesterday afternoon the Majority Floor Leader propounded two questions to the Senate and asked that I provide the answers.

Number one, the question was asked concerning the new system of purchasing automobiles for the Commonwealth's use. I took the matter up with the Secretary of Property and Supplies, who heads the division of government dealing with the subject matter in question.

I have here a typed sheet that I dictated to my girl after these conferences. If you want me to, I will read the details for the information of the Senate, or I can hand it up to the Chair for inclusion in the minutes of the day's proceedings. Nevertheless, I will send a copy over to the Majority Leader.

I can run over the highlights because I have had the same question asked many times by Members of the Senate.

The first purchase was made July 21, 1955. There were 270 sedans; the low bid was Chevrolet at $1,139.89 each. The high bid at that time was $1,413.90 by Plymouth. There were thirty sedans at $1,223,86 by Chevrolet as against a high bid of $1,433. There were 150 sedans, four door, at $1,172 as against a high bid of $1,443.

On the second bid, submitted in July 1956, there were 176 sedans purchased at $1,598 apiece from Plymouth, as against a high bid of Ford of $1,669; 257 Plymouths at $1,583 against $1,637; twenty-five station wagons for $1,868 against $1,981; twenty-five station wagons for $1,763 against $1,856; and two station wagons for $1,520 against the price of $1,606.

The second purchase in 1956 was 370 sedans at $1,087 as against the high price of $1,474. Now these were Fords.

There were forty special sedans, $1,213 against a price of $1,590; 320 sedans for $1,106 against a high price of $1,492; ten sedans for $1,219—they shifted over to Chevrolet here—against a high price of $1,617, which was Plymouth; fifteen station wagons for $1,356—they are Fords—against a high price of $1,696; one station wagon for $1,369, a Chevrolet, against a Plymouth price of $1,646; and one pickup for $1,169 against a Ford price of $1,331; and there was no bid from the Plymouth people.

The last purchase made in 1956, 369 sedans for $1,357—these were Plymouths—against a high price of Chevrolet's, $1,522; fifty special sedans, also Plymouths, against the high price of Ford of $1,706; 100 sedans for $1,484 from Chevrolet against a price of $1,489; 206 sedans for $1,337 against a price of $1,344; and two station wagons for $1,462 against a price of $2,720. There were two in that bid.

I do not know whether you are noticing what I am noticing, and it is giving me a little chuckle. It seems that the automobile dealers are getting closer together and the price is getting slightly higher.

On the 22nd of January of this year, we purchased 475 four-door sedans and the price was $1,702, purchased from Ford. Then we purchased seventy-five Fords for $1,743; fourteen station wagons, $1901; and one station wagon for $1,788.

The only information available at this time on cars that have been re-sold is as follows: 2,281 cars sold; the average price, $349; age from 1930 to 1955, inclusive; total of $707,163. Prices range from $38.00 to $900.00.

In that same batch, there were ten 1956 models that averaged $1,300 apiece and the cost average of that particular group of cars was $1,250, or we received $50.00 more than what we paid for them.

Relative to the question of the cost of operation, the following was taken from the Budget which covers this subject:

Cost of operation for automotive services as contained in the Budget, $182,000 for the biennium 1953-55; $315,000 for the years 1955-57; and $499,000 for the years 1957-59.

New car appropriations taken from the Budget show $463,000 for the biennium 1953-55; $1,285,000 for the biennium of 1955-57; and $6,455,000 for the years 1957-59.

This covers the questions asked by the gentleman from Crawford County. A more elaborate and definitive analysis of the new car purchases and the relative merit of the new system of purchasing cars in Pennsylvania is not available at this time.

I am sure that after more experience on a longer range of time, the answer to the question as to whether or not this system is superior to the old car purchases will be available.

For the moment, this is the only authentic information I can transmit to the Republican Floor Leader and the Members of the Senate. If there are any questions, I will be glad to try to answer them because there is a great deal of discussion that could not be put into this report.

I present two copies to the Chair for the purposes of inclusion in the Journal and the rest to the newspapers.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Chair understand that the gentleman did not give the complete report and that he wants this printed in the Legislative Journal?

Mr. DENT. That is right. I gave the report complete as it is at the moment.

The PRESIDENT. The report, as submitted by the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, you did point out that the cost of cars was rising. I wonder if you made any investigation as to why there was such a difference in price on these cars which were evidently the same models or types between July 21, 1955, the date of the one bid, and July 2, 1956, approximately a year later, on the second bid?

I note in particular that on July 21, 1955, the bid on a Chevrolet, which was the low bid on a two-door, eight cylinder car, was $1,223.86 and the next year it jumped to $1.608.27. You will also note that that same price increase runs through all these bids.

It is also interesting to note that in the first year, Chevrolet was the low bidder on all of them; the second year Plymouth was the low bidder on all of them; on January 6, 1956, Ford seemed to be lucky and they got most of them; and after that they seem to be mixed up a little bit. Would that look to you as though there might be some collusion here on the part of these bidders?

Mr. DENT. A lawyer might say—if I were a witness and my lawyer were advising me—do not answer that; it is a leading question.

I might say, Senator, that I gave this thing a great deal of study and I talked to Senator Rice, the Secretary of Property and Supplies, who was very cooperative and gave me all the information he could possibly give me.

A disinterested party, looking at these figures, would first assume that the difference was caused by the increased cost of production of the automobiles. However, upon a careful examination, we find that some of the later bids are even cheaper than some of the earlier bids by the same companies. It looks to me very much—if I were a disinterested party but I am not; I am very much much interested as a Member of the Senate who represents a great segment of our population, and this is a matter of administration and a matter of a new change in governmental operation.

It was assumed by those who started this system that we would be able to save a great deal of money for the Commonwealth. If you will take the first bids on the first automobiles, you will find that the average cost was a little over $1,100 per vehicle. Then if you come back to the last bids which were about seven months later, the average cost, not including the station wagons, runs well over $1,700. The difference, of course, might be in some of the refinements that have been put into the automobiles, but what I am disturbed about is this. When you deal with a great number of dealers, it is difficult for the dealers to get together and fix some kind of a bidding base and the bid base is usually determined by the amount that they want to make as profit in the deal, and they override what the company gives to them, assuming that the company gives all dealers the same price.

When you deal with only three major manufacturers—and incidentally at this point I would say that I cannot understand why Nash and Studebaker are not included in here unless they did not want to bid—you could open the door, and I do not say that it is open. It might be just ajar a little. However, you could open the doors to collusion between the three major companies. Now, of course, far be it from me to insinuate that General Motors would do anything like that, or to cast any suspicions on the Ford people or on the Plymouth-Chrysler people, because we all know they are the outstanding examples of American enterprise, but they did not get there by sitting in the corner on their hands. They had to get out there and look to the advantages of their companies. When the State buys 3,000 vehicles a year and they know they are only going to have two competitors, it might be that they would sit around and talk about it.

I am very much disturbed over the climb that is demonstrated here in the price of cars, Mr. President, and I imagine that the Governor is just as upset as the rest of us, because when it started out there was competitive bidding, and here it shows just as clear as anything under the sun, in the very first bids that were put out that you have prices ranging—here they are exactly. You have Ford bidding $1,087; you have Chevrolet bidding $1,127, which is a reasonable price differential. In an open bid or in any bidding they would probably come that close, and then you have the Plymouth people coming in at $1,474. Now when you just move down a little to the next bid, we find Ford coming in at $1,522, Chevrolet at $1,375 and Plymouth, $1,357, or a matter of eighteen dollars difference and they picked up 369 cars.

Now on the next maneuver that we find, the next bid, we find 475 cars and Ford got the bid. I do not know what is happening. Secretary Rice is a very plain spoken man and, to his credit, I want to say that he informed me that he advised the representatives of the automobile people that if there was collusion in the bids, it would be found out; that he is very disturbed over the appearance of the bids and the way it looks. This is big business. When you have to put $6,000,000 into your budget for the purchase of new cars and you have to put $499,000 into it for the operation of this particular business of the Commonwealth, you have invested approximately six and one-half million dollars. Six and one-half million dollars represents a great deal of tax money and the department is trying its best to work out a solution.

The disturbing factor is that we have on hand some cars that are very, very ancient in vintage. We found upon examination that we had automobiles in the State system going back to 1930. I think prudence would have long ago dictated that anybody operating any kind of a business would certainly have gotten rid of automobiles as old as 1930 models. They sold for thirty-eight dollars. They might have sold for more than that at some auction, to be used as an heirloom or something.

Neverthless, the whole picture, Senator Mahany, is one that cannot be completely analyzed because we have only sold, at the moment, 2,281 cars and we do not have a complete picture or a comprehensive picture of what will happen when we hit the market with one year old cars.

The basis of this system, as it was detailed to me, is this; that by purchasing new cars every year they hope to be able to market the old cars for as much or more than what the new cars will cost us, because, as you know, the State enjoys the right to purchase without paying the Federal Excise Tax and any other taxes that are in the picture of an automobile purchase. By so doing, they hope to be able to do that when they finally get around to having a complete new fleet.

I question the $6,000,000 and, as I knew that you would ask me that question, I anticipated it and Senator Rice informed me that the reason they asked for $6,000,000 is because it requires that much money to make a complete turnover of all the automobiles in the general pool and coming out of the General Fund, as well as departmental and bureau cars, so that they would have a complete new fleet to start the actual operation of the yearly turnover.

That is as much information as I have on the matter.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, I note that you stated in your statement here that there were ten 1956 models sold at $1,300 average and they cost $1,250. Most of the 1956 models that I see here that were purchased were up in the $1,500 class and some even went to $1,800, and I just wanted to know how you got that average down so low. There were a few here at $1,300 and a few even went down to $1,087, but how did you arrive at that $1,250 cost price?

Mr. DENT. I arrived at that because that was the figure that was given me. I did not do any arithmetic on this whatsoever.

Mr. MAHANY. Is it not possible, Senator, for you to get information on a specific car? You have them broken down here quite well as far as cost is concerned. Could you take one of these, or let us say the ten of them that were sold, and tell us in what price range they were, each one, and how much each one of them brought when they were sold? Although it is a small sample, yet I think it might show us the trend in this thing, even ten cars. If we can have the cost of each of those ten 1956 models, which had an average sale price of $1,250, I think it would aid materially to our education on this thing.

I understand that the ones in charge of this program are not quite as optimistic this year about how much they can save as they were last year. You, and I and Senator Rice journeyed up to the Pocono Mountains here a year or so ago, not quite a year ago, to a convention. I remember Senator Rice at that time, in talking to the members of the convention, was not very happy over what was happening in this particular field.

I would like to find out now what has happened. We certainly do not want to appropriate $6,000,000 here if this program is not worth-while. We are going to start the Appropriation Committee Hearings on the Budget, and I think this is one thing we can dig into right now because over $6,000,000 is a lot of money and if we can save that, we want to do so.

Also, I would like to find out how much the administration of this program is costing; how much money we are paying out extra for salaries and so forth for those who are administering this program. I think we should have that information, and I would like to have you get that for me by next Monday if it is possible.

Mr. DENT. I will be glad to try to get it for you, Senator, and I will also invite you to go along if you wish and we can try to get the information together.

I think you can only analyze this thing from this base. What did the car cost, how much did you get for it and how much the replacement car cost? If I were doing business in my own firm, that is exactly how I would figure it out, and I think that we can get that answer because Senator Rice said he would give us any information that he has.

Mr. MAHANY. Thank you, Senator.

Mr. DENT. Now I would like to answer the second question that was propounded yesterday afternoon, and this will be oral.

The question came up as to the salary status of Professor Williamson, who is the new Member of the Turnpike Commission. The Republican Floor Leader stated that in my presence he asked the question of Mr. Williamson as to whether or not he would appear on two payrolls and Mr. Williamson said, "No"; that it was not his intention to be on two payrolls but, and I think the gentleman from Crawford will admit that, he did say he was in a position financially to take a wage cut or a cut in salary.

Well, at that time we left it ride at that. Yesterday, the question was propounded as to whether or not he was on two salaries. I contacted the Chief Executive's office and this is the information that I have. Professor Williamson is working at the Turnpike office, for which he receives the salary scale of $13,000 a year. His former salary the Pennsylvania State University was $15,000, plus some expenses.

It is worked out on this basis now; he receives the full salary schedule from the Turnpike and then receives from the State University an amount sufficient to bring his salary scale up to his former $15,000 grade level. He is supposed to be putting in time at the University in the free time that he has after his duties at the Turnpike are finished and, thereby, he is not considered to be on two payrolls as such, but is working part time as it were at the University and fulltime on the Turnpike. Now that is the explanation I received.

Mr. MAHANY. The Minority Leader is a busy man; maybe he is getting some more information.

Mr. DENT. If you do not mind, that happened to be my wife calling to tell me what she was having for dinner.

Mr. MAHANY. Watch your master's voice.

Mr. DENT. You can say that again and again and again.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, the explanation that you gave, would that not show that Mr. Williamson is on two payrolls?

Mr. DENT. That is a delicate question. If you mean is he deriving pay from two sources, yes sir.

Mr. MAHANY. Is that not two payrolls?

Mr. DENT. Yes, I would say he is on two payrolls.

Mr. MAHANY. Is that in line with what you thought when you confirmed Mr. Williamson? Is that in line with your understanding when you voted to confirm Mr. Williamson?

Mr. DENT. To be perfectly honest with you, I believed the man when he said he was not going on two payrolls.

Mr. MAHANY. If you had known that he was going to be on two payrolls, would you have confirmed him?

Mr. DENT. No, I emphatically stated to the gentleman in front of the entire Democratic Caucus—and I believe that I can be borne out by the gentleman on my side—that if I thought he was going on two payrolls, if he intended to be on two payrolls, I felt that I would not be in a position to confirm him, because that is not the policy of this Administration.

Mr. MAHANY. I see a communique from the Governor's Office in which he quotes St. Matthew, that "no man can serve two masters." Would you say that Mr. Williamson would pass the St. Matthew test?

Mr. DENT. I would refer the answer to that question to my learned colleague in theology, Reverend Ruth, I will tell you that when I ran back home, St. Matthew was not on the ballot.

I do not know the answer to that one. I have not read the Governor's message, incidentally, but I will read it later tonight.

Mr. MAHANY. Let us decide between now and next Monday what St. Matthew might say about Mr. Williamson if he were a Member of the Senate.

That is all, Senator. Thank you very much.

Mr. DENT. Do I go with your blessing or the blessing of St. Matthew?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I should like to give to Mr. Mahany my recollection of our interview of Mr. Williamson in our Caucus. He stated that his salary at the present time at State College was approximately $2,000 higher than he would get in State employment as a member of the Turnpike Commisison. He also stated that he had six daughters and a family to raise, and that he could not possibly make that sacrifice and that the method to be worked out was this. He was to receive his salary as a Turnpike Commissioner and that on Saturdays and on his off time he would still remain at State College, and that State College would pay to him only the difference between his salary as a Turnpike Commissioner and the salary he was receiving from State College at the time he took the job.

Mr. MAHANY. In answer to Senator Silvert, I would say to him that was not my impression and evidently was not Senator Dent's impression of what Mr. Williamson was going to do if we confirmed him on the Turnpike Commission. I do not like to see anyone take a cut in salary or come down to Harrisburg and work for less than what they did back home, but I think that is the choice of the one who chooses to come down here.

Perhaps, Senator, if you were busy at your law office in Philadelphia and I was busy at my law office in Titusville, and we spent as much time there as we do down here, we no doubt would make more money than we do here, but we choose to come to Harrisburg and, therefore, we chose then to give up whatever we could make back home at the time we are working down here and take this salary instead. Perhaps, a great many people are on the State payroll that, if they were in some other job, could obtain more money but that choice is theirs, and I understood that Mr. Williamson made the choice that he wanted to come down here and be at least a temporary Member of the Turnpike Commission. Since he made the choice, he should stick by it.

I remember it has been said about these colleges that they find some way or another to make up money to to certain individuals in which they are interested. I thought that all the clocks were being wound up there by members of the football team, whom they like to engage in work.

Now did they find an extra clock up there for Professor Williamson to wind on Saturday so that he might get the extra $2,000 that he is out by coming down here and becoming a Member of the Turnpike Commission, instead of being at State College where he would have gotten $15,000 a year.

Mr. SILVERT. Senator Mahany, I am sure I am stating the truth when I say that you have not closed your law office and neither have I. Our offices are still open, and it is a known fact that people in government service can devote some time to other activities and receive some moderate compensation.

Mr. MAHANY. Why do you think the Governor made so much fuss over this priest that was on Torquato's payroll? Could the priest not take care of his work on Sunday and then during the rest of the week, could he not be busily engaged on the work Mr. Torquato gave him?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. Mahany, you will recall that the Governor's statement was that the priest was only suspended, and I am sure that if the investigation discloses he spent five days a week at his work and Sundays in church, that man will be reinstated.

Mr. MAHANY. Do you have any idea how long it is going to be before they will find out how long that priest worked?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I think the kind of discussion we are engaged in now forms one of the reasons why such problems as we are faced with in this instance arise; why it makes it very difficult to draw into public service men of abilities and the kind of disinterested, public-spirited citizenship that we need in positions of this sort.

I heard the gentleman speek at our Caucus, and I certainly formed the impression that here was a gentleman who is coming to Harrisburg with no thought of making a political career and no thought of making any profit in the venture. As a matter of fact, I am perfectly sure that this gentleman would much prefer, if he consulted only his private interests, to stay at State College and do the job as head of the Engineering School that he can do so well. Incidentally, he has been called professor here but only for a short time has he deserved that title, because most of his life has been spent not in academic circles but as a businessman; that is to say, as the administrator of the research department in a corporation. I think his feeling in coming to Harrisburg was that just as he was working for the Commonwealth in the sense of being the head of a great Engineering School, he is coming to Harrisburg into a position for which he conceives he is needed. He has been asked to come and he is willing to make a sacrifice. It is for him an actual sacrifice to give up the job that he can do well at State College to do what he conceives to be something that is needed down here in Harrisburg.

I think that these references are in poor taste. There is no question in my mind that the man will do a conscientious job. He has no ulterior motive, either political or private, and I do not see how anyone could have listened to him and received any idea that he had any such objectives.

I think this kind of discussion, not saying anything directly against the man but certainly leaving the implication that he has some ulterior motives in mind—that somehow he has come down here to make money at the expense of the Commonwealth without giving any services, and that certainly seems to be the implication,—is the sort of talk that keeps us from getting worthwhile men interested in doing a public service and being in government.

There is no question in my mind that this gentleman will give service for every dollar that the Commonwealth pays him. He is a career man in science, and he is not interested in being a politician. He conceives the job entirely as a temporary one. He stated that he had no desire to make a career of it, and I am just, myself, sorry to hear the kind of discussion that we have had about him today.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I appreciate the situation as it is proposed by the gentleman from York, and I appreciate that he dislikes to hear this kind of a discussion, but there is not much we can do about that, Senator. I do not believe that any man in this Senate believes that Mr. Williamson came to the State Government seeking to better himself financially, because he was very plain spoken in that regard. I can quote him here that he did not expect to be on two payrolls. However, he was not in a position to take a pay cut. I do not think that is the crux of the situation.

How many of us flew to the defense of the twenty-three men, unknown to most of us,—in fact, I would say that outside of one or two, they were unknown to all of us,—that were summarily suspended? Now I do not see much difference in suspension and discharge when you do not have a pay check coming in at the end of the month. How many of us flew to the defense of these men and sought to imprint on the minds of the people that they were not all drones; that they were not just bums that were put on the payroll; that each and every one of them had sponsorship?

It may be in the minds of some that the word political is a nasty word, but so long as you have a democracy, you are going to have the word political in all of its meanings. These men were sponsored and put on jobs and they were summarily dismissed. If it only took a two day examination to fire them, it certainly is taking a lot longer to hire them.

We have before us today a communique from the Governor in which he proposes a new bill for the Legislature. It is supposed to outline the conflict of interest and that is fine. For instance, here in our State Government, how many of you know that the Secretary of Banking, if he happens to be a stockholder or an officer in a Federal bank, can keep his stock, keep his position and be Secretary of Banking in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but if he happens to be a stockholder or an officer in a State bank, he must relinquish his holdings in order to be the State Secretary of Banking?

Now these are things that ought to be discussed by the Legislature. The Legislature does not want to blacken the name of Williamson or any other employee. I do not know the exact quote, but somewhere in the Bible it says that, "That which you do to the least of My children, you also do unto Me."

There is not any difference in my little, humble mind between a man who has a small shop that does not require all of his time and he takes a part time job with the State, so long as he gives to the State a dollar's worth of service for the dollar's worth of pay that he receives, or an attorney who works at his private law practice and takes a position with the State and draws money from it, or a doctor who takes a part time job in the Department of Health and still keeps his office open or an accountant who does the same thing. We have men on this payroll who are on full time State jobs and they have kept their outside interests alive, and you cannot blame them. They owe their first duty to their families. They have no tenure in office and all of the civil service laws that you pass will never give absolute tenure to anybody. There is no such thing as security. If I am not mistaken, one of the well-know American figures said that the only place you can find security would be in a life sentence to a Federal penitentiary, because they provide you with sufficient to eat, clothe your body and shelter you. Now to some people that would not be full security, because there are some of us who would like to drink once in awhile.

Mr. President, this is a proper subject for the Senate because of the fact that every now and then this great democracy of ours is visited by movements of reform, and they are good in the main because they tend to do either one of two things; they highlight not only the bad in government, but they highlight the good. I cannot be critical of a system that in less than two hundred years has brought forth upon the face of the earth the greatest Nation that has ever been conceived, the greatest Nation in every aspect of life; in liberty for the individual, strength for its enterprises and in the main a measure of wealth and prosperity for all beyond anything ever dreamed by the human mind. It has been a fumbling, struggling matter.

For many years, we were condemned by the world powers because we did not keep a large standing army, and we have drifted into that position of keeping a large standing army and what do we have today? A $72,000,000,000 budget, $55,000,000,000 of which will never redound to any physical benefit to the peoples of these United States.

You can carry reform to the point where it is so expensive that it is not worth the benefits it brings. Yes, reform in an orderly fashion has to come in government the same as it comes in business, but I have always maintained the philosophy that government is an abstract thing and if there are evils in it, they are concrete and nothing concrete comes into government through government itself, but through the individuals who participate in government.

All of the evils that we are blamed for as politicians can be counted upon to be in every business enterprise in this Nation. I read the other day an editorial in a newspaper that aroused me somewhat, because it said that the new policy in Harrisburg—and remember that no man in Harrisburg from the Governor on down has enunciated this policy—was this. Anybody working for the State had to devote full time to the State, other than the educators.

I do not see any distinction between educators and ordinary citizens. Now all of us admire and respect education as such, but being educated does not in any way guarantee you to have intelligence. Intelligence comes sometimes from experience, somethimes from a ready grasp of the matters at hand and sometimes from the good blood that flows in your veins. The basis of intelligence is respect, for both the ignorance and the knowledge of others and respect, too, for the rights of all people. The rights of the little ditch-digger are on the same level and plane as the university president. To each you serve as they deserve to be served and in the spirit in which they operate, give each their credit and full measure of right.

I did not come to Harrisburg twenty-two years ago to destroy the Nation that had given my father a haven from the oppression and poverty in which he lived, and I do not intend to sit idly by and watch the concepts of government, embodied in the Constitution of these United States and the Declaration of Independence, destroyed by the zeal or over-ambition of an individual or group of individuals. I believe fundamentally in the two party system of government, and that is why I have always been a bitter enemy of communism or any other ism which would tend to destroy the two party system of government, because in the checks and balances of the two parties we have come a great, great, long way toward that pinnacle of civilization that will recognize that each individual is constructed and built in the image of the Master.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I am a little apprehensive about the number of people who are getting in my backfield. I find them coming over the line of scrimmage from both sides. I do not know how to clear this matter up. However, I will make a start by inviting the Majority Leader to come up to State College some Saturday morning,and he and I will go around and watch the Dean of the College of Engineering winding clocks. We shall see whether hé does not find that the clock-winding the Dean does is on a pretty high level.

Come up, Senator Mahany

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, we have about 11,000,000 people in Pennsylvania and it seems to me that when there is a vacancy in government, somewhere, out of those 11,000,000 people, we should be able to find somebody to fill vacancies which may occur from time to time without going into our colleges and universities and robbing them in order to bring people into the State Government who, as in the case we are discussing, must be on two payrolls.

Mr. President, I am sure that if the Governor would have gone to Senator Barr and asked him to submit one or a dozen recommendations to fill the vacancy on the Turnpike Commission, Senator Barr could have found one or a dozen and submitted to the Governor people who would have been just as qualified as Mr. Williamson.

It is for that reason, Mr. President, that I say this matter does merit some discussion here.

Since I am on my feet, I want to say here and now that I will go along with no more carpetbaggers who are recommended for positions here in the State Government. I repeat, Mr. President, that if we cannot find people right here in Pennsylvania, out of the 11,000,000 people whom we have, to fill responsible positions in State Government, we are at a pretty low ebb in so far as intelligence is concerned with our population.

It might be well to keep the college professors where they belong, in the colleges, and take trained men from other walks of life to fill vacancies in government.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to point out to my colleagues who jumped to the defense of Mr. Williamson that I did not intend to belittle him in any way. I am pleased if he wants to come down here and take a job on the Turnpike Commission. I am pleased that he is here and I hope that he does a good job. However, I want to point out to the Members of the Senate that we appropriate millions of dollars every biennium to Pennsylvania State College. It is a State subsidized college and a land grant college, as we refer to it.

It is impossible for us to check on how much Mr. Williamson does up at State College. I have no doubt that when Senator Hays and I would go there, we would find him quite busy. However, how are we going to check up on the rest of the Saturdays and the other time when he is supposed to be at work up there?

What is really happening is that Mr. Williamson has some extra job that they have given him and how much it amounts to, I do not know. Evidently, they have found someone there to replace him and that man should be doing pretty much all of the work that Mr. Williamson did before he came to Harrisburg. The end result is that we will appropriate some more money to Pennsylvania State College, $2,000 of which will go to Mr. Williamson. Then, he gets $13,000 from the Turnpike Commission. Therefore, really, in effect, the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, instead of paying him $13,000 for the job that we have given him as a Turnpike Commissioner, are really going to be paying him $15,000. We will be picking up the other $2,000 in the extra appropriation to State College.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I did not plan on getting in on this fiasco here today. However, since we have gone all over the lot and having heard some remarks here today about politicians, I want to say something here now that I have wanted to say for quite a long time.

I doubt whether there is any man in this Senate who could be elected to office if he were not a politician. I might say to the members of the press that they may be qualified along their particular line by education and training, but they would not hold their particular positions unless they had influence whereby they felt they had the contacts to place them in that position. I might also say to Senator Seyler that the members of the school boards for which he works, I understand, are politicians. I admit that I, too, am in a small way a politician.

A politician is an individual who has the good fortune to have people support him for public office, whether it be public office or committee office. I believe that is the proper American way of life.

I recall a meeting that I attended about six months ago, where a Japanese girl came over here, married one of our G. I.'s and it was right after the last Gubernatorial election by the way. They were discussing with me the ways of politics. She said to me, "You know, Senator Lane, this is a great Country you have over here. I listened to the campaign and I listened to all the speeches. I listened to the Republicans and I listened to the Democrats and after everything was finished, you people all got together. However, it seems odd that you talked about each other in such a terrible manner." I said, "Well, that is the American way of life."

Mr. President, I say to you here today that we want to have politicians in office. I say that in order to get a good job done, you must have a conscientious politician.

I remember that I always agreed with Senator John Walker on one thing and that was his statements regarding politicians. Politicians have built this great Nation, they have built this great State and I think they will continue on in the future.

Senator Yosko said something here about which I heartily agree. In Pennsylvania, where we have 11,000,000 people, we have some highly respectable and very honorable and very capable people, and any positions of honor and affluence should be awarded to the worthy citizens of Pennsylvania, regardless of their political affiliations. I do not take issue with the Governor because he appointed this gentleman to the Turnpike Commission and he is a registered Republican. That is definitely beside the point, if he is qualified to do the job. However, I would say to you that I would rather that that man would go out and vote and talk his convictions.

Incidentally, too, it has been told to us for the past years, by quite a number of influential people, that there is quite a shortage of educators in Pennsylvania. If that be true, it seems to me to be unusual that we should take a prominent professor from Pennsylvania State College and put him in a poltical position as a member of the Turnpike Commission.

Last, but not least, I want to also say this. There is an old proverb that goes like this: "No frog can ever get on a high stump unless someone helps him there."

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, not wishing to prolong the debate, I have jotted down three correctional notes. First of all, I did not wish to give the impression, if I did, that it was my position that it was not in order to discuss this matter or that there was anything improper in the discussion of it per se. I hope it is clear that my objection was to the manner in which we were discussing it.

Secondly, Mr. President, on the subject of politics, I have a very high esteem for politicians. However,I would like to point out that this is a relative term and if the gentlemen who have been discussing this matter would get into some of the internal politics which enter a school faculty, whether it is on the level of higher education or secondary education, or would get into the politics that go on within a corporation or within a business office, they would probably—somebody mentioned religious organizations, which is possibly true—find that the heat of political battle is sometimes hotter there than it is in the great outdoor politics, which is open to the inspection of all, and in which all of us here participate as active members.

Thirdly, as a correctional note, I think it is a misconception of the Majority Leader, with regard to Dean Williamson, when he said that some job has evidently been created for the Dean so that he can collect some money to make up the difference in salary. I do not think this is true at all. As I understand it, he is still the Dean of the School of Engineering and he is struggling mightily on the bit of time which he can scrape up, on his own time let us say, to devote to it to do a creditable job at keeping that school operating.

I think I should remind the gentleman that the kind of job which the dean of a school does, or the kind of a job which a good attorney does, is not the kind that you can measure in the number of minutes that he devotes to the job. There is nothing there that requires constant presence and attention. It is a job of leadership. One man can sometimes do more or give more leadership in a few hours than another man is capable of doing in several weeks or months. This is the kind of quality you buy when you go shopping for the dean of a school or university. I think it is the kind of quality you look for, too, when you go shopping for an attorney. I would not be surprised if we had men who are giving a great deal of time to public service, perhaps in this very hall, who, as attorneys, are doing a tremendous job for their clients or, perhaps, as solicitors for some public body.

I am sure they are doing a creditable job in both positions.

I think we must discriminate the type of things we are evaluating here. When you are talking about the dean of a great engineering school, one of the greatest in the Country, you are not talking about quite the same quality as when you are discussing, if you are discussing let us say, the manager of a store, a clerk who works in that store or the clerical person in the office of that store. There are different qualities involved and I think we are making a great error in trying to make them equivalent to each other.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. With fear and trembling, Mr. President, I will.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Seyler, is it your understanding that no replacement at Pennslyvania State University has been made for Mr. Williamson?

Mr. Seyler. I do not believe that it would be possible to have persuaded Dean Williamson to accept the position with the Commonwealth if he were going to be relieved of the position he has just recently accepted as Dean of the School of Engineering. At least, that was my impression from discussing this problem with the Dean at our Caucus.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Seyler, is it your understanding that the Dean now gives as much time to his job at State College as he formerly did?

Mr. SEYLER. Dean Williamson said that he was going to try to do as much as he could over week ends. He was going to try to see as many people on Saturdays as he could. He is spending full time down here in Harrisburg, as I understand it.

Mr. MAHANY. If he were spending full time down here, then he would not have any time to spend up at State College on his other job, would he?

Mr. SEYLER. He told us that he would be there all day on Saturdays.

Mr. MAHANY. Do I understand that State College will suffer somewhat by reason of the fact that he is not going to be there as much as he formerly was?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, again the gentleman is raising this question of equivalents, of one activity being like another and it is not. I am saying that the Dean is certainly not having as much time as he would like to put on it. That is why he only accepted it temporarily. However, I think it is possible for him to do a successful job as the Dean at State College for a limited time. By delegating the things which need to be delegated and working with the professional and scientific staff that he has, I would say, from my experience and understanding of the stituation, that it would be possible for him to do a successful job for a limited time under those circumstances.

Mr. MAHANY. How long a time would that be?

Mr. SEYLER. Before the situation is impaired, it would be a litle hard to estimate. I think he can go on for quite awhile if he has good cooperation from his associates. I would not recommend, in going out and hiring a dean, that you do it on this basis. I am saying this is definitely a temporary situation.

Mr. MAHANY. You are saying that we should consider this as an exception to the general rule.

Mr. SEYLER. No, I am not saying that you should consider this as an exception to the general rule at all. I am saying that the man is going to be giving his money's worth. He is not receiving any additional salary more than he was receiving before. He is getting it from a different source.

It seems to me there is no question but that he will be giving greater total service to the Commonwealth, since he has accepted this now position, than he was before. I think there is no question about your getting a great bargain in having Dean Williamson taking this job temporarily.

Mr. MAHANY. We do not seem to be getting as good a bargain as State College. They are now getting for $2,000 what they formerly paid $15,000 for.

Mr. SEYLER. Of course, they are not doing that, Mr. President. For $15,000 they are getting a first-rate man and, at the same time, he is also doing a job for the Commonwealth. You cannot say that he has given the one up; he has not.

Mr. MAHANY. Is it not true that State College is getting all they got before for $2,000 which they formerly paid $15,000 for?

Mr. SEYLER. No, Mr. President, I did not say that is true. I said distinctly that this could go on for a limited time without impairment. It could go on for a considerable time with some impairment. There is no question in my mind that it is not a good way to have a dean's job filled as a regular circumstance.

Mr. MAHANY. Again, I ask you, how long do you think this sort of thing can go on without impairing the administration of State College?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am perhaps not the best one to address that question to. I would suggest that the Majority Leader ask that question of the President of State College. He is in a better position to judge than I. I, however, have given you my opinion; that this can only be a temporary measure.

Mr. MAHANY. You stated that it could go on for some time without any impairment, then a limited time with some impairment and then, after that, I suppose everything would go to pot. I am trying to find out how long these various brackets would be which you are setting for us here as to impairment, no impairment, little impairment and then chaos.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I decline to make this equivalence. I have argued from the beginning that the Majority Leader is trying to measure different kinds of qualities, using the same yardsticks.

I might ask him whether, because it took Rembrandt six months to paint one picture and it took him two months to paint another, he could tell me that one picture is three times as great a painting as the other. This is the silliest line of questioning I think that the gentleman could possibly raise.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, my questioning certainly has nothing to do with painting. These fellows up at State College, evidently, are paid according to their ability and the time that they spend. I, again, state that if Dean Williamson is doing the same job that he did before, or essentially that, then State College is receiving for $2,000 what they formerly paid $15,000 for.

Senator Seyler states that sooner or later something is going to happen because there will be some impairment. Impairment of what, he did not say. I suppose he meant impairment of the administration of State College. Inasmuch as State College is a land grant college and a primary responsibility of this Legislature, I think we should concern ourselves with the length of time it will be before this impairment will take place. That was the reason for my questioning.

I am interested in State College as well as I am the Turnpike Commission. I do not want anything to happen to State College and the School of Engineering up there for which we appropriate so much money.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, it was the gentleman from Crawford who pointed out initially that both Pennsylvania State College and the other position that the gentleman has recently accepted come from the same source. He was receiving $15,000 before he entered upon his new duties; he is receiving $15,000 total now, as I understand it.

As I suggested before to the gentleman, the Commonwealth, in its capacity as the government at Harrisburg, and the Commonwealth in its capacity as a State University, is receiving a great bargain.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if we are getting such bargains as that, perhaps we should bring more college professors down here who, evidently, can spare the time from their work and we will give them double duty, down here and up there. In that way, we will all be so much ahead, according to Senator Seyler's statement. However, in the meantime, according to his other statement, something is going to be impaired and it is not going to be Rembrandt's painting.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Donald E. Bowersox, Pastor of Loganville Evangelical United Brethern Church, York County, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, our Father, we pray unto Thee in faith, believing that Thou will hear us today. We give unto Thee our praise for this beautiful day, and for the opportunities that Thou has given us to serve Thee. We enter into Thy presence with that same sort of confidence that a child would have in his earthly father, and yet, our confidence is stronger in Thee because we know that Thou can not and will not fail us.

We pray for the nations of earth today. May the spirit of that great leader of the past whose birthday we remember today become in some measure the spirit of the nations of earth. May the leaders of all the nations of earth recognize the individual rights and freedom of all mankind.

We earnestly ask Thy blessing to rest upon the Members of this Legislative body today. May Thy gentle Spirit be their source of wisdom and guidance in all their deliberations.

In the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit we pray, Amen.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. MURPHY and BELL. RESOLUTION No. 23.

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1957.

The inadequate State Highway System extending in and about the City of Chester is totally inadequate for local and through traffic.

The City of Chester, County of Delaware, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and the State of Pennsylvania have heretofore entered into an agreement for the construction of a limited access highway to be known as "Chester Expressway" connecting the Conchester Road and U.S. Highway 13, known as the Chester Pike, connecting Chester and Philadelphia.

Construction of the first portion thereof has actually been completed.

The City of Chester and County of Delaware have specifically allocated $1,000,000 to pay for land damage claims covering the construction of the remaining link of the said proposed Chester Expressway.

No further action has been taken concerning the construction of that portion of the proposed Chester Expressway situate between Kerlin Street and Chester Pike.

The traveling public, including tens of thousands of employes in the heavy industries of Chester and lower Delaware County are daily inconvenienced by the failure of the State Highway Department to push to completion the remainder of the "Chester Expressway."

Hundreds of thousands of residents of Philadelphia and eastern Delaware County are subject to daily traffic jams caused by the overloaded condition of an antiquated State Highway System existing between Eddystone Borough and the Delaware state line; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge the Secretary of the Highway Department of this Commonwealth to complete as soon as practicable the Chester Expressway in the County of Delaware for the convenience and safety of the traveling public of this Commonwealth.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. THOMPSON. RESOLUTION No. 24.

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1957.

The Allegheny River, one of the greatest waterways in the eastern United States, is familiar to us all, not only for its size, but more so for its value in providing clean water for domestic and industrial consumption and for recreational enjoyment.

Now the purity of the Allegheny is being threatened by a proposed paper mill, to be constructed near the city of Franklin Pennsylvania. If improperly operated such a mill could reduce the natural beauty of the Allegheny to the fate which has befallen so many of our streams, that fate being pollution, with its foul and extremely harmful color and odor.

It is not the wish of any good citizen to impede progress or to obstruct establishment of new industry. It is our fundamental duty, however, to safeguard the natural wonders and beauty which God has created for our use and enjoyment. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives call upon the Sanitary Water Board of the Department of Health to carefully scrutinize all possible effects of the proposed paper mill near Franklin, Pennsylvania and earnestly request that such a mill be prohibited if there is any possibility that it will pollute the Allegheny River; and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Secretary of Health in his capacity as Chairman of the Sanitary Water Board.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. WEIDNER, PIPER and ADAMS.

RESOLUTION No. 25.

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1957.

On Wednesday February 6, 1957 it was publicly reported that sometime during the first week in February, narcotics of a value of about $500 had been stolen from the vault of the Charles H. Miner State Hospital at Hamburg, Berks County Pennsylvania. The missing narcotics were reported to consist mainly of cocaine- hydrochlorid, quantities of morphine, nembutal and codine, in tablet, and capsule and bulk powder form which drugs were used in the hospital's surgical department as local anesthetics. The circumstances surrounding the reported theft were peculiar in that the above mentioned narcotics were stored in a vault with double doors which bore no signs of forcible entry.

Circumstances such as these indeed reflect unfavorably upon the administration of the hospital and considering the grave problem that police authorities normally face with the illegal traffic in narcotics, and its attendant circumstances in the perpetration of crimes in the community, the House of Representatives expresses its deep concern over the entire matter, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House who shall form a committee for the purpose of investigating the theft of narcotics from the Charles H. Miner, State Hospital and to investigate other irregularities in the administration of the hospital, and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings together with recommendations for measures necessary and appropriate for the correction of the irregularities to this session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. PIPER, WEIDNER and ADAMS.

RESOLUTION No. 26.

In the House of Representatives, February 11 1957.

The reported plans of the State Highway Department to make the fourteen mile stretch of Route 22 between Shartlesville, and the Berks-Lebanon County border, in Berks County, into a limited access highway has spread confusion, resentment and pessimism in northern Berks County.

Sealing off this area in order to make Route 22 qualify for the new Federal interstate road system will cripple if not deal a death blow to the businesses of roadside operators in the fourteen mile stretch of highway.

Threatened with isolation are thirty-eight establishments with a total estimated value in excess of $1,200,000. The establishments represent the life savings of the owners, running as high as $100,000, in individual cases. There are thirteen gasoline stations, twelve motels, nine food establishments, two "museums" and two gift and antique shops in the prosperous fourteen mile stretch.

At the opening six years ago to traffic of the part of Route 22 now effected, there was no mention or indication of a limited access highway. The businesses about to be "strangled" were established as individual enterprises with good faith on the part of the proprietors. The plan to stifle and do away with the businesses is to be viewed with alarm and consternation. Such action can have far-reaching effect upon the populace who will fear to venture into individual enterprise, which may be done away with at the whim of the government. Side roads can not and will not supply a flow of trade to maintain the business establishments affected; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby condemns the plan of the State Highway Department to make a limited access highway of the fourteen mile stretch of Route 22 in Berks County, between Shartlesville and the Berks-Lebanon County border.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. IDE, MOYER and RAGOT. RESOLUTION No. 27.

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1957.

Whereas, State Highway Alternate Route 22 at its eastern terminus is located in the City of Easton, extending from the western boundary of the city eastwardly by a tortuous and winding route along the Bushkill Creek to the Delaware River; and

Whereas, the speed limit on the major portion of said roadway is fixed at 35 miles per hour in view of the dangerous and hazardous conditions created by the hairpin curves of said roadway; and

Whereas, said roadway is posted against speeds in excess of 35 miles an hour but the posting does not adequately warn motorists of the inherently dangerous and hazardous conditions of the roadway with the result that motorists have, time and again, proceeded into said curves at excessive speeds and have lost control of their vehicles —crossing the medial strip and colliding with traffic proceeding in the opposite direction; and

Whereas, an exceptionally high rate of serious accidents, many involving fatalities, have resulted and have prompted repeated requests to the Pennsylvania Department of Highways to install such additional facilities as may be necessary to warn motorists of the hazardous road condition; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Department of Highways, despite a continuing and increasing rate of serious accidents on said roadway, has failed to adopt any remedied measures as requested;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that, in the interests of the safety of the general travelling public, the Governor be and he hereby is requested to order and direct the Pennsylvania Department of Highways to install such additional warning facilities including more adequate illumination, flashing red signals and an elevated medial strip so as to impress more forcefully upon motorists about to enter upon said roadway the extremely hazardous and dangerous condition of the same.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Senate Bills for concurrence Nos. 32 and 82.

Resolutions for concurrence Serial No. 108 and Serial No. 109

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I notice by reading the newspapers the Majority Leader admits that two years ago they climbed out on a limb when they suggested they were going to cut $200 million from the Governor's budget and the Majority Leader says he is not going to do much talking this time because he does not like to be caught out on a limb that way.

I want to point out, Mr. Speaker, that at the time the then minority was crawling out on a limb we in the majority were trying to pull them back, and repeatedly we suggested to the then Minority Leader, Mr. Smith, that he was perhaps crawling out on a limb. But he did not take our advice.

Now, unfortunately, it is my opinion that in this session the majority is once again crawling out on a limb, but they are not doing it on the floor of this House so that we can caution them and perhaps help them to get back.

While I recognize the power of the majority and I recognize also the prerogative on the part of the majority to conduct their cases in any manner they see fit, I am just wondering whether it would not be wise if some of the statements which are being made in the newspapers should not be made in the House in the presence of the minority so that we might have a chance to discuss it with the majority. Then if we find them crawling out on a limb too far, we could caution them a little bit and we might be able to get them back.

I hope as the session progresses we will have the chance to debate with the majority on the floor of the House and not be forced to do it through the newspapers.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 203, Printer's No. 36

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

RECOMMENDED LEGISLATION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg. February 12, 1957.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

No laws, however wise, can take the place of honest public servants devoted to ethical principles and dedicated to the best interests of those they serve.

We shall always need men and women of high personal integrity in our elected and appointed offices; and for the most part, the Commonwealth has been exceedingly fortunate in getting them.

But given honest and able public servants, we still must provide the good laws under which good government flourishes.

I recommend two such bills to this Legislature.

The first defines and regulates conflicts of interest on the part of State officials and employes. An analysis of the proposed bill is attached to this message.

St. Matthew said that "no man can serve two masters."

By the same token, no public servant can serve the general weal and his own self-interest in those cases where the two are unalterably opposed to one another.

In many cases, these clashes of interest are obvious and unmistakable.

In other cases, the issue is far from being open-and-shut, and honest men find it hard to decide whether a course of action is proper or improper.

It is in the hope of defining the unmistakable conflict and of throwing light on the twilight area of conduct that we propose this legislation.

A great many conflicts of interest are unavoidable, of course. A member of this Assembly who votes on a tax law is affecting his own tax payment as well as everyone else's.

But in the twilight area of which I spoke, there are also conflicts of interest which, as things now stand, can only be resolved in terms of individual judgment.

This, then, is the problem: how are we to separate the unavoidable conflicts of interest from the dubious and the venal?

The proposed bill attempts to make that separation in clear and unmistakable fashion.

I might mention that a number of Departments in the State have long been aware of the dangers inherent in conflicts of interest. The Department of Justice, for example, has for some years prohibited its salaried attorneys from appearing for the defense in criminal cases, or from representing any plaintiff in an action against the State or a State agency. But it has taken such action through administrative decree.

This bill would clarify, define, and punish violations of the law. I strongly urge its adoption.

The second legislative act I propose would require the registration of lobbyists and a public accounting of their expenditures.

I believe that the people of this Commonwealth have the right to know officially what person and what interest is attempting to influence legislation and public policy in Pennsylvania. And I believe the people of this State have a right to know what sums of money are being spent to exert that influence.

Lobbyists represent pressure groups. As such they provide a real service in directing and stimulating expressions of opinion by their membership and other interested persons .

In presenting the opinions of a group, in bringing before the members of the General Assembly an expert knowledge of that group's opinion, they often perform an invaluable function.

The danger of such pressure groups, of course, is that they may sometimes bring about the subordination of the over-all interest to the interests of the articulate and well-organized few.

In any case, I feel that this proposed bill will spotlight their activities in a manner that cannot fail to benefit the cause of good government.

If lobbyists are required to register and account for what they spend, it cannot fail to help the legislators themselves, and the members of the press whose unofficial job it is to help guard the interests of the people.

Certainly I find it difficult to believe that the members of this Assembly could argue against this good government measure.

Pressure groups have their place in the legislative scheme of things. But so long as they seek to influence legislation, they should be required to make their activities public.

Such a law has been on the Federal Government's books since 1946, and a number of state governments have adopted similar legislation since that time.

The bills which I here recommend possesses a quality in common:

Both seek to protect the welfare of the many from erosion for the benefit of a few.

In one case, we seek to limit the action of a public servant who finds himself at cross-purposes with the over-all good of the Commonwealth.

In the other, we seek to identify pressure groups clearly enough so that the most expert technique of persuasion, and the most substantial of bank accounts, will not subordinate the general welfare to the particular goals of a few.

Together, these bills strike at the heart of special interest government—whether on the part of the individual or the pressure group.

Together, their enactment cannot fail to increase the confidence of Pennsylvania's citizens in their State Government and in its desire to serve all of them honestly and well.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

Subject: Conflict of Interest Bill

To: Hon. George M. Leader
Governor of Pennsylvania

From: Hon. Thomas D. McBride
Attorney General

The proposed conflict of interest act is designed to delineate clearly the boundary between permissible and prohibited actions by State officers, employes and legislators in matters involving the State. It accomplishes this goal by treating three broad areas of possible conflict: (1) representation during a period of service or employment; (2) sale of goods or services to the State during a period of service or employment; and (3) representation subsequent to a period of service or employment. Prohibitions with respect to the first two areas of activity also cover firms, partnerships, associations and corporations in which such State officer, employe or legislator is a member of stockholder. However, representation in one's own behalf is permitted.

Both the Federal and New York statutes have been studied in drafting the proposed act, but neither is identical to the recommended legislation for Pennsylvania. While New York's format of a separate conflict of interest statute has been adopted rather than the Federal approach of adding relevant sections to the penal code, the latter's more realistic substantive coverage has been preferred to New York's looser treatment. For example, New York bans representation by State officials during their service or employment only on a contingent fee basis; whereas, in both the Federal and Pennsylvania views, a conflict of interest is not dependent on the contingency of the compensation.

A section by section analysis of the bill will prove helpful in understanding its scope and application.

Section 1 is the short title and needs no explanation.

Section 2 contains definitions and makes explicit the broad meanings to be given to the terms defined. "Agency of the Commonwealth" includes not only State Departments, but also departmental boards and commissions (e.g. Board of Pardons), independent boards and commissions (e.g. Liquor Control Board) and independent instrumentalities (e.g. Turnpike Commission, General State Authority). "Prohibited person" includes corporations in which the officer's, employe's or legislator's stock ownership is indirect (e.g. stock owned by wife) as well as direct.

Section 3 deals with representation during service or employment. Subsection (a) prohibits the performance of compensated services in relation to any matter either pending before a State agency or in which such agency is involved. This includes informal contacts and conferences, formal hearings and court proceedings. However, the subsection makes it clear that such prohibition does not apply where the matter involved is ministerial and not discretionary in nature, such as the filing of a tax return with the Department of Revenue or of articles of incorporation with the Department of State. If, subsequently, however, the tax return is questioned by the State and an adverse situation develops, further representation would be prohibited.

Subsection (b) deals with certain lobbying activities. No prohibited person may lobby or otherwise perform services in relation to any matter or bill before the General Assembly if he receives any compensation therefor other than that received from the Commonwealth in the course of his service or employment. This exception for official compensation is necessary so that, for example, an executive officer of the State may urge passage of a bill desired by his Department, an activity in which he may rightfully engage.

Section 4 treats the sale of goods or services to the State by prohibited persons. Such sales, as is explicitly stated in the section, are completely prohibited.

Limitations on representation by an officer or employe of a State agency—but not by a legislator or officer or employe of the legislature—following the termination of his service or employment are common features of conflict of interest laws; and section 5 attempts to detail specifically what is prohibited. Any appearance before a State agency or transaction of business with a State agency or receipt of compensation for services rendered is prohibited if the matter involved is either one of two types: (a) a matter which the officer or employe handled or participated in personally during his service or employment regardless of which agency the matter was before or in at the time or (b) a matter which was before or in the agency in which the officer or employe served or was employed during the period of his service or employment regardless of whether he personally handled the matter. Since a criminal offense is involved, however, knowledge at the time the officer or employe subsequently makes his appearance or transacts his business or receives his compensation that the matter had been before or in his agency during his period of service or employment is required before penalties can be imposed. In all cases, the prohibition is limited to a period of two years following service or employment.

One exception is made to the restrictions of section 5. Occasionally, a person may leave State service or employment who, subsequently, is needed by the State to aid it in dealing with a matter handled by him during his period of service or employment. He may be retained by the State and make any appearance, transact any business and receive compensation pursuant to his retention without violating the provisions of section 5.

Section 6 is an implementation section requiring every State agency to keep a record of appearances before it at any hearing, investigation or inquiry which it may conduct.

Section 7 is a penalty provision. Any violation of the prohibition sections of the act is a misdemeanor carrying a fine up to one thousand dollars or imprisonment up to one year or both. In addition, representation or sale of goods or services during a period of employment requires removal from office or employment and subsequent disbarment from office or employment when a person is convicted of such representation or sale.

Because of the intricacies which arise in making specific application of the act, the Attorney General is empowered to promulgate rules and regulations under the act. These rules and regulations will provide more detailed guides of conduct for persons falling under the act's restrictions and more easily enable him to chart his activities.

In order that a reasonable time may be given following enactment to study the act's provisions and scope, section 9 provides that the act shall not become effective until ninety days after enactment.

RESOLUTION

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

Mr. WORLEY offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1957.

Today marks the 148th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, the 16th President of the United States. It is indeed fitting that we should be in our seats in the Legislature on this day while many in other walks of life are enjoying a holiday, for how better could we pay homage to this outstanding patriot than to labor in the interests of our fellow men. Abraham Lincoln was a man who undertook his labors in all sincerity and humility, whose devoted and inspired leadership, obtained through simplicity and a profound knowledge of human nature, has not only attained for him an important niche in the history of our country, but has set for us a goal; one that can only be reached by unselfishly attacking our task with the unwaivering belief that God will help us find the proper solution; therefore be it

Resolved, That we pause for a moment in our legislative tasks to pay homage to the greatness of Abraham Lincoln, and to honor him for his immeasurable contribution to the welfare and continuity of our country, and then let us pay even greater respect to him by returning to our duties with the sincerity and steadfastness with which he would have attacked our problems; and let us continue, not only on this day, but every day of our lives, to imitate his greatness and strive for that goal for which he devoted his life, to bring about a better understanding among men, and to make our nation the greatest in the world in the eyes of both God and man.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mrs. ANDERSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support this resolution. On this anniversary of a great President I feel that the deepest tribute we can offer is to look back over Abraham Lincoln's life and realize that defeat and failure punctuated his life for many years. It is most significant to note that he did not lose courage nor did he exercise fear. He rather used these stumbling blocks to achieve success and to bring peace to a troubled nation.

As we support this resolution let us all remember Lincoln's favorite words, "With God's help I shall not fail."

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

RESOLUTION

LITHUANIAN INDEPENDENCE DAY

Messrs. TAYLOR, LUTTY, KAMYK and POLASKI offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1957.

Saturday, February 16, 1957, marks the 38th anniversary of the declaration of Lithuania as a free and independent Republic.

Even though the Republic of Lithuania is now under the heel of communist tyranny and suppression, the spirit of liberty and freedom lives on in the hearts of all her citizens who courageously look forward to that great day when liberty will again be enjoyed, and when her sovereign rights will be restored; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives urge the Governor to declare Saturday, February 16, 1957, as Lithuanian Independence Day, and that all Pennsylvania citizens of Lithuanian descent and freedom loving persons everywhere be called upon to pay tribute to the Republic of Lithuania.

RESOLUTION

THADEUS KOSCIOSZKO'S BIRTHDAY

Messrs. KAMYK, PETROSKY, POLASKI and TAYLOR offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1957.

February 12, 1746 was the birthday of Thadeus Koscioszko, one of America's great heroes who came from abroad to help her fight her battle for freedom and independence. Koscioszko, in 1776, joined the continental army as a volunteer and distinguished himself, especially in the battles of New York and Yorktown where Cornwallis surrendered. He was a good soldier and attended some of the best military academies of Europe. Washington promoted Koscioszko to the rank of colonel and made him his adjutant. Upon termination of the American Revolution, Congress rewarded him for his heroic services by conferring American citizenship upon him and raising him to the rank of Brigadier General. He returned to Poland, his native land, and there took up her struggle against the invading hordes of Russia. After much fighting and being terribly outnumbered, wounded and insensible, he collapsed thus ending his fighting.

Later, he returned to America and lived in Philadelphia for two years before returning once again to Europe. Koscioszko was a man of ideals and beliefs in independence and the equality of men before the law. Motivated by these ideals, he came across a vast ocean, and together with men like Lafayette distinguished himself in the battle of a colonial people to set themselves apart from what they considered a rule of tyranny. Today, we are witnessing the terrible fate that the patriots of certain European nations have encountered in their attempts to rise against the tyranny of their oppressors. Many heroes have emerged from these ill-fated attempts at freedom and independence who once against remind us of the caliber of man it takes to fight and even die in a struggle for freedom. Valor and courage are marks of patriots who fight and die in their country's bid for freedom, and it is for these ideals and loyalties that we remember and commemorate the birthday of a man like Koscioszko; therefore be it Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania acknowledge and commend the heroic deeds and example of devotion to the ideals of freedom and brotherhood that motivated Koscioszko to take up the struggle of freedom of our great country in her hour of need.

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Majority Leader whether there has yet been any understanding with the admnistration as to when appropriation bills embodying budget requests will be prepared for the consideration of the committees of this House?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I have had no word from the administration with respect to appropriation bills. I have received about fifteen bills from the administration which have been submitted to me for the possibility of co-sponsorship, but in that group of bills there are no appropriation bills.

Mr. ANDREWS. Another question. Therefore the majority would have no idea as to when the House can begin the consideration of the appropriations program?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I would rather yield to the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, if the gentleman would please direct that question to him. Does that meet with his approval?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is quite all right.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from McKean, Mr Johnson, yields to the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Did the gentleman hear the question addressed to the Majority Leader?

Mr. WOOD. Will the gentleman repeat it please?

Mr. ANDREWS. I asked whether any understanding has been arrived at with the administration as to when bills embodying its budget requests will be prepared and submitted for the consideration of the committees of this House?

Mr. WOOD. I have had no communications from them.

Mr. ANDREWS. What is the purpose in the mind of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. Will he await the bills, or will the committee survey the budget and prepare its own bills?

Mr. WOOD. We expect to start next week and call some of the departments in and go to work on the budget. We do not need the bills yet. We can work without the bills.

Mr. ANDREWS. Would it not be likely to get more results if there were bills prepared for the consideration of the committee?

Mr. WOOD. I agree with the gentleman. We should have the bills. I think they should have them prepared. They have had plenty of time to get them ready.

Mr. ANDREWS. I desire further to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is it the purpose of the majority to delay the presentation of its tax program until there has been a report from the Appropriations Committee?

Mr. JOHNSON. It is not. It is the intention of the majority to have the tax program on the floor of this House for debate at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, by what process does the majority expect to arrive at a figure for the overall appropriations, the overall take of the tax program, when it has heard from the Appropriations Committee? Is the Appropriation Committee to determine the amount of taxes that are needed, or is the Ways and Means Committee to inform the Appropriations Committee of how far it can go? Who is leading this particular procession?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would not say that anyone is leading it particularly. I would say that as we have announced and as you read in the Press—which also appeared in the bills that were put in yesterday—we have introduced bills which reenact all the present temporary taxes, with the exception of the one cent temporary gasoline tax, which bill has not been put in for the purpose of reenactment until we have had a chance to see the Highway budget.

We have estimated that the permanent taxes on the books, plus the temporary taxes, bills for which have been introduced yesterday, will bring in about $1.5 billion. We know that the budget needs are going to at least equal that sum. Therefore, we cannot see anything wrong in processing those particular bills, getting them over to the Senate and enacting them into the law so that we will not again have a pistol at our heads along the last week of May with the necessity of reenacting emergency tax legislation which will expire at the end of the biennium. So, we cannot see anything wrong, nor is it establishing any precedent or any ceiling or any floor if those bills move and are put on the statute books.

In answer to your question, if the Ways and Means Committee chooses to release those bills for floor action, I cannot see that they are saying anything to anybody other than here is $1.5 billion worth of taxes for now, and we will then await the final decision of the Appropriations Committee. You know if the appropriations will exceed $1.5 billion, sure, new taxes will be necessary, and we will let them stand on their own two feet based on the absolute necessity for additional new revenue and new budget needs.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Appropriations Committee, I would take it that the Appropriations Committee would operate with a pistol at its head with a predetermined destination. I have in times past argued that the Ways and Means Committee and the Appropriations Committee should be combined into a finance committee. I think that would be the wise procedure. But for the Majority Leader or the Ways and Means Committee to sit down and presume to determine metes and bounds for the Appropriations Committee, before it has even had a meeting to discuss the budget, I think is something new in the procedure of this House. However, I am quite sure that the majority, having the majority, will run this show as it pleases.

As the Majority Leader said, he does not know whether anybody is at the head of the procession, but I think it is about time that somebody did get at the head of the procession and establish communications with the administration, coordinate the work of its committees and present an orderly program for the consideration of this House.

I would like to make a further remark along a different line.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Yesterday I introduced some tax legislation of my own. We went a little far afield in the legislation and we wanted to give the Ways and Means Committee a chance to pick and choose.

In the bills that I introduced, all of the corporation taxes, with the exception of an excise tax equal to the tax paid in Ohio, would be repealed. I do not expect we can go that far in protecting the business interests of this state at this session, but we can begin making a beginning of our repeated insistence that the tax load upon Pennsylvania industry, Pennsylvania corporations, should be lightened and lightened progressively in accordance with a program.

There has been a lot of talk in the newspapers about the business that was going to other states because of our tax structure. Members of the opposition at various times have expressed themselves to the same effect. Now either that has been show business, campaign twaddle, or there is a righteous intention upon the part of the majority to begin doing what they said the minority when it was in power did not do, and that was lighten the tax burden upon the corporations of this Commonwealth.

I expect that the bill I introduced will receive some consideration. I would not expect, and indeed I would oppose to go the whole distance of repealing the whole corporate tax structure with one fell swoop, but we can make a beginning. The majority party at this time can demonstrate its good faith and whether it has been talking gobbledygook to the business interests of this state for the pupose of getting elected or whether it desires to give concrete evidence of its good intentions.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, first in connection with his saying that the Appropriations Committee had a pistol at its heads in that we had introduced tax bills which would bring in a total revenue of $1.5 million, surely nobody had any such thing in mind. I personally cannot see anything wrong about saying to the Appropriations Committee here is $1.5 billion, $500 million more than was spent in the last biennium under Governor Fine—$500 million more money, or a total of $1.5 billion. I can see nothing wrong in saying to the Appropriations Committee, "You take a good look at those appropriations, you cut the cloth to fit that and, if you need more material, come back and let us know." But the first run around the track let us see if we cannot do business on $1.5 billion. That is a lot of money. That is taking a tremendous sum of money out of the coffers of this state.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for an interrogation?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield and permit an interrogation?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have noted in the Press that from the supreme command in the party the gentleman represents there has been considerable comment about reckless spending. So we have reason to suspect that maybe this $1.5 billion is more money than a wise Appropriations Committee might appropriate. Are we going to be in the position finally of saying, "Here is $1.5 billion. You do not need it, but we are going to hand it to you. Or are we going to backtrack on all that was said about reckless spending?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that, I compliment the gentleman as a statesman. What he says is absolutely true. Sure, if we can get under $1.5 billion, it will be great. I am not saying that it can be done in view of the Governor wanting $1,608 million. Someone said yesterday, where are you going to cut if you do cut $108 million? Are you going to cut Welfare? Are you going to cut Education? What are you going to cut? Naturally, at this stage of the game, I cannot say and nobody else can say what cuts, if any, can be made. Maybe it is a sound budget and maybe it is a budget we must tell the people of Pennsylvania we must enact.

But right now, if we can get away with $1.5 billion, I think we will be doing an excellent job, although I am not saying we need to spend even that much money.

Now in answer to his further statement that it is the first time he has ever heard of revenue bills being moved before the appropriation bills have been agreed upon, I can look back to last session. They moved all of their tax bills before we had any appropriation bills. The appropriation bills did not pass finally until the last week of the session, after it had been going 17 months.

I think you will find since time immemorial in this House we have moved the revenue program generally before the appropriation bills finally got on the House calendar or on the Governor's desk. We will not be violating any precedent if we now provide the revenue to be examined by the committee.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McINROY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, today is Lincoln's birthday. Perhaps this is a good day to make the statements which I am about to make.

The Great Emancipator spoke always for justice, for equality, for freedom and for the good of all mankind. With the same aim in view, I am talking today not for Republicans but for all the people of Pennsylvania.

At this part I am disgressing from my speech. I am amazed and pleased to hear the speaker on the minority side praise the same thing that we Republicans have praised for years, that is the fact of not taxing corporations out of Pennsylvania, but giving them a chance. When they got in power the way we have been in power for years, they found out that for the good of all the people of Pennsylvania, not for corporations alone, but for workers, for stockholders and all of us, you cannot soak the corporations.

Last Tuesday, February 5th, His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, delivered in person the new budget for the next biennium, together with certain comments on this budget and other statements on the government of this Commonwealth and certain other comments on the government in Washington.

His Excellency spoke in a mild and conciliatory manner. Was this because he recognized the fact that his party had suffered a crushing defeat at the polls last November and that this House, as well as the Senate, is now controlled by the Republican party?

Was His Excellency sincere last Tuesday when he stated that taxes should not be made a political issue? Did he practice this when he was a candidate for the high office which he now holds? Did not His Excellency, the Governor, campaign all over this great Commonwealth on the promise that he and his party could let the 1 per cent sales tax drop and save so much by cutting off unnecessary workers from the state payroll, and other efficient measures, that there would be no need for any additional taxes and that all essential services could be maintained? We Republicans, including the new Chief Clerk of the House, Mr. Wood—and I am glad he sits up there this afternoon so that he can listen to this part, because I maintain, and thousands of others maintain in Pennsylvania, that Governor Leader ran under false pretenses and told the people of this Commonwealth, either maliciously or because he did not know any better, that he could do the things that he promised he could do. We Republicans told the truth, that the present high costs of government, together with the mandated costs already agreed upon by the Legislature and signed by the Governor, made that impossible. Now let me ask you, did the present Governor really believe this statement? He certainly had all the figures for four years while a Member of the other house which pointed out that neither he nor anyone else could ever get along without some other tax or taxes. Regardless of what we tried to tell the voters by quoting the real figures, His Excellency was elected to his high office.

As Al Smith used to say, "Let's look at the record." As soon as our new Governor, with all his shining promises, was inducted into office, he and his advisors proceeded to make out the most extravagant budget in the history of this Commonwealth and to ask for new taxes for well over $300 million. Three months after taking office His Excellency and his cohorts proceeded to ram down our throats that iniquitous and unfair "Classified Income Tax." However, when this unjust tax was acted upon by the other House, it got just what it deserved—a resounding defeat. Then the "Manufacturers' Excise Tax" met the same defeat.

Next, a vicious sales tax was conceived by the "brain trust" of the Democratic Party. This unjust tax was defeated right here in this House.

Next the honest—and I underscore the word "honest"—leaders of the Democratic Party proposed a compromise plan based on a 1 per cent income and 1 per cent sales tax. I can never forget to my dying breath that historical day when we were going to vote on that tax. Before the session convened we noticed many strange people going in and out of the Governor's office. Who were they? What did they want? Why were they here? We found out the answers to those questions later in the day. When the question was asked of His Excellency as to whether he would sign this compromise plan if laid upon his desk, the word finally came back that no promise would be given. In other words, no.

I can still feel the tears trickling down my face, and I can see the then Majority Leader Al Readinger, getting up and in a broken voice say what he said. I can see his Speaker of the House, Mr. Andrews, as he rose to his feet, sitting right near where he now sits, and saying, "We now lay the problem of taxation right in the lap of His Excellency, the Governor of Pennsylvania, and his advisors." I can still see the then Minority Leader, Charlie Smith, standing where I am standing now, as he rose to his feet and said, "I feel sorry for Al Readinger for he has done a good job, only to be turned down over there." There was hardly a dry eye in this House at that moment. Tears later turned to anger.

Why, I ask, did the Governor turn down that proposition? I might also ask if anyone exerted any pressure that day? Some have asked the question, "Who was the real boss that day?" Does it not make you hesitate and ask yourself, "Just how much confidence can we place in His Excellency?"

Perhaps you say those are harsh words. Maybe they are. But listen, the Governor mentioned national politics last Tuesday. My mind goes back to the time of this last political campaign. His Excellency made a trip to California and bitterly attacked the record, and yes, the character of the greatest living man in these United States today, our beloved President Dwight D. Eisenhower. That was a terrific mistake, Mr. Governor, and was ill-becoming the head of this great Commonwealth, the home of President Eisenhower. When the votes were counted after last election, who won the election, Mr. Governor? Who won the election?

Again, Your Excellency, many of us went down to Washington to see the inauguration this last month. In the line of march were thousands of people, Democrats and Republicans alike. We are all Americans that day. "Happy" Chandler from Kentucky, Governor "Soapy" Williams from Michigan, and other Democratic Governors, as well as those from our party, were in the line of march waving to the people. I was proud of this great country as I watched the Cadets from West Point and the Midshipmen from Annapolis, together with the Air Force Cadets from our new Air Force Academy in Colorado, and all the other groups as they marched by. Then came the parade of the states. Finally, along came the float from Pennsylvania, and a beautiful one it was, too. The Valley Forge Military Band and the Penn State University Band passed by in review. I looked for His Excellency, the Governor, but I looked in vain. Our beloved President makes his home in Pennsylvania. Where, oh where, was our Governor?

Sometimes, Mr. Speaker, we wonder just who is telling the truth, and why? His Excellency, the Governor, told his listening audience and indeed this whole state and nation at his inauguration that he would surround himself with the very best of advisors and appointees. Without singling them out one by one and making it embarrassing this afternoon, I ask you this pertinent question, Mr. Speaker,

"When, oh when, have we seen a more poorly equipped group, not only in his inner circle of advisors, but all over this great Commonwealth?" Where, oh where, have you so seen so many doing so little and so much harm to the morals and morale of the people of this great state? There will be more scandals exposed in these two years of Democratic misrule than in the last 16 years of Republican administrations. Remember these words of prophecy and see if it does not turn out to be the absolute truth.

Now let us say a few words about this new budget. The message glosses over, or attempts to gloss over, the wildest and most extravagant spending of any administration in the history of this Commonwealth. The $82 million deficit would not have been necessary if the sales tax had been collected and if the stamp provision had been put in force. Why have not the stamps been printed and put out? Is it because the present administration was afraid that it would make the sales tax more popular? Was it because more money would be collected under this plan? Was it because the law could be enforced more easily? A state administration should always proceed as though a law was constitutional until proven otherwise. Has this administration done this? We charge that there has been laxity and inefficiency all the way along in the administration and collection of this sales tax. In spite of all this and all the propaganda put out against it, the tax on the whole is already a popular and almost painless method of collecting a large part of the necessary funds to run this Commonwealth.

Governor Leader and his office should get their stories straight. The Governor in his budget message presented last Tuesday said that the deficit he inherited two years ago totalled $58 million. Just about two weeks ago his office issued a so-called balance sheet wihch put the 1955 deficit at $52 million. Get the difference, $52 million and $58 million, a mere $6 million difference, they might say.

A year ago when the Governor was trying to put over his hated classified income tax, he insisted over and over again that the deficit left by the Republicans was $74 million. We Republicans insisted it was not more than $50 million. I ask you now, which one was closer to the truth? I do not suppose we will ever know accurately the real deficit because of the confusion that permeates the Leader administration.

Governor Leader in his 1955 budget requested an appropriation of $3,725,000 for the Eastern Psychiatric Institute for 1955-1957. When Republicans insisted it was loaded with fat, Secretary Shapiro came before the Appropriations Committee, then controlled by the present administration, especially to answer this criticism. He insisted that every cent was needed. When the appropriations for the Welfare Department were finally approved because of the propaganda Secretary Shapiro was able to stir up with his misleading statements, the Legislature approved a blanket appropriation for general operations and mental rehabilitation program which included everything he requested, including the $3,726,000 he requested for the Eastern Psychiatric Institute.

Now what did Secretary Shapiro do? After he received the blanket appropriation, it was necessary for him in cooperation with the Budget Office to decide how and for what to spend all of this money. Did he approve the $3,726,000 for the Eastern Psychiatric Institute? He did not. If you will look on page 153 of the budget submitted by Governor Leader last Tuesday, you will find for the first time what that allocation was that Secretary Shapiro made in the quiet and the secrecy of his own office. It was $2,071,000, or more than a million dollars less than what he swore up and down before the Appropriations Committee of this House was necessary to operate that institution.

Now I want to give you another startling bit of information. On Tuesday of last week, after I learned of this fine piece of financial and political duplicity with the Legislature and the people, I made it a point to inquire how much of this $2,071,000 remains to be expended. I was informed by the Auditor General's Department that there was an unexpended balance of $1,321,288.41 on February 1st remaining in this allocation.

In other words, Members of the Assembly, there still remains unexpended 50 per cent of the amount which had already been reduced by more than a million dollars with the greatest possible secrecy and without those interested in mental health and mental health research making a single complaint.

If the Legislature had done that, you would have thought the sky had fallen in, there would have been such an outcry and such cries of anguish from the self-styled "do gooder clique" that Secretary Shapiro has managed to organize in this state.

From these figures, which come to us from official sources, there has actually been expended in the operation of the Eastern Psychiatric Institute, approximately $1,350,000 in the 20 months of this biennium, with approximately the same amount remaining for expenditure in the remaining four months.

Now let us take a further look into the Governor's budget on this item. What is Secretary Shapiro asking for the next two years for this Institute? I will tell you, $6,374,662. Think of that, five times as much as he has been able to expend so far in this biennium.

And what has the state been getting for what it has spent so far? Well, according to the Budget, on November 30, 1956, there were exactly 44 persons receiving mental treatment at the Institute, or about 15 per cent of its capacity.

Now, don't get me wrong. We are for mental health—of course, we are. But we are not for waste and inefficiency or misleading and untrue statements on the part of anyone connected with our state or our local governments.

Our Constitution now provides that before any legislation becomes law, and that includes appropriations, it must be signed by the Governor, unless passed by a two-thirds majority of each branch over his veto.

The Governor also has the power to reduce appropriations enacted by the Legislature. I would say he certainly does exercise a great deal of control over all appropriations.

Of course, he is hiding behind what the Governor so lovingly refers to as "mandated" programs.

By his reasoning every increase for every department has been mandated in some degree or another by the Legislature. He would have the people believe he has nothing to do with this tremendous increase in the cost of our state government since he took office.

What about his own office? Where is the legislative mandate which requires a 30 per cent increase in salaries and expenses for his office from $1,080,000 for this item in 1955 to $1,365,000 in 1957?

And what about the Department of Internal Affairs? What recent mandate from this Legislature boosted the cost of the Land Office from $55,616 in 1953 to $491,000 in 1957, 10 times as much?

In 1953 Governor Leader, then a Senator, voted with other Democrats to abolish this Department on the grounds that it was useless and a fifth wheel, yet the Governor now thinks so much of it that he is proposing twice as much money to operate it in 1957-1959 as it cost under the last Republican administration.

What special mandate did the Legislature give the Governor to nearly double the cost of administering the Department of Agriculture?

Mind you, I am not talking about the various services to the farmers, like milk sanitation, animal industry, foods and chemistry, market promotion and so forth. They all come under separate headings in this budget. I am talking now about the front office.

It was also pledged in the Democratic platform in 1954 that the Democrats, if elected, would put into effect savings of $100 million a biennium through reorganization of the state government.

In 1955 Legislature gave the Governor the broadest kind of powers to reorganize the state government and make the economies he had promised, even though the constitutionality of the reorganization plan was questioned, but nothing was forthcoming in the first two years.

When queried about these promised savings, the Governor's reply, in effect, was "Give me time. By the end of 1956, you will see the results."

We are now in 1957 and the Governor has submitted his new budget. Instead of savings, we are again presented with increases all along the line.

Disregarding for a moment the $82 million estimated deficit and the reasons for it, and assuming that all the proposed deficiency appropriations and appropriation lapses become effective, the Governor is asking this Legislature to appropriate $250 million more than the 1955 Legislature appropriated.

In a statement issued by the Governor last week after the Legislature had adjourned, the Chief Executive said, and I quote: "Eighty-eight percent of the increases recommended in the budget for the Commonwealth were expenditures over which the Governor exercises little or no control."

And I might ask, when the Governor was running against Lloyd Wood two years ago, didn't he know that we had mandated increases then? Didn't he know we had certain commitments made through this Legislature, or did he sit over there for four years in a fog, knowing nothing about finances?

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, I would like to say this, which I think is an interesting statement. If you have not heard anything I have said so far—I know the tendency is to go to sleep, particularly on the other side of the House when someone over here is speaking—will you please listen to these last few statements.

Many years ago, when a younger fellow than I am now, I entered Dickinson School of Law in Carlisle, Pa., our neighboring town about 19 miles away. Coming from a large family and also having a wife and a son to support, it was necessary for me to earn money to help pay expenses. One of the jobs I had was working for a retired Army chaplain. He paid me 30 cents an hour. One day he asked me to look around the house and stop up any rat holes I found in the house.

Mr. Speaker, I have thought of that a good many times since, this idea of "stopping up rat holes." My colleagues and I are trying not only to "stop up these rat holes" in our State Government, but to catch some of the rats that make the holes, be they Republicans or be they Democrats.

Let us then unite not as partisan workers, but as representatives of all the people to bring about the best possible government in the state of Pennsylvania, as well as the most efficient.

As Lincoln said in his Gettysburg Address:

"With malice toward none and with charity for all, let us bind the nation's wounds. Under God we will have a new birth of freedom and this nation of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, just to assure the gentleman that we were not sleeping on this side, I would just like to point out that he asked the question as to who won the election, the national election I assume he was referring to. I might say that a great popular hero, President Eisenhower, won the election, and I will support him for that.

However, I want to make this statement. It cost the Republican Party $20 million to elect "Ike." Ten million dollars was spent for Stevenson. They could have gotten a President twice as good at half the cost.

Regarding costs, Mr. Speaker, Mr. McInroy stated the Governor's budget is going up higher and higher. I would like to ask the gentleman if he received an increase in his salary in the last Session. I think it is twice that which we received during previous sessions. The cost of living in the state and the nation is going up to the highest point of any time in its history.

Mr. Speaker, we were not asleep on this side.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McCORMACK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to object very briefly to the Rev. McInroy's characterization of the Members on this side tending to fall asleep during his speech. I think this House can take judicial notice that the Members on both sides were equally bored.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the political oratory of the gentleman from Tioga has overwhelmed me. I do gather from the gentleman's rather "brief" remarks that he does not like our Governor and that he does not like any other Democrats who are associated with the Governor.

But I would like to suggest, Mr. Speaker, that in the future if we are going to have long political orations delivered under the unanimous consent rule, at least the leadership on this side should advise in advance to expect something of that kind so that we might give our consent with a limitation of time on the matter. We do not mind political speeches. We like to make them ourselves once in a while, and I suppose we do make them occasionally perhaps under the guise of intelligent debate on a bill wherein might slip in a few political remarks too. But in the future I certainly would like to be advised if anybody desires to make a political speech of more than five minutes duration so that I can protect myself and ask my colleagues on this side to protect themselves.

From now on if this incident occurs again I am going to refuse unanimous consent to anybody to make a speech unless he puts it in writing, or unless you get enough votes on your side to overrule our objection.

Almighty God, Creator of Heaven and earth, it is in the spirit of wonder and amazement that we reverently bow in Thy holy presence. Thy eternal love does overwhelm and humble us. We realize our own unworthiness when we meditate upon Thy love which passeth all understanding. Enlighten our minds that we may understand the purpose of Thy love, although we cannot understand or fathom its depth. Accept the praise that swells within our hearts when we think of the love that Thou has shown to each of us. May Thy love create within us a sincere desire to know and do Thy will. May it be the earnest prayer of each heart that Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in Heaven. In the Master's name we pray. Amen.

BILLS ON SECOND READING POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. GUTHRIE.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 62, entitled:

An Act amending the "County Institution District Law" approved June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2017) authorizing the granting of financial assistance by deferred loan or otherwise to political subdivisions or municipality authorities for construction of water supply system with service available to an institution of the district.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 159, entitled:

An Act reenacting and amending the act of July 20, 1953 (P. L. 550) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the annexation of parts of a second class township to boroughs ciites and townships" eliminating from the provisions of the act cities of the second and second class A * * *

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. PETROSKY offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1, Page 2, Line 11, by striking out the words: "proposed annexed territory" following the word "The" and inserting after the word "The" the following: "Township whose territory is proposed to be annexed".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, this is merely an amendment that is made to make more equitable, so far as our various categories of political subdivisions are concerned, the procedure in annexation proceedings and petitions for annexing any adjacent territory to another municipality. In effect, it brings the Act that governs second class townships in line with the Act on annexation petitions for first class townships, boroughs and third class cities.

I believe it is a just and equitable amendment. I appeal to the membership on both sides of the House to rectify the wrong which has existed for many years and to provide this necessary measure on behalf of those second class townships whose most valuable properties are being pillaged by neighboring municipalities.

Some may argue that this may stop the expansion and growth of larger municipalities. I do not believe it will, Mr. Speaker. If adjacent municipalities are to expand, and if they are to expand at the expense of neighboring municipalities by taking away their best properties in terms of assessed valuation and leave them with what is left over, I do not think that is the fair way. I do not believe it is the American way.

In this instance, all of the property holders of a second class township would be able to petition for the proposed annexation. In event a municipality adjacent to that second class township wanted to expand and continue its growth, it would seem to me they should be sufficiently interested in expansion and growth to endeavor to merge with that municipality, which would be a better way of doing it and it would redound to the benefit and welfare of all the people within the given municipality or the portion of it proposed to be annexed.

It is fair. It is equitable. This has been a continuing heartache and a sore spot in all counties as regards annexation. We have an opportunity to correct it now. I do not believe this affects Philadelphia, or the City of Pittsburgh, or the City of Scranton. Here we have a chance to lay aside political expediency, to do a good job and render justice to those who have been hurt by annexation proceedings as they exist under present law. You know it and I know it. I have had it in my legislative district and many of you have been troubled with this problem.

We can now do a job for the people back home, set this up on a fair and equitable basis and know that a job is well done.

So I appeal to the membership on both sides of the House to vote in favor of this amendment and then vote for the bill on final passage.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, this of course is a Local Government Commission bill, and I think it deserves more than just casual treatment this morning.

I would, therefore, like to interrogate the gentleman further before we vote on these amendments.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman to first explain the bill that is on our calendar now, that is, I would like to have him explain what the section in the bill on the calendar does. Then I would like to have him explain just what his amendments will do to that particular section.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, the section I am amending has some correctional language in it and sets forth that a majority of the taxable inhabitants and a majority in numebr and interest of property owners in the proposed annexed territory shall petition the borough, city or township requesting the annexation.

This is the only place that my amendments make a change. My amendments make it read that a majority of the taxable inhabitants and a majority in number and interest of property owners in the township in which the proposed annexation is to take place shall petition the borough, city or township for the purpose of annexing any portion or all of that township.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker do I understand if the gentleman's amendment is adopted it will be much more difficult for a third class city, or a borough, or any other municipality other than a township, to annex township property? Is that correct?

Mr. PETROSKY. No, Mr. Speaker, I would not say that. I believe in the event that the particular municipality which is going to annex the properties has a sufficient program to offer for the welfare of the people, then you will find a further move of expansion and the possibility that they can expand in the entire area. If it is feasible, then I say that all of the residents of that township ought to have something to say about that portion that is going to be annexed rather than just those holders in the immediate area. As you know, they are usually given promises of certain benefits over and above the nominal ones in order to entice them to annex that adjacent territory to the other municipality.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, may I further ask the gentleman, is it not true that in a first class township the question is submitted to a vote of the people, whereas the effect of these amendments would be that you must have the written signatures of a majority of the people on the petition? Is that right?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is not the effect of my amendments, Mr. Speaker.

The Act that governs first class townships, it is true, provides for a vote of the people. The amendments of the Local Government Commission have taken out freeholders and have named taxable inhabitants and a majority in number and interest of property owners for petitioning another municipality for annexation.

I merely say in my amendments that a majority of the entire municipality affected would petition the other municipality for any portion or all of its territory to be annexed. Is that clear?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, may I further ask the gentleman, has he discussed his proposed amendments with the Local Government Commission, who I understand made quite a study of this problem?

Mr. PETROSKY. No, I have not discussed it with them, but I believe we are all given the prerogative to determine here on the floor of the House what is best for the people back home, are we not?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe that is the end of the questions that I want to ask the gentleman. If there are any other Members who want to get this clarified any further, I suggest they ask the gentleman further questions.

I think the question of annexation is a very vital question throughout the state, not only to our second class townships and to our first class townships, but to our cities as well. We certainly want to have something that will be fair and equitable for everybody. If in the opinion of the House the amendments of Mr. Petrosky are fair. I believe that you on your own individual basis, depending on your own districts, should determine how you decide to vote on this amendment.

Mr. PETROSKY. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know from the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, whether it would not take a majority vote of the citizens in a borough, third class city, or any other municipality, in the event that a portion of their territory was wanted to be annexed by a second class township?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has quite a number of third class cities in his county and I believe he knows the answer. Why do you not answer your own question?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I asked the gentleman a question, if he knows. I can answer it for him. That would be, in the event that a second class township would want to annex some territory of a borough or city, then, it would necessitate a vote of the entire citizenry of the township or borough in order to make that annexation.

I would further like to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, as to whether or not the—I might as well wait until he gets through with the side bar conference there. Are you through with your side bar conference, Mr. Johnson?

Mr. JOHNSON. I just want to repeat that the question and problem of annexation in this state is a great one and it really should be studied. We should have an annexation code to apply throughout the state to all municipalities.

The gentleman says, yes, a second class township could annex a portion of a third class city. I do not know if that is the law; maybe it is. It is a novel situation which does not come up very often. Perhaps they could do it. If they cannot, they should be allowed to do it, and it should be vice versa, I grant you that.

As I understand the gentleman's amendment, it gives greater protection to the people out in the second class townships with respect to annexation than even this bill on the calendar of the Local Government Commission does. That is correct, is it not?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct. Beyond that it gives an inducement for further expansion, because if the municipality that wants to make an annexation can give a sufficient value to the municipality of which it wants to annex a portion, they have the possibility of annexing all of it and giving the benefit that will redound in that instance to all of the area and allow for further growth and further expansion. There may be some isolated instances where this would not be feasible for a city or borough. However, you will find that it will protect the wealth and growth of our municipalities and promote the giving of better services to the people back home.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, if I am in order, I would like to move that this bill, together with the amendments, be placed on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar for the reason that the bill we are voting on is a very, very important piece of legislation. I think the entire membership, or as near to the entire membership as we can get, should vote on these amendments.

These amendments in my opinion can mean the difference between the passage or the defeat of this particular legislation. I think the amendments should be debated at length and the full membership of this House should pass upon them.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, rise?

Mr. READINGER. To debate the motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield temporarily?

The Chair would suggest to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, if action on the bill is to be postponed, that the bill with the amendments be laid upon the table rather than placed on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar.

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. LOPRESTI. That is agreeable, Mr. Speaker, and I change that to a motion to lay on the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Berks now desire to be recognized?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I believe this motion is not debatable, is that right?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. READINGER. I am effectively quieted, Mr. Speaker.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. PETROSKY. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. PETROSKY. Just for the information of the Members of the House, will the Speaker reiterate the fact that today is a working day?

The SPEAKER. There is nothing in order at the moment except the question on the motion to lay upon the table.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 143, Printer's No. 46

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GELFAND. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, is it our intention to have consent calendars on Wednesdays?

The SPEAKER. It certainly is not the intention of the Chair to have consent calendars.

Mr. GELFAND. If it is not our intent to have consent calendars on Wednesdays, can I ask why we are passing over important legislation when Members were instructed to be here for a full working day? Merely because of the absenteeism, we are requested to pass over or lay on the table without debate bills that are important legislation to the Commonwealth because Members see fit not to appear for a full working day.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in error for the reason that the bill that we just took action upon was given full consideration by this House after considerable debate.

As to the bill we are now approaching, the Chair has been informed that there are amendments to be offered to this bill which are not quite ready.

It is the intent of the Chair to have a full working day.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman's remarks are directed to the passing over of House Bill 143, is that correct?

The SPEAKER. The Chair believes that is correct.

Mr. READINGER. I agree with the feeling that the gentleman has just voiced. But on every day, whether it is Wednesday, Monday or Tuesday, there will be times when there are legitimate reasons for passing over a bill.

I did not know until this morning that the Department of Internal Affairs in examining House Bill 143 found that certain amendments should be suggested to us to improve this bill. Certainly we do not want to rush bills through if any legitimate amendments should be considered by the House.

While I am speaking about this matter of passing over bills, I too have the feeling that if we are going to pass over any controversial bills just because there happen to be some absentees on a Wednesday, then we will be back to the old system of consent calendars.

I realize there are some people missing today who could not get here on account of the weather. That might happen on any day. But if we are going to support motions to lay bills on the table on a Wednesday just because they happen to be controversial, then I say we might as well go back to the old system openly and willingly and have consent calendars on a Wednesday.

I do not want them. I do not think we should have them. I know we can get this session through much earlier if we do not have consent days.

The reason I wanted to debate Mr. Lopresti's motion to place House Bill 159 on the postponed calendar was to say exactly what I am saying now. It is an important bill and I think the Members have given thought to it. Those of us who are here are ready to vote on it. But we are going just right back to where we were if we are going to put bills on the table.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I think both of the gentlemen have made points that are well taken. The reason that I on our side felt we should go along with the motion to lay House Bill 159 on the table with the amendments, I personally would like to thoroughly discuss the amendments in our caucus on Monday. That is the reason why, when Mr. Lopresti made the motion to lay on the table, I thought it was an excellent idea. I am sure some of us come from second class townships, some of use come from third class cities, and I do not feel, had we voted on the amendment this morning, that the membership would have known exactly what was taking place.

Therefore, I would like to in our caucus on Monday have the bill again thoroughly explained together with the proposed amendments.

With respect to House Bill 143, as Mr. Readinger has said, we came here this morning intending to move that bill because the Department of Internal Affairs was here yesterday and brought in amendments which they thought were adequate. Apparently in their overnight study of the bill, as amended, they feel that further amendments should be offered and they are not ready this morning. So, of necessity, we must pass over that bill.

I might say with respect to page 4, the bill on the top of the page, just to show you how thinygs happen overnight, that particular measure was amended yesterday and it was thought it became a much fairer bill than before. Well, in the overnight reading of the bill as amended quite a lot of Members have decided that those particular amendments are not a good thing for their particular localities and they have asked to have the bill bassed over until next Monday so that it can be further amended.

You run into situations like that. You think you have bills ready for action, and in deference to the sincere wishes of Members you just have to pass them over.

I want to say that I am gratified with the attendance here today. The reason for a lot of the absenteeism, quite a few Members who live in adjacent counties went home overnight and they have called in to say that the roads are a glare of ice and they just could not get here. Quite a number of them turned around and went back home.

I want to say that next Wednesday we will undoubtedly have a full House here, and we will have some very important bills on the calendar which will be up for second reading and possible amendment. Today, perhaps is not as full a working day as we expected, but we are going to move everything that we can move today.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 130, Printer's No. 45,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 144, entitled as follows:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) reducing annual registration fee for certain two-wheeled semi-trailers.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Dennison, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENNISON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know of the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Dennison, what effect this amendment will have on the budget which we are awaiting for highway purposes.

Mr. DENNISON. You mean the total effect on revenue?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is right.

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, it is estimated that this will affect the revenue in the amount of about $350,000.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, would that be for each year or for the biennium?

Mr. DENNISON. For each year, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. In effect, would that be approximately $700,000 for a biennium, more or less?

Mr. DENNISON. That would be, if my addition is correct. That would be about right.

Mr. PETROSKY. I desire to further ask the gentleman what particular type of vehicle this amendment would affect?

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, this would affect the small utility trailer which is most commonly used by being towed by a passenger car and used for the transportation of light materials, boats, camping equipment and a similar type of load.

Mr. PETROSKY. A further question, Mr. Speaker. This would affect a trailer that could carry a gross weight of 3,000 pounds, is that correct?

Mr. DENNISON. That is the Class A.

Mr. PETROSKY. And the effect of the reduction in the registration fee would be 50 percent, from $10 to $5.00, is that correct?

Mr. DENNISON. I might give the gentleman a little further illumination on that point.

For the gentleman's information, there has been a considerable drop in registration of this type of vehicle since the $10 instead of the $5.00 fee went into effect. For the information of the gentleman, the 1956 registration figure of 66,250 is the number of vehicles presently registered in this classification in Pennsylvania. This is a figure just furnished me by the Department of Revenue.

This represents a loss of 6,418 over the registration in 1955, or approximately 10 percent in number of vehicles registered.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman be able to tell me whether there are a considerable number of registered vehicles on the highways in the way of passenger cars that carry a gross weight of 3,000 pounds, or less?

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, I will just have to hazard a guess on that. In your light car classification, all vehicles just in the light car classification, which includes the Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth, nearly all of those vehicles weigh more than 3,000 pounds road weight.

Mr. PETROSKY. But the gentleman did say that the lighter classifications, which are more numerous on our roads and do pay a $10 registration fee, weigh less than 3,000 pounds?

Mr. DENNISON. That is correct.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I believe we are very premature in our effort to approve this type of legislation. We have not received the budget for highway purposes as yet. You know we are today in an age of expanded highway building or growth. It is very necessary to the communities throughout our Commonwealth. We must of necessity participate in the expanded Federal highway setup which we are just entering into, and I believe the impact of the loss of revenue on that budget will be noticeable.

I recognize, too, that primarily the people who use these vehicles, these trailers, are those who have already taken into consideration the cost of the registration fee and charged it against their rates, as is done normally under our Public Utility Commission setup for those utilities.

I ask the membership of the House to vote down this measure for those reasons. I believe we have to recognize that the user of the highway on an escalator scale is paying a reasonable and just registration fee all along the line. I do not believe there is any reason for us to give a 50 percent reduction to one segment of the highway users at this particular time. If in the future there should be such a drastic reduction in the use of this type of vehicle and in the registration of this type of vehicle, then I think we can consider the possibility of a reduction, provided we can be shown that it would increase the use of this type of vehicle and, of course, bring the income into the fund which is necessary to meet the requirements of the budget.

So, Mr. Speaker and Members on both sides of the House, I ask that you vote down this proposal.

May I suggest, Mr. Speaker, that we have a slow roll call and only those answering to their names be recorded.

I ask the membership of both sides to vote "no" on this measure.

The SPEAKER. There will be a slow roll call when this vote is taken.

Does the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, desire to be recognized?

Mr. ANDREWS. I yield to the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Dennison.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, yields to the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Dennison.

Mr. DENNISON. I will yield to the gentleman from Cambria if he thinks what he has to say is more important.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. The gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Speaker, is a very powerful but diminutive Member of this House. The weight he pulls bears no relation to his size.

Yesterday, Mr. Speaker, I asked a pertinent question. That question was, "What do you propose to do for business?" I did not expect the sort of answer that this bill presents. The cost of registration of these trailers which we want to reduce is already embodied in the rate structures of the utilities. These trailers represent an annual cost, and we all know under the practice and under the law the utilities include in their rates their standard charges. There would be no justification on the part of this House in enacting the legislation proposed unless we had assurance that utility rates would be reduced in exact proportion to the amount that we by act here in the House reduce utility expenses.

I would suggest that in our quest to do something for business we start from some other angle.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman is misinformed as to what this bill really does. I will just have to tell you my experience with it.

I got home last session after working very, very hard and, I thought, doing a good job for the taxpayers. A little fellow living next door to me has a boat trailer and he goes to Canada fishing every year. He hauls his boat on it and that is the only time he uses it. He said to me, "Albert, for goodness sake, why did you raise my boat trailer from $5 to $10?" I said, "Did we raise your boat trailer to $10?" He said "You certainly did."

That is the case all over Pennsylvania. I do not believe utilities use these small trailers to any extent. It is the average guy who uses them.

I would say this is a working man's bill. It is giving the vacationer, the fellow who has a little trailer behind his garage and just occasionally hauls some material, or hauls his boat, or does something like that with it. I think we are giving the small man a break, that is the way it looks to me.

I have had any number of just ordinary people say to me, "Well, I am just going to junk my trailer if I have to pay $10 to have a license on it every year." I may be wrong, but it seems to me that this bill gives that particular person a break. I think when we doubled his fee that was too much. If we would have made it another dollar, or something like that last session it probably would have been all right. I would not say it is party principles, or anything, but it is just my own personal feelings about this bill.

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the Majority Leader for the assist. I hope he has cleared up in the minds of some of you the use to which this trailer is adapted.

It is not largely used by utility companies. It is not the pole type trailer that is used in the transportation of utility poles. That trailer comes under the B classification.

This, as the Majority Leader has told you, is the trailer used by the vacationer, the farmer, the camper and the small operator in every respect. There is a very potent reason I think why this bill should be passed.

In checking over Act 70 of the 1955 Session, it is the only case in which we have increased the registration fee 100 percent. All registration fees went up, but in this case they went up 100 percent. If it is the idea of the membership that it is fair to raise one class 100 percent and another one 20 percent then I will have to reorient my thinking and propose different legislation.

As the Majority Leader has told you, this bill is an important bill to the small man, to the small operator, to the farmer and to the camper. I urge you to support this bill because I feel, and I am sure many of you feel the same, it is good, sound legislation.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like for a moment to inject a thought into the minds of the Members of the House on this reduction of revenue for the Department of Highways.

First, I would like to say we have legislation being drawn to reduce the truck license fees for farm trucks to help the farmers. We coming from the western part of Pennsylvania bordering close to Ohio are well aware, as are our farm people, of the advantages they have in operating their farms with the farm truck license law that exists in the State of Ohio.

If we are going to reduce a license fee to help somebody who needs help and needs it badly, I would like to ask that you postpone this action and move first this legislation which we will have ready within a week to help the farm people on a bona fide truck license fee reduction.

I realize we cannot reduce license fees in every category, we must raise the revenue that is needed. Here we have this bill on the calendar and it is due for a vote today. In injecting this thought into the minds of the Members of this House, I hope they would support such legislation that would then be the second reduction.

I was really amazed at the figures that the gentleman from Jefferson quoted as to the number of trailers. I would like to say that the rental trailer business has certainly increased over the years in Pennsylvania when we have licensed that many in this Commonwealth.

But that is not a point of this thought. If we want to reduce and help somebody that needs help, why not postpone this action and give a reduction and financial help to people who you all agree need help the most, and they need it now. On that ground, I will today vote "no" when we vote in an effort to reduce the license fee for the other category that I spoke of.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would to take issue with the Majority Floor Leader. When Mr. Johnson said this bill was intended for poor working people who have trailers and boats and are going to make trips to Canada, I do not call those people poor. They can afford trailers, and some of the boats these poor people have are rather expensive and luxurious boats. If they can afford a trailer and a boat and a trip to Canada, they can afford the extra $5.00 for the license fee.

I will be forced to vote against this bill.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to delay this much longer, but I took the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Dennison, at his word when I questioned him and he stipulated that the trailer was primarily used for utility use. He very distinctly said that, I believe.

Since he received his assist from the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, I want to say this, that the principal registration of this type of trailer is by fleet ownership and a very small, minimum percentage is registered in individual ownership.

I again would ask the House to vote "no" on this measure.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, regarding my statement to the House a moment ago, would the Majority Floor Leader consider the request I made in which I asked for a postponement of a vote on this bill in an effort to bring out the other legislation which will be introduced next week?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question, I think each piece of legislation should stand on its own two feet. If he has a bill in mind to help the farmer, I think that should be on the calendar and debated on its merits and should not have a tie-in, as it were.

We have a bill here on the calendar to do away with tie-in sales, you know. If you get your bill in, we have a very able Chairman of the Motor Vehicles Committee. I believe we should proceed to vote on this bill today. I think that is the spirit of the House and we should do it.

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Westmoreland, I want to point out to him that this trailer has wide use by highway caretakers. One of the purposes behind this bill is that in the coming two years we can take care of our people who are going to use these trailers on the highways.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. PETROSKY, ROVANSEK and CAPANO.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

THANKS EXTENDED

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time would like to express its sincere appreciation to the Members on both sides of the House for their splendid cooperation in this first full Wednesday working day. It is gratifying to know that the Chair has the support and the cooperation of the membership.

It is the hope of the Chair that by next Wednesday, committee chairmen can start holding committee meetings on Wednesday morning so that we may have a fuller calendar. The Chair does thank the Members of the House.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time notes the presence in the hall of the House of a former Member of this House, the gentleman from Delaware, Hon. J. Warren Bullen.

COMMITTEE MEETING

The SPEAKER. The Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs requests a short committee meeting in Room 323 to meet the Adjutant General and general officers of Pennsylvania and their staffs.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, just to make a brief statement. I would like to request, if possible, that the calendar on Monday be placed on the Members' desks early in the afternoon. Some of us who do come in early would like to have the calendar before our caucus in order to have an opportunity of looking over the bills.

This last Monday the calendar was not on our desks until about 3:00 o'clock when we went into caucus, and that was the first time we knew what was on the calendar. So if it is possible, I would like to have them put on the desks early on Monday afternoons.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman for the suggestion and directs the Chief Clerk to see that the request is complied with.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GOLDSTEIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, requested relief for business. I wish now to announce that there is a 90 percent cut on behalf of business in so far as taxes are concerned.

If the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and the other members of the House will read the Governor's budget and general fund report, they will note the following language:

> The Capital Stock Tax is a property tax levied at five percent on the taxable value of capital stock of domestic corporations.

Under this statement the tax is 50 mills. The law today is five mills. I guarantee it will remain at five mills, therefore, we have a 90 percent reduction in taxes for business already.

In addition, I suggest that the budget and the entire report be scrutinized, perhaps there are other glaring errors such as this.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

SENATE

MONDAY, February 18, 1957

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. DUNCAN K. MacPHERSON, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Mechanicsburg, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Eternal and Sovereign God, Who hast revealed Thyself to the ever-changing pattern of men's lives in a word that stands fast forever, speak now to our hearts as we wait upon Thee. Remind us of all Thy mercies which have shone forth Thy love in the past, and in that love make us, on the holy ground of each present day, steadfast and very sure.

Keep us, we pray Thee, from thinking too poorly of ourselves whom Thou dost honor with Thy daily tenderness and care. Fit us for the full stature which is ours, whatever be our task, by cleansing us from all sin. Hold steadly before our eyes that pure will of Thine for us until we learn to choose it above all wealth or position or esteem of men.

Make our timorous faith more sure and our high, if sometimes bewildered, loyalties more firm. Hearten us by Thine own undiscouraged presence here in the place whereon we stand, and in Thy word, by which the heavens and earth are held in store, bring us to find strength for our weakness, wisdom for our ignorance and an undiscourageable hope for all the future, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. MULLIN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, as we all know, this month has been designated as Brotherhood Month and this week, particularly, has been designated as Brotherhood Week. I do not believe it is necessary for me to belabor this group with the basic elements which make up brotherhood or Brotherhood Week. We know that with all of us who live in this Commonwealth, this brotherhood will continue on a fifty-two week basis and we rededicate ourselves everytime we think of brotherhood.

Recently—in fact, in yesterday's edition of the Philadelphia Inquirer—there appeared an article which I think we all might give heed to. The article has to do with a gentleman, if I may call him that, named John Kasper who has been working on the problem of the white supremacy situation in the South, and has been writing to people in this Commonwealth asking them to send three dollars to become members in a white supremacy league. I believe that all of us who are elected representatives ought to uphold the Constitution not only of this State, but the Constitution of the United States and realize that this gentleman is breaking the law. He is going against the supreme law of the land as laid down by the Supreme Court dealing with problems in regard to bias.

According to this article, they have sent out letters on the letterhead of "Seaboard White Citizens' Council." This is just a minor refinement of what we have known as the Klu Klux Klan, and the imagination of that group and some of the problems that they try to create and which they try to "solve."

I believe we have, as a body, looked into many problems and have even gone into the problem of investigating some of the more intricate problems. I believe all of us during this week should not only rededicate ourselves to brotherhood and the problems of man, but should also go into this problem of outside groups trying to come into our State and setting up organizations of this type.

The day is long since past when these organizations and the thoughts they try to provoke the people that they attract and are popular, if they ever were popular. Their only purpose is to create hate between groups of people who might otherwise live harmoniously and peacefully.

I, therefore, on behalf of myself and my colleage, Senator Donolow, am presenting this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

SENATE COMMITTEE TO CONDUCT INVESTIGATION INTO THE ATTEMPTED CREATION OF A CHAPTER OF THE "SEABOARD WHITE CITIZENS' COUNCIL" IN PHILADELPHIA

Messrs. WEINER and DONOLOW offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Law and Order:

In the Senate, February 18, 1957.

Philadelphia, according to newspaper accounts, has been the victim of the attempted creation of a chapter of the "Seaboard White Citizens' Council," an anti-integration group. It is reported that a person connected with John F. Kasper has already solicited some citizens of the City of Philadelphia to induce them to join this council. This individual, John F. Kasper, is supposed to have originally created the council which has as its purpose the combating of the United States Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in the Nation's public schools and vehicles of public transportation. The reputation of John F. Kasper's diabolical scheme to combat integration in the schools of the South has already attained the height of infamy in the way of riots and unrest. The lamantable riots that occurred at the site of Clinton, Tennessee's public high school were due in no small part to the tireless efforts of Kasper in haranguing the citizens of an otherwise peaceful community. Now, reputed henchmen of Kasper are attempting to recruit members for this vile organization from among the citizenry of the City Philadelphia. While there is doubt that the good people of the City of Philadelphia will ever be duped into joining this organization, it is of the gravest concern to the General Assembly to assure itself and all the citizens of the Commonwealth that no group with the avowed purpose of undermining by violence and class hatred the law of the land, ever establishes itself in the Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President pro tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania name a committee of four members to conduct an immediate investigation into all matters pertaining to this attempt at creating a branch of the Seaboard White Citizens' Council in Philadelphia or any other such unlawful organization; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings, together with recommendations for appropriate legislation at the earliest possible date before the adjournment of this session of the General Assembly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, as most of you know, I come from southwestern Pennsylvania and we are fast becoming the victims of automation. Southwestern Pennsylvania produces more bituminous coal than any other part of the United States, and we are today producing this coal in greater tonnage but with the employment of less men. Therefore, we are faced with an economic castastrophe unless something is done to alleviate the conditions existing in Washington, Fayette and Greene Counties.

We have coal mines and we do have steel mills, but as the days go by our young people are leaving for Ohio, West Virginia, New York and other parts of the United States because we do not have the industry to employ these people.

Now in these counties we do have industrial redevelopment committees that are doing the very best they can to alleviate the conditions existing there. Nevertheless, we have need for additional assistance, and this resolution will memoralize Congress to help southwestern Pennsylvania because we are one portion of Pennsylvania that is becoming destitute. We have ghost towns and it is something unusual for any State to have ghost towns, but they are there. It is reality and there will be more unless something is done.

Therefore, on behalf of Senator Barr, Senator Kopriver, Senator Mahany, Senator Kalman, Senator Dent and myself, I am offering this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE POSSIBILITY OF LOCATING GOVERNMENT SUBSIDIZED INDUSTRIES IN WASHINGTON, GREENE AND FAYETTE COUNTIES

Messrs. LANE, BARR, KOPRIVER, JR., MAHANY, KALMAN and DENT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 18, 1957.

The impending cessation of operations of the Vesta Coal Mine, a subsidiary of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, in the Borough of California, in Washington County, Pennsylvania, will rapidly increase unemployment in surrounding communities located in Washington, Greene and Fayette counties.

Unemployment and consequent hardship in these three counties is of vital concern to the people of this entire Commonwealth. The economic dislocation of any large area within this Commonwealth has its repercussions throughout the entire State, and effects the economic well being of the entire State as well as arousing the humanitarian instincts and sympathetic concern for fellow Pennsylvanians in their hour of need and duress. Economic need and want vitally effects not only adults, but many helpless children who will feel the want of proper food, clothing, housing and medical facilities, and should the economic dislocation continue for a long period of time, the want of proper educational facilities through lack of teachers and buildings.

Government should be concerned with helping areas with serious economic difficulties through aiding business and any type of productive economic enterprise to locate in the suffering areas.

Washington, Greene and Fayette Counties have a large, skillful and willing labor force which has proven its desire in the past to produce the essential products of our modern economy. The tax structures in these three counties are favorable to business, and many industrial sites are available to manufacturing enterprises and other business activities which care to locate in communities where the public and its leadership will lend the utmost cooperation in establishing an atmosphere favorable to the establishment and growth of business; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to make a thorough study of the possibility of locating Government subsidized industries in Washington, Greene and Fayette Counties, and to take into consideration the huge labor pools available, as well as the large number of available industrial sites and favorable tax structures existing in these three counties, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 19, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 19, 1913 (P. L. 534), entitled "An act relating to appointment of deputy constables," defining the jurisdiction of deputy constables.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, as I understand it, this bill will amend the constable act so as to make it: "unlawful for any deputy constable to exercise any powers or duties relative to or arising out of any case or action originating in or brought before the court of any magistrate alderman or justice of the peace outside of the ward borough or township from which the appointive constable was elected"

Mr. President, I assume that the application of this bill is State-wide. It means that a deputy constable, from a ward wherein the constable is elected, cannot solicit any business outside of his ward. I cannot think of anything more unfair which could happen in the city of Philadelphia.

In the city of Philadelphia, we have some wards with one division, with less than 1,000 people. A deputy constable in that ward would be limited to that particular ward. We have another ward in the city of Philadelphia with 159 divisions and a population of 200,000 people. I do not know what good a bill of this kind would do, except to hinder deputy constables in the performance of their work.

Therefore, Mr. President, I wish to state that I am opposed to this bill.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, this bill is a bill which has appeared in the Legislature every Session since I have been a Member of either the House of Representatives or the Senate.

The purpose behind this bill, I know in the mind of the sponsor, is a very high one. However, he does not realize that if this bill were to become law, every justice of the peace, every duly elected alderman, every magistrate who must depend upon a constable for the performance of the duties of his office, would be at the mercy of the duly elected constable. If a siutation would arise whereby a constable would refuse to work in cooperation with the justice of the peace, the alderman or the magistrate, and he would just walk out, that justice of the peace or alderman may as well close his doors because, under the bill, he would then be unable to secure the services of a deputy constable.

That is what we are doing by this bill. I speak from experience, because I argued against this bill during the last Session. We had in a ward, of which I am a resident, a situation where the duly elected constable and the duly elected alderman, although of the same poitical faith, did not see eye to eye and, as a result, the constable walked out of the office, refused to appoint any deputy, went into another ward to work, and it was absolutely impossible for that alderman to conduct the duties of his office.

Mr. President, I say there is no necessity for this. The Constables Association has been policing its organization; they have a State-wide organization. They have a code of ethics among them, and I feel that what wrongs were done in the past have been cleaned up by the campaign that was begun in some of the counties where some of these deputy constables and constables were charged with and convicted of malfeasance, misfeasance and nonfeasance in office.

Therefore, I ask each and every one of you to give this bill your serious thought and vote against it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I imagine that quite a number of the Members of the Senate may have the opinion that deputy constables, generally speaking, are disreputable persons. Frankly, that is not the case. There might be some abuse in some of the metropolitan areas, but I want you to know that some of the constables, quite a number of them, and the deputies are fine upstanding men and are trying to do a proper job.

What we are doing here if we vote for this legislation, as Senator Schmidt has said, we are going to put some of the aldermen and some of the justices of the peace out of business.

I was a justice of the peace for fifteen years and I believe that the sponsor of this piece of legislation was also a justice of the peace, and he knows very well that in a number of cases a constable might take the attitude that he does not want to work with you, and if you do not have a deputy, there is not much you can do. Now if you confine it to a ward or township or a borough, it just will not work because there are not too many active justices of the peace in the State. I know over in our town there are only about four or five men who do all the work. The rest of them do not do any work, but if they do not get a constable or a deputy, they are going to have to close up their offices. In lots of cases the only law enforcement that you have, especially in the rural areas is the office of the justice of the peace and the constable and his deputy.

For that reason, Mr. President, I am voting against this piece of legislation.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, as the sponsor of this legislation, as I have in previous Sessions, I certainly would have to disagree with the previous speakers. This does not in any way interfere with the orderly conduct of any alderman or justice of the peace office in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It does not in any way interfere with any elected constable. He can work out of any justice of the peace or alderman's office in the same county in which he is elected.

This legislation does, however, prohibit a deputy constable from being appointed in one ward, borough or township and then going into another borough or township and serving warrants and executions and like papers for that particular alderman or justice of the peace.

I would draw to the attention of the Chair, and the Members of this Body, that when a deputy constable is appointed by a court in any county in this State, the elected constable of that ward, borough or township goes before the court and says that there is too much business in his ward, borough or township for him to take care of and, because of that fact, he wants to have appointed a deputy or deputies to help him conduct the business out of that particular office. With that I have no quarrel. That deputy constable can be appointed and he can serve papers out of that office in any other part of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or in any part of the county. In many counties, you must get the permission of the district attorney's office to go into the other county to serve the warrant. If he does that, he acts exactly the same as the elected constable.

However, this is what I do object to and it is a direct violation of everything that this applicant says when he applies for the commission as a deputy constable; that he will work out of only the office in the ward, borough or township from which his preceptor, his duly elected constable, comes. He wipes that completely out, and goes into any part of the county and from there he serves papers. Nobody knows what he is doing, he is answerable to nobody and he is certainly answerable to no one in the particular ward, borough or township out of which he is working. The elected constable under whom he was appointed does not know what he is doing; he has no control over his actions, none whatsoever.

I wish to respectfully draw to the attention of this Body that many of the abuses of the minor judiciary and of the serving of papers and summons and warrants have come from the actions of deputy constables.

This in no way will interfere with any elected constable in any ward, borough, township or city of Pennsylvania. This in no way will interfere with the workings of the deputy constable who confines his activities to the ward, borough or township where the court appointed him to work.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, we are all acquainted with the fact that there are certain deputy constables who are specialized in certain types of work. There is landlord work, there is collection work and these men really know how to do a job. The duly elected constable of many of the wards does not want to do that type of work, and because of that it is necessary to get someone who is acquainted with that type of work and bring him into that office.

Getting back to my original premise, and that is the situation where under the present existing law the duly elected constable, if he so desires, is able to actually put the justice of the peace out of business. He can refuse to work for him, and it is absolutely impossible for the justice of the peace to get any work done unless he brings in a deputy constable from some other ward where that deputy has been appointed. He cannot get a deputy from his own constable because a deputy in that ward, or that city or that borough cannot be appointed unless the duly elected constable so desires to have him appointed.

Now we have had those situations arise. There was one time when we felt it was the wrong thing to do, but we cleaned those situations out.

Therefore, I say again, you are absolutely going to penalize the minor judiciary if you pass this piece of legislation.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I recall last week when we had the committee meeting and we reported this bill out, I said to Senator Fleming, "There certainly is going to be a difference of opinion on this particular piece of legislation." Of course, this is a repetition of what happened two years ago because the same bill was before us.

I might remind the distinguished Senator from Allegheny County that in case there is a deputy constable who is not doing the right thing, all the constable has to do is to relieve him of his commission by notifying the court. In that way he operates under the constable's bond and the constable can relieve him of those duties.

I must agree with Senator Schmidt that you must have deputy constables, because in a great number of cases your regularly elected constables will not do the work. In a number of cases they are quite popular politically and they have other means of securing an income and, therefore, they appoint these deputies. Of course, there might be abuses; I do not say that all of them are perfect. However, I say what we are doing here, if we pass this legislation, we are certainly going to restrict law enforcement and we are going to penalize innocent men.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
